O. A. C. Student Head Praises Oregon Spirit; Listeners Rise in Appreciation

A signal recognition of the clean uprightness of Oregon manhood and Oregon spirit, characterized dominantly by the last student assembly of the year in Villard hall yesterday morning...

“Oregon is to be congratulated,” said Carlton Savage, student president, 1920-’21, “upon the choice of her next year’s officials, and upon the work of this year’s representatives.”

Bill Hayward and Shy Huntington, track and football coaches, presented the awards to the lettermen of the Varsity squads, and gave short summaries of this year’s work and forecasts of what they hoped would be done next year.

“There is no such thing as a paid athlete on the Oregon campus,” declared the two, “and there never will be.”

Blankets Are Awarded

Spike Leslie, Mart Howard, Marc Latham and Franz Beller were presented with blankets by Shy, who warmly commended the work of all the boys.

Bill Hayward presented the doughnut track cup to Ralph Spearow, the representative of Delta Tau Delta, winner of the doughnut meet. Virden, the high-point man in the meet, was presented with a miniature gold track shoe.

President-elect John Alexander of O. A. C. spoke to the student body on cooperation between the two schools. “Much,” he said, “has been accomplished during the past year in the way of cooperation between the two schools, and we will do our best to carry on this good work next year. The friendship of the student representatives of the two schools has done much toward furthering the friendly feelings.”

Oregon Spirit Praised

His words were instanced by the rising salute of applause from the entire assembly. Alexander praised the Oregon spirit highly.

“I was here on the Sunday after O. A. C. had won the dual track meet, the frosh-rook and Varsity baseball games and tennis meet,” he said. “I have known the Oregon spirit of victory before, but never till then did I know the Oregon spirit of defeat. Not once during the entire two days did I hear a single alibi as to why this or that team was defeated. I do not know whether we have that spirit at O. A. C. or not, but we will try to have, and I pledge myself to do my best to promote friendly cooperation between the two schools for the good of the state.”

Recital of the debate, glee clubs, orchestra, and band triumphs of the past year followed in rapid order the presentation of athletic awards. Oregon boasts this year of a Pacific Coast championship debate team.

The meeting was called to order by retiring President Bartholomew, and declared adjourned by John MacGregor, president 1922-1923, after the student representatives in the new administration had formally taken the oath of office.

Many Awards Made

The following is a list of students awarded emblems for achievements in University activities for the year 1921-1922:

Debate shields for three years’ work on the varsity team were presented by Coach Thorpe to Wanda Daggett and Elaine Cooper; alumni prize of $25 for the best debater, won in Wednesday evening’s contest, Claude Robinson; debate O’s for men and women, Edna Largent, May Fenno, Florence Furset, Glenn Frank, Lurline Coulter, Paul Patterson, Claude Robinson, Ralph Bailey, Charles Lamb, and Boyd Iseminger; awards for oratory, Charles Fish, Ernest Henrikson.

INCENDIARY IS SAID TO HAVE AESTHETIC SENSE

Eugene Fire Department Consigns Stand to Ashes; Suspect to Get Court Hearing

Fire of supposedly known origin late last night completely destroyed the popcorn stand owned by Earl Conrad, law student, who had the structure erected between the Sigma Chi and Delta Gamma houses yesterday for the expressed purpose of selling peanuts, popcorn, and hot dogs to University visitors on Commencement day.

Apparently thinking that a serious conflagration was sweeping over the fraternity district, hundreds of townspeople and students hastily gathered in the vicinity of the fire.

Members of local law fraternities interviewed during the progress of the fire expressed their belief that a certain elongated sub-Californian athlete known as Bill Spear applied a torch to Conrad’s peanut stand. It is said that the sight of such a crude structure in the sorority district sorely wounded Spear’s aesthetic sense.

The case will be tried in the circuit court on June 8.

LEMMY TO APPEAR JUNE 8

STAG NUMBER OF PUNCH WILL CONTAIN NEW FEATURES

Full Page Sketch of Life in a Frat House, Poetry and Cartoons Contribute to Humor

The Stag number, the last issue of Lemon Punch to be published during this school year, will be ready for distribution on June 8. “Doc” Braddock, the editor of the publication, declares that this issue will be devoted exclusively to the affairs of men and will contain no mention whatever of the women.

The Stag number of Lemmy will be of the same style as the last issue of the publication. Many new features, however, both literary and artistic, will be included in its make-up. A full page sketch, drawn by Abe Hodges, illustrates life in a frat house. Several amusing half page cartoons were sketched by other artists on Lemmy’s staff.

Literary contributions to the Stag number of Lemmy include several long features written by Braddock and Chauncey Wightman. Poetry will be scattered profusely through the issue. A new mast head was made up by Stu Biles.

The Stag number of Lemon Punch will be sold at a booth in front of the library on June 8. Copies may also be obtained at the Co-op store on that date.

AUTO TROUBLE CAUSES PICNICKERS TO HIKE

Condon Club Spends Holiday at South Fork of Willamette; George Riggs Awarded Geology Major Pin

Not the least eventful of the many picnics held by University groups on Decoration day was that supervised by the Condon club, according to several of the 30 students and geology faculty members who spent the day on the South Fork of the Willamette at Pleasant Hill bridge, about 10 miles from Eugene.

The annual feature of the Condon club camp fire picnic is the awarding of a G. M. S. A. U. pin to a geology major who in the past year has made a record in the department of geology as a student and whose all-around work stands above that of others.

About 9:30 in the evening the geologists left the camp-fire site and headed toward Eugene in their two Ford trucks and a trailer.

The gift of a number of samples of American pottery have just been presented to the normal arts department of the University by Mr. Stowell of Portland, Pacific coast agent for the Syracuse China company, of New York.

DAVID B. CAMPBELL APPEARS TONIGHT IN PIANO CONCERT

Former Recital Here Recalled; Program Offers Wide Range of Numbers

The enthusiasm which has been mounting since the announcement of the return to the campus of David B. Campbell, Oregon’s famous alumnus and pianist of international renown, will reach its highest mark tonight when the long-heralded artist will appear in concert in Villard hall at 8:15.

Formerly Member of Faculty

His return to the campus is being heralded in the nature of a home-coming and it is expected that the larger part of the University will turn out to greet her famous “native son.”

Dr. John Landsbury, dean of the school of music, is enthusiastic in his praise of David Campbell. “He is one of the greatest of the younger pianists today,” he said. “I can not speak too highly of his ability and natural gift for playing. He will undoubtedly some day be hailed as one of the leading musicians in the world.”

David Campbell appeared in Eugene a year ago and played at an informal concert in the Woman’s building. His playing at that time was recognized by everyone who heard him to be of the finest quality, and these same enthusiasts are eagerly awaiting his return tonight, that they may hear him again.

At this time the Morning Register said of him: “Those who did not attend the recital of the University of Oregon on Wednesday missed a rare musical treat, for the piano playing of David Campbell will long be remembered by those who heard him. Mr. Campbell was given a most enthusiastic reception.”

Tickets Are $1.00

Tickets for the concert are on sale at all living organizations, the Co-op, Kuykendall’s Drug Store, Linn’s Drug Store, and by individual members of the school of music of the University. The price of the tickets is $1.00.

FLORENCE JAGGER MADE W.A.A. HEAD FOR COMING YEAR

Betty Pride Is Victorious in Vice-presidency Race Over Nearest Competitor

HELEN KING IS SECRETARY

Treasurer’s Office Will Be Held by Helen Clarke; Interest Unusual

Florence Jagger was elected president of the Women’s Athletic association yesterday afternoon when 98 votes were cast in the Woman’s building from 4 to 6. The nominations were made at a meeting of the association last week at which time no opposing candidate was found for the position of president.

The race for the position of secretary was close and the final count gave Helen King the advantage of only one vote over Adah Harkness.

The results of the election of heads of sports for next year, which was held at the same time, were: archery, Catherine Spall; baseball, Mary Hathaway; Basketball, Grace Sullivan; canoeing, Augusta DeWitt; hiking, Mildred Crain; hockey, Harriet Veazie; tennis, Dorcas Conklin; track, Dorothy McKee; swimming, Maude Schroeder.

The interest shown in the election was greater than usual, and according to Margaret Russell, the former president of the association, it was closer than any of the other elections she has seen.

All who expect to make the trip are urged to bring heavy woolen blankets and socks, and a piece of canvas for sleeping on the ground. Each member is requested to bring a drinking cup.

Each hiker is expected to bring enough food to satisfy his appetite Friday evening. Meals while in camp will be served in community style and a charge of 30 cents will be made for each of them.

GEORGE KING WINS PRIZE

$20 BENNETT AWARD GIVEN TO “STATE GOVERNMENT” PAPER

T. Kurashige Is Second with Essay on “Commerce Clause and State Rights”; Crabtree Third

The judges’ decision for the Philo Sherman Bennett essay contest on the principles of free government came in yesterday to Professor Justin Miller of the law school, chairman of the contest.

The prize of $20 was awarded to George King, on “State Government”; second prize was won by T. Kurashige with his paper on “The Commerce Clause and State Rights”; and the third prize went to Hoyt C. Crabtree on “The Rule of the Majority.”

George King is a major in economics, a junior in the University, and a member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity. T. Kurashige, winner of the second prize, is a major in the law school and a member of the sophomore class. Hoyt C. Crabtree is registered at the Eugene Bible university as a freshman.

The Philo Sherman Bennett prize is the income from a gift of $400 made to the University by the Hon. Philo Sherman Bennett, of New Haven, Connecticut. The annual income is approximately $20.

The judges for the contest were Professor Charles McKinley of Reed college, Prof. F. A. MacGruder of the Oregon Agricultural college, and William G. Hale, dean of the law school of the University.

NEW MARKS TO BE USED FOR MONTHLY GRADES

“Not Determined” to Be Used Next Fall with Approximate Standing to Avoid Confusion

Owing to complaints made on the part of students that not all members of the faculty cooperated with the living organizations in obtaining individual monthly grades, it has been recommended to the faculty and approved by them that a new system be used next year.

Students have complained that the terms “O. K.,” “Satisfactory” or “Passing” are susceptible of two or three interpretations and often do not enable the scholarship committees of the living organizations to take appropriate action. It has also been reported that through carelessness higher grades than individuals deserved were placed on the grade cards presented by living organizations, with the result that students were given house privileges that they were not entitled to.

Next fall term, therefore, the approximate grade will be placed on the grade card, or if it is not known, or if the instructor is not in a position to give a grade, the letters “N. D.” (not determined) will be given.

NORMAL ARTS CLUB GIVES $75

A check for $75 was presented to those in charge of the placing of the Warner memorial collection on Monday evening by the members of the Normal Arts club. This fund was given for the purchase of a glass case to hold a part of the collection and has been accumulated entirely through the efforts of the girls during the last term.

OLE LARSON CHOSEN ‘23 TRACK CAPTAIN; SUCCEEDS WALKLEY

Sprinter Has Developed into One of Best on Coast; Won from Hurley

NOVICE MEET TO END YEAR

Competition Among Untrained Men June 9 Expected to Unearth Material

Ole Larson was unanimously elected track captain for 1923 yesterday afternoon by the men who have worked side by side with him through a hard season of ups and downs. Larson replaces Captain Glen Walkley, veteran miler, who has piloted this year’s crew and who will be lost through graduation.

Larson has developed into one of the best 100-yard men on the coast, having once defeated the veteran Washington dash man, Vic Hurley, the latter being considered the best in this part of the country. Ole is a hard worker, and his chances next season look bright.

Novice Meet June 10

A track meet in which track shoes will be barred, and in which no man will be allowed to take part who has ever made a point or a fraction thereof in any varsity or freshman meet, will conclude track activities for the year. The meet will be known officially as a Novice meet and will include every man enrolled in the University who wants to come out and take part, providing he is not eliminated by the above ruling.

Coach Bill Hayward has set June 10 as the date for this event, and he expects to see all the gym classes entered. There are no prerequisites. According to Bill, it makes no difference whether a man has been out before or not.

Long Races Cut Out

Because it is hard to secure track shoes for everybody, it has been decreed that only tennis shoes will be worn.

The events themselves have not all been figured out yet, but Hayward says that most of the regular contests will be run off save those which he considers too strenuous for the more or less unseasoned men. According to his statement, there will probably be the standing broad jump, high jump, pole vault, broad jump, shot put, javelin, discus, and the dashes.

All names must be turned in by June 7 in order to get the schedules made out and the contestants listed in their events. Every man will work for himself, there being no competition by organizations.

The Novice meet should be interesting to followers of the cinder path, as there are a lot of good men in the University who have not been able to place in the meets.

TRIP TO PARIS PLANNED

Miss Lillian Tingle Will Leave Saturday to Attend Convention

Miss Lillian Tingle will leave Saturday for Paris where she is to attend the convention of the International Federation of Associations of University women, as representative from the National Home Economics association. Miss Tingle was guest of honor at a luncheon given by the Home Economics club on Tuesday, at which she stated that after leaving Paris she will visit friends in England and Ireland for the remainder of the summer. The convention meets from July 15 to 18.

At the business meeting of the club following the luncheon, Georgia Benson was elected to represent the Home Economics club of Oregon at Corvallis in August. It is hoped that this representation will affect the club’s admittance into the national organization. A resume of the year’s work was presented to the members, and tentative plans for the coming year were discussed.

LAST CONCERT SCHEDULED

The next and final “pop” concert by the University Symphony orchestra will be given at Villard hall on Friday evening, June 9. Dr. John J. Landsbury, of the school of music, will be the soloist at this concert. Details of the program are being worked out by Rex Underwood, director, who has been trying out these concerts this term as a sort of experiment. The next concert will be on the same plan as those which have already been given; it will last about an hour and admission will be 25 cents.
