

RUSHING BUSINESS DONE AT LIBRARY

Students Swarm to Reserve Section; New Building Now a Necessity

Using books from the reserve section of the library and trying to read them in the reserve section reading rooms have almost become an uproarious farce.

From 1300 to 1642 students a day use books from the reserve shelves. The larger of the two reserved section reading rooms has seats for 150 and the smaller room, for 35 people.

By actual count on November 4, there were 2720 books on reserve. Several hundreds have been added since then and there are now more than 3000.

M. H. Douglass, the librarian, offers the following suggestions to help the situation a little:

- 1. All who can, should do their reading in the reserve section during the day as the evening hours are most congested.
2. All students not using reserve books should remain downstairs in the main reading room and newspaper room.

Library Raises Scholarship The library building is the one building on the campus that is used by all of the students every day.

Health Is Impaired The reading rooms are a menace to the health of the students for the reason that they cannot be ventilated without making parts of it drafty.

The last big social event of the term in which the entire student body can participate, will be staged tonight in the new armory where the sophomores will sponsor their annual dance.

Conditions Must Improve It is absolutely essential that in the library, conditions should be provided favorable for work.

Study rooms large enough to give each student sufficient individual desk space so that he may be able to work undisturbed; rooms properly heated and ventilated; charging desk facilities; appropriate provisions for special needs; more space for books, and extra accommodation for professors and graduates.

TEN WOMEN PLEDGED TO ZETA KAPPA PSI

Honorary Debate Organization Elects New Members

Zeta Kappa Psi, women's national honorary debate fraternity, has announced the pledging of ten members who have been active in forensic work on the campus during this term and last year.

The pledging is the climax of the dough-nut season, which, under the management of Zeta Kappa Psi, has aroused much interest.

The new members of the society are taken from those who have exhibited ability and won distinction in varsity and do not debating, said Miss Coulter, president of the organization.

Beta chapter of Zeta Kappa Psi was installed at the University of Oregon in 1916. The active members are Lurline Coulter, president; Edna Largent, vice-president; LeLaine West, secretary; Francis McMillan, Emily Veazio, Betty Stephenson.

FUN TO REIGN SUPREME AT SOPHOMORE DANCE

Elaborate Decorations and Peppy Music Will Enliven Frolic Makers in New Armory Tonight

The last big social event of the term in which the entire student body can participate, will be staged tonight in the new armory where the sophomores will sponsor their annual dance.

A fascinating imitation of gay Parisian life will prevail and no effort is being spared with the elaborate decorations to make the affair the biggest sophomore dance ever given.

The eighth number of the program as the special feature is to be unusually good, says Ed Taffer, in charge of the music.

COLLOQUIUM SAYS LIFE TOO COMPLEX

Committee Is Named to Study Campus Honor Societies; Faculty Blamed

Over organization of student activities is in a large measure due to faculty influence, is the sentiment expressed by faculty members at a meeting of the faculty Colloquium Tuesday night.

"How many think the faculty has a considerable degree of responsibility in this matter?" was the question receiving the unanimous affirmative from the faculty when put to a vote.

Campus life is, in most cases, so complex that it cannot be adequately lived in a 24 hour day, because of the over organization of student activities, believes the faculty.

That three fourths of the department or so-called honor fraternities are the result of the faculty or administration having fostered and encouraged their organization was held by the faculty members.

There is a certain value in most student activities, the faculty believes. No definite decision was reached as to just which ones are most worth while and worthy of being fostered.
