

YEARLINGS MEET COLUMBIA TODAY

Heavy Prep Team Confident; Frosh in Good Trim from Five Days of Practice

Campus football enthusiasts will have their first opportunity of seeing the Oregon freshman gridsters in action today when Coach Baz Williams' proteges, crippled by injuries but brimful of fight, lock horns with the heavy and formidable Columbia university eleven of Portland on Hayward field. The game is scheduled to start promptly at 2:30.

The Portland team arrived in Eugene at 6:45 last night and is housed at the various fraternity houses. From the much-touted Schulerich to the last substitute they are indeed a husky bunch, all of them confident that they will take the measure of the frosh. And they have some ground for confidence after the way they performed against the O. A. C. Rooks last week.

But, though "Baz" and his men are not saying much, it may be assured that they will give the metropolis lads all in the way of fight that they can stand. Five nights of the most strenuous practice since the season opener with Mt. Angel last Saturday have made a world of difference in the yearlings and they will trot on the field today a fairly consistent and smoother working team. The babes showed a weakness at carrying the ball last Saturday and a good deal of the practice this week has been devoted to remedying that failing. On the defensive they are veritable stone-walls and it will take a most crushing attack to get through them. Columbia's heavy eleven is said to possess this but it is doubtful if they are as good as the Varsity, who were only able to dent the Frosh line after most stubborn fight.

Several of the most promising of the freshmen are still on the injured list, among them Shreeve and Purvine, both backfield men, but in spite of this handicap they are primed for the battle. When asked for a comment on the chances today, Coach Williams said, "Columbia is said to be chock full of confidence. All I say is that they are likely to have that confidence jarred out of them before the game is over."

The lineup which will probably start the game is Gosser, center; Wilcox and Hunt, guards; Albert Sinclair and Bob Mautz, tackles; Bass and Cariberg, ends; Anderson, quarterback; Purvine and Poulson, halfbacks; and Brosterhouse, fullback. Pearson, McMillan, Bailey, Bliss, Toole, Mays, and Scripture, linemen will all probably get into the fracas before it is over while the backfield substitutes are Stoddard, Navet, Mills and Shreeve.

Manager Jack Hunt requests that all students be sure to bring their student body tickets this afternoon or face the prospect of not seeing the game.

LEMON PUNCH HAS GOAL

Manager Wants to Increase Circulation to 2000; Editor Believes Comic Is Better

Lemon Punch now has a circulation of 1350 copies each month, according to the circulation manager of the publication.

John Braddock, editor of Lemmy, exchanges copies of his funny book with the publishers of the other 76 comic comics in the United States and is proud of the fact that Lemmy stands as fifth in the whole list. He declares that Lemmy Punch could easily be first in the list if the students only showed a little more cooperation with their humor.

At present the circulation manager of Lemmy is trying to increase the circulation of his publication to the set goal of 2000. During Homecoming the old grads will be solicited and the manager believes that the Lemmy drive will go over the top.

Those who have not yet received their copies of Lemmy Punch should call at the publishers office back of the Co-op and get their copy.

not be judged by the actions of a few and said that misrepresentation was always harmful.

Morals of the Japanese people are not different from those of the Americans, said Mr. Newton in answer to a question asked by one of the students. He believes that the morality of the Orientals has been misinterpreted through the actions of a certain class which formerly came to America. "Woman is a sacred subject in Japan," said Mr. Newton. "A woman can stroll among drunken coolies and not be insulted. The morals of the Japanese, it is true, are standardized, but they are just as good as ours, and perhaps in a certain sense better than ours."

Japanese Love Children

Japanese love the beautiful in nature and love children, stated Mr. Newton when speaking to a class during the day. The love for children is especially characterized by the race, he said. Old men, bent with age and bodily ailments brought on by improper nourishment, play with the youngsters and carry them around on their backs.

During the day Mr. Newton spoke before the class in newswriting, Dean Allen's editing class, one of the classic classes, and the philosophy class.

UPPERCLASSMEN IN THE SCHOOL OF JOURNALISM AND MEMBERS OF SIGMA DELTA CHI MET WITH MR. NEWTON AT A LUNCHEON IN THE CAMPA SHOPPE AT NOON.

Mention of the noticeable change in the appearance of the Oregon campus during his absence in the Orient was made by the Delta Tau Delta fraternity. He suggested that it was rather incongruous to go hastily across the campus and bump into students who say "hello" and "excuse me" in practically the same breath.

Mr. Newton is now on his way to Washington, D. C., from Kebe, for a consultation. He expects to return to Oregon from the East the latter part of the year.

COMMISSION IS FORMED

Girls Organize to Further Welfare of Student Activities

A commission consisting of nine freshman girls was recently elected to further the welfare work and student activities on the campus for the coming year. The commission will function under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A. The first meeting of the commission was held at the Y. W. hut yesterday with Helen McCormack as presiding officer.

Officers elect are Helen Gripper, president, Marjorie Buchanan vice-president with Helen Weber and Elmore Brockman tying for the position of secretary-treasurer. Phyllis Coplan was elected as reporter for the commission.

CONCERT SERIES WILL START TOMORROW EVE

Registration at Portland School Totals 193

The Methodist church choir is to open its year's work with a series of Sunday evening concerts beginning tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. This year John Stark Evans, choirmaster and organist, has gathered together a quartet of soloists who will appear in all of the concerts. Besides these Mr. Evans also promises an instrumental soloist in most of the concerts. The series is to be of several weeks duration.

The quartet of soloists is made up of Madame Rose McGrew, dramatic soprano and instructor in the University school of music, Vera Preece, contralto, for several years a soloist in the choir, Glen Morrow, baritone, men's glee club soloist, and Roy Bryson, tenor, member of the glee club.

Frank Badollet, flutist, will appear at the first concert. He, Rex Underwood, violinist, and Mr. Evans, organist will be the instrumental soloists for the series. Mr. Badollet is a member of the Castle theater orchestra and was formerly of the Rivoli theater orchestra in Portland. Mr. Underwood is head of the violin department of the University school of music and director of the University orchestra.

Mr. Evans merit as an organist should be known to all who have been on the campus before this year because of his former work in the church choir.

The program for tomorrow night is as follows:

- Anthem—Saviour, When Night Involves the Skies.....Shelley Glen Morrow and choir
- Solo—Lead Kindly Light.....Protheroe Roy Bryson, tenor
- Organ Offertory—Meditation from Suite in B Minor.....Evans John Stark Evans
- Anthem—Fear Not Israel.....Buck Vera Preece and choir
- Flute Solo—The Swan.....Saint-Saens Frank Badollet
- Solo—He Was Despised.....Mauder Mme. McGrew

SCRIBE'S DANCE IS TO BE MERRY ONE

Plans Made by Committees Call for Jazz Affair; November Date

Attention! Journalists! Ponder on these things. Soon you are to be given the chance for merry making. Theta Sigma Phi and Sigma Delta Chi, women's and men's national honorary journalism fraternities are making plans for the annual jazzy and jubilatory jinx, colloquially termed the journalism Jamboree, to be held sometime next month, probably on November 25, the Saturday before Thanksgiving vacation. Committees composed of Mary Lou Burton and Lenore Cram, representing Theta Sigma Phi, and Fred Michelson and John Piper, representing Sigma Delta Chi, are cooperating on the matter which requires immediate attention.

Dean Allen of the school of journalism has requested that the get-together be held earlier than usual this year. The reasons he sets forth are many and varied. The school of journalism has been more "out-of-luck" than ever before on account of the loss of the main section of the time-honored "shack." In years gone by, ever since the erection of the homely structures, jolly journalists were wont to gather within the walls of the newspaperman's sanctum, fraternize with the professors, call each other by their nicknames, and sometimes sat themselves down upon the reporters stools and whacked away at the instruments called typewriters, which were much better threshing machines, and reeled off copy for the old Emerald.

Nowadays things are all changed. Disappeared is the little white school-house where was located the old copy desk and the reporters rendezvous. In crowded quarters, herded like sheep into a corral, are all the prospective newspapermen and women of a future day, rubbing elbows as they pass from their classes, scarcely recognizing each other, and having no time to tarry even to exchange invectives against the editors to say nothing of the copy desk. The frosh have little opportunity to get together with each other, and the old students find it hard to keep in touch with one another, and maintain the spirit in the school which marks it as individual and outstanding for its good-fellowship.

It is thought best that with the close quarters preventing close acquaintance of students, something must be done immediately to remedy the situation. At the earliest possible date, which is in November, and not before the 25th of that month, the men and women of the school of journalism will get together for their annual day, that is to say their yearly jig.

What the nature of the hop will be has not been decided. Nor has a place been chosen. It was a lottery last year. Some speak of making it a free-for-all, everybody-come sort of an affair. Others would like dates to be in order and lend a little dignity to the occasion. The problem will be threshed out in the near future, and before the 25th of November, all the battling over the matter will have been done, and the arrangements completed. Keep your eyes peeled for the dates, and your ears open for the dope.

OREGON GIRLS ARE CHOSEN

Final Tryouts Are Scheduled to Take Place Monday Afternoon

Fifteen girls have been chosen for the final tryouts for the women's glee club which will be held in the music building Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. This tryout is to consist of part singing with the club, and some solo work.

Because the club is limited to 20 girls, and so many of last year's members returned, there are only six or eight vacancies to be filled. Approximately 67 girls, exclusive of old members signed up for tryouts. Almost all of these have excellent voices and the process of selection has been exceedingly difficult.

The following girls are to report Monday: Josephine Lindley, Edith Clave, May Fenno, Olive Merry, Catherine Lyon, Alberta Carson, Frances Heyburn, Ruby Spears, Vida Derflinger, Alice Tomkins, Helga McGrew, Mildred Brown, Hortense Hough, June Dalton, and Betty Smith.

NEW GARDEN IS PLANTED

Plans for a sunken garden at the south side of Susan Campbell hall are well under way, according to Mr. H. M. Fisher, superintendent of grounds. A sod bank has been constructed around the sunken portion, which will be filled in with an array of bright flowers. A few bulbs, but chiefly asters, chrysanthemums, zinnias, and dahlias, will form a center of vivid color, which will be
