

GOLF MAY ATTAIN VARSITY STANDING

All Men Interested Are Urged to Attend Meeting in Gym Tonight at 7:30

An effort to establish golf as a varsity sport will be made tonight at a meeting at 7:30 in the men's gymnasium, which all golf enthusiasts on the campus are invited to attend. The first steps which will be taken will be the organization of a college golf club, the membership to be free. Then, according to Graduate Manager Jack Benefield, if enough interest is shown, the matter will be taken up with the executive council.

The attempt is being made, following the receipt of a letter from the University of Washington to the graduate manager, as follows:

"Golf in the two years in which it has been a minor sport at the University of Washington has met with such success that, following the precedents set by the Eastern and Middle Western institutions, we want to inaugurate an intercollegiate competition in the form of an annual tournament where each school will be represented by a two-man team."

"The board of control and the director of minor sports have passed on the recommendations which we are enclosing and which would act as the tentative rules governing the tournament subject to the approval of the entering schools. For the convenience of all concerned we thought it best that play be on a neutral course as centrally located as possible. The Waverly Country club of Portland, we think, meets all requirements of this sort. Because of conflicting dates the best time to hold the tournament would be between the third and the thirteenth of May. However, this would be subject to approval."

"Would you lay this matter before your board at your earliest convenience so that we may complete arrangements for the tournament."

May we receive an affirmative answer in regard to this matter in the near future?

"Very truly yours,
(Signed) Arthur Gerbel, Jr.,
Student Manager of Golf."

Following are the tentative rules for intercollegiate tournaments, which were included in the letter:

1.—The tournament shall be an annual one, the course on which it shall be played to be decided each year by the schools entering the meet.

2.—The teams shall be composed of two men of strictly amateur standing.

3.—The contestants shall pay for all balls and equipment.

4.—The schools shall pay for the teams' expenses while traveling and at the meet.

5.—The eligibility of the men shall be determined by coast conference ruling.

6.—There are two alternates for number of play, dependent on the number of days the Southern schools can spend at the meet. In the event that they sanction a three day meet, play will be as follows:

a.—Team match of 36 holes on Thursday, at medal, scores of individuals in the team match to be used as qualifying scores for the championship flight which shall consist of eight men.

b.—First round of championship flight to be played Friday morning and second round to be played in the afternoon, both to be 18 holes.

c.—Finals to be 36 holes on Saturday. In the event of a two-day tournament, play will be as follows:

a.—A team match Friday over 36 holes at medal play.

b.—The championship flight to be played at 36 holes, medal play.

former University faculty member or student is discussed, can be answered more readily when the morgue, or file, of news concerning all persons and events connected with the University, which is being built up on the Emerald under the direction of Rosalia Keber, is completed.

Miss Keber and her assistants, Mabel King and Pauline Bondurant, are now clipping Emeralds of the past years in an effort to bring the morgue up to date.

All clippings concerning faculty, students, alumnae, the departments of the University, the athletics and other intercollegiate events, and the different conferences held on the campus are to be collected and filed, as well as the names of the colleges which the faculty members attended, their degrees, books they have written, outside work they have done and other items of interest.

Miss Keber is planning to make the morgue complete in every detail so that it will be a reliable source of information regarding all persons and events associated with the University and one that will increase in importance as time goes on.

The morgue is to be kept in the school of journalism.

FOUR PRIZES OFFERED FOR UNPUBLISHED WORK

Pioneer Writers Guild of America to Give $150 Each for Best Play, Poem, Story and Cartoon

The Pioneer Writers' Guild of America, whose headquarters are at 9 Charles street, New York city, will award four cash prizes to the writers and artists whose work has never been published.

The awards will be made as follows: No. 1, for the best short story, $150. No. 2, for the best poem, $150. No. 3, for the best play, $150. No. 4, for the best cartoon, $150.

Only writers and artists whose work has never been published except in school, college or fraternity journals are eligible to enter this contest.

The rules and complete information may be obtained from the Guild in New York at the address given.

The winning story, play, poem, and cartoon will be published in the May issue of "The Pioneer."

APPEAL IN NEW PICTURE

When a producer takes a great fiction story, organizes a cast of players made up almost exclusively of stars or featured players, and places the whole in the hands of a capable director, it is not surprising that the result is a picture of the unusual qualities of "Shadows," seen here for the first time today at the Heilig theater.

RESIDENTIAL DISTRICT NEEDS IMPROVEMENTS

Faculty Members Interested in New Project

A campaign to improve residential property in the University hill district is being led by Dr. A. E. Caswell of the pre-engineering department, and Dr. E. L. Packard of the geology department. A recent article in the Morning Register announced a proposed meeting of residents of that section to organize for the work.

The Register story featured the tree planting project as a part of the plan. It is hoped that some system of setting out trees can be worked out to give the section a uniform appearance, and to really beautify the property.

Dr. Caswell said yesterday, however, that this was only incidental to the main plan. The city council will be petitioned for sewers, sidewalks and street improvements. By working together the residents have already obtained some of the things they desire.

About twelve of those who are associated with Dr. Caswell and Dr. Packard are members of the faculty, and a greater number of professors live near the foot of the hill and will be effected by the projects. The newest member of the colony is W. F. G. Thacher of the school of journalism, whose residence is being started this week.

The University hill section, which lies between Eighteenth and Twenty-third avenues and Alder and Agate streets, is somewhat isolated from the city by natural conditions and by the cutting off of many streets by the cemetery and the R. O. T. C. drill field, and has not been benefited by general improvements.

"SINGED WINGS" WORTH WHILE

you are missing a treat. This picture is quite worth while.

Starting Friday at the Rex the management promises the greatest laugh and thrill show yet staged. Topping the bill is Harold Lloyd in the first showing at popular prices of his five part comedy, "Dr. Jack," a guaranteed cure for the blues. Closely following the Lloyd feature in laughs and far surpassing it in thrills, Rount One of "Fighting Blood."

CASTS ARRIVE AT ART SCHOOL

Nine new casts in plaster of works of art ordered for the department of fine arts and to be used by the beginning students as models, have arrived from Boston. The Venus de Milo, smaller than original in the Leuvre, one figure from the Parthenon frieze, Donitello's Laughing Boy, and a girl's head by one of the Italians in the early fifteenth century are included, as well as the head of Athena. There is a detail of a hand, cast from life, one head for beginners to start on, and two death masks—the one of Canova for the study of anatomy, the other for studying facial character.
