

FROSH READY FOR TILT WITH INDIANS TONIGHT

Chemawa Squad is Rated As Strong Aggregation

With four days practice since last Monday night's game the Oregon freshman basketball team are in good shape for their clash with the Chemawa Indians in the armory tonight. This contest will be preliminary to the Oregon-Willamette game and, according to Coach Bohler, will start promptly at 7 o'clock or earlier if it can be arranged, so that the varsity game can be played on schedule time.

The tilt with the redskins will probably be the toughest game that the yearlings thus far have played. Although nothing has been learned of the Indians' strength this year their record in the past makes it almost a surety that they will make the game a hard-fought one. However the playing of the first-year men in their first home game last Monday shows that they are a bunch of clever basketball players and it will take a strong team to beat them. The daily workouts with the varsity since then should considerably improve their showing tonight.

The lineup that will start the game for the babes is not definitely known but it is likely that Shy will open the attack with the combination of Gosser at center, Scripture and Bryant, forwards; and Hobson and Mautz, guards. These five men made the best showing in the game with the guardsmen. However, the other men in the yearling squad, Stoddard, Gunther, Leake, and Farley will all probably break into the mix before it is over.

PLANS FOR MEMORIAL MADE BY CLASS OF '22

Three of Four Officers Back in School Plan for Insurance Investment Given Up; Bust to be Held

Plans were formulated yesterday by members of the '22 class for expending the money set aside for a memorial to the University. Nine members of the class were present at the meeting, which was held yesterday afternoon. Three of the four officers of the class are back in school this year. Besides Leith Abbott, president; Charlotte Clark, vice-president; and Bill Collins, treasurer; there are twelve other members of the class here.

Emily Perry, secretary, has not returned. The chairman of the memorial committee, Ogden Johnson, is one of the members who has returned. A plan for the investment of money in insurance was formulated last year but owing to tardiness of the plan, the idea was not carried out. Several of the senior classes in eastern universities have invested from 20 to 50 thousand dollars in insurance. This money after a term of several years has been paid back to the graduates. The plan was not adopted here.

There will be another meeting next Tuesday to complete the plans. A bust will be held soon.

and Lyle Janz, manager of the Emerald will give some of his experiences in handling advertising in the Emerald.

Friday night the annual dinner in honor of the guests will be given in Hendricks hall, with President Campbell as toastmaster. Dean E. W. Allen and Dean John Straub will speak. Afterward the delegates will attend the College Night, where they will find merriment and joy amid the music of the University orchestra. At this time John MacGregor will present O's to the varsity football men, followed by a motion picture depicting the making of a newspaper.

Saturday afternoon at 1:30, a joint meeting will be held in Guild hall to hear the deans of various schools. The official picture will be taken at this meeting. At 2:45 new officers of both associations will be installed.

The high schools which have already expressed intention to attend are: Eugene, Albany, Alesia, Wheeler, Grants Pass, Kent, Glendale, Mt. Vernon, Lakeside, Sutherlin, Stayton, Yoncalla, Marshfield, Fossil, Hood River, Elkton, Commerce and Jefferson high schools of Portland. It is expected that more will be represented.

Sports of Sorts

One of the big jobs that the student body has to offer is that of Yell King. Tonight there will be tryouts for the yell staff under the direction of Art Rosebraugh the present noise monarch. There are two positions open and these positions are to be filled preferably from the junior class but a sophomore with a lot of zipper has an excellent chance of making the grade. Candidates will be judged on their ability solely, that is, the way in which they disport themselves, their poise, their contortions, their method of handling the crowd and so on.

It is a regrettable fact that in the past there has been but little interest shown in these tryouts and the candidates who have tried out have seldom been more than a handful. In view of the fact, however, that the yell king's position has been rapidly growing in importance and further that it is extremely likely that the yell king will be added as an ex-officio member of the executive council it is likely that there will be more interest in the tryouts this evening.

The fact that it is a moral certainty that one of the men appointed to the staff will be elected as next year's Yell King should be an inducement to those sophomores and juniors who believe sufficiently in their histrionic and vocal abilities to warrant their trying out.

The Oregon Aggies defeated Whitman 28-17, which is not quite as impressive as the 47-27 score rolled up against the Missionaries by the varsity. Comparative scores would seem to indicate, in this instance at least, that the Webfooters have a chance against the Beavers, which is much more than was conceded them a few weeks ago.

The two preliminaries on the books for the week-end promise to be good games. Tonight the freshmen take on the Chemawa Indians. The Indians are a colorful team and spectators always like to see them play. Tomorrow night the frosh take on Mt. Angel. These preliminary games will start at 7 o'clock tonight and 6:45 tomorrow in order to make way for the varsity contests.

As the time draws nearer for the contest with Idaho, interest in the contest grows rapidly and the game will be played to packed galleries. Oregon's team is eminently fit for the struggle and there will be no alibis if they lose.

The main go this evening will be between Willamette and Oregon. The Webfooters should have but little trouble in downing the Methodists for indications are that they are hardly as strong as they were last year. A high point of interest in the game will be the fact that the opposing coaches are both members of the famous Bohler family of coaches. George at Oregon and Roy at Willamette. The third brother is the widely known and respected J. Fred Bohler of Washington State.

MRS. WILLIAMS IS HONORED

The Anchorage was the scene of a very delightful luncheon last Thursday. The luncheon was given in honor of Mrs. Charles W. Williams who was a visitor on the campus for Wednesday and Thursday. It was given for her by the members of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet and Council girls. Mrs. Williams spoke a few words about her visit here and expressed her enthusiasm for the University. She also spoke at the Y. W. meeting Thursday evening.

SOPHOMORES TO MEET

There will be a meeting of the sophomore class next Tuesday afternoon, at 4:30 o'clock in Villard hall, according to announcement by the officers. At that time nominations for treasurer will be open, the former class treasurer not having returned to college this year. Plans for the sophomore lottery dance, which will be held next Friday night will also be outlined. Election of the treasurer will take place Thursday afternoon, and the polls will be open from 1 to 4 o'clock in Villard hall.

OREGANA SALES REACH THOUSAND MARK EARLY

Eight Houses Report 100 Per cent Subscriptions

One thousand Oregana subscriptions were obtained in the last two days, according to estimates made Thursday night by Jason McCune, manager of the Oregana. With the late orders that will come, the copies that the University takes to send to high schools and libraries of the state, and the outside subscriptions, it is expected that the 1500 mark will be reached without any difficulty. Last year the University purchased 190 Oreganas.

Some houses have fallen short in their quotas but the time limit will be extended to include the week-end. Anyone who has not placed his order may do so at the Oregana office before Saturday.

"The staff regard the campaign as a big success," said Jason McCune in speaking of the drive. "The first day's subscriptions exceeded expectations." Hendricks and Susan Campbell halls were commended by Myron Shannon, circulation manager, for the support they gave to the drive.

Houses reporting 100 per cent were Phi Sigma Pi, Alpha Sigma, Alpha Delta Pi, Alpha Xi Delta, Alpha Beta Chi, Kappa Delta Phi, Alpha Chi Omega and Susan Campbell hall. Eleven houses had not turned in reports last night but their probable subscriptions were included in the estimated total. Alpha Chi Omega reported a sale of 31 copies, Alpha Delta Pi 25, and Alpha Xi Delta and Kappa Gamma 24 each.

Many students have been working for the prizes offered and announcements will be made as soon as all records are turned in.

"BACK HOME AND BROKE" GREAT

Wholesome, sparkling and censor-proof is "Back Home and Broke," Thomas Meighan's new Paramount picture, which opened at the Rex theatre last night, for a three days' run.

George Ade, the widely known humorist, is the author of the story, which is rich in human interest. It is one of those artistically simple tales that now brings a tug at the heart, now opens the wells of laughter and keeps you generally in a delightful state of thrill and suspense.

STRONG GENUINE COMEDIAN

Porter Strong, the humorous and beloved Romeo Washington of the new D. W. Griffith picture, "One Exciting Night," a United Artists release playing at the Castle theatre now literally started at the foot of the ladder in "medicine shows," went up a peg to minstrelsy and finally blossomed forth as a "singing waiter" in far Western cafes where the attendants were supposed to "deliver the goods" both in song and bodily refreshment.
