Welcome Home

Welcome home, alumni and former students! We're glad you are here, and we hope that you will go away with a feeling that Homecoming has been a success. We hope that you will find out for yourselves that Oregon is not losing her traditions—her democracy and cheerful friendliness. This afternoon we will show you that "Oregon Fight" is stronger than ever before. We hope that you will see the Lemon-Yellow in victory, but in triumph or in defeat you will see that "Oregon may be defeated but never licked."

Your presence will help to win the game today and to put Homecoming across. We want to feel that you have as much interest now as in your undergraduate days. We would like you to tell us how we can keep the institution democratic, and how we can always retain the famous Oregon spirit you helped to make and maintain. Today, you are students once more. You will be in the stands yelling for the team. Tomorrow, you will be gone. We want you to be as much interested tomorrow and every day in the year as you are today. We want you to keep on returning to your alma mater for Homecoming and the big game of the year.

The freshmen have done well to build the bonfire in the limited time. The fire was worthy of Oregon and was the center of one of the greatest rallies ever staged.

Be sure that the alumni and visitors are registered at the Administration building. No one will be admitted to the dance without a ticket or badge.

If Jupe Pluvius will postpone his sprinkling from today until next August Oregon rooters will be gratified.

R. O. T. C. WILL MEET AT BARRACKS AT 9:30

Band to Live up Cadets; Full Uniform Required

The University R. O. T. C. battalion with all its officers, both student and commissioned, will meet this morning at 9:30 at the barracks, and from there will march to the Armory to participate in the Armistice day parade. The band will meet at the corner of thirteenth and Alder a few minutes before the cadets form, and will play a selection or two to arouse pep for the occasion.

Since it is desired that the cadets make the best showing possible, Colonel Sinclair, commandant, has requested that all men wear wrap leggings, and appear in full uniform.

The battalion will be led by the regular commissioned and non-commissioned officers, and Don Zimmerman, student colonel, who will be accompanied by his staff. The band will come next in line, with companies A, B, C, D, marching in the order named.

In the afternoon the military department will participate in the flag-raising exercises, which will be augmented by the firing of the 75 millimeter gun imported from O. A. C. for this occasion.

The R. O. T. C. band in their student uniforms, will furnish music for the parade in the morning, and during the entire time of the game in the afternoon.

"The part the military department is playing in the armistice day and Homecoming exercises is entirely voluntary on the part of the cadets," said Colonel Sinclair, "and their response is especially gratifying."

Captain Lewis urges upon the cadets the importance of being at the barracks promptly at 9:30 today, and that they must wear wrap leggings and all other military accouterments.

NOISE AND PEP

gloom demon was coming back, but then from the offing there appeared the giant form of a lemon-yellow and the cougar slunk into the air in a great burst of flame.

As the flames of the pile mounted skyward a great Oskie rent the air. President Campbell proclaimed "Victory is ours" and the multitude loudly backed him.

Following in rapid order Bill, Shy, Bart, and Captain Tiny Shields asked the "thundering thousand" to be on hand to aid in the slaughter of the cougar today. Then "Beauty" Robinson, Carl Van Dusen, and "Busher" Brown, yell kings of the old days, mounted the platform and pleaded for the support of the old gang just as they did in the days of their glory.

King Dykeman, the ambassador from the University of Washington, emphasized the friendly relations between that institution and the University of Oregon and said that he was glad to be a witness to the gigantic demonstration.

The band played and the throng dispersed until this afternoon when the Cougar will be put to the supreme sacrifice of the Homecoming festivities.

ivy-clad walls. Just as homesick soldiers, fighting in distant lands, invest some woman from their own country whom they encounter with the maternal qualities of their women at home, so I hope that you who stand in your places here will understand that this University wants to be a mother to you.

This University endeavors to make its due contribution to culture and social civilization, while training her numbers for life and for the professions. She rejoices to see that the Great State has attracted many sons and daughters of the sister Universities of other states. She understands their nostalgia, and she has room for them in her arms and her heart.

She welcomes into associate membership as adopted sons you who have come at her invitation. You now become part of a virile and loyal and ardent family of Sons of Oregon.

We shall always have an affectionate welcome for you. We hope you can come home often. On our part we shall ask of you in return only that you help to the best of your individual talents to forward the social and cultural well-being of the state in which you have elected to live.

BIG DANCE CALLED OFF

HOME COMING PROGRAM CHANGED AT LAST MINUTE FOR BENEFIT OF MEN

OBAB WALLACE RECEPTION SUBSTITUTED

A last minute decision of the powers that be has exploded all plans for tonight's Homecoming program. In place of the big dance and other attractions that were to have taken the time of the old stude after tonight's beefsteak—an informal reception at the house of OBAB is scheduled for all men.

This sudden turn in affairs was found necessary since the discovery last night that great numbers of the old tribe were unexplainably restless and that a few of them were actually already homesick for their own fireplace. Why this feeling should creep in at this time of jubilee was a complete mystery to the Homecoming committee until a group of old timers was discovered sneaking out of the Gamma Yamma headquarters and were trailed down to OBAB Wallace's club for college men, where they rolled the merry billiard balls in glee.

Questioning brought out that the regular fellows of years now gone did not feel at home with no time left on their programs for a visit to their downtown club, OBAB'S.

So it has been decided to call off the big dance, give the Hoola Hoola queen, imported for the entertainment of the boys, a crate of cocoa nuts and ship her back to the sunny isles, and hold a regular get-together of all the men around the snow white luncheonette counter found at OBAB'S.

The program for the evening will be opened by an address of welcome by the dean of Regular Guys, Obak himself. He intends to outline the progress made during the past several years in the matter of entertaining the college bunch when they are off duty. He will point out the improvements in the club house that have been installed: the luncheonette, the larger varieties of smokes, the better brands of pipes, etc.

Following this extension of welcome will come a billiard contest between the president of the class of '26 and any one of the class of 1910. This will beyond doubt prove to be a sensation in sporting circles as these two classes were exceptional in the sharks they turned out along such lines.

Following the sports classic will follow open house on all the tables for whoever wants to shoot a stick. Most of the old timers will beyond doubt be surprised to find the tables in such good condition, knowing that they are used by the college bunch so much. Obak makes it a practice to keep his tables in the very best running order.

A royal banquet around the snow-white luncheonette will be next on the program. Such eats as no house ever served will mark this part of the program, for OBAB has built up a reputation on the chow he serves.
