The Campus Awaits Dr. Clark

Last year about this time the campus was aroused by the visit of Dr. Alfred Zimmern. Now comes the news that Charles Upson Clark, noted scholar, author and traveller, will spend three days of next week at the University. No more opportune time for such a visit would be possible, in view of the present turmoil in world affairs. Charles Upson Clark is an authority on the European situation and his lectures will be of especial interest.

Like Dr. Zimmern, he will bring to the students of the University the viewpoint of other peoples. His lectures will be given from a vast background of experience. It will be possible to get a new angle in the discussion of world problems. Because this type of educator throws new light on old problems he is of great value to the University. Interest in current affairs and perplexing international problems is certain to be stimulated.

It has been a wise thought on the part of those who are arranging the program to leave a great deal of time open for informal discussions. If it is possible for small groups to meet with him and question him the results will be well worth while.

On the whole, the discussion group or the seminar session is a much more effective means of learning than the more formal instruction. Such discussion is often impossible in regular University classes, but it should be encouraged and employed whenever practicable. The visit of Charles Upson Clark should be the occasion for a revival of interest in world affairs.

The University Is Yours

Oregon is pleased to have several hundred leaders of high school activities as her guests over the week-end. The University as a whole extends a welcome and a hope that the meetings will be helpful and pleasant. That you may see something of the University before you leave, as well as to profit by the associations formed, is the wish of every member of the student body.

WOMEN'S LEAGUE WILL PUT ON FASHION SHOW

Correct Campus Clothes to Be Shown High School Women at Annual Fashion Exhibition

A correct campus clothes show will be given Saturday afternoon at 3:15 in the Woman's building by the members of Women's League for the benefit of visiting high school women, demonstrating proper clothes for wear by University co-eds.

The key-note of the demonstration will be simplicity, as the present day college girl is noted for her simplicity, not only in campus clothes, but in all articles of wearing apparel, according to the committee in charge of the affair. By this method of showing clothes to be worn in college, the high school girl will be enlightened in the problem of planning her wardrobe, and will be given an insight into the ideals of college women in the matter of dress.

The fashion show will be in the form of a dialogue, a number of members of Women's League taking part; the clothes being worn by the girls themselves. During the program musical selections will be given. There will be a vocal solo by Joanna James, and instrumental numbers by Gwendolyn Lampshire and Lois Parker.

A committee, with Imogene Letcher as chairman is making arrangements to far surpass the style show that was given last year under the auspices of Women's League. Preceding this the members of the League will be hostesses at luncheon for the high school women, in the sun-room. The committee in charge is composed of Inez Fairchild, Hilda Chase, Wenona Dyer, Lois Parker, Mildred Johnson, and Mildred Marsh.

"COLLEGE NIGHT" FEATURE

ed. Professor C. D. Thorpe, varsity debate coach, is to present the do-nut cup and debate shield to the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity. The Fijis were victorious in the interfraternity contests and also in the debate with Susan Campbell hall. Lurline Coulter, president of Zeta Kappa Psi, women's debating society, will present Susan Campbell hall with the cup, championship trophy in the women's debates.

It is expected that about 275 high school students will attend the entertainment and those in charge urge that as many students as possible attend the affair and lend it the right atmosphere.

TEAMS LACK PRACTICES

Do-Nut Swimming Meets Begin Monday; Class and O. A. C. Meets Follow

Do-nut swimming meets are scheduled to start Monday and so far only five teams have enough practices to enter the meets. These organizations are Hendricks Hall, Oregon Club, Susan Campbell, and Delta Zeta. As no last minute entries will be allowed to participate, it is absolutely necessary that every swimmer get in her eight practices, said Miss Carolyn Cannon, head of swimming in the physical education department.

Class meets will begin as soon as the do-nut series has been run off, and following these, practice for interclass intercollegiate meets with O. A. C. will start. The meets with O. A. C. have been postponed and will not come until the early part of April.

HAROLD LLOYD AT REX

If there has been any doubt as to just where Harold Lloyd stands on the ladder of fame, it is dispelled with "Grandma's Boy," his five-part comedy, which closes Replay Week at the Rex today and Saturday.

"Grandma's Boy" is the perfect comedy! It contains a real story—a story with such a serious theme as cowardice, and the power of mind over matter. This serious undertone is probably why the comedy is so funny.

CAMPUS BULLETIN

Notices will be printed in this column for two issues only. Copy must be in this office by 4:30 on the day before it is to be published and must be limited to 25 words.

Newman Club—Social hour. Music and dancing 4 to 6 p. m.

Class in Editing—There will be no class today as class will attend conference.

Fairmount Neighborhood Club—Meeting at the Bungalow Monday night at 8:00.

Frosh Glee Committees—All chairmen meet Monday evening at 8 in Dean Straub's office.

University Orchestra—College Night will be in Villard hall instead of the Woman's building.

Methodist Students—Taffy pull at the church tonight 7:30. Boys and girls both wear aprons.

Alpha Kappa Psi—Dinner at Anchorage Sunday night at 6 o'clock. Discussion group after.

Journalism Students—Every journalism student should see the two-reel moving picture, "The Making of a Newspaper," to be shown at College Night in Villard hall tonight. The film shows every step in the making of a metropolitan newspaper from the time the tree is cut and hauled to the pulp mill for the manufacture of print paper to the finished edition of the newspaper. ERIC W. ALLEN.

COMMUNICATIONS

Letters to the EMERALD from students and faculty members are welcomed, but must be signed and limited to 250 words. If it is desired, the writer's name will be kept out of print. It must be understood that the editor reserves the right to reject communications.

WALKS ARE PRAISED

To the Editor:

Just a few words to commend the caretakers of the University are not amiss, we hope. While the residents of Eugene were plowing along on the city's unswept, snowy sidewalks, students of Oregon were fortunate in their situation. The sidewalks had been well-cleaned and were safe from the dangers of slippery foothold. The work done on University sidewalks was certainly appreciated.

Incidentally, we note that someone has been abusing his oxford by wearing them in Oregon in January. To make matters worse, the unfortunate youth blamed the inevitable result on the superintendent of the grounds, instead of placing the responsibility on the shoulders of the obviously guilty weather man. There has been some question about the spirit of democracy shown by the Oregon "Hello" but there is no question about the custom of wearing boots and heavy shoes and its relation to the democratic spirit of Oregon. It has been conclusively proved that oxfords have no place on the Oregon campus or anyplace else in Oregon when it rains. Oregon's fads do not include dressing in the height of fashion for classes so we can see no reason for fearing to prepare for the worst in the shape of weather and wet sidewalks.

It may seem like a foolish, age-worn idea, but why not try to see what good work the caretakers of the grounds are accomplishing instead of picking out petty small flaws in the work of men whose duty it is to look to the safety, comfort and convenience of the students of our University. The column of the Emerald given over to communications should not be utilized only as a complaint column, but be made into something more useful if students so desire.

Sincerely yours,
 "By the side of the road."

"KICK IN" CROOK PICTURE

"Kick In" starring Bert Lytell, Betty Compson and May McAvoy is a crook picture coming to the Castle, that makes a series of startling exposure. The scenes of the play travels from the lowest dumps and dives of the underworld, to the luxury of the wasting rich. "Kick In" is the most realistic, gripping crook play ever put on the screen. The story is of a crook's fight to redeem himself. A fight against a whole world, against himself, the police who are out to get him, and all the standards of society that say, once a crook always a crook. His only aid is through faith and love; the faith and love of a noble woman who believes in him. A woman who believes that love, faith and prayer will cure the evils of a deformed soul, as they cure the evils of the body.

DEBATERS ARE CHOSEN

The men who will represent Oregon in debate at Leland Stanford and Washington Universities were selected last night in the try-outs at Commerce building. The team is composed of Paul Patterson, Ralf Bailey, Charles Lamb and Max Maceaby. The question to be discussed is "Resolved, that the federal government legalize the manufacture and sale of light wine and beer."

FROSH AND ROOKS BATTLE TONIGHT

Dick Bryant and Bob Mautz Return Expected to Help Babes

With a record of five wins and one defeat to date, the Oregon freshman quintet will face hardest opposition of the season tonight when they clash with the O. A. C. rooks at Corvallis in the first of a two game series. The second game will be played there tomorrow night. Both of these tilts are preliminaries to the Varsity-Aggie contests.

The Oregon babes cannot be said to be in the best possible shape for these crucial games but they will stack up much more formidably than they did last Friday when the Chemawa Indians handed them their first defeat in a hard fought game at Salem. Both the offensive and defensive strength of the team will be much greater by the return of Deek Bryant, the point getting forward and Bob Mautz, guard, to the line-up. Both Bryant and Mautz have been forced to stay on the sidelines in the last two games and the yearlings were materially weakened. Bryant's absence was due to a sprained ankle which has healed sufficiently to allow him to at least start the contest tonight.

Mautz was afflicted with a bad cold but he also has recovered and will probably play the entire game. The presence of these two men in the line-up will boost the chances of victory at least fifty per cent as Bryant was responsible for the majority of the yearling's points in the early season tilts while Mautz was a tower of strength in breaking up the opponents offensive and holding down their score.

Coach Shy Huntington is not entirely decided as to the line-up that will start the game but the frosh will probably open with Bryant and Scriptures playing the wings, Bill Gosser at center and Mautz and Hobson, guards. This combination has worked more smoothly than any other in the previous games and is a hard one to beat when the men are up to form. The other members of the squad who may break into the fracas are Gunther, Stoddard, Leake and Farley.

Not much is known of the strength of the rooks this year. Oregon students who saw them play at Corvallis against Albany college in a preliminary to the O. A. C.-Washington game last week say that they put up a ragged exhibition.

CAMPUS HIGH HAS GAME

Quintet Meets Cottage Grove Tonight in Fourth District Contest

The University high school quintet will meet the representatives of Cottage Grove high school in a basketball game in the men's gym at 8 o'clock. This will be the fourth district game for the University high squad which now has a percentage of 1,000, having won all three games played. Cottage Grove has a percentage of .666.

Other games they have scheduled for the near future are with Eugene on February 7, and a return game with Roseburg February 10, both of which will be played in the mn's gym.

"ROMANCE LAND" AT HELLIG

Could the gallant knights of the days of "Ivanhoe" but see the array of armor-begirt adventurers who will disport themselves on the screen at the Hellig today and Saturday, they would grit their teeth and wax green with envy. Certainly, if spirits come back to earth, they would have placed their names, long renowned in song and fable in the lists of the ourney. Tom Mix, in this latest Fox production, "Romance Land," seemed to be the reincarnation of one of those dare-devil knights of yore come to earth again to give the twentieth century an example of the chivalry that obtained in the golden days of romance.
