

JUNIORS TO STAGE TWO-HOUR SHOW

Vaudeville Talent of Campus Turns Out for "Varsity Vanities of 1923"

"Varsity Vanities of 1923," which will be staged at the Heilig theater May 3, promises to be the snappiest junior vaudeville that has ever been produced here. It will be a continuous two hour show with absolutely no waits between acts, and will represent the very best talent the campus has to offer, says Ted Baker, chairman of the "Vanities."

Because of the over-crowded house last year, two performances will be given, the first will begin at 7:15 and the second at 9:30.

Competition for places on the program has been extremely keen, and so far 36 different acts have been offered for consideration.

"Mummie Mine," an up-to-the-minute musical comedy will be the feature act. This act was written by Imogene Letcher, a senior in the school of music, and it is declared by campus critics to be "entirely new and original." The leads will be played by Frank Wright and Catherine Lyons. It is being directed by Miss Letcher, assisted by Darrell Larsen. Try-outs for the chorus were held last night and the following 17 girls were chosen: Frances Cornell, Juliette Heffelfenger, Gladys Noren, Kathryn Jane Seal, Marion Hill, Marie Myers, Mildred Marsh, Marjorie Baird Francis Karshner, Mildred Johnson, Josephine Ulrich, Dorothy Brautman, Josephine Johnson, Mary Brant, Helena Pattlecan, Zelma Arrasmith and Joy Johnson.

Joe Clark, Patricia Novelan and Dorothy Hall will present a novelty dancing act which they declare to be different than anything that has ever been seen here before.

The men's glee club quartet, consisting of Doc Furry, Roy Bryson, Wilbur Phillips and Curtis Phillips, are preparing a special act. They will also appear in "Mummie Mine."

Cyril Vallentyne and Morris Walters, who so successfully put over their act in the last vaudeville, will present an entirely new skit of song and chatter.

Rehearsals on most of the acts will be well under way by the end of the week according to Ted Baker, who expects the show to go on with professional smoothness.

ROBBINS MADE MEMBER OF HOOT OWL SOCIETY

Friendly Radio Fan Hears Own Initiation Through Receivers of Wireless; Is Broadcast from KGW

Initiated by proxy. This is the experience of Edward Robbins, journalism major and radio fan. The other night Robbins was roused from his dreams to listen to his initiation into the Hoot Owls, a radio association organized by the Portland Oregonian.

Radio fans who show exceptional interest in the broadcasting are taken into the Hoot Owls. Ever since he established the radio station on the campus, Robbins has been catching messages from the Oregonian station and other stations about the state. Several of these messages have been published in the Emerald.

Robbins' roommate was at the receiving set when the announcement of the initiation was flashed and he immediately roused the initiate who listened in on the proceedings down in the metropolis. He heard the goat ha-ha, the bells ring and all the other pranks that go with initiation and then heard himself duly sworn into the noble order of Hoot Owls.

"RIDERS OF THE DAWN" AT REX

A thrilling picture of the great Northwest is Zane Grey's "Riders of the Dawn," adapted from his novel, "The Desert of Wheat," which was one of the author's biggest sellers when first published in book form. and which is the feature Friday and Saturday at the Rex. Roy Stewart, Claire Adams, Joseph Dowling (The Miracle Man) and Robert McKim, head the large cast of prominent players selected by Mr. Grey to portray the leading parts in this picturization of his novel.

SWIMMING MEETS WITH O. A. C. ARE POSTPONED

Aggies Unable to Train Teams for Competitive Match

Plans for the women's interclass intercollegiate swimming meets with O. A. C. spring term have entirely been disrupted due to the fact that word has been received from the physical education staff at Corvallis that O. A. C. will be unable to work up class teams to compete in these meets.

Members of the O. A. C. department claim that improper facilities and material make it impossible to develop teams to enter in intercollegiate meets. This being the case, every effort will be expended to make the interclass meets here a big success, says Miss Cannon, in charge of swimming. These meets will be run off as soon as college opens spring term. According to plans previously arranged, each class will have a first and second team. Girls who will compete in the meets should keep in practice during vacation, said Miss Cannon.

A Women's Life Saving Corps, American Red Cross was organized on the campus several years ago and twenty-one of the corps are now on the campus. These members are Katherine Sartain, Marguerite McCabe, Marian Linn, Winifred Hopson, Muriel Meyers, Grace Caviness, Elizabeth Kerr, Henryetta Lawrence, Alladeen Scroggin, Georgia Benson, Helen Atkinson, Asteria Norton, LaVelle Barger, Cecile Johnson, Frances Simpson, Hazel Fahy, Helen Cantine, Rosalia Keber, Emily Houston, and Yvonne Smith. Life saving tests are given every Thursday night at 7:30 in the Woman's building.

Six Nut Crackers Wanted by Straub

If it were not for the fact that future generations of Eugene walnut growers would forever bear a grudge against him, Dean Straub, according to his own statement, would like to send east for about six gray squirrels, tame them, and turn them loose on the campus.

"In that way," says Dean Straub, "these little animals become very tame. I remember I used to call them to me and they would crawl up on my shoulder to be fed with a nut or a piece of bread. I have often wished for some gray squirrels on this campus. They would soon become very tame and would be a constant source of amusement to some of the dignified seniors that grace the bench in front of the library. Perhaps," he added, "the scribes of the campus will feel the impulse to make some favorable comment on this movement and my wish may be granted after all."

PAN XENIA INITIATES FOUR

Social Hour in Woman's Building Follows; R. D. Pinneo Is Pledged

Pan Xenia, international foreign trade fraternity, held initiation for Rud Brown, Herbert Hacker, S. Harold Evans, and Edd Haney last evening in the smoking room of the Woman's building. A social hour followed the ceremony, 'fogging up' in the language of the satellites of nicotine being the principal diversion.

Pan Xenia is also planning to hold initiation in Portland during spring vacation for members who are not on the campus.

The organization announces the pledging of Roger D. Pinneo, general manager of the port of Astoria.

SCHOOL OF CHEMICAL ENGINEERING PRACTICE
A graduate school offering a course of study leading to the degree of Master of Science, with field stations established at six different companies located in Bangor, Maine; Boston, Mass.; and Buffalo, N. Y. These companies produce sulphite and soda pulp, paper, caustic soda, chlorine, heavy acids and salts, sugar, coke, gas, steel, ammonia, benzol, etc.
The more important operations of Chemical Engineering, as typified by the above processes, are studied systematically by means of tests and experimental work on full scale plant apparatus. One of the objects of this work is to fix in the mind of the student the principles of Chemical Engineering and to correlate these principles with practice.
The work is non-remunerative and is independent of control by the plant management, and therefore the whole attention of the student is directed to the study of Chemical Engineering.
The total number admitted to the school is limited and the students, studying and experimenting in small groups, receive individual instruction.
Before admission to the School of Chemical Engineering Practice, all students must have adequate preparation in chemistry and engineering. The able student can complete the requirements for the Master of Science degree in one and one-half years.
At the present time, thirty-one colleges and universities are represented among the men attending the School of Chemical Engineering Practice and these men comprise over one-half the enrollment.
