

BIG SCORES MADE IN HOOP CONTESTS

Bachelors and S. A. E. Count Heavy; Friendly and Fijis Also Win

Friendly hall romped on the Kappa Delta Phi tossers to the tune of 22 to 10 in the first game of the afternoon's entertainment. The playing was listless until the latter part of the second half. Read, diminutive forward of the Hallmen went in and the dormitory men began to locate the basket. In the last few minutes of play the losers braced and threw a scare into the Hall basket-keepers. Hoskins and Read worked well for Friendly while Hill annexed most of the Kappa Deltas' counters. The score:

At the beginning of the spring term there was a balance of $55 which was supplemented by the student body dues amounting to $92.40, making a total of $147.40. EXTENSION DIVISION HAS ENROLLMENT OF 4018

Correspondence-Study Plan Found Successful

"The State is the Campus" may rightfully be called the motto of the University of Oregon Extension school, as it has an enrollment of 4018 students. A very large number of these are residents of Oregon.

The University of Oregon has found the correspondence-study method entirely successful with properly prepared pupils in the teaching of education, mathematics, English composition, economics, civics, literature, history, psychology, mechanical drawing, sociology; and reasonably successful in the teaching of modern languages, botany, physics, geology, physiology and biology.

This university and scores of other universities and colleges endorse the correspondence method of granting college credit to their successful correspondence students. This endorsement, however, does not carry with it any endorsement of the thousands of correspondence schools, real and so-called, offered by a multitude of schools and commercial concerns.

The prime requisite for learning by correspondence is not a classroom, or oral presentation, or a group of fellow students, but an active mind. The pupil must invariably study every lesson in full, that his recitation and all discussions of difficulties are in writing; he receives the undivided attention of the instructor to the whole of every recitation; he is not hampered by limitation of time in studying or reciting. Lack of personal contact of teacher and pupil and loss of the value of classroom discussions, are cited as disadvantages of the correspondence plan.

MERCHANTS OF EUGENE TO BE GIVEN PROTECTION

Soliciting of Advertising Is Officially Limited

Solicitation of advertising among the merchants of Eugene for irregular publications will be discouraged and permission to use the name of the University will not be granted except in special cases, according to a new policy of the Publications committee announced yesterday. When permission to get advertising is granted the amount which can be obtained will be limited, according to the plan announced.

Merchants will be informed that standing authorization has been granted to the Emerald, the Oregon, the Lem-on Punch and Old Oregon, but that solicitors for any other publications must have a card or a written statement signed by the Publications committee. The action has come as a result of a deluge of irregular publications seeking to sell advertising in the name of the University.

Blotters and programs are especially taboo and only one program will be permitted this year, it is announced. This is the Homecoming program being prepared at the present time.

PASSION PLAY TO BE DESCRIBED
 Mrs. Anna Landsbury Beck, instructor in the school of music, has been asked to address the students of the Eugene high school at their assembly Wednesday morning. Mrs. Beck will tell briefly of her experiences in Europe this summer and will discuss in detail the Passion Play which she saw at Oberammergau.
