

SUSAN CAMPBELL LEADS IN DEBATE

Hendrick's Hall is Second in Series; Two Houses Tie For Third Place

Susan Campbell Hall leads the women's houses in doughnut debate, as the result of eliminations of last night's contests, according to announcement by Lurline Coulter, president of Zeta Kappa Psi, women's national honorary debating fraternity, under whose auspices the women's debates on the campus are being held this year. Susan Campbell Hall having won all of her debates leads the list with a score of 16 points.

Hendrick's Hall, presses hard on Susan Campbell with a score of 12 points, their team having lost one out of four debates. Third place on the list is tied between Alpha Delta Pi and Chi Omega, with ten points each to their credit. The tie will be fought out next Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock, the winner of the tie then debating with the two leading teams mentioned, for the championship of the women's debate. Finals in women's doughnut debate will be held early next week, and within the next two weeks, the winner of the women's debates will meet the winners of the men's debates, in a contest for the cup offered by Tau Kappa Alpha, the men's national honorary debating fraternity, to the winners of all-doughnut debate, both men and women.

Speaking of the entire season of women's doughnut debate, Miss Coulter said, "I believe that more than usual interest has been shown in the women's doughnut debate, this year. The debates have done much toward bringing promising varsity material to light. Zeta Kappa Psi has been greatly pleased with the interest shown thus far, since the debates have been under their auspices."

The following is a list of the teams competing with the scores made and the points to each team credit, and a list of the judges. Point scoring was made by allowing one vote for each judge, and one victory vote, to be added to the score of each team that won its contest, thus making it possible for a team to win a total of four points.

JANITOR MAKES FIRST SLIP DURING 23 YEARS

Frosty Roof on Ad Building Held Cause of Mr. Ledward's Slight Limp

"Well, I'll tell you how it happened," drawled William Ledward, janitor in the administration building, explaining his slight limp.

"I've been going out on this roof to raise the flag for the last twenty three years and I never slipped before. But this time," said Mr. Ledward, "the first thing I knew after I stepped through the hatch my feet suddenly went out from under me, and my side hit the hatchway. It must have been the result of the frost on the roof."

"Sure thing I put the flag up," he indignantly answered, when asked if he was able to raise the flag. "I wouldn't go back on Old Glory."

Mr. Ledward is back at work again, and the doctor says that he will soon be all right, as no bones were broken.

PEOPLE FROM AFAR VISIT ART MUSEUM

Normal Arts Classes Study Collection; Hours for Visiting Are Set; Open 3 to 5 Sundays

Students and townspeople are showing great interest and appreciation in the Murray Warner art collection, according to Mrs. Lucy Perkins, who is in charge of the museum during the visiting hours. Many visitors from outside of the state have stopped to see the art; many of whom have registered from eastern states such as Oklahoma, Illinois, and Ohio.

rection of Miss Maude Kerns have been going twice a week to the collection to study the symbols written on the works.

A recent contribution to the collection is a small bottle of Chinese art cut from agate, having a jade top, and on which the painting and symbols were done from the inside. Mrs. Warner left it on her last visit to the campus. The entire collection was recently cleaned and dusted, and all pieces of brass and other metals polished.

The visiting hours are from 2 to 4 o'clock every afternoon during the week and from 3 to 5 on Sundays. During those hours Mrs. Perkins is there to show visitors around the museum and give information on the various pieces of art.

The Helen Hyde room, at the west of the museum will be completed by January. In there will be hung pictures of Japanese life, painted by Miss Hyde. Many old robes and scarfs, donated by Mrs. Warner, will also be in that room.

POP CONCERTS PROMISE FEATURES AND VARIETY

Jazz to be Eliminated; Soloist for Each Concert is Plan of Rex Underwood, Director

A varied and interesting program, with a variety of orchestral literature has been promised by Rex Underwood, director of the University orchestra, for their first "pop" concert this year. Although no definite date has been set for the concert, Mr. Underwood has announced that it will probably take place sometime during the second week of December.

"Pop" concerts were started on the campus for the first time last year, and proved quite successful. One is given each term, there are no reserved seats, and a general admission of 25 cents is charged. Jazz is to be eliminated from the concerts this year, and there are to be popular feature numbers. It is also expected that there will be a soloist for each concert, and Dr. John Landsbury, dean of the school of music, has been asked to play at the first concert.

One feature of the program of this concert will be a Ballet Suite written by Jean Phillippe Rameau, and orchestrated by Felix Mottl.

Rameau is one of the earliest opera writers and a dominant French composer of the 18th century. He was always interested in Italian music, but was able to study in Italy only for a short time. His knowledge of violin made orchestration comparatively easy for him, and this, with his knowledge of harmony made him successful. Rameau was the first musician to introduce beautiful and unusual passages for wind instruments in opera orchestrations.

Ballet music was given a powerful impetus by Rameau, and his ballet compositions are so fresh and pleasing in melody and rhythm that they became the pattern for many years for this music in France and Italy.

KIWANIS WILL HEAR MRS. W. H. PEABODY

University Women May Help in Colleges of China

The Eugene Branch of the American Association of University Women is taking up the Seven Union Christian Colleges in the Orient as a project this year. A committee of A. A. U. W., presided over by Mrs. A. E. Caswell, chairman, met on Monday to plan for a meeting at which the matter may be presented to University and Eugene people. Mrs. Henry W. Peabody of Boston, Mass., will be in Eugene on Monday, Nov. 27th.

Mrs. Peabody is chairman for the present campaign whereby the Rockefeller Foundation will give two million dollars if the women in the United States will raise one million by January 1, 1923, for the support of these colleges. Mrs. Peabody, who is a speaker of both charm and forcefulness, will talk before the Kiwanis Club at noon on Monday and to University folk and townspeople at 3:30 in the afternoon at the Central Presbyterian church.

The seven colleges for women in Japan, China and India are supported by a large number of co-operating Church Boards of Education and are attracting the attention of people the world over.

A number of women's colleges in the United States have adopted one of these Oriental institutions as a "sister college."

While the A. A. U. W. is taking the lead in establishing schools in countries where there is little education for women, many women's clubs in Eugene, including the Y. W. C. A. are cooperating in the movement.

GIRLS' SUPPER PLANNED

Freshman Commission to Entertain at Acquaintance Party

The freshman commission will give a supper tomorrow evening at the Bungalow for all the freshman girls on the campus. It is being given as an acquaintance party so that the freshman women may come to know each other better. A large attendance is desired by the commission.

The affair will start at 5:30 and will last till about 8 o'clock. Fifteen cents is all that is asked for an excellent meal.

A committee has been appointed to take charge of the entertainment and a number of clever stunts and games have been planned.
