

WRESTLING FINALS COMING FRIDAY

Date Changed to Accommodate Different Arrangement in Program

In the do-nut wrestling tournament, 17 men have been eliminated in the three days of the tournament. Nine men were eliminated by failing to challenge, and eight by being defeated twice—once in the first round and once in their challenge match.

Definite plans for staging the finals which had to be changed to Friday instead of Tuesday have been made. There will be 26 men in the semi-finals and the finals—four men in each weight.

One of the hardest matches on yesterday's schedule was the struggle between Reed and High. Two extra one-minute periods were necessary to decide the winner, High winning on time.

Another close match was that between Mills and Hunt, Mills winning on time by a bare 38 seconds.

In the 161 pound class Burnett won from Bergavik on time. In the 138 pound class Baird took a fall from Culbertson whom he had challenged.

In the 128 pound class Holdman and Patterson will wrestle to determine the fourth man in the semi-finals. All challenges will be staged today.

Because of different arrangements Coach Widmer has set the date for the finals to be wrestled on Friday, March 23, instead of Tuesday as announced.

In the finals, first place will count five points, second place three points, third place two points and fourth place one point.

The challenges in the semi-finals will be run off in the same manner as in the first part of the tournament. The winners and losers will be determined in the same manner except that there will be no elimination of losers.

NORTHWEST SECRETARY OF Y. W. C. A. WILL VISIT

Full Program Is Planned for Miss Elsie Heller, to Be Guest of University Campus Next Week

Miss Elsie Heller, northwest student secretary of the Y. W. C. A., is to be a visitor on the University campus from Monday to Friday of next week. Miss Heller is a successor of Miss Alice Brown, who, for a number of years, has held the position of student secretary and who is well known on the campus.

LeLaine West, president of the local association, has charge of Miss Heller's program for the time she is to be in Eugene, and any student group or individual, wishing to have a conference with Miss Heller, should communicate with the Y. W. bungalow.

A tentative program has been outlined which includes luncheon at the Alpha Xi Delta house Monday noon and supper with the world fellowship commission at the Y. W. bungalow; Wednesday noon, council of religion luncheon at the Anchorage; 5 p. m., meeting of freshman commission, followed by dinner at Kappa Kappa Gamma house; Thursday noon, luncheon, Gamma Phi Beta house; conference at 4:15 on local problems at bungalow, at which Mr. Foster of the Y. M. C. A. will be present.

Thursday night after the Y. W. election the annual Y. W. C. A. banquet will be held at the Osburn hotel. Miss Heller's mornings have all been left free so that any one wishing to make appointments with her may do so.

Members of the Y. W. C. A. are looking forward to Miss Heller's visit with a great deal of interest as this is her first trip to the University campus.

GAME OF HORSESHOES IS POPULAR PASTIME

leave the weights within that distance must retire to the junior courts and pitch can rubbers at tooth picks until they establish a reputation, and they may then challenge. Challengers must have either their credentials in writing or the verbal consent of the other contestants. Failure to comply means the forfeiture of all shaving privileges for the ensuing term.

All false and hidden motions are barred. Contestants must submit to a search by the referee for slippery elm and emery dust which might be concealed about their persons. Losers are to refrain from violence of any description on the persons of the winners. Infraction of this rule is punishable by having to memorize every word in a 500 page mailing-house catalog.

Other rules are to be added later when necessity requires them. Ringers and leaners have caused much controversy, but as yet suitable rules have not been framed.

Considering the interest in the game now, it might be well for the minor sports committee to look over the ground and possibly add it to the do-nut sports, since it has not yet been established in the other conference colleges.

JOHN CLAIRE MONTEITH IS PROGRAM FEATURE

Sacred Cantata Will Be Given at Vesper Services

John Stark Evans, with the University choir, will present Theodor Dubois' cantata, "The Seven Last Words of Christ," for the second time at the University vesper services, to be held Sunday afternoon at 4:15 in the Methodist church.

The services are to be entirely musical and the program has been arranged with the nearness of the Easter season in mind, and a consequent appropriateness in its selection.

John Claire Monteith, of Portland, is to sing the baritone solo parts of the cantata, and the soprano and tenor parts are to be taken by Madame Rose McGrew, and John B. Siefert, of the school of music. Mr. Monteith has been heard on the campus on several previous occasions, and is remembered for the resonance and depth of his voice, and his ability as a singer.

The chorus of "The Seven Last Words of Christ" will afford excellent opportunities for the choir to be heard at its best. Throughout the cantata there are high climaxes, interspersed with particularly lovely solo, duet and trio work.

John Stark Evans, associate dean of the school of music, is to be organist, and will direct the choir. Mr. Evans is capable both as an organist and director, and his performances are anticipated with a great deal of pleasure.

Bishop Walter Taylor Sumner, of Portland, will deliver the invocation.

Bird House in Tree Relic of Early Days

On a cedar tree over in front of Deady is a little gray bird-house, which with Deady and Villard, remains as a monument of old days at Oregon. None, not even Dean Straub, knows how it came on the campus.

Benjamin Horning of the zoology department, when asked recently if he knew anything about the house, said that it had been on the tree when he came to Oregon. Prof. A. R. Sweetser of the botany department said the same. Dr. J. F. Bovard, formerly head of zoology, and now dean of the school of physical education, remembered the structure, but could not recall when it had been put up. H. M. Fisher, superintendent of buildings and grounds, had a little information. The bird-house, he said, was here when he came, but had been placed in its present location about six years ago as a home for some squirrels that were on the campus.

Nor could Dr. John Straub, dean of men, tell much about its history. He remembered about the squirrels, and after a few minutes thought recalled that in 1900 a naturalist in the Eugene schools interested his students in making things. The boys made a lot of bird-houses, the dean said, and sold them around town for five cents apiece. He recalls buying some to put in the trees about his home, and thinks that the campus relic may have been one of them.

UNIVERSITY BANDSMEN MAY RECEIVE SWEATERS

Colonel Sinclair Asks Council for Service Awards

At a meeting of the student council Wednesday night, Colonel Sinclair recommended that the R. O. T. C. band members be awarded a sweater at the end of the year. Last year the members of the band purchased their own white uniforms but this year the white uniforms and the sweaters that go with them were furnished for the band. Colonel Sinclair's proposal would make it possible for the band members to retain these sweaters in recognition of their services.

Acting upon this proposal, the student council appointed a committee consisting of Owen Callaway, Ellen McVeigh, and Kenneth Youl to report on the advisability of a change in the constitution which would award sweaters and a yellow lyre to the members of the band at the end of the first year. If the committee reports favorably upon this proposal, it will be voted upon at the next student body meeting.

Plans are under way to have the band out to play for the baseball games in the spring, according to Captain Arnold. This is entirely voluntary on the part of the men but it is expected that they will respond willingly if the student body offers to cooperate with the band.

The military department feels that the R. O. T. C. band should be entitled to as much consideration from the student body for its participation in campus activities as the University orchestra or any of the other organizations. "If we can offer some inducement to the men, such as the awarding of sweaters, it will be possible to keep them for advanced courses in military and in a little while to develop an excellent band," Captain Arnold said.

PROFESSOR COLLECTS INSECTS

Frederick L. Washburn, first professor of zoology at the University of Oregon, and now with the University of Minnesota, arrived in San Francisco recently from an expedition to the Marquesas and Society islands, in the South Seas, and brought with him a collection of several thousand insects which he had collected. Heretofore the insect fauna of the Marquesas has been practically unknown. Professor Washburn told a representative of the universal press, and the collection of specimens which he brought with him is sufficient to warrant exchange with other institutions. A scale injuring the cocoanut trees and a weevil, destructive to sugar cane in the Marquesas was also told of by Professor Washburn.

LIFE IN CASTLE SHOW

When one hears of a drama built on the intimacies of married life one expects, from painful experience, to see a slender, skinny, thread of a story dragged out to the fragility of a spider web.

Thomas H. Ince's new picture "What A Wife Learned," showing today at the Castle, is one of the most intimate and realistic stories ever written, but nobody has found reason to complain of its tameness. Like every Ince picture
