TRACK ATHLETICS SHOW MARKED IMPROVEMENT

Present Records Good; Chet Fee Great Performer

The history of track athletes at Oregon is a story of development, as is evidenced by the way track records have been shattered from year to year. A glimpse at the old athletic records of the University is enough to convince anyone that there has been more improvement in this branch of athletics than in any other sport.

In 1895, when athletics were first established at Oregon, the following track records were officially adopted by the student body:

100 yard dash—10 4-5 seconds, Merrit Davis ('99).

220 yard dash—24 3-5 seconds, C. W. Keene ('96).

440 yard dash—33 3-5 seconds, C. W. Keene ('96).

880 yard dash—no record.

1 Mile—5:56 3-5, Roy Hurley ('98).

120 yard hurdles—19 3-5, D. V. Kuykendall ('98).

High jump—5' 5 1-2", Merrit Davis.

Pole Vault—9' 1", E. P. Shattuck.

Broad jump—18' 1 1-2", Merrit Davis.

Hammer throw—91' 3", Harry Templeton ('96).

Shot put—34' 2", Harry Templeton.

The present records, as given out by Bill Hayward, show a decided improvement in every particular, especially in the track events. The present records are:

100 yard dash—9 3-5 seconds, Dan Kelly, 1906.

220 yard dash—21 1-5 seconds, Dan Kelly.

440 yard dash—19 2-5 seconds, Elton Loucks.

880 yard dash—1:57 2-5, Martin Nelson.

1 Mile run—4:20, Walter McClure.

Two mile run—9:35, "Mose" Payne.

High jump—6' 2 1-4", Avart Stuller.

Broad jump—24' 2 1-2", Dan Kelly.

120 yard hurdles—15 1-5, Martin Hawkins.

Pole vault—12' 4 1-8", Chet Fee.

Hammer throw—155' 10", Roy Zacharies.

Shot put—46', H. M. McKinney.

Discus—142', Ken Bartlett.

All the present record holders were trained by Hayward, who came to Oregon in 1904. The time set by Dan Kelly in the 100 was a world's record and has never been beaten, although it has been equaled several times. However, Bill thinks that it will not always remain so. "Any consistent 9 4-5 man who keeps trying is liable to break this record," he said. He named Chet Fee and "Moose" Muirhead, as two men who have probably brought the most points to the school, although one, Muirhead, does not hold any of the records. He was a versatile man, however, and was a sure point getter in several events. Fee was pronounced by Bill as being probably the greatest all-round track athlete Oregon ever produced.

LONG SERVICE RECORD IN HEALTH DEPARTMENT

Students Are Honest in Paying Charges Necessitated by University's Growth, Says Bovard

The University health service is not a new organization, says Dean John F. Bovard of the physical education department. When Oregon could boast of only 900 students the health department was first established, and has grown from a very small organization to its present proportions. At the time it was first established, no charge was made on medicines or drugs of any kind which were given to students, but owing to the enormous growth of the University, in the past few years, the health service found it necessary to tax students the small sum of ten cents for ordinary prescriptions.

"The bill for bottles alone was tremendous," said Dr. Bovard, "and the University could not stand the expense. The co-operation of students in paying this tax should be commended. In the year since we instituted this tax, we have had no trouble at all in collecting it. Even if the student didn't have the money at hand, and it was charged to him, we have never had a case where a student failed to pay."

It is a good indication, he added, that there will be no trouble in collecting the ten cent charge, which will be made on the new tennis courts. "Students can be trusted to pay, some time, even if they don't have the money on hand at the time they wish to play," he said.

FIVE SHOWS AT REX TODAY

With today's showing, the Rex closes its unprecedentedly successful engagement of "Douglas Fairbanks in Robin Hood," which has the distinction of being the first photoplay to play a full week in Eugene.

A new schedule of starting times is set by the Rex management to accommodate today's crowds, the times being re-arranged to: 1, 3, 5, 7 and 9 p. m., at which hours the picture will begin. Following "Robin Hood," Douglas MacLean in "Bellboy 13" is announced as the Rex offering for the first two days of next week.

Y. W. MEETING ANNOUNCED

Will Nominate Officers Thursday; Election to Be Held Later

As there was no meeting this week the Y. W. C. A. announces that the annual business meeting will be held next Thursday afternoon. There will be many business reports of the year's activities read, and plans for the coming year will be presented by a committee.

Nominations for Y. W. C. A. officers will also be made and the elections of officers will be held the following week. The results of the elections will be announced at the annual Y. W. C. A. banquet which will be held the night of the election. There will be very little business discussed at the banquet, as has been the custom formerly, but the time will be devoted to interesting speeches.

The place for the next meeting has not yet been decided, since the Bungalow is entirely too small to accommodate the large crowd which is expected. Announcement will be made later of the place for the meeting.

KRIER SUED BY IRATE MOB

"You Took My Sweetie Away," Charges Female; College Profs.—U. S. Government and Flappers Line Up Against Paper.

All of newspaperdom today stands with its lower jaw extremities relaxed and gaping, doing its best to comprehend the full significance of the shower of torment that has suddenly dashed its fury over the humble brow of this stately representative of the world press, The Kollege Krier.

Ten thousand four hundred and one (10,401) counts have up to date been registered against this mighty organ of publicity.

To bring this Titanic figure within the scope of untrained comprehension our experts have translated it as the equivalent of 1,214 knockout prize fights (9 counts to a knockout).

To further illustrate its stupendousness, the amalgamation figures up to be just seven more counts than those registered in the German royal family.

College professors have put in claims that the attention of their students have been too greatly diverted into the scholarly columns of the Krier. Track and soccer coaches have complained that their athletes have shown more interest in billiard and pool tournaments than in their respective grinds, all as a result of the Krier editorial policy.

Complaint No. 9,873 is to the effect that four cases of alienation of the affections of gentlemen friends can be traced directly to the slam bang editorial policy at one time held by this paper. It is claimed that all the alleged trouble arose directly from the Krier story that caused the terrible disturbance of the campus quiet and peace to the noisy practice of girls arranging their flowing tufts with bangs.

The janitor of the grave yard and the traffic force of the mill race have both filed claims which would prove that their respective institutions are more heavily patronized by college people than OBAK'S KOLLEGE KLUB.

They are willing to submit figures in support of their contentions. All that ye editor can say is that he can go them one better no matter what evidence they wish to drag in, providing he sees it before being called on for testimony.

The federal government has further complicated matters by joining the ranks of the opposition with an injunction against the Krier's reported offense of painting fire escapes on its office windows to escape buying iron ones. Ye editorial staff thought that this was our country, but it seems that the opposition have bought it over.

The trial opened with a bang, some one absent mindedly having tied a 4th of July torpedo in the end of the judge's gavel, the judge sneezed and dismissed court for the rest of the day.

The second day of the trial opened with a bang, and the rest of the day and part of the night was given over to reading the charge.

The third day of the trial opened with a bang, and the opposition did a beggarly job, proving but one point: that every man in town knows OBAK Wallace and has either eaten at his lunch board, played at his billiard table or smoked his cigars. We could have told them that.

The fourth day of the trial opened with a bang, and the defense smote the enemy with many masterly strokes of oratory. The case went into the hands of the jury and court was dismissed till next week.

A Comprehensive Plan Is Needed

"Three things will result from the decision of the seniors to pay $10 a year for 10 years toward a Student Union building," declared Lamar Tooze, '16, field director of the gift campaign. "It will give impetus to the gift campaign, it will help to start the idea of annual gifts to the University by alumni, and it will build a Student Union." The first two considerations are important and must be emphasized, but of greatest moment to the students is the last. "It will build a Student Union."

There is no building needed worse than a Student Union at the present time, even though almost every department and school in the University is crowded for space. A Student Union will serve the whole University in a somewhat similar manner as the Woman's building now serves the women. At the University of California the Student Union houses the Co-operative Store, the offices of the student body officials, a barber shop, a lounging room, a banquet room and other conveniences. Other features could easily be added. At some colleges the offices of the Y. M. C. A., the Y. W. C. A. and the offices of student publications are provided in the Student Union. It has been pointed out, however, that the Y. M. C. A. will probably be housed in a new religious center to be located off the campus.

With the announcement that other classes will be asked to make some contribution or to provide similar schemes, either now or at the time of graduation, comes the plea for a uniform plan for financing the Student Union. On the whole, it would be better to limit payments to graduates. Undergraduates of the University are perfectly willing to help out in any way they can, but as a rule they are not financially able to help to any great extent. Far better than to have a student tax at the beginning of every quarter is the idea of a pledge made during the senior year to be paid after graduation.

Although the conventional class gifts are always appreciated, in view of the extreme need of the University it is the wiser policy to leave something which is of real value. The class of 1923 could have thought of nothing more appropriate. When the Student Union building becomes a reality it will be with pride that the members of this year's senior class think of the humble beginnings. It is to be hoped that other classes will be able to work out a similar plan for gifts after graduation.

College Clippings

Ohio State University Has Inter-Sorority Relay—Captains have been chosen by the 19 sororities at Ohio State University for an inter-sorority relay race. Each captain selects his own team for the relay she represents. The winning sorority will be presented with a trophy cup.

University of Arizona Women to Have Athletics—Women at the University of Arizona will have interscholastic athletics for the first time in the history of the university. Plans are under way for interscholastic basketball, tennis, and marksmanship.

Dies After 14 Years in University—Any Davis Winship, oldest student at Ohio State College recently died at the age of 92 after a 14-year college career begun after her husband's death.

Plan Men's Quad—Plans are under way to segregate a portion of Mills-paugh hall at the southern branch of the University of California for a gathering place for men.

Sews Up Heart—Dr. W. R. Smith, a Cornell graduate of '16, recently performed an operation in which he lifted out a negro boy's heart and sewed up a knife wound which had penetrated that organ.

Hold Spirit Week—"Hellos" were placed on the sign boards as greetings during a "Spirit week" held during the last part of February at Pennsylvania State College. The purpose of the week was to revive Penn State traditions.

Dual Personality Girl Treated—A girl 20 years of age, who at times thinks she is a 4 year old youngster, named Polly, is under the care of Dr. Henry H. Goddard, professor of psychology at Ohio State College. Dr. Goddard says the hallucination is caused by nervousness.

Chinese Is Taught—H. Lin, president of Cosmopolitan club at Iowa State College is giving lessons in Chinese cuneiform writing to students in a series of lectures.

Charges Controlled Elections—Charging that there were two political combinations whose sole purposes were to dominate student elections at the University of Oklahoma, the D. D. M. C., a secret organization, has started a campaign to end framed elections in the Oklahoma institution.

Arizona Adopts Honor System—The student body at the University of Arizona has added to its constitution an honor system which puts itself upon its own honor in the matter of examinations instead of being under faculty supervision. The code also provides an article on class attendance which states that unless a student has a logical excuse he should meet all class appointments.

"MY FRIEND THE DEVIL," HELIIG William Fox does not let cost bother him in making a picture. He must have spent a big sum on "My Friend the Devil," which is now being shown at the Heliig theater. The storm scenes are very effective and the cast is an excellent and capable one. The sets are superb.

"My Friend the Devil," is an adaptation of Georges Ohnet's novel, "Docteur Rameau." It is an entertaining picture.
