

ENTERTAINMENT PLANS OUTLINED

Assembly In Woman's Building at 11 O'Clock; Program Includes Music

"A distinctive University of Oregon sort of program" will be carried out here today on the occasion of the biennial visit of the state legislators, state those in charge of the day's events. According to word received yesterday afternoon from W. K. Newell, at Salem, in charge of issuing invitations, at least 210 have accepted. Finishing touches were made in the way of preparation at the meeting last night of seniors, officers of the Oregon Knights, members of the student council and others offering to act as guides and assistants.

All students are urged to assemble promptly in the gymnasium of the Woman's building immediately after 10 o'clock classes have been dismissed. Instructors are requested to dismiss their classes at 10:45 in order that the student body may be able to go to the assembly and be seated before 11 o'clock.

The seating arrangement in the assembly will be the same as on ordinary occasions, except that a space near the front will be reserved for the visitors. The University orchestra will occupy the platform, and special sections will be reserved for the glee clubs.

The legislators are scheduled to arrive on the Southern Pacific special about 10:45 or 10:55. The S. P. passenger agent will be on board to insure good service. The visitors will leave the train near Villard hall and will go immediately to the Woman's building where they will enter by way of the sun porch.

The assembly program will include short addresses and musical numbers. Addresses of welcome will be given by John MacGregor, president of the student body, and Bernice Altstock, president of the Women's League. J. H. Upton, president of the Senate will possibly respond, while C. C. Brownell, assistant speaker of the House, will be called on to give a short address. "As I sit and Dream at Evening" will be sung by the Girls' Glee club, and the Men's Glee club will sing "Invictus." President Campbell will give a short address.

At the close of the assembly, which will be as nearly 12 o'clock as possible, the students will clear the gymnasium in the customary manner, leaving the building in advance of the guests. The visitors, together with those in direct charge of the day's program and a few local guests and faculty members, will go to Hendrick's hall where lunch will be served.

All students acting as guides will assemble at Hendrick's hall promptly at 2 p. m., and will then be assigned to their duties. Only those who act as official guides will be excused from their regular afternoon classes, according to Haddon Rookhey, committee chairman. They will wear special ribbons at all times during the day so as to be readily recognizable by all.

A bureau of information will open in Johnson hall opposite Dean Straub's office. Legislators, guests or guides can obtain desired information by calling Dean Straub's office by telephone or by calling at the bureau in person.

In order to facilitate the proper reception of the guests and to aid their inspection of the campus and buildings in the early afternoon, none of the legislators will take lunch at any of the houses. However, organizations may feel entirely free to invite any of the guests to remain after the formal visit is over, and may entertain them as they see fit. All the campus buildings will be visited by small groups of legislators, accompanied by their guides, with the exception of the music, education and extension buildings, on account of their isolation and the short period of time for inspection.

FROSH PLAN FOR GLEE

Dance to be Held in Woman's Building February 9, Simple Decorations

The Frosh Glee is being planned by the freshman class for February 9.

The Glee will be held in the Woman's building. Owing to the fact that elaborate decorations for college dances are to be discontinued in the future, the decoration committee has altered its original plans. The decorations are to be effective, however, and simple and will be a surprise to everyone, according to Freda Runes, the chairman of the committee.

The dance programs and the feature are both to be very unusual. Gladys Noreen is the chairman of the feature committee and Joe Frazer of the program committee.

Floyd McCallison is the general manager of the entire affair and under his direction all the committees are working hard to make the dance a huge success.

HOUSES WILL TAKE GUESTS

Each Campus Residence to Care for Ten of High School Visitors

High school students who will arrive this week for the Editor's conference will be housed in the campus organizations as last year, according to Frank Carter, chairman of the housing committee.

Arrangements have been made for each men's and women's organization and hall of residence to take at least ten guests. Although there will be meetings, and banquets and luncheons to attend, houses are expected to care for guests at odd times, and guide them about the campus.

Upon arrival all visiting students will be met and taken to the administration building to register. They may state preference, but if there is no choice, assignments will be made until each house has its quota.

What chance have you got against him?

IT was a cynic who said: "Some men go to college. Other men study."

A slander! But yet there probably are college men whose bills for midnight oil are not large.

And there are men who left school in the lower grades who, along with a hard day's work, put in long hours of study—spurred on by a dream and a longing.

Look out for them.

The achievements of non-college men in business suggest an important fact. Success seems to depend, not so much on the place where a man studies, as on the earnestness of the student.

But, granting equal earnestness and ability, it is still true that the college man has the advantage.

Regular hours for study and lecture, the use of library and laboratory, the guidance of professors, contact with men of the same age and aspirations—all these will count in his favor, if he makes the most of them.

A big "if." The new year is a good time to start making it a reality.

Did you ever stop to think how much time you have wasted while waiting for orders to be filled? It would add up to hours every week, days every year, and months in a life time. And that's saying nothing of the annoyance you suffer.

Promptness—always with us. Your order is hurried to the kitchen, executed rapidly, and you are served almost before you know it.
