NUMBER 60

SHY HUNTINGTON AGAIN NAMED TO COACH GRID MEN

Council Votes for Retention of Present Mentor on One Year Contract

ACCEPTANCE NOT CERTAIN

Football Head in Medford at Present Taking Eddie Durno's Place

Shy Huntington was re-elected head coach of football for the coming year at a special meeting of the Executive Council yesterday afternoon. The election came as the recommendation of the football activities committee and was accompanied by a resolution commending the work of Huntington during the past year and expressing entire confidence in his ability to handle the duties of the coach. His salary will be the same as last year, $4000, according to the decision of the council.

It was decided to hold the election of the coach earlier than usual this year in order that it might be settled before Christmas. Plans for the coming season and for spring football can now be carried out in accordance with Huntington's desires. Members of the council were unanimous in the opinion that the matter should be settled.

Whether or not Huntington will accept is uncertain, as he is out of town at present. He has been coaching the Medford high school team in the absence of Eddie Durno, who is in the hospital with appendicitis.

Spellman Is Re-Elected

Bart Spellman, assistant coach, was re-elected for the coming year at his former salary. His work was regarded favorably by members of the council, who expressed the desire to bring him to Eugene for a month in the spring to assist Huntington in spring football. Spellman conducts a business in Seattle when not engaged in coaching.

Although no action was taken in regard to the election of a freshman coach the matter was referred to the football committee, and a vote of confidence was extended to Baz Williams, coach. The decision will be made at the first meeting of the council in the new term, was the announcement.

It was decided to send Huntington and Spellman to the Pittsburg-Stanford game and the U. S. C.-Penn State game.

Y. W. BUNGALOW SCENE OF CHRISTMAS PARTY

Washington Club Makes Merry in Spite of Coming Exams; Childrens Games Played

The Y. W. C. A. bungalow was the scene of gay festivities Thursday night, when the Washington club gave its annual Christmas frolic. Coming so close to examinations it was difficult for some of the students to attend, but nevertheless, there was a large crowd of Washingtonians present.

It was a regular children's party and many of the usual children's games were played, providing a great deal of laughter for all those present. There was a huge decorated Christmas tree in one corner and a jovial Santa Claus came bursting (literally) through the window behind the Christmas tree and passed around the presents. A number of humorous letters had been "written" him by members of the club, requesting absurdities of all kinds. Santa read these aloud amidst wild bursts of glee.

Mistletoe, hanging from the chandeliers, caused grief in some cases.

LeLaine West had charge of the affair assisted by Madeline Conner, Doc Braddock, Virginia West, and Wayne Meek.

CHI OMEGAS ANNEX GAME

Hold Losers to 2 Points and Display Excellent Offensive

The Chi Omega basketball team swamped the Delta Gamma players last night, when the former piled up a score of 24 against their opponents 2. The game was fast and although the winning team easily outclassed the losers, the latter exhibited an excellent fight. Pauline Bondurant, playing center, broke up many of the Chi Omega passes. Both forwards of the Chi Omega team showed ability in shooting baskets.

The lineup for yesterday's game was as follows:

Chi Omega	Delta Gamma
J. Farmer	P. Bondurant
D. Meyers	J. Noren
M. Marsh	P. Boyer
M. Meyers	L. Gidley
M. Byron	H. Tillinghast
E. Richey	M. Fisher

Substitute: M. Clerin for L. Gidley.

FEES WILL BE PAYABLE DURING REGISTRATION

Registrar Suggests That Students Make Out Their Study Cards Before Christmas Vacation

Students should make out their study cards before leaving for home, according to Carlton Spencer, registrar, in order to relieve the congestion that is likely to result from the attempt of all students to complete the whole registration process during the first of next term.

"Only one day, January 8, is allowed for registration in the winter term, instead of the two days as in the fall term. Classes will start promptly on Tuesday morning, January 9. If instructors are willing students ought to make out their study cards before going home."

Students are given until Wednesday to file their registration cards and pay their fees. After that a late registration fee of one dollar for the first day and twenty-five cents for each succeeding day must be paid.

An innovation in the registration procedure will be made next term by the collection of all fees at the opening of the term instead of paying incidental fees of $11.25 when registering and laboratory fees several weeks later.

A request is made that all seniors, who are in doubt about their credits for graduation in the spring, call at window 7, in the Administration building sometime before next Friday.

The recording clerk at the window is prepared to talk over any difficulties in records. No information of this kind will be given out during registration week.

FACULTY VACATIONS NOT SPOILED BY BLUE BOOKS

Members Interviewed Plan to Rest or Travel

Correcting blue books is not to spoil Christmas entirely for faculty members, many of whom are planning to get a real vacation over the Christmas holidays. When questioned as to his plans for Christmas, Dean Straub said, "I am just simply going to stay at home and rest, and read and study."

Dean Straub suffered an attack of la grippe, a short while ago, and he feels that a quiet rest will put him in readiness for the spring term.

Dean Eric Allen may get to attend a meeting of representatives of journalism schools in Chicago during the holidays. His plans have been rather unsettled, pending the return of President P. L. Campbell, when the probability of Dean Allen taking the trip will be definitely settled.

Dean Colin V. Dymont and Dr. Stuart Dymont will spend their vacation in Eugene. Up to date they have really been too busy to make any plans, they said, but if weather conditions are right they hope to keep in trim by following the ball over the green.

Professor Edgar DeCou and Dean Fox DeCou are contemplating a quiet but pleasant Christmas at their home at the Bartle Court apartments. James H. Gilbert and Mrs. Gilbert will spend their vacation in Portland visiting Mrs. Gilbert's parents. "We always go to Portland every Christmas," said Mr. Gilbert when questioned as to his plans.

Timothy Cloran will spend Christmas here, after which he will go to Portland to deliver a paper before the State Teachers' association which meets in Portland December 28 and 29.

Professor A. R. Sweetser will spend Christmas with his son in Seattle. Mrs. Sweetser, who has been visiting in the East, will meet him there.

Several other members of the faculty will remain in Eugene, while others will go home or visiting. All indications are that faculty members as well as students are stealing a moment from the last few rushing days to look forward with eagerness to a rest from duty.

LUNCHEON GIVEN FOR DEAN

Girls' Head Unable to Attend Delightful Luncheon Given by Miss Tingle

Miss Tingle, head of the household arts department was hostess at a beautifully appointed luncheon Tuesday, given in honor of Dean Elizabeth Fox. Dean Fox was unable to attend because of illness, a fact which is of interest, because Miss Tingle had planned the affair six weeks ago, but as she was ill at that time it was postponed until yesterday. The luncheon was held in the household arts building. The decorations used were in keeping with Christmas colors; red Japanese lacquer pieces, red candles set in lacquer candlesticks, and evergreens being used effectively about the table, with small painted place-cards of Japanese scenes.

The guests were Miss Gertrude Talbot, Miss Alice Betts, Miss Mary Watson, Mrs. George Fitch, Miss Florence Alden, Mrs. Henry Sheldon, Miss Maude Kerns, Miss Mattie Pattison, and Miss Mozelle Hair.

Y. M. WILL OFFER NEW COURSES IN STUDY OF BIBLE

Council of Religion Recently Formed Plans Outline of Work for Classes

J. S. WILSON TO LECTURE

Local Pastors Are Scheduled to Teach; Noted Speakers to Be Called In

Two new courses in religion will be offered to University students on registration day and J. Stitt Wilson, nationally known student of social and industrial problems, will be presented to the student body at the first assembly of the new term, as the result of the recent activity of the new Council of Religion, just created as a campus institution.

Course No. 1 will be called outlines of the "Philosophy of Religion." The idea of the course is to aid the student in organizing and systematizing his own religious experience and knowledge, experiences of mankind, and generally accepted and established truths of science. Rev. W. H. L. Marshall, of the Congregational church, will teach the class.

Course No. 2 will be called "Masterpieces of Bible Literature" and will be a study of the Bible from a literary standpoint, under the guidance of modern critical methods. Rev. Bruce J. Giffen, student pastor, will direct the study.

Sweetser Heads Council

The Council of Religion is headed by Professor Albert R. Sweetser; L. P. Putnam is vice-president, and Miss Dorothy Collier, secretary. Other faculty members are Mozelle Hair, H. R. Douglass, M. H. Douglass, Professor W. P. Boynton, E. S. Conklin and W. E. Milne. Student members are Helen Addison, LeLaine West, Webster Ruble and Bruce McConnell.

The work of establishing courses is being done this year with the future view of a definite school of religion on the campus, not as an actual part of the University but with its work so closely allied in standards and policies that elective credit could be given.

Courses to Be Given at "Y"

Courses are to be conducted on the same basis as regular classes and a certain amount of preparation will be necessary. No fee will be charged. Both courses will be given at the Y. M. C. A. hut and will be open to both men and women. Hours will be arranged that will be satisfactory to those taking the work and registration may be completed in the Ad building at the time of registration, according to those in charge.

Another important activity sponsored by the council is the bringing of important speakers to the campus. J. Stitt Wilson, former mayor of Berkeley, California, and well known in social, civic and political work in the United States, will come to the campus for the first assembly next term and will also appear at vespers on the following Sunday. He is known as the man who has reached more university students than any man alive. While here he will be available for private conferences in addition to his appearances before the student body and at the Y. M. C. A. hut.

MISS TINGLE EXHIBITS VALUABLE LACE PIECES

Collection of Oriental and European Sets Valued at $3,000; Some Are Family Heirlooms

A collection of old lace valued at more than $3,000, belonging to Miss Lillian Tingle, was exhibited before the members of the textile class in the household arts department yesterday. Ruth Kneeland, a senior in the University, also gave a lesson in practical pillow lace making, and Miss Tingle gave a short talk on the economy of buying real lace, and the historic value of it.

Many pieces in the collection are valued at $700 each. Some of them were made in modern times, but the most of them are antique work, coming from England, France, Switzerland, Belgium, China, Spain, Italy, and Germany. Miss Tingle also discussed the science of studying the characteristics of different localities as worked up in the specimens of pillow lace. Several pieces of hand-work made in England during the early Victorian age, were shown which had stitches so small that a magnifying glass was required to see them.

The textile class has had several personal collections of hand work shown them during the term, which supplied the necessary material for study which is not given by the department.

GREATER OREGON COMMITTEE PLANS HOME ACTIVITIES

Group Chairman Makes Known What Is Expected From Student Body

STRESS ON GRADES ASKED

Work Done by Graduates from Preparatory Schools Must Be Considered

The Greater Oregon committee held its final meeting before the Christmas vacation Thursday night in Dean Straub's room in the administration building, and completed the formation of plans for the Christmas holiday work among the high schools throughout the state.

Colin V. Dymont, dean of the school of literature, science and the arts, spoke before the committee presenting the view of the administration on the work of the committee and especially emphasized the necessity of getting quality students who are thoroughly prepared to enter the University before coming here. He also advocated that an entirely friendly attitude be taken toward the other smaller colleges on the coast.

Paul Patterson, chairman of the Greater Oregon committee, asked that since some of the important towns in the state have not been assigned to any one on the committee that students coming from those towns get in touch with him if they will be able to do any work over the holidays. "Among these towns," Patterson said, "are Silverton, The Dalles, Dallas, Bend, Corvallis and many other similar important towns in the state." Patterson may be reached at the Bachelordon house, 1338, or through the office of the graduate manager, Jack Benefel.

Alumni Are Listed

"For those members of the committee coming from any of the following towns it is asked," said Patterson, "that they get in touch with the alumni organization in their town, who are anxious to cooperate with them in this work." The alumni list is as follows: Roseburg, Walter E. Fisher, president; Mrs. W. E. Fisher, secretary; Oregon City, Frank Mount, president; Charles Gratke, secretary; Albany, R. U. Steelquist, president; Roberta Vale, secretary; Salem, Lyle Bartholomew, president; Isla Gilbert, secretary; Astoria, Virgil Earl, president; Olive Gilbert, secretary; Portland, Harold F. Young, president; Dorothy Flegel, secretary. In addition to these there are also organizations in McMinnville, The Dalles, and Pendleton whose officers have not yet reported. These organizations are newly formed, and Patterson suggested that since they are very live they will probably be of great assistance to those doing this work.

Preppers' Grades Stressed

"The work of the committee as outlined," Patterson said, "is to stress to the future student the necessity of thorough preparation in order to gain entrance into the University. We are no longer striving for numbers of students. It is quality students whom we wish to attract. It is especially urged that the necessity of obtaining 10 units in column one of the high school transcript be stressed. This includes such work as English, science, mathematics, history and languages. No student, without exception, can hope to enter the University who has not 10 units in these subjects. Many valuable students were lost to the University this fall through failure to comply with these rules in their high school preparation."

In addition to this point, Patterson said that others which might be stressed are the benefits of professional training, cultural background, democracy, the comparative inexpensiveness of education here, and the general Oregon spirit. Further information regarding this, Mr. Patterson said, may be obtained through Jeannette Calkins, secretary to the registrar, who has pamphlets full of information on the subject.

Students to Help

"Every student is a member of the Greater Oregon committee," said Patterson, "and while not all of us are asked to go before the high schools of the state to talk for Oregon, we are all asked to become familiar with the information about our college, and to talk our University and its good points at every opportunity with future students, and voters of the state, stressing always the quality of work desired and the spirit of higher education that is prevalent at Oregon."

A meeting is to be held Saturday afternoon at one o'clock in the "Y" hut for all people from Pendleton who will be there over vacation.

The revised Greater Oregon committee follows: Portland, James Meek;

UNIVERSITY ORCHESTRA WILL REPEAT PROGRAM

Pop Concert to Be Repeated During First of Winter Term; Audience Appreciates Offering

In response to several requests that have been received by Rex Underwood, director of the University orchestra, the program of the "pop" concert, which was given in Villard hall last night, will be repeated some time during the early part of next term.

The program is made up of modern compositions which are characteristic of all symphony orchestra programs and it is given with the idea of educating the students of the University in the best orchestral literature that can be given.

"Last night's attendance was conspicuous because of the greater number of men than women who were there," said Mr. Underwood, "and at the completion of the program, no one left immediately but waited for more, even when the players were leaving the stage and the instruments being put away."

Aurora Potter Underwood, pianist, who was soloist of the concert last night will also be soloist for the next concert, repeating the Chopin group.

EMERALD STAFF WILL COMPETE FOR AWARDS

Efficient Work on Daily Will Be Rewarded by Prizes

For the purpose of furthering the efficiency of the Emerald staff, beginning next term monetary awards and recognition will be given to members of the staff who excel in various branches of newspaper work on the daily. This year a budget of $150 has been set aside for this purpose out of the Emerald finances and this money will be distributed for efficiency in news gathering, news writing, and management. It was originally intended to have the money distributed over a period covering the three terms, but the budget was not approved until recently and it was thought advisable to give the money for work done during the winter and spring terms.

The two highest awards will go to the most consistent worker and to the news editor handling the desk work and assignments in the most proficient manner. These prizes will be $10 each. Other awards listed are $5 for the night editor getting out the paper with the fewest number of typographical errors, $5 for the student handing in the greatest number of tips during the term, $2.50 for second prize for tips handed in, $5 and $2.50 for the greatest number of unassigned stories handed in, $6 for the best news story of the term, $4 for the best feature story.

The editors believe that the system of prizes will enable all members of the staff to compete for honors and will greatly add to the efficiency in news gathering and news writing. At the end of the winter term all records will be checked up and the winner made known. The spring awards will be made at the Emerald banquet, held at the Hotel Osburn after the last Emerald of the year has been "put to bed."

WOMEN DEBATERS CHOSEN

Seven Selected at Tryouts; One Other Will Be Picked Later

Seven women were selected from eleven who participated in the Varsity tryouts yesterday in the Commerce building. The eighth member of the debating team will be chosen at the next tryout.

Debates with O. A. C. and the University of Washington will be held next term. The question that will be discussed is "Resolved, That the United States should cancel the war debts of France and Italy."

The women chosen were Margaret Duerner, Lurline Coulter, May Forno, Mildred Bateman, Eugenia Strickland, Edna Largent, and Frances Simpson. From the following four, the other debater will be chosen: Margaret Woodson, Ethel Johnson, Frances Ward, and Margaret Morrison.

CLUB DANCE POSTPONED

Oregonia Club to Give Social Affair After Vacation

The Oregonia club dance, scheduled for December 15, was postponed until some time after the Christmas holidays, due to the nearness of examinations, and the illness of several faculty members.

"The dance is not permanently given up," said Professor F. S. Dunn, acting chairman of the faculty social club, "merely postponed until after vacation. During the rest of the year, we have planned to have a dance the second Friday in very month. These will take place regularly unless something unforeseen happens."

PENTATHLON WON BY SIGMA CHIS IN FIVE-SPORT MEET

Kappa Chis Come Second With 345; Victors Credited With 418 Total

VIRDEN MAKES GOOD TIME

Star of Cinder Path Stepped 100-Yard Dash, Winning With 35 Points

STANDING OF TEAMS

1. Sigma Chi	418
2. Kappa Theta Chi	345
3. Kappa Sigma	341
4. Delta Tau	321
5. Fiji	287
6. Bachelordon	281
7. Phi Delta Theta	250
8. S. A. E.	230
9. Friendly Hall	217
10. Beta Theta Pi	214
11. Kappa Delta Phi	139

The Sigma Chi Pentathlon team captured first in this event for the second successive year by making a total of 418 points in the meet last night, to 345 for the Kappa Theta Chi team, which was second. The Kappa Sigs took third place with but four points less, their total being 341. Fourth place went to Delta Tau with 321, fifth to the Fijis with 287 and sixth to Bachelordon with 281.

The Pentathlon was run off in its entirety last evening instead of the method used last season in giving each team its time in taking the tests. Lyle Palmer, Sigma Chi was high point man last evening with 123 points, only a few lower than the record score of 131 made by Haddon Rockey last year.

Phil Ringle, also a Sigma Chi, made 103 points and set a high record in the bar vault by going six feet six inches off the floor. Ringle had a high score up to the swim, but fell down in this, and thus lost his chance of being high point man this year.

Viriden Individual Star

Ben Viriden, the individual star of last year's donut track meet, stepped out in the 100 yard dash on the gym track making it in 22 seconds and two-fifths, thus annexing 35 points by this one event. Viriden made 103 points also, thus tying with Ringle for second place honors.

The event which attracted the most interest was the bar vault, as this year a new rule is in effect, being that none of the contestants were allowed to touch a piece of cardboard suspended by a string from the bar, thus making it a great deal more difficult than last year when some high scores were made on the bar, as some of the men went over seven feet by taking a swing.

The meet started at 7:30, but because of the length of time taken in running off the high jump and bar vault it was eleven o'clock before it was finished.

The five events which were run off in the meet were the high jump, bar vault, 100 yard run, rope climb, and the 100 yard swim. The swim came last on the program, and the rather slow time made by most of the contestants is accounted for by the fact that they were tired out from taking part in the other events.

Meet Is Interesting

The meet was interesting throughout and quite a large group of spectators were present to cheer for their teams.

The meet was a great improvement over the pentathlon of last year and the men taking part showed that they had practiced for it a great deal more. Eleven teams in all were entered, and all took a great deal of interest in the evening's work.

STUDENTS TO SEE CLASSIC

Oregon Will Be Represented at Annual East-West Gridiron Contest

Many Oregon students whose homes are in the south as well as Oregon alumni are planning to see the big East-West game at Pasadena between the University of Southern California and Penn State. No check has been made, although many students whose homes are near Pasadena have stated their intention of viewing the classic.

Graduate Manager Benefel states that Oregon students or alumni who wish to see the game should write to Gwynn Wilson, graduate manager of U. S. C., stating that they are from the University of Oregon. Such requests for tickets or reservations will be promptly honored with the best available seats.
