

MORTAR BOARD TO INSTALL APRIL 28

First Coast Chapter of Honor Society to be Granted Scroll and Script

The University of Oregon chapter of Mortar Board will be installed on the campus April 28, taking the place of Scroll and Script, senior women's honorary society. Installation ceremonies will be held at nine o'clock in the morning in the open air and the initiation at 5 in the afternoon in Alumni hall of the Women's building. Miss Lillian Stupp, a member of the physical education department, who is a member of Mortar Board at Washington university, St. Louis, will be the installing officer.

This is the first chapter of Mortar Board to be granted to a Pacific coast university or college. Although it is a comparatively new organization, having been formed in 1913, it has gained strength very rapidly throughout the east and middle west. There are now over 18 chapters among the leading universities and colleges of the country.

The purpose of the organization is to promote three ideals, says Miss Stupp; leadership; service to the university; and scholarship. These groups have proved very effective in guiding campus activities, and influencing the lives of university women. The average size of a Mortar Board group is between eight and 12 members.

The petition of Scroll and Script for Mortar Board was granted at the National convention of that organization held at Swarthmore, Pennsylvania, early in February.

Scroll and Script was organized at the University of Oregon on June 3, 1910, by Ruth Duniway, Francis Oberbauer, May Sage, Juliet Cross, Helen Beach, Mary DeBar, and Olive Donnell. The basis of membership at first was a scholarship average of 11, together with one major and two minor activities. Before the last election of members, however, the standard was changed to conform with that of Mortar Board, which requires a scholastic standing better than a three and prominence in campus activities.

During the past five years, Scroll and Script has taken over one of the meetings of the practical ethics class to explain the meaning of Scroll and Script and its purposes to the freshmen women and to encourage them to participate in activities and strive for high scholarship.

One of the traditions of the University is the pledging of Scroll and Script on Junior week-end at the campus luncheon. At that time members of the society, who are back on the campus, march through the crowds and pledge new members with ribbons and flowers. The local organization will continue one of its old customs of entertaining junior women at a tea early in May, since this is also a Mortar Board custom.

Active members of Scroll and Script who will be initiated into Mortar Board, are: LeLaine West, president; Emily Veazie, secretary; Helen Addison, treasurer; Alice Tomkins, Helen Hoefler, Felicia Perkins, Margaret Jackson, Bernice Altstock, and Inez King. Faculty members are Mrs. Elizabeth DeCou, Miss Ida V. Turney, Miss Grace Edgington, Mrs. Anna L. Beck, Mrs. Norma Dobie Solve, Lois Laughlin, Marian Taylor, Mildred Hawes, Isabel Kidd and Anne Hardy.

Only present active members of the student and faculty group will be initiated: those elected to Scroll and Script in the past having been taken in on the old basis of membership which does not conform to that of Mortar Board.

they express their willingness to join with the campus organization, as they did recently, to obtain an efficient worker who would have the qualifications both of an interdenominational student pastor and a Y. M. C. A. worker.

The question of whether or not there should be a part-time or full-time assistant of such a worker was discussed by the board, but because of lack of necessary information and definite knowledge of how the churches would react to the situation, the matter was laid on the table till the next regular meeting.

Churches to Cooperate
A plan, receiving favorable consideration by the Advisory Board, for securing a permanent and experienced worker contains the provisions that the churches select, with the assistance of a "Y" committee, a trained and efficient secretary whose appointment will be agreeable to them as individual denominations and to the campus "Y." The other proviso is that the combined churches cooperating in the movement shall help to support such a worker by the payment of a specified annual sum of money. Definite action will be taken on this in the near future.

STAFFORD TO ADDRESS RADIO FANS TONIGHT

Invisible Audience Will Hear Talk On University Man's Discovery Of Waste Utilization

Some idea of the immense waste of wood as a fuel is to be given to the radio world Friday evening from 7 to 7:30 o'clock by Professor Stafford of the University chemistry department in a radio talk on "The Chemical Utilization of Wood Waste." The broadcast will be transmitted from the broadcasting station KGW of the Portland Morning Oregonian, and it will be Stafford's first attempt at talking to an invisible audience.

"It is just like what Mark Twain said about the weather," declared Stafford. "Everybody talks about the weather and nobody does anything. Such is the problem of the conservation of wood waste; everybody talks about it, but nothing is done."

It is the intention of Stafford to speak on the subject in general. Because of the lack of time, Stafford will only be able to touch on his perfected process of conserving wood waste.

Friday March 30 Dean Hale of the law school spoke on the "Freedom of the Press." He discussed briefly the history of newspaper regulations.

"It is necessary to have some regulation of the press," Hale said. "Hence the existence of the libel and sedition laws."

The broadcast Friday April 6 was given by Professor A. R. Sweetzer of the botany department on "Wild Flower Preservation." On Friday April 20 Dr. E. T. Hodge of the geology department will speak on the "Ancient Men of Oregon."

BIG DECREASE SHOWN IN PERCENTAGE OF FLUNKS

Only 18 Fail at End of Winter Term in Comparison With 34 at End of Fall Term Finals

Though to the greater part of the student body there has been no doubt about a return to school for the spring term, 99 students were very much in doubt about returning as these 99 were put on probation for failure to make nine hours work during the fall term. Of these students, 22 of whom were women and 77 men, 15 failed to make enough hours to bring their total up to 17 hours for two terms' work.

Figures from the registrar's office show a decided decrease in failures. "The students worked harder in the winter than the fall," says Mr. Spencer. Thirty four flunked out entirely at the end of the fall term, six women and 28 men, while only 18 failed to make the required number of hours in the winter term, two of these being women and 16 men.

Students going on probation for the spring term number only 31, eight women and 23 men as compared to 99 at the end of the fall term.

there is a possibility that both Collins and Wright may be used elsewhere.

From the way the men are cacking the pellet it appears that the varsity will have an excellent hitting aggregation this year. Their fielding has been good for so early in the season, but the pitching staff has had no chance to show its stuff as yet.

UNIVERSITY COMPANY TO STAGE COMEDY SOON

'Professor's Love Story' Given on Campus in 1914.

The cast for "The Professor's Love Story," one of James Barrie's whimsical comedies, to be produced by the University company April 25, 26, and 28, has been announced as follows:

Professor GoodwillieFergus Reddie
Dr. CosensArthur Johnson
EffieAsteria Norton
Lucy WhiteLorna Coolidge
Sir George GildingVern Fudge
Lady George GildingMabel Gilham
Dowager Lady Gilding, Patricia Novlan
Dr. YellowleavesWade Kerr
PeteClaire Keeney
HendersEd Keech

In 1914 the play was produced on the University campus and after a successful appearance toured Southern Oregon. The names of the original players are especially interesting. Mr. Reddie played the professor, Janet Young, Agnes; Ralph Ash, Dr. Cosens; Effie played by Alice Shearer; Norma Dobie-Solve played Lucy White; Henry Howe, son of Professor Howe, took the part of Sir George Gilding; Beulah Stebno played the Dowager; George Colton the other doctor; Edison Marshall played Pete and Earl Bronaugh played Henders.

The play has been an immense success. E. K. Willard first produced it in Boston. When Mr. Reddie was in Valparaiso it became almost an annual performance and it is interesting to hear him tell of the last reunion of the original cast when the members came from great distances to play to a house which called for repeats on parts of the acts. Even the woman who played the piano on that occasion came from a great distance and arrived for the last fifteen minutes of the overture, playing with her hat on, breathless with her haste.

Barrie plays have always taken well on the campus, the most recent ones having been "Alice-Sit-By-The-Fire," and "The Wedding Guest."

TEAMS WILL BE COMBINED

Foster to Direct Work of U. H. S. and Eugene High Students on Track Field

Encouraged by its phenomenal victories in basketball, the University high school has decided to take up track. Heretofore, because of the few men available, the high school has limited the sports to basketball and baseball. Hank Foster, frosh track coach, will take charge of the preppers.

Eugene high school has been invited to send its track men and have the two schools work out together, and a combined team may meet the Oregon frosh later in the season. If any good men develop, Foster plans to send them to the state high school meet at Salem.

The school is working under a big handicap, though, since some of the best possibilities are turning out for baseball, he says.

EARL KILPATRICK IS NAMED

Extension Man Elected First President of Child Health Association

Earl Kilpatrick, director of the University extension division, has been elected president of the Oregon Child Health association, which is a reorganization of the Oregon Cooperative Infant Welfare society.

The executive committee of the association has been asked to serve as advisory committee by the state board of health and the bureau of child hygiene. The association was organized this year and has been given an allowance by the Community Chest.

MISS HAIR SPEAKS

Miss Mozelle Hair of the University extension division spoke at Donald Tuesday evening at a community meeting. Her lecture on "Indians of the Painted Desert and the Grand Canyon" was illustrated by slides loaned by the visual instruction department of the University.
