

TIMELY SUBJECTS PICKED BY GROUPS

Discussion on World Topics
Booked for Spring Term;
Talks Before Meetings

Group discussions on world topics will be conducted among the men's living organizations beginning with the spring term, if plans considered by the interfraternity council last Wednesday evening work out successfully. It is planned to carry out the work by having some faculty member at each house for dinner, and he will give an after-dinner talk, followed by discussion on some subject selected by the students of the house. It is expected that the meetings will take place on the night of house meetings, and that the discussions will not last longer than half an hour.

Del Oberteuffer, Vic Risely and Bruce McConnell were named by the council as a committee to help in selecting the speakers and arrange schedules, by which the plan could be carried out. The idea has gone over big, according to Oberteuffer, chairman of the committee, and is proving popular. A few, such meetings were held during the present term to try out the plan, but in order to avoid confusion in the last few weeks of the term, it was thought advisable to leave the matter for next term's work. Any house may not only select its own topic, but also the speaker whom it wishes to hear.

Tutankhamen, Cuneism, American Architecture, Modern Education, Women Jurors and psychological questions are some of the topics which have already been suggested for the discussions. Among the speakers listed are Dr. E. S. Conklin, Dean H. D. Sheldon, Dr. H. B. Torrey, Professor Justin Miller and Dean Colin V. Dymont.

"I consider the activity a very desirable thing," said Prof. Justin Miller of the law school in discussing the matter, adding that it was felt by some students that they spent four years at the University diligently reading the campus publications, and after graduation they go out into life feeling they are in a new world. It is sometimes thought that these matters ought to be taken up in the courses given at the universities and colleges, according to Mr. Miller, but it must be remembered that the academic work is built up on past work, and that too many times opinions are biased, he said.

Dr. B. W. DeBusk of the school of education declared the plan to be a good way to bring the up-to-date and interesting topics for the students to discuss, and be a means of letting them know what is happening out side the campus.

SIGMA DELTA PI HEARS TALK BY LELAINE WEST

Series of Lectures in Spanish Begun;
Meetings to Be Seminar
in Form

At the monthly meeting of Sigma Delta Pi, national honorary Spanish fraternity, held on Saturday afternoon at the Gamma Phi Beta house, the first of a series of talks on Spanish-speaking countries was given by LeLaine West, a member of the organization. Miss West illustrated her talk, which was given in Spanish, with curios and pictures which she obtained on her visit to Mexico last summer.

These meetings are to be in the nature of a Spanish seminar, and during the year each member of the society will be responsible for a session. These seminars are always to be conducted in Spanish, giving the members an opportunity for acquiring fluency in conversational Spanish.

At the next monthly meeting, which will be held soon after the beginning of the spring term, Helen Hoefler and Marian Gillis are preparing discussions, the subjects of which will be announced later.

Sigma Delta Pi elects to membership only on the basis of a two average in Spanish and superior work in all other subjects. The club is composed of 13 members and has as faculty advisors, who are also members, Miss Rosalina Cuevas and Miss Florence Whyte.

OREGON STUDENT PLANS TO MAKE TRIP ABROAD

wanderlust became even more acute. His desire to see historic scenes dates from his earliest remembrance when he staged the French Revolution on a small scale with wooden soldiers. Now he wants to see the Basque country, book-stalls along the Seine, and the architecture of chateaus. He has no particular interest in seeing the things that the average tourists look for, though, of course, he will take in the art galleries. His idea is to study the manners and customs, and give especial attention to the art of the theatre. "I'll travel on trains through the less interesting parts—and through the Alps—one could hardly manage them on a bicycle, you know."

He takes with him a letter to Joseph Urban of New York—the man who does decoration for the Metropolitan opera, and who staged "When Knighthood Was in Flower." He has, besides the addresses of Americans in the different countries.

When he was eight and saw the play, "Everywoman," he stopped designing model circuses and began to think of the stage. And now he will realize his dream of studying first-hand.

"His equipment will be the simplest—golfing trousers, crepe shirts in greys and light tans, blankets for sleeping in the open, and just the bare necessities. The bicycle he will buy abroad. His sketch-book adds the artist to the adventurer."

"And when you return?" he was asked.

"Oh, I'll go on majoring in architecture," he replied with a smile.

DO-NUT WRESTLING TO GET UNDER WAY TODAY

Drawings Will Be Posted This Morning in Men's Gym; Contestants Must Get Doctor's Certificate

Do-nut wrestling will get under way today. Drawings for the matches were made last night and the lists will be posted on the gym bulletin board this morning. It is the desire of Gerald Barnes and Coach Widmer, who are in charge of the matches, that the men run them off as fast as possible. Both instructors will be able to handle matches from 10 to 12 and from 2 to 6.

"The first round," said Mr. Barnes, "must be finished in a couple of days in order that the challenge round may be reached. We would like to run off as many matches today as possible, 15 at least. The bouts will be held in the two wrestling rooms."

The bouts will be five minutes in length and the wrestlers must weigh in before their preliminary match. Those men failing to make the weight will be automatically eliminated from the contests. Men making the weight will not be required to weigh in again during the progress of the matches.

It is also essential that the contestants get a doctor's certificate before they engage in a match. Men who have passed the physical education test are eligible, but to date only one certificate has been turned in and the men must turn them in to coaches at the time of weighing.

The contests will be dispatched with as much speed as possible so that the final bouts may be held Friday, March 23.

GYM STAFF ATTENDS MEET

Women's Physical Education Conference Held in Portland Last Week

The annual women's physical education conference held in Portland last week-end was attended by the staff of the physical education department of the University and several majors in the department. Grade schools and high schools were visited to view the various types of work carried on by the public schools. Trips to several of the recreational centers and community houses showed the phase of physical education work as done by these groups.

Miss Florence D. Alden, head of the physical education department, participated in the program at the banquet held in the Turnverein club house, giving a review of "Organization and Administration of Physical Education," by Jesse Williams.

The convention was attended by approximately one hundred persons, all of whom were in some way connected with physical education work. The next convention will be held in Eugene in May.

"HOOT" GIBSON AT HEILIG

Just a dumb-bell American dough-boy blundering through Europe in countries whose language he doesn't savvy, but oh, what a riot he stirs up! Edward (Hoot) Gibson is the lad and he does it in "The Gentleman from America," his newest Universal starring vehicle, which is playing at the Heilig theater today.

The locale is Cardonia and vies with the western prairies in the opportunity given Gibson for swift moving action. He rides horses, fights duels and gets bombed, in addition to winning the love of a beautiful senorita.

OREGON RIFLEMEN DEFEAT COLUMBIA

Result of Telegraphic Match
Just Completed Is 3676 to 3344 Points

By a score of 3676 to 3344 the University rifle team defeated Columbia University of New York in a telegraphic match just completed, according to an announcement of the military department. Scores made are on a basis of a possible 4000. Four positions, standing, kneeling, sitting and prone were fired. Northwestern University was also entered in this meet, but no results have been received from their team.

Scores made by the Oregon team in this triangle match are as follows: Penk, 374; Aitken, 373; Buchanan, 373; Page, 372; Van Waters, 366; McKnight, 365; Mays, 365; Nosler, 364; Gilbert, 362; Larson, 362.

The Oregon team that journeyed to Corvallis last Saturday lost the meet against O. A. C. by a margin of 108 points. O. A. C. scored 1684 out of a possible 2000, and Oregon made 1576. University team members and their scores follow: Aitken, 168; Beatty, 167; Blackney, 162; Larson, 160; Gilbert, 157; Robnetto, 157; Peak, 156; Van Waters, 154; Smith, 152; Hayden, 143. The low scores of both teams is accounted for by the extreme cold, which made accurate shooting difficult.

The men's rifle team is now engaged in firing a triangular meet with the Utah Aggies, and the University of Washington teams, while the girls' team is firing against the University of Tennessee this week.

TOURIST EXPERT COMING

Herbert Cuthbert to Address Meeting of Commerce Secretaries

Word received today by Dean E. C. Robbins of the school of business administration states that Herbert Cuthbert, executive secretary of the Pacific Northwest Tourist association of Seattle, will attend the short course for chamber of commerce secretaries which will be held here April 2-7. Mr. Cuthbert will deliver a lecture at that time on "State Publicity and Tourist Travel." Mr. Cuthbert has made a careful study of the tourist situation in this part of the country, and the news that he will come to Oregon is favorably received.

Maps showing the timber belts of the state, and highways—completed, proposed and now in construction—have been received by the school of business from the state forestry and engineering departments. This material will be used in discussion of the program for the development of state resources which the secretaries will consider during the short course.

Several Live in Tent

Many of the students of the University work their way through college by securing odd jobs about the town. Several boys, for example, live in a tent and do all their cooking and house-keeping, studying in their little tented home along the banks of the Willamette river. Another student earned $600 while going to the University and still has the same amount of money he had when he entered. This student will be graduated this year.
