

EXTENSIVE AREA SERVED BY UNIVERSITY LIBRARY

Schools and Out of Town Readers Benefited

In 1921 the University library mailed to out of town readers 988 packages. These packages contained 2961 items such as books, magazines and sheets of clippings. Since college reopened 85 packages have been mailed out for the month of October and 59 packages for November. The largest single item is 20 books to one person. These books are borrowed for one month and then mailed back. The library has borrowed from other libraries 144 books, for the use of students and professors.

The library also sends out debating material to nearly every high school in the state. Small high schools ask for material on debates, sometimes it is for a class debate, sometimes for a debate with another high school. The library then looks up the question and sends out books, magazines, pamphlets, or makes copies of some special articles. This material is made up into a package and sent out to the high school requesting it. They are allowed to keep it for two weeks and if they need it longer they may, upon request, retain it.

Such material is sent out as old magazines, or duplicate copies of present magazines, pamphlets, and clippings. Magazines such as "The Literary Digest," "The New Republic," "The Independent," "The Nation," "Review of Reviews," "Political Science Quarterly," and "Economic Review," are greatly in demand.

The library practically serves the whole state in this way. With the exception of Salem, Portland, and Astoria, which have big libraries of their own, the University library supplies debating references for every standard high school in the state. The high school debates have not yet begun but 17 packages of material have already been sent out.

QUIET ART ROOM OFFERS

(Continued from page one.)

Rackham illustrations. And through it we find

"—many a monk and many a friar many a knight and many a squire."
And—especially in Grimm's—Arthur Rackham trees! Who has not loved them with their fantastic arms, their misshapen bodies, their clannish whispering and plotting over the heads of long-nosed gnomes and parchment-skinned witches?

There is a whole set of Thackeray—lovely to look at and an invitation to long cozy afternoons, and there are large imposing collections of paintings. But we pass these over for just a moment to pick up a very small book, tucked in a corner and labelled "In Praise of Old Gardens." Wondering how it came to be with the patriarchal looking collection we turn the pages and find an old, old friend:

"In goign of the cliff, between lowland and highland
At the sea-down's edge between wind-ward and lee
Walled round with rocks as an inland island
The ghost of garden fronts the sea."—
And then, a jangling bell announcing that it is time to go to class. And we leave, admiration in our minds for those who have written the things that we love to read again and again, and with a feeling of reverence in our hearts for the creation that is a Book, to come back again in another spare hour and live again in the Books.

OREGON INSTRUCTORS TO WRITE TEXT BOOK

Professors from Six Colleges to Meet at Corvallis to Write Work for Political Science Classes

Dr. J. D. Barnett of the political science department of the University, is one of the six instructors of a group of Oregon colleges, who have organized to write a work titled, "Cooperative Analysis of the Local and State Government of Oregon." The subject deals with the anatomy rather than the active functioning of the state government. The work is not to be printed, but mimeographed. The reason for this is that the material has to be revised so often, because of changes in the laws of the state. The book is to be used as a text book in the political science courses and it is expected to have the work ready for the next term of school.

A meeting of the writers of the manuscript will be held in Corvallis the latter part of this week, to make arrangements for collecting and mimeographing the work.

Professor Barnett is the only member of the University of Oregon faculty contributing to the work; three instructors from the political science departments of Willamette University, and one from each of the same departments of Willamette University and Linfield College are writing for the book.

Miss Mary H. Perkins, professor of English and member of the staff of the Portland Center of the U. of O., conducts classes in theme writing, English grammar and history of the English language at Portland, Thursday and Friday evenings.

"There are from 160 to 170 students in these two classes," said Miss Perkins. "They are composed of all kinds of people, business men, teachers, women with leisure who are interested, nurses, and students in advertising. I have one German woman who is interested in writing short stories who has had a splendid convent education, but who needs knowledge of English grammar to help her in her work. I also have nurses who have been over seas. I can't tell you the exact ages of these students, but there are grandmothers in the classes."

One interesting and peculiar thing about the work is that these classes have grown very rapidly in the past year. There are two classes now where there was but one formerly. Miss Perkins says that most college students are inclined to look upon this line of study as dry and uninteresting, and care little about it. This is not true of her classes in Portland, however.

"I do not wish to say anything derogatory about my University classes," said Miss Perkins, discussing her work in Portland, "but my classes up there are unusually interesting, and I enjoy the work very much. The classes there put you on your mettle. If they don't like the work or don't find it interesting they can drop out. They are not inclined to accept things without argument, which is very stimulating."

MISS PERKINS TEACHES ENGLISH AT PORTLAND

160 to 170 Students from Many Walks of Life Attend Thursday and Friday Lectures

Get the Classified Ad habit.

Get the Classified Ad habit.

HARRY F. CRUSBERG
Painting, Tinting, Papering, Enameling, Furniture finishing.
Phone 1021-L
or Springfield 148-J

FRESHMAN APPOINTED EDITOR

Issue W. Pouttu, of Astoria, a freshman in the journalism department at the University of Oregon, has been called to Brownsville, Oregon, to fill the position of editor of the Brownsville Times. Pouttu was associate editor of the paper last summer and has also worked on Astoria newspapers in previous years. The editions which Pouttu has put out during the past week have shown him to be competent and capable of editing a good newspaper.

CAST LIVES IN RUINS

Living for several weeks in the ruins of an old Coptic mission, was the interesting experience of George Melford's company during the filming of his new Paramount production, "Burning Sands," now at the Castle.

HERE'S the coal man! Mr. Coal Man says that if he's from our yard you can be sure of your heat! We carry only good coal. That's why it is all we can do to fill orders. Everybody wants it.

"Read the Coal-man chats"
Rainier Coal Co.
19 East 9th Ave. Phone 412

Men's Wool 'Sportknit' Sweater Coats

Regular $5.00 Value

Special This Week
$3.98

Here is a good looking serviceable sweater coat in all the popular heather shades at a big saving. Well made to fit snug around shoulders. Two large pockets. All sizes.

McMoran & Washburne Store
FOR STYLE, QUALITY & ECONOMY

Dr. R. C. Graham

A THOROUGHLY EXPERIENCED CHIROPRACTOR

has opened offices at 734 Willamette Street

(Upstairs over Chambers Hardware Store.)

Office Hours 9 to 12—1 to 5

Consultation and Examination Free

This Is SQUIBB WEEK

A 50c Tube of

SQUIBB'S MAGNESIA DENTAL CREAM FREE

with each $1.00 purchase of Squibb's Household Products

86 East 9th

Phone 232

A Seasonable Offering of

Fur Trimmed Coats

for

Dressy Wear

at

$49.50

For the lengthened frocks, these coats are altogether in harmony with the mode, for they are of the length and styling of the new frocks themselves. Soft and deeply piled of fabric, draped, paneled, bloused or straight in modeling. They are adorned with embroidery and becoming fur collars of squirrel, beaver and wolf. Silk lined. Women's and Misses' sizes.

LARGE'S

865 Willamette Street

For Snappy November Days—

Oregana Lunches — piping hot food — takes the crimp out of the foggy, frosty weather and makes you feel fit.

The OREGANA

"The Students' Shop"

TONIGHT

Telephone Male Quartet

Hal Young, Denton Denman, Ferris Abbott, Mark Daniels

Christian Church

8:15 o'Clock

Admission—Students 50c

The Castle

TODAY and WEDNESDAY

A man's flaming Answer to "The Shiek"
"Burning Sands" with
WANDA HAWLEY and MILTON SILLS

Atmospheric Prelude
BRITZ' Castle Orchestra

CASTLE NEWS and "Fun from the Press"

The REX

LAST TIMES TODAY

Rupert Hughes' New Story
"Remembrance" with star cast

HAWLEY'S CONCERT
Torchy Special Comedy

Tomorrow—
E. Phillips Oppenheim's "Pilgrims of the Night" with Special Cast

"Paramount" and "First National" Pictures are shown only at the Rex and Castle Theatres

COMING

Friday Night

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Oswald's

Seven Serenaders

at

Eugene Armory

We have a big treat in store for you