RELIGIOUS PROGRAM IS TOUIC OF "Y" MEETING

A score of University students interested in the spiritual development on the campus met at the Y. M. C. A. hut, yesterday and discussed plans for organizing the various religious bodies now working here into one force.

Talks were made by L. P. Putnam, student secretary, the student pastors and a number of the students. The Thursday afternoon meetings, which start next week, were outlined.

The purpose of the weekly meetings is to keep the Christian men of the campus organized for campus work, according to Secretary Putnam. Discussions by some of the religious leaders of the state will be given and an opportunity for the men to consider the vital problems of their lives will be made possible.

Webster Ruble, president of the campus Y is in the infirmary, and was unable to be present at the meeting.

STUDENT BODY PUBLICITY NOW HANDLED BY ABBOTT

Former Emerald Editor Furnishing News to People of State Relative to Campus Activities

The opening of the fall term on the University campus brings to light the existence of a new student body officer. Leith Abbott, president of last year's senior class and a former editor of the Emerald is this year holding down the chair of director of student body publicity of the University of Oregon.

Abbott has been one of the most popular students on the campus during his four years here, and one of the best of the journalism news chasers. Hence it was that at the close of the last spring term, the student body felt that they could lose neither Leith nor his ability. So Leith works now with Jack Benefield, sending out stories to the state papers, about everything from high scholarship to football.

"Just at present we're a little handicapped by lack of an office," said the new student official. "About the 15th we expect to move into the Ten Million dollar campaign skäck back of the Ad building, and then we can get things a little better organized."

"When I get in there I intend to file all of my material, and to check up on all the stories I send out, and the way every paper in the state treats it. I will go along with the football team on its trips, as publicity man, and see that the people en route know something about our team.

"When the glee clubs go out on their annual trips, I will also send out news stories about them and their accomplishments. In fact, my job is to see that the people of the state of Oregon, and some of the surrounding states for that matter, too, know what the students of the University, individually, and collectively, are doing."

Yes, without doubt, Leith is a news hound. When he was asked about the football prospects he replied that they were good since there were a number of lettermen back, "and," he added, "there is a flock of good timber on the field."

TRACK WORK TO BEGIN ON MONDAY AFTERNOON

All-Coast Cross Country Meet Scheduled For Nov. 11

All branches of track athletics both varsity and frosh, including cross country, begin Monday afternoon, according to Bill Hayward, coach and trainer. Freshman cross country and track start at the same time, Bill also states.

Cross country running which this year will be a big feature in the conference fall sports, will take precedence over other track and field sports for the next two months. With an all-coast meet scheduled here on Armistice day, and a probable meet with O. A. C., great interest is already manifested among the distance runners. Glen Walkley, a varsity star in both cross country and track, will have charge of the squad this fall.

Workouts for varsity track will be under the direction of Bill Hayward himself, while Hank Foster will direct the Frosh aspirants. All men who possess any ability in either track or field work are urged to report Monday, whether they have taken the physical ability test or not. Tests for these men can be arranged later.

CARPENTRY SHOP BUSY

ample, an instructor loses the key to his class room. The janitor opens the door that morning and word passes to the shop that Professor Drotip in room so and so in such and such a building has lost the key to the temple of learning. Presto, before night a new key has been produced which will unlock the temple and has been placed in the hands of Professor Drotip. Or, if a freshman weary after an all night's vigil at the bonfire slumps down in a classroom chair and the same collapses under the unequal distribution of weight, it is sent to the shop. Before many days the chair has been repaired and is in as good a condition as when it was new.

Five experienced wood workers constitute the force in the carpenter shop. W. H. Marshal is the foreman of these. According to Marshal the woodworking fraternity at the University shop keep busy about 365 days each year. "We never catch up, much less get ahead of our work," he declares. Many thousands of dollars is saved each year for the University by the work turned out by the shop, says John L. Hanna, the superintendent of construction.

time pep. Their addition to the line will help out a great deal, as they both are two-year letter men and among the best linemen on the coast at present.

Bill Spear Wins Footrace

Light workouts were the order of the day yesterday and sprinting and signal practice featured. In a special 50-yard run by Rud Brown, Bill Spear, Vonder Ahe, Latham and Shields, Bill Spear came off winner, with Brown last. Hayward proposed a race between Brown and McKeown but called it off because such a contest would doubtless be interrupted by darkness.

The entire squad is in the best of condition for the contest today and will probably give as speedy an exhibition of the grid game as has been seen here for a long time. Cog Campbell is rapidly coming down to his normal weight of 210 pounds, so should give a good account of himself if he gets in.

Chapman and Latham have been alternating at punting, and Chapman will probably start this department of the game, with Latham always at hand to relieve him. They are both good for around 45 yards at any time and are gaining distance with every day of practice.

RESERVE BOOKS IN DEMAND

Tables in Upper Part of Library Always Filled to Capacity

Early scholastic application seems to rule at the University this term, if recent statistics from the reserve desk of the library are to be considered.

On Wednesday, the first day of regular scholastic work, 655 books passed over the counter of the reserve division. Thursday 755 books were issued by the same department. Librarians in charge of the upper division of the library state that the new tables are always filled to capacity and there is keen competition for elbow room at times.

Come early if you want a seat in the reserve section.

YELL PRACTICE DRILL FEATURE

500 Are Enrolled in Military; R. O. T. C. Men Urged to Turn Out for Band

Regular drill, which this year will be embellished by a fifteen-minute yell practice preceding each period, will begin Tuesday at 1 o'clock. All members of the R. O. T. C. will report in uniform at the grandstand at Hayward field, the sophomores in Section A, and freshmen in sections B, C, and D.

Art Rosebraugh, yell king, will be present and will lead a spirited 15 minute noise fest, after which the cadets will be regularly organized into permanent companies.

Over 550 men have already enrolled in the military department, according to Lieutenant-Colonel Sinclair, commandant, and the hearty cooperation of every member will be necessary in order to round the battalion into shape for participation in Armistice day affairs.

Exercises Not Compulsory
"Participation in Armistice day exercises will not be compulsory this year," announces the commandant, "but the cadets should be willing to devote a part of this day to assisting the townspeople in celebrating."

"Although we have but four drill periods before November 11, we hope to perfect our organization by that time so that the students will take enough pride in their work to want to participate."

The drill system this year will be entirely rearranged, and much better results under the new regime are looked for. Freshmen will drill two hours a week, with an hour class conference, while the sophomores will put in one hour in the field, and will have two one hour classes.

A supply of new uniforms has just been received, and for the first drill period Tuesday, every man is expected to don his O. D. outfit, and be present.

Band Plans Started

Plans for the band this year are already under way, under the direction of Bob Stewart, a leader of long experience. Members of the band will not be selected for at least a month, it is stated, and for the present all aspirants will meet and practice at the regular drill hour.

An especial appeal for bass, baritone, alto and trombone players has been sounded by Bob Stewart, band leader, and anyone, whether under or upperclassmen, who can play these instruments is urged to come out for practice. Uniforms for the band this year are to be distinctive and attractive, and every effort will be made to make the organization one of the best on the coast.

OREGON IN DEBATE CONFAB

Freshmen and New Men Are Urged to Tryout

Professor Clarence D. Thorpe, coach of debate and oratory, will represent the University at the state debate league meeting which will be held at Reed College in Portland today. Such a meeting is held annually at one of the colleges or universities in the league, which is composed of debating teams from Oregon Agricultural College, Reed College and the University of Oregon, and the time, question and other details of the annual triangular debates between the three institutions are decided on.

Professor Thorpe says he anticipates a very successful year for the Oregon team as six former varsity debaters, Paul Patterson, Ted Rice, Claude Robinson, Boyd Iseninger, Charles Lamb and Ralph Bailey, have signified their intentions to enter the tryouts, the date of which will be published later. The veterans will have no better chance to make the team, however, than some promising new material, Professor Thorpe says, and he urges freshmen and new students to enter the tryouts. Although they will not be eligible for varsity debates during the fall term, the experience gained may be valuable in obtaining a place on the team for the debates in March.

TWO INSTRUCTORS CHOSEN

Dr. Schafer and Dr. Williams Will Lecture in Summer Term

Two instructors well known to the University campus have already been engaged for 1923 for the campus branch of the summer session. One is Dr. Joseph Schafer, former head of the department of history here and now director of the Wisconsin Historical society. In 1921 Dr. Schafer lectured in the Portland branch of the summer session. In 1922 he was unable to accept the University's invitation. He is so authentic in his field and is so popular in the summer session constituency of this state that he has been invited annually for several years.

The other instructor is Dr. Ben Williams, an alumnus of this University, who is now on the faculty at Pennsylvania. Dr. Williams lectured in the campus summer session this year and made such a success that he was forthwith asked to return in 1923. His field is political science.
