

FREAK FOOTBALL SLATED SATURDAY

Sigma Chis and Kappa Sigs Will Struggle for Honors on the Gridiron

Although the football season was officially closed with the Oregon-Washington game and although post-season games received the official frown at the recent conference, the biggest and best game is staged Saturday afternoon at two p. m. between the Sigma Chis and the Kappa Sigs.

Due to the fact that the "tank" basketball game between the two houses, which was to decide the athletic championship of Alder street, ended in a tie, this supreme test of athletic ability was arranged. After much discussion by the opposing teams, Bill Hayward was chosen as referee. Beside the regular duties that devolve upon that official, Bill will also be called upon to make up the rules as the game progresses.

Other officials chosen are Moe Sax, umpire; Rud Brown, head linesman; Al Langrell and "Jassbo" Simpson at the sticks; Colonel Leader as announcer ex-officio; and Andy Gump as scorer. One of the requirements for the players is that each must wear at least one boxing glove, the hand to be chosen by the opposition. Hotdogs will be served to the gladiators between halves and it is allowed that "Caesar" and "Sneezer" may be present.

In a statement last night to the press, Captain Spear of the Sigma Chi team, bemoaned the fact that a number of his star players were not in good condition. "Byler has been indisposed for the last few days, Hunt went out on a hunt and now has buck shins, Vic Bradeson has corns and I am suffering from too rapid growth."

Tiny Shields also stated that he feared for the worst in Saturday's game. "Maisey" Larson, our star quarterback, has the part removed from his hair and so I will have to take his place, Floyd and Gene Shields are forced out of position by a conference ruling and will play way back. George Bliss has basketballitis and will be likely to start dribbling the ball, and Pete Barto wants to coach."

The probable line-up for the game:

Kappa Sigs	Sigma Chis
Bill Gausser.....LE.....	Anderson
Burton.....LT.....	Stoddard
Terjeson.....LG.....	Kerron
J. Bliss.....C.....	Carlberg
Kirtley.....RG.....	Nayet
G. Bliss.....RT.....	Purvine
Mautz.....RE.....	Bradison
Tiny Shields.....Q.....	Spear
Floyd Shields.....LH.....	Byler
Gene Shields.....RH.....	Johnson
Barto.....FB.....	Hunt

Sigma Chi substitutes: Geo. Bronaugh, Slim Crandall, Cross Maddox.
Kappa Sig substitutes: Pearson, Larson, Snyder, Dunsmore, H. Smith.
Bill Hayward, Referee.
Moe Sax, Umpire.
Rud Brown, Head linesman.

MUSIC STUDENT GIVES SENIOR ORGAN RECITAL

Lucille Elrod Benders Appreciated
Program at Methodist Church;
Aubrey Furry Assists

Lucille Elrod, a student in the school of music, gave her senior organ recital last evening in the Methodist church before a comparatively small but appreciative and enthusiastic audience. Miss Elrod has been studying organ under John Stark Evans, of the school of music for several years, and her program was made up of compositions which would give a comprehensive idea of the various schools of musicians.

For the first group of her program Miss Elrod played Bach's Prelude in C major and Fugue in G minor. These were both beautifully done and in the Fugue especially Miss Elrod showed her perfect control of her instrument. Mendelssohn's Fourth Sonata, an intricate composition of the Romantic school was played for the second group. In contrast to the Bach and Mendelssohn numbers Miss Elrod played a group of modern compositions, "Tanglewood Tales," "Pygmies," "Pool of Pirene," Slaughter; Largo "New World Symphony," Dvorak, a tuneful, appealing thing; and "Midsummer Caprice," Johnson. Miss Elrod completed her program with Widor's Toccata in F, a brilliant number, which was perhaps the heaviest part of her program, was exceptionally well played.

Aubrey Furry, bass, a member of the Men's Glee club, assisted Miss Elrod, singing "Elegie," Massenet and "Dana," McGill. Mr. Furry has an unusually rich and resonant voice and his interpretation of these songs was delightful. Marion Lawrence accompanied Mr. Furry.

ALPHA PHI WINS GAME

Winning Team in Yesterday's Contest Shows Passing Ability

The Alpha Phi basketball team outplayed the Oregon Club players yesterday, the result being 17 to 11 in favor of the former. The winning team showed excellent work in passing the ball from the center to the forwards. Marjorie Vail showed her ability in netting the baskets, as all but one were due to her accurate shooting.

Tomorrow Hendricks Hall is scheduled to play the Tri Delt hoopers. The lineup for yesterday's game was as follows:

Oregon Club	Alpha Phi
S. Overmeyer.....C.....	J. Heffelfinger
C. Howells.....SC.....	S. Lamberson
E. Overmeyer.....G.....	I. Dale
C. Cheadle.....G.....	H. Atkinson
V. Quinlan.....F.....	M. Vail
R. MacGregor.....F.....	H. Chase

Y. W. PLANS BIBLE STUDY

Courses and Leaders Will Be Chosen at Meeting of Representative Group

The Y. W. C. A. has begun to plan for the annual Bible classes held each year in the different living organizations for women. The course has always lasted for six weeks, dealing with the study of the Bible and encouraging discussion along religious lines.

A committee composed of one member from each organization will meet Friday at 4:30 to choose the type of course and teachers from the list of available faculty women. They will also decide whether to give the courses at the beginning of the winter term or to wait a number of weeks and hold them the last six weeks of school during the Lenten season.

Miss Mary Perkins is the faculty adviser for the Y. W. Bible Study committee and Elizabeth Phelps is chairman.

92 NEW BOOKS AT LIBRARY

Latest Volumes in Each Department Added to Stocks

Since November 25, about 92 volumes have been added to the library. They are the latest books out in the various departments that they represent. Journalism is represented by William Talcott's "The Newspaper Man." Metaphysics, philosophy, psychology, political science have a total of 17 new books added to their lists.

Three new books deal with business administration; seven are about education, ethnology and mathematics.

The fine arts are represented by books on architectural drawings, color cement handicraft, home building, and musical essays.

The Dunn collection includes eight new volumes of fiction. American and English literature have been reinforced by 28 volumes; classic literature, one volume; other foreign literatures, seven volumes; description and travel, five volumes.

The books of biography are two, "John Wesley's Journal" and "Voltaire broke, a historical study and Voltaire in England." Seven volumes of history among which is "The History of Germany from the Earliest Period to Present Time" conclude the list.

YALE MAN TO TALK AT Y. M.

Student Interest in Mission Work to be Subject of Talk at Hut Thursday

In the interest of and for the student volunteer movement of foreign mission work, Chester Hartlett comes from New York City as one of the members elected for this work to address the regular meeting of men at the Y. M. C. A. hut on Thursday at 8:15. The subject of Mr. Hartlett's address will be "The Challenge of the Students of Today."

Each year executives of this movement elect three men and three women from the leading colleges all over the country to travel a year or two years as the case may be in the interest of foreign mission work. Chester Hartlett was elected from Yale University as one of the six individuals. He is on his second year's effort in this line and is touching upon Christian work through the Y. M. C. A. all over the United States. When he has completed the time allotted him for his task, Hartlett will return to Yale to take his doctor's degree.

DUMMY DISCLOSES BODY

Search continues for Other Victim of Thursday's Accident

The body of Henry Nestle, who with David Linn was drowned last Thursday, was recovered Sunday afternoon but as yet the body of the latter has not been found.

A dummy made of burlap and approximating the weight of a human being was thrown into the water at the place where the boat overturned. By various tests the probable location of the bodies was determined resulting in the recovery of the one body in an eddy about 100 yards from the scene of the accident.

The search party has been dragging the river for several days. An offer of $100 for the recovery of the body has been made by W. C. Yoran, who is in charge of the search party.
