

OREGON WOMEN'S PROBLEMS RATED SMALL AND FEW

Bernice Altstock, President, Reports to League on Coast Convention

'MORTAR BOARD' WANTED Organization of Upperclass Girls to Promote Ideals Will be Considered

At the second mass-meeting of Women's League, held in Villard hall yesterday, Bernice Altstock, president, gave a formal report of the Coast Women's League convention, from which she recently returned. The convention was held at Salt Lake City, with representatives present from all colleges and Universities throughout the middle-west.

The problems brought up and discussed at the conference were presented by Miss Altstock. "Round table" discussions were held, with a different representative in charge each day, and every problem concerned with college life was fully discussed and solutions offered and given their stamp of approval by able women.

"The convention was wonderfully helpful," said Miss Altstock, "but after all, I came back feeling that we really had the best organization of all. Some of the colleges are bothered with problems that we do not have to consider, such as college spirit and morals of students." The keynote of the conference was: "Inasmuch as women can set their own standards, it makes for a better freedom and a better responsibility."

"Just Buzzing" Unwise
"We must not just buzz, as so many of us do," said the speaker, "but when going out for activities, pick out that thing that interests us most and is going to do us the most good in after life. 'The point system,' when completely worked out, will regulate activities on the Oregon campus, and benefit the individual girl by 'getting her into' that which she most enjoys."
The "Big Sister" idea, as furthered by the Convention, urges the upperclass sister to remain a "big sister" throughout the four years of college, and to be a help other than socially. Girls in the same lines of study and having the same interests will hereafter be paired off.

"Crooked politics," was another problem of the conference, as reported by Miss Altstock. It was said that if women would put their stamp of disapproval on crookedness in politics, such practices would not meet with success. As a whole, the conference voted against anything in the nature of crooked politics.

Faculties Draw Fire
The failure of the "honor system" in other colleges was blamed on the faculties. Other college representatives felt that if the faculty would trust the students more the system would meet with success. This, however, is not one of Oregon's problems, according to Miss Altstock.

The forming of "Mortar Board" will be considered seriously by Women's League. The Coast conference favored an organization of this kind, composed of "all round" upperclass women, to regulate college activities, uphold campus ideals, and in general carry out everything that college stands for. Discussion will be held in Women's League Executive Council before any action is taken, and the problem will

STATE ORGANIZATIONS WILL EMPLOY GRADS

Employment Department Will be Assisted by Merchants Says Fred Lorenz

Results of the meeting of the commercial club and chamber of commerce secretaries of the state in Portland last week were very favorable for the University organization, according to Fred Lorenz, secretary of the University chamber of commerce. The secretaries throughout the state, he says, have promised to cooperate extensively in assisting the employment department of the University chamber by furnishing lists of merchants in their respective towns, who are in a position to employ University graduates.

A list of possible positions open for season employment, such as those open during the summer vacation period would also be furnished. Mr. Lorenz states that the merchants of the state are taking much interest in the employment of college students, as they see in it a chance to capitalize the investment for which they pay taxes.

The University secretary urges that all those interested in securing employment for the summer months or permanently, file with him stating the nature of the employment desired.

FOLLOW HYGIENIC RULES AND KEEP YOUNG IS ADVICE

Cancer Specialist Addresses Students at Assembly on Dread Malady

"Keep young and observe hygiene rules if you would avoid cancer," was the advice given by Dr. Ernest F. Tucker, regional director of Oregon of the American Society for the Prevention of Cancer, in an illustrated lecture given in Villard hall at the Thursday morning assembly.

"When a sore doesn't heal as it should, if you have any kind of a slight ailment that does not get well, if you have an unusual lump anywhere, especially on the breast, or if there is an unusual flow of blood—then look out! It may not be cancer—but it may. It comes out insidiously, though it is not contagious or hereditary," said the speaker in giving advice.

Keeping young by the means of a good wholesome life, or an operation in case the disease had already started, were given by the speaker as the most successful preventatives for the spread of the malady. Dr. Tucker especially emphasized keeping young, saying it is a known fact that cancer preys only upon the old or middle aged.

Doctor Tucker also laid great stress on avoiding the wiles of quack doctors who claim that they are able to cure cancer painlessly. This can in some cases be done by the use of radium or the X-Ray but in others these methods will not succeed and they are, especially the radium cure, very expensive and treatments cannot be received anywhere.

Death Rate Great
In an effort to check the rapid spread of the disease, which at the present time, according to the speaker, adds more than 10,000 to the annual death list, the society has set aside a week during which concentrated effort is made throughout the entire country to inform the people of the dangers of the disease and the best methods of its control and cure.

Same Three Win Wednesday

On Wednesday evening the Do-nut debaters went through their first round in the Commerce building, Delta Theta Phi, Phi Sigma Pi and the Fijis being victors. Friendly Hall and the Chi Psi Lodge tied for fourth place, with four points apiece. After the first round, Delta Theta Phi had 7 points to their favor; and the Phi Sigs and Fijis were tied for second position with 6 points each. All teams of the league went through the second round of elimination last night, with the winners of the previous evening earning the right to meet for the shield. The results of the first night debates were as follows: Delta Theta Phi, 7; Fijis, 6; Phi Sigma, 6; Friendly Hall, 4; Chi Psi, 4; Bachelordon, 3; Beta Theta Pi, 2; Oregon Club, 2; Alpha Beta Chi, 2.

According to tentative plans, the three winners of the elimination debates will meet in about three weeks. Judges for the debates were: D. G. Barnes, Colonel Sinclair, Chuck Lamb, C. A. Gregory, Captain Lewis Madeline McManus, Prof. George Turnbull, Ralph Bailey, Prof. W. F. G. Thacher, Walter Barnes, Boyd Isenminger, Dr. Edwin Hodge, Dr. A. E. Caswell, Professor M. K. Cameron, Gerald Barnes, Lurline Coulter, Professor Thorstenberg, Dr. James Gilbert, Professor E. H. Decker, Read Bain, Prof. R. Miller, Prof. C. D. Thorpe, Remy Cox, Carlton Spencer, Al Lomax, and Dr. R. C. Clark.

Question is Given
The question debated was, "Resolved: That the United States should cancel all allied war debts with the exception of those of Great Britain," the same one on which the girls' organization will debate next week and the winners of the two contests will debate for the cup offered by Tau Kappa Alpha, National forensic fraternity.

The Fijis have won the Do-nut debate series on two previous occasions and should they again win this year the trophy will be in their possession permanently. Other houses which have won the shield in recent years are Phi Delta Theta, Beta Theta Pi, and Chi Psi.

Spirit of Campus To Roam Rampant At Rally Tonight

Rosebraugh Passes Word Reminding Students Big Game of Year Will Be Held Tomorrow; Oregon Knights Will Decorate Special for Migration to Corvallis; Train Leaves S. P. Depot at 11 A. M.

The word has been passed—not by enforced "pep talks," but by stirring appeals to student sentiment, not by assembly rallies, not by the printed sheet, but by Yell King Art Rosebraugh in a brief message over the "phone to a reporter in the Emerald 'shack.'"

"Just remind the 'gang' that the big rally of the year is to be held this evening, starting at 7:15 from the corner of Thirteenth and Alder. It is not necessary to urge the students to be out—this is an O. A. C. game rally. The students know the rest. The band will lead the line of march and the students are going to show the coaches and the team that we're all behind them."

It is the intention of the yell emperor and his regal assistants to confine the rally to the vicinity of the campus—providing the Thundering Thousand does not decide to migrate en masse into the business section of Eugene, carrying the message, "On to Corvallis." After the campus rally, the entire student body will go to the Woman's building where the coaches and probably a few of the players will give short talks.

Roughneck garb is to be the uniform of the evening, according to the men who will lead the rally. A dance will be held in the Woman's building after the pepfest has ended. Rosebraugh has made it known that the students are to continue with the rallies to the Woman's building if they expect to take part in the dance or not.

Yesterday morning a paper containing Corvallis advertisements and "pep talks," supposedly for the purpose of arousing the Aggie fighting spirit, made its appearance on the Oregon campus. If the tone of this sheet is any indication, the O. A. C. students are quite interested in the approaching game and Rosebraugh feels that it is necessary to give his vociferous crew a good work-out before moving into the Corvallis bleachers to make them more effective against the noisy thousands in the northern city.

The special train of six or eight coaches which is to carry the student body to Corvallis Saturday for the game will be run into a siding near the Anchorage Saturday morning at 8 o'clock and a committee of Oregon Knights will decorate the engine with bunting, pennants, and Oregon O's.

The Southern Pacific special will leave the Eugene depot tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock, arriving in the heart of Corvallis, two blocks from the campus, at 1:30. The round trip ticket on both the Southern Pacific and Oregon Electric, good over the week-end, has been reduced to $1.80. The Oregon students will serpentine to the Aggie field from the Andrews and Kerr confectionery, near the S. P. depot.

WOMEN'S DEBATE TEAMS TO HOLD FIRST CONTEST

Ten Organizations to Compete Next Tuesday

The women's do-nut debate teams will hold their first contests Tuesday, November 21. At that time representatives from ten organizations on the campus will debate the question, "Resolved that the United States should cancel all allied war debts, except those of Great Britain." This topic is also being contested by the men's organizations.

All the girls who are taking part in the series are now at work, and for this reason competition will be much keener this year, according to debate leaders. The trophy given to the winning team is a silver cup, which is now held by Oregon club.

The debates will be given in room 105 Commerce building, at 7 o'clock Tuesday night. Eight minutes will be given to each speaker for a constructive talk, three minutes for rebuttal. Members of the faculty have been asked to act as judges.

The organizations and those taking part in the debates are as follows: Oregon club: affirmative, Eva Nealon, Florence Randall; negative, Sara Overmeyer, Genevieve Jewell.

Delta Delta Delta: affirmative, Irene Fourier, Edith Pierre; negative, Dorothy Jean Smeton, Eva Randall.

Alpha Delta Pi: affirmative, Margaret Woodson, Mary Baker; negative, Rosalia Keber, Mildred Bateman.

Alpha Xi Delta: affirmative, Myrtle Pelker, Marion White; negative, Hulda Gill, Bernice Rasor.

Pi Beta Phi: affirmative, Mary de Goyler, Mary Ellen Ray; negative, Virginia Pearson, Ruth Fowler.

Hendricks hall: affirmative, Margaret Duerner, Eugenia Strickland; negative, Mildred Crain, Ethel Johnson.

Chi Omega: affirmative, Hulda Hafner, Katherine Pinneo; negative, Lois Pixley, Marion Lay.

The schedule for the teams, with the affirmative listed first is as follows: Oregon Club, Alpha Xi Delta, Delta Delta Delta, Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Alpha Delta Pi, Gamma Phi Beta, Hendricks Hall, Oregon Club, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Chi Omega, Pi Beta Phi, Delta Delta Delta, Chi Omega, Hendricks Hall.

OREGON TEAM TO BE IN TRIM FOR SCRAP WITH AGS

Johnson and Latham Nearly Ready, and all Others Fit for Fray

CHAPPY PRIMED TO GO

Old Dependable Toe to be Used Against Confident Corvallis Crew

If the Aggie football team is as confident of victory as the Corvallis publications, they have the coming battle over and settled already, for the latest dope from their headquarters is that the Oregon footballers are to suffer a 21 to 0 defeat when they meet the Ags Saturday on Bell field.

The Oregon team is far from being as confident of victory as the O. A. C. men, but nevertheless they have the fight characteristic of all Oregon teams, so there should be no question in the minds of the Lemon-Yellow rooters as to which team will win, even though the Ags do outweigh our men 20 pounds to the man.

Injuries are Few

The Oregon team was rather demoralized yesterday by an attack of biliousness, but nearly all the men have recovered now, and according to Coach Huntington will be in the best of condition for the fracas Saturday afternoon. Ward Johnson is the only man with bad injuries at present, and a sprained ankle is the most that he can complain of. Hunk Latham still has a stiff knee, but it does not interfere with his running, so he will start the game.

The team has been going through the hardest kind of work in preparation for the game, and will be primed for it, as they all are eager to make up for the past two years of tie scores.

Chappy Accurate as Ever

Chappy with his dependable toe will start the game at quarter, and was never more accurate than at present. He has already won two games this year by his ability to kick long field goals, so the Aggies will have to move faster than ever before if they stop this department of Oregon's scoring system.

Every man on the squad seems to realize that this is the most important contest of the year, for if O. A. C. should by any chance gain a victory it would effectively stifle any claims which Oregon has on the Northwest championship.

All present indications are that there will be a wet field at Corvallis Saturday, which will give the home team and their vaunted 200 pound line an added advantage over the Oregon eleven.

Gill Will Play

Luke Gill is back in the O. A. C. backfield. In the Stanford game he failed to shine, but the O. A. C. dopsters have great hopes of him against Oregon.

The Aggies are certainly confident of victory and have doped out everything in their favor, forgetting only one thing in the excitement and pleasure which they derive from their own work, and that is the fighting Oregon team.

GIRLS TO MEET AT Y. W.

The following girls are asked to meet at the Y. W. C. A. Bungalow at 5:15 this evening: Camilla Anderson, Catherine Anderson, Vera Bellew, Edith Bewley, Vera Booth, Margaret Casad, Mary Chisholm, Ruby Cossman, Vada Davis, Lena Eastwood, Wanda Eastwood, Kathleen Gibson, Winnifred Gibson, Marie Gilkeson, Mabel Harlim, Jessie Hartwig, Mrs. Ione Harkness, Dorothy Kent, Esther Kerlee, Gladys Kerlee, Alta Knipps, Lulu McLaughlin, Ruth McCord, Gladys Moeller, Wilma MacKenzie, Charlotte Nash, Lois Mortland, Jessie Olds, Mary Ottinger, Mildred Orr, Marie Porter, Esther Pike, Olive Pruett, Betty Pesterfield, Cecelia Rosser, Violet Reed, Carrol Strichler, Emma Shull, Sue Stewart, Ethyl Stone, Elmy Stoneberg, Wanda Templeton, Lois Youngs.

OREGON CHAPTER RANKS HIGH

A telegram was received from Howard Godfrey, representative of the local chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, at the national convention of that honorary fraternity. The convention is being held at Manhattan, Kansas. Godfrey reports that the Oregon chapter ranks among the first three chapters in activities.

Campus Geologists Hold Smoker And Select Name for Building

A building on the Oregon campus, nameless since its conversion into a geology laboratory at the beginning of this term, near the hour of midnight Wednesday night was named by ballot. Hereafter the diminutive structure at the rear of the Administration building, formerly the postoffice, is to be known as Rock Hall. Some 20 names were submitted to the geologists and their guests to vote on and in order to make a selection it was necessary to take a second ballot, the names finally voted on being Quartz Hall, Rock Crusher and The Dump. Quartz Hall and the Rock Crusher ran a close race in the voting, and as a compromise it was decided to christen the building Rock Hall.

Thirty-five students and faculty members attended the smoker. One of the many interesting features of the evening was a story-telling contest between the three instructors in the geology department, Dr. W. D. Smith, Dr. E. R. Packard, and Dr. E. P. Hodge. The judges, Dean Dymant, Troy Phillips, and Phil Brogan, awarded the prize to Dr. Hodge.

Other entertaining features of the evening were a blow-pipe contest between majors in the department, boxing bouts, musical numbers, including several selections by a vocal quartet, and a Philippine street scene staged by Dr. Smith and Hubert Schenck. Both of these men have been in the Islands and their act represented a dialogue between two natives in staging a cock fight.

Yesterday morning just before the assembly hour two Condon Club initiates, Harold McConnell and Homer Wise, cooked flapjacks over a fire on Kincaid field. These neophytes were garbed in the apparel of 'Forty-niners.
