

VESPERS WILL BE HELD NEXT SUNDAY

"Christian Attitudes" Is Title of Address to Be Given By Dr. H. D. Sheldon

Dr. Henry D. Sheldon, dean of the school of education, will deliver the address at the third vesper service of the year, which is to be held Sunday, January 21, in the Methodist church. Dr. Sheldon has chosen "Christian Attitudes" for his subject. Dean Sheldon is a graduate of Stanford University and has his doctor's degree from Clark University. Some of his graduate work was done abroad, notably at the University of Leipzig, Germany, and since then he has been a member of the faculties of Stanford University, the University of Pittsburgh and the University of Oregon. He has been dean of the school of education on the campus since its organization.

M. H. Douglass, librarian, who is chairman of the vesper service committee, has been able to secure a speaker for each of the vesper services to be given, with the exception of the last one of the year, which will be given Mothers' Day, May 13. W. H. Body of Hood River, who was formerly a member of the faculty of Reed College, and who is now in charge of the Community church in Hood River, is to give the address for the February 18 services.

The services on March 18 will consist almost entirely of music, and for this occasion the choir will sing Dubois' "Seven Last Words of Christ," since the services will be given during Easter week. Bishop Sumner will assist with the service, and has been asked to make a short address. William Remington, who has been recently appointed bishop of eastern Oregon in the Episcopal church will be in charge of the services April 22.

The music for the vesper services on Sunday will be supplied by the University choir, directed by John Stark Evans of the school of music, who is also organist. For the principal part of the music program Mr. Evans has chosen Dudley Buck's "Festival Te Deum." In it there is a good deal of solo and quartette work, which is especially beautiful. The chorus work is massive and shows well the ability of the choir. Besides the "Te Deum" Mr. Evans is planning other numbers which will be announced later.

The services are to be open at 4:30 o'clock.

GIFT OF $500 IS MADE TO CONDON LOAN FUND

Mrs. R. S. Bean, Daughter of Dr. Thomas Condon, Adds to Gift Made by Herself and Sister

A gift of $500 was made to the Condon loan fund, by Mrs. R. S. Bean of Portland on January 8. This fund was established a number of years ago by Mrs. Bean and her sister, Mrs. Ellen C. McCornack of this city, to be used as a student loan fund. They have contributed to it from time to time, until it now amounts to $1350.

Mrs. Bean who is the wife of Judge R. S. Bean of Portland and Mrs. McCornack, are the daughters of Dr. Thomas Condon, first head of the University geology department, after whom the fund was named; they are also both graduates of the University.

"The gift comes at a very useful time," said L. H. Johnson, University comptroller, "and is greatly appreciated, as there are a large number of applications from students for loans from the various funds established at the University for that purpose."

CAMPUS BEAUTY UPHELD

Majority Careful of Lawns and Drives Says Grounds Superintendent

"The majority of the students are proud and considerate of the campus," declared Mr. H. M. Fisher, superintendent of buildings and grounds, when asked his opinion of the carelessness of the students on the campus. However, a few individuals persist in walking on the lawn and for this reason many walks on the campus have been widened and regraded.

"The campus belongs to the students and if they don't take pride in it, there is no use to keep it up," he said. A few years ago the campus was in such a condition that action had to be taken by the Student Council which proved very effective.

Recently a car ran upon the lawn between Deady and the library and left its track deeply imprinted in the lawn. "It's pure cussedness," said Mr. Fisher when speaking of this, "but it can be avoided."

POT AND QUILL WILL OPEN LITERARY CONTEST

Poetry, Stories, Essays, to Be Judged in Effort to Stimulate and Discover Bashful Campus Writers

With the objective in view of bringing to light some of the literary talent on the campus, Pot and Quill will conduct a short story and poetry contest very soon, said Marion Crary, president of the feminine scribes, after the meeting of the society last night.

"Some of the campus writers we hear about from the instructors in the writing courses, and some we find by accident and a common love of the work, but there are so many, not registered in any course whom such a contest might interest.

"Pot and Quill wishes to stimulate an interest in writing," she went on. "we do not wish to become narrowed to a small group, and the interest shown in the new venture on the poetry page of the Sunday Emerald is indicative of the fact that there is a place for it on the campus. The contest, to be opened almost at once, will be for poetry, essays, and stories, and the details will be published in a few days."

Pot and Quill is composed of a number of women interested in writing as a profession, almost all of whom have had work accepted by some national publication. "Green Ink," which the group put out last year, was the first purely literary magazine published on the campus, and a second number is being contemplated for this year.

The members are Marion Crary, Jessie Thompson, Emily Veazie, Mary Lou Burton, Margaret Skavian, Katherine Watson, Nancy Wilson, Harriet Veazie, Lillian Auld, Grace Edgington, Mrs. Eric Allen, Miss Ida Turney, Mrs. Grace Campbell Mann, Miss Julia Burgess, and Miss Mary Perkins.

FACULTY BASKETBALL TICKETS COST $1.50

Seating Arrangement on Lower Floor of Armory to Care for Crowds; Girls Are Downstairs

Faculty members are to be given the privilege of getting season tickets to the basketball games this year for $1.50, or reserved season tickets for $2.50, says Graduate Manager Jack Benefiel, and they may obtain these at the cashier's office in the administration building at any time.

"The crowds are much larger this year than ever before at the basketball games," says Benefiel, "and the Armory will be taxed to capacity at the next games, but no matter how large the outside crowds are, we intend to save plenty of room for every student so he may see the games."

Every freshman man is requested to remain after each game and help remove the bleachers from the floor. The planks are to be taken from the horses and piled up, then each man is to help carry the horses out by the west side door. The Order of the "O" warns all freshmen to be sure to stay and help.

Jack Day, student manager of basketball, says the girls will continue to sit down stairs. One end of the bleachers and part of the side will be reserved for the girls, but men are urged to sit under the baskets to save the girls from being hit by balls or by players who might fall. Coach Bohler likes the idea of the girls sitting down stairs and urges them to continue sitting there.

FRESH TO GIVE PARTY

The girls of the freshman class are planning to entertain the men of '26 with a party Friday evening, January 26, in the Woman's building. Dancing, a clever feature, and "eats" are promised by those in charge. The social committee of Triple A, freshman women's organization is putting on this affair, with Elizabeth Rauch as chairman.

SOPHOMORE LOTTERY SET FOR JANUARY 26

Square Deal in Many Years Is Promised Class

During the past few days, the conversation of all worthy sophomores on the campus has been drifting to the big issue of this season, the Sophomore Lottery. Under the direction of Ted Gillenwaters, plans are being made, various committees appointed, and other necessary arrangements put under way. The lottery, which has always been fair and square, will be "squarer" this year than ever, says Gillenwaters. Those in charge of the lottery machine have been carefully selected from among the members of the class and are reputed as being the squarest headed committee obtainable, so there is no danger of anything going wrong.

All loyal Sophs are urgently requested to get all the dates possible at all times, with the exception of Friday night, January 26, the night of the big party.

"In order to make this lottery the success that it should be, let every member of the class show the right spirit by holding the date open, notifying his partner of his intention to be there," said Gillenwaters. The results of the lottery will be published the first of next week.

The entire Campa Shoppe has been engaged for the big blow-out and one of the best orchestras on the campus has been obtained for the evening and will furnish the pep.

"The punch will not be spiked, but will have the desired kick without the bad after effects," said Ralph Hamilton, who is in charge of the wet part of the program.

The lottery will be informal. Over 100 couples are expected to be present, and no effort is being spared to make it a night of fun and frolic that will live in the minds of all those who attend for a long time to come.

The following committees have been appointed to take charge of the various details: Lottery, Gordon Wilson, Gertrude Butler, Genevieve Phelps, John Simpson; punch, Ralph Hamilton, and music, Edwina Richen. The feature committee will be selected later.

DIVIDENDS DISTRIBUTED AMONG CO-OP MEMBERS

Annual Meeting Is Scene of Checking up; Three New Members Elected to Board for New Year

A total of $1500 in dividends was paid out to students of the University of Oregon during the past year by the University Co-operative association, according to report submitted by M. F. McClain, manager of the Co-op, at the annual meeting Monday. Mr. McClain's report shows that there are 845 members enrolled in the association. Sales amounting to $54,500 were made during the year and $28,000 worth of text books were sold.

A reserve of $1500 is now on hand which will go toward paying off the indebtedness of the association. A free surplus of $2800 was on hand January 1, 1923, the report indicated.

During the year, $1500 was refunded to students who "bought the wrong book," Mr. McClain reported. The Co-op has paid $1620 to student assistants during 1922.

Three new members of the board of directors were elected. Ben Maxwell and Paul Staley, both of the class of 1925, will serve for a term of two years, and Orlando Hollis, 1926, will serve for one year. Dr. John F. Bovard was elected to succeed himself, for a period of two years.

The complete personnel of the board for the coming year is as follows: Dr. John F. Bovard, Dr. James H. Gilbert, Paul Savyre, president; Jack Meyers, vice-president; Paul Staley, Ben Maxwell, Orlando Hollis.

science. A Discovery. The assistant, ruminating, let his gaze wander through a window of the laboratory. Perhaps he would have the honor of naming this newly found bit of life.

Then his eyes became speculative and a vacant expression passed over his countenance.

"Stand between the window and the microscope a minute, will you?" he requested.

He looked once more through the lens. The Thing was gone. With an amused smile he pointed at a tower of the adjoining building. "There is the 'New Discovery'."

The student's sight followed the pointing finger. Once more the muscles of his lower jaw relaxed.

NO CLEW TO LOST TIRE

According to the police department no clews have been found concerning the theft of a tire and rim which was taken from President Campbell's Cadillac car while parked in a downtown district last Friday evening. The tire and rim were valued at approximately sixty dollars.
