Sell Higher Education—then Oregon

The alumni have set Wednesday, April 4, as state-wide "University Day." In practically every high school in the state former students of the University will describe the various phases of a college education. They will tell the high school students of the different courses available, and will endeavor to advise them in their choice of an institution best suited to their needs.

Oregon is not after numbers. The policy of the University is for quality, not quantity. The desirable students are those who are earnestly striving to improve themselves and not those who come here for the social prestige. The University does not believe in wholesaling education and works under the theory that the only way to get the best students is to let the high school prospects know exactly what is offered and what is expected.

Oregon alumni understand the University's standards and the scope of the work. They can do more to encourage young people to prepare themselves adequately before they start out in life than almost any other class of people. An article in the current "Old Oregon" describes the situation and gives directions. With this support there is little doubt that the day will be worth the effort.

There are a great many things students can do to cooperate with the alumni in selling higher education and the University to prospective students. It will be vacation week and nearly everyone will be in their home towns. It will be possible to help in the talks at the high school, or in holding University dances or entertainments for the preppers. But remember to sell higher education first, then sell the University of Oregon.

We're Neglecting One Item

A new journalism building has just been completed. The school of business administration is comfortably accommodated in a home of its own. Other buildings have been constructed and more are contemplated. Although there is a need for more buildings than can be obtained the University has been neglecting one item which would not be at all expensive.

The Emerald wishes to call attention to the fact that the home of the president of the University should be replaced by a new structure. President Campbell has made many sacrifices for the University and would doubtless prefer that the money should go to some other building. The esteem in which the president is held would lead to the prediction that a new house may in some way be provided in the near future.

When the Fairmount car line is moved and Thirteenth street is closed to traffic we hope that it will not be so difficult to sleep in the library. So many interruptions are annoying.

Angry is the student who sits up through the wee small hours cramming for an eight o'clock exam when he awakens at nine-fifteen.

Why not have a wrestling match between the varsity and a picked squad from the doughnut teams?

UNIVERSITY RIFLE TEAM TOTALS 13 VICTORIES

Twelve Matches to Be Settled; Varsity Takes Short End of Score in Five of Shoots Held So Far

The varsity has taken the short end of the scores in the meets with O. A. C. (two meets), Northwestern University, University of Washington and University of Nevada.

REASONS ARE SOUGHT FOR INTERRUPTED TERM

Winter Quarter of 1922-1923 Shows Breaks in Study; Dean Dymont Investigates Cause

In speaking of the work of the University community during the winter term Dean Colin V. Dymont stated yesterday that this period in the college year of 1922-1923 has had more interruptions than the fall term or than the coming spring term is likely to have. Whether this is the fault of the faculty or students he does not know, but to ascertain the cause an investigation is being made. The files of the Emerald are being examined to discover the causes of the interruptions and where the fault in the crowded schedule lies.

"Usually the winter term is comparatively free from distractions," the dean said. "In the fall there are the football games, and the long period of adjustment, and in the spring term there comes spring fever, sunshine, and fancies which 'turn lightly' and are numerous, Junior week-end, and plans for the summer." Therefore the winter term has been regarded as the stronghold of scholasticism and every effort is being made to keep it so. The results of this investigation will be announced in the near future.

RELIGIOUS LEADER COMING

H. F. Swartz of Berkeley Will Speak at Luncheon at Hut Thursday

An opportunity for University students to know the facts of recent movements of Christian leadership will be presented next Thursday noon, when President H. F. Swartz of the Pacific School of Religion at Berkeley, California, will stop in Eugene between trains to be at a luncheon at the Y. M. C. A. hut.

President Swartz has been touring the Northwest, appearing on the platform at various educational institutions, and meeting students. His subject will be "The Need of Christian Leadership."

The luncheon will be served by the women of the Fairmount Congregational church. Students wishing plates should leave their names at the "Y" hut. The price will be 25 cents.

DOUGLASS EDITS REPORT

Proceedings of Library Association Are Described in Volume

A volume of 106 pages edited by M. H. Douglass, head librarian, and called "The Proceedings of the Pacific Northwest Library Association," has just been received at his office from the publishers. Each individual member of the association is entitled to a copy. Nearly five hundred copies have been printed.

In 1923 the conference of the P. N. L. A. will be held at Oregon Agricultural college, Corvallis, June 11 to 13. The California Library association will meet at Yosemite, California, June 4, 5, 6. Members of the P. N. L. A. are urged to attend both conferences.

NEW PLANT IS CONSIDERED

Action on Heating Facilities Awaits Meeting of Regents

Rumors to the effect that the new University heating plant will be erected immediately, are without foundation, according to John Hanna, superintendent of construction. Nothing definite can be done until after the meeting of the board of regents.

The heating problem will probably be brought up at that time, for the regents must sanction any building project and provide the funds.

A consulting heating engineer will be on the campus this week, Mr. Hanna said, to examine the new Journalism and Art buildings.

CAMPUS ETIQUETTE ROTTEN

Culture School Shows Up Defects in Social System—Exposures Terrify Many

"Is your tie on straight? "If you were dining with President Harding would you pick your teeth with your right or left hand?"

"Which of the following should be eaten with the knife: beans, soup, peas, tomatoes, canned cherries, hash?"

"When is it permissible to throw a piece of bread at a sleeping waiter?"

"All of these questions are of vital importance to your social standing and on the right or wrong answer to them rests your whole social future. Your future wife or employer is watching your every act. Who knows how dire the results if you overlook a single point in your social conduct Your future is at stake."

These are the words of the latest campus reformer, unknown though he be, who has flooded the steps of the University with his slick tongued propaganda.

And rightly has he chosen Eugene as a center for reform for our little civilization has been on the down hill grade for many a moon.

For one example we have noticed with disgust that many students and more faculty members have totally disregarded the etiquette of the billiard table by sitting on the cushions with both feet off the floor, handling their cues like golf sticks and forgetting to mark up their points.

There is just one way to become a well polished gentleman and that is to associate with men of that type. Take the hint and improve your billiard and pool etiquette by spending more time with OBAB in his famous KOLLEGE KLUB on Willamette street.

Stomach Specialist Advises Studes

New Stomach Troubles Cured Without Use of Knife, Gas, X-Ray or Pump; Cure Proclaimed Sensational

A final and lasting cure for boarding and frat house blues has been discovered and offered the public by a famous stomach specialist, Mr. OBAB Wallace.

After a great deal of experimenting in his snow white laboratory on Willamette street he has devised a sure cure for the dreaded disease commonly known as the "Hash-&-warmed-over-potato-complex."

"Do not be misled by the sign 'Eggs direct from the country,' the noted doctor said recently, 'for they seldom tell you what country they have been imported from."

"My cure is simple, consisting of a period of continued eating with me in my laboratory. A good time to start this curative habit is during spring vacation. The illustration below shows a patient after his first treatment. OBAB'S did it."

What's Wrong With This Picture?

Nothing, of course. That's the natural expression of every customer who cats at our snow white lunch counter.
