New Plans for Doughnut Sports

The reduction of the number of games which will be played by each team in the doughnut basketball series by the formation of two leagues is a decided improvement. A serious objection to the series last year was that every team had to play every other team, making the schedule too heavy. The new plan submitted to the representatives of the houses by Coach Bohler will make it possible for more men to take part in the games and will insure better attendance at more important contests.

Another good feature of the plan for intramural athletics this year is that no man will be allowed to drop varsity athletics and take up doughnut sports without the consent of the coaches. The directors of doughnut athletics are wise to co-operate with the varsity coaches in this matter, since there is some temptation for the varsity scrub to turn in his suit and star for his house basketball team. Varsity athletics come first, and the men needed there should turn out there. Then if the coaches decide to drop them from the squad they may join their house teams. Doughnut sports are primarily to interest men who would not otherwise turn out, and the competition of these "near lettermen" throws the whole system off.

Under Bohler's plan of having basketball lettermen coach squads not included in the organization teams any University student with a fair degree of ability at the game will be able to find a position on one of the teams. And with the new arrangement of the schedule there will be no excuse for the organization which does not enter a team.

Clapping for Mighty Oregon

The Emerald agrees with Yell King Rosebraugh that clapping or making noise during the singing of "Mighty Oregon" should not be the custom. It is believed that continuing the practice this year is the result of a misunderstanding. But whatever the conditions, when "Mighty Oregon" is started every man will remove his hat and all noise will cease.

WOMEN'S LEAGUE PLANS FOR YEAR TO BE MADE

Freshmen Attendance Desired At Meeting Thursday

The first Women's League mass meeting of the year will be held tomorrow afternoon at five o'clock, in Villard hall. Plans for the year will be completed and all committees appointed. It is important that all women of the University be present at this first meeting in order to get the work of the year organized and known to everyone. Freshmen girls are especially urged to attend as every girl in the University automatically becomes a member of Women's League, and should know the campus workings of the organization. The Women's League will have charge of many of the collegiate functions this year, among them the annual Sponsor-Sponsee dance, Women's League teas, and a Christmas Ball. Plans for a matinee dance in the near future will soon be completed.

The foreign scholarship fund, enabling young women from foreign countries to have the advantage of a college education, is in charge of the Women's League, and one of the problems of this year will be to raise money for this fund.

On Saturday, October 21, from 3:30 to 5:30 in Alumni hall of the Women's building the Women's League and Dean Elizabeth Fox will be at home to all girls of the University, both old and new. Mrs. P. L. Campbell, Dean Fox, and the officers of Women's League will receive.

RELICS GIVEN UNIVERSITY

Gift of 70 Framed and Unframed Scenes Made by Chehalis Physician

The University has received a most interesting and valuable collection of Civil war relics from Dr. G. W. Overmeyer of Chehalis, Washington. The collection consists of 72 framed and 400 unframed scenes of Civil war times, 600 relics, gathered from the battlefields by Dr. Overmeyer, 500 stereopticon slides, 760 books on the Civil war and a number of maps and pamphlets.

OUTLOOK BRIGHT FOR GLEE CLUBS

More Applicants Tryout So Far; Tentative Plans Drawn For Spring Trip

Prospects for the glee clubs this year are unusually bright and encouraging, according to John Stark Evans, director of both organizations, and there are more applicants for the clubs than ever before. Tryouts for the men's club were started Tuesday afternoon and will probably continue all week.

Fifteen of the 20 who made up the club last year have returned, and there are vacancies to be filled in the three voice divisions, tenor, baritone and bass. It has been agreed by the members of the clubs that the rulings used for athletic tryouts will be used and that the old material will give place to the new if it is better.

Tryouts for the girls' glee club will be held by Mr. Evans Tuesday, October 18, in the music building.

Plans for a trip by the men's glee club into eastern Oregon are still more or less tentative and are being formed by Jack Benefiel, graduate manager of the student body. A special one and one-third rate will probably be given the University by the railroads for the football rooters, and Mr. Benefiel is trying to obtain this same rate for the glee clubs. If he is successful the men's club will make a two weeks trip during spring vacation, taking in Pendleton, Baker and La Grande, Oregon, and they will perhaps go to Ogden and Salt Lake City, Utah.

For the girls' glee club, trips have been planned into southern Oregon and to Yaquina and other coast towns. These will be made during the spring and Christmas vacations.

MONDAY BUSY DAY AT LIBRARY

Monday, October 8, was the busiest day ever experienced in the history of the reserve section of the library. Between 8 a. m. and 10 p. m., 1406 books were passed out to the students by the librarians. The increased patronage is attributed by the librarians to the new arrangement whereby English laboratory courses are dependent wholly on books in the reserve section and to the greater number of students enrolled in all departments of the University.

IDAHO WOMEN STUDENTS LEAD

University of Idaho, Moscow, Oct. 10.—(P. I. N. S.)—The superiority of women as college students is again borne out in the results of a complete tabulation of the U. of I. scholarship averages for last year. Calculated on the basis of 6,000 being a perfect average, the women led with an average of 4,900, and the men followed with an average of 4,345. Men greatly outnumbered women last year.
