

R.O.T.C. RECEIVES RIFLES FOR SHOOT

Coming Events for Men and Women to be Shot With New Gallery Pieces

With the arrival of 14 new gallery rifles, the R. O. T. C. is now completely equipped for practice, and both men and women are urged to come up at any time and shoot. Two indoor and 10 outdoor ranges will be available beginning Monday.

Inter-company and inter-fraternity matches will be in order during January, and after these are concluded, matches with other colleges will be held. It is the hope of the military department that all who can do so will turn out for the inter-fraternity and inter-company matches so that an abundance of material will be on hand from which to pick a team to represent the University.

"It is the aim of the military department to establish rifle shooting as a sport in the University," said E. G. Arnold, who is in charge of the work, "and we hope that the two varsity teams, men's and women's, will be among the best in the country."

If the standing of the Oregon team is high enough in the ninth corps area matches, contests with other R. O. T. C. units will be arranged, according to those in charge. This match will be conducted between the leading units in the country, and will take place between March 15 and the close of school.

Challenges from many colleges of the country, among which are Northwestern, Delaware, California and others have been received, and it is hoped to be able to accept all of them by the end of the year.

Rifle shooting for girls will be especially stressed this year, the department announces, and all girls are urged to report for practice whenever they have time. The following statement in regard to the range has been issued by Captain Arnold.

"Beginning Monday, December 11, the gallery range will be open and available for those girls who are interested or wish to learn rifle shooting. If you have never fired a rifle before, come up and find out what it is like. Some of our best shots last year were developed from girls who had never had a rifle in their hands. It is an art that anyone can learn.

"We would like to have all girls interested sign up for practice periods between December 11 and January 15. (Not to include Christmas vacation). About January 15 to 31, it is contemplated that a doughnut rifle competition be held between all houses on the campus. Susan Campbell and Hendricks hall will be entitled to enter two teams, all other houses, one team each. Team to consist of five girls, all scores to count. It is suggested that a team manager be selected in each house whose duty it shall be to see that all girls interested turn out for practice and to select the five team members who can best represent that house.

"An all-university team will then be selected at the completion of the intramural competition. This team will consist of 15 members—best "shots" in the University.

"Our team won every competition engaged in last year, including O. A. C., and we can do it again."

OLD STUDENT HONORED

Gordon Fletcher Appointed Intern in Pennsylvania Hospital

Gordon Fletcher, who attended the University of Oregon in 1916-'17, and the Portland medical school in 1918-'19, has been appointed as intern in the Pennsylvania hospital in Philadelphia.

After leaving Oregon, Gordon spent two years in the Jefferson Medical College preceding his appointment as intern. This appointment is a coveted honor, as the Pennsylvania hospital, which was founded in 1751, is regarded as one of the best hospitals in the east, and has an illustrious history as far as medicine is concerned.

In a letter received from him by President Campbell he says:

"We now have six Oregon men—all from the University—at Jefferson Medical college. All are doing good work and are looking forward to settling in the west some day. We often get together, talk over old days at Oregon, and rejoice at any victories that our Alma Mater makes."

LOCAL DRIVE SUCCESS, SAYS DON ZIMMERMAN

Students Pledge $200 to Friendship Fund in Thursday's Campaign; House Speeches Mide

The Student Friendship drive on the campus Thursday was very successful, in proportion to the short time allowed for it, according to Don Zimmerman, general chairman. The total amount of the money received is not yet known, but it is thought to be well over $200.

In the house-to-house campaign, the women were more liberal than the men, said Zimmerman. Donations will still be received for the drive if those who missed subscribing Thursday will leave their money at the Y. W. bungalow with Miss Collier or at the Y. M. hut with Mrs. Donnelly. It is asked that money pledged to the campaign be paid up as soon as possible.

This campaign was not held on the campus last year as it failed to pass the drive committee, and was only allowed this year.

BUILDING MATERIAL COMES

Walls Again Rise on Journalism and Art Structures; Timbers are Hoisted

Work on the journalism and art buildings, which had been delayed for several days due partly to the heavy fall of rain and partly to the lack of material, is again under way. A new supply of bricks has arrived for the structures and the bricklayers are out in full force.

Upright timbers for the journalism building have arrived and are being put in place. Derricks with rope and tackle hoists have been erected on the second floor of the new building to assist in raising the timbers.

R.O.T.C. MEN WILL WEAR NEW COAT DECORATIONS

Blue and Gold Stripes to Distinguish Classes

New regulations governing the wearing of chevrons and insignia on R. O. T. C. uniforms, has been announced by Lieutenant Colonel W. S. Sinclair, commandant. Blue and gold stripes will be used to distinguish different classes in the department, and the R. O. T. C. shield will be worn on the right sleeve in place of the left.

Following are the regulations: Sophomores will wear one gold wire lace stripe one-fourth inch broad and one and one-half inches long, placed perpendicularly one inch below the R. O. T. C. shield, described above.

Juniors (students enrolled in the first year advanced course) will wear two gold stripes as indicated above, the stripes to be separated by one-eighth inch.

Seniors (students enrolled in the second year advanced course) will wear three gold stripes as indicated above, the stripes to be separated by one-eighth inch.

A student who has satisfactorily completed one basic R. O. T. C. camp or a C. M. T. C. camp, or 2, an advanced R. O. T. C. camp, will wear a light blue-felt band, one and one-half inches long by one-fourth inch wide, perpendicularly on the inner side of the shield toward the body and one-eighth inch from it. Students who have completed the camps specified in 1 and 2 herein will wear a second band in a similar manner on the outer side of the shield. Two bands can only be worn for camps.

"SHERLOCK HOLMES" AT CASTLE

Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, creator of Sherlock Holmes, the greatest fiction detective in all literature, aided and abetted William Gillette in giving the detective a love story when Gillette wrote the play, "Sherlock Holmes," founded upon one of the short stories about the detective, "A Scandal in Bohemia." In Sir Arthur's stories about Holmes, however, there is no hint of a love story in which the great detective was involved. The love story of the stage play has been retained in the Goldwin picture, "Sherlock Holmes," starring John Barrymore, which ends its successful showing at the Castle with today's presentation.
