A Different Kind of Education

Ever have tales of far countries and strange peoples been interesting, but it is only within the last few years that they have been interwoven with education to any great extent. And now it is no uncommon thing to include travel in Europe, in the Orient, or in South America as part of an education. It only helps to secure the conclusion, that a degree is the least important part of a college curriculum, and that it is not always necessary to attend a University in order to receive an education. Perhaps the two young men bound for China on a freighter, as related in yesterday's Emerald will see the Orient through a "port hole," but in them will be born a desire for further travel, and the result will be a broadening of perspective.

If the college graduate has put himself in a position to educate himself, the facts which he has learned and forgotten matter little. He can then visit foreign countries and see more than the average traveller notices from the veranda of a tourist hotel. He can see the education of the people by the appearances of their streets. As he looks at the Pyramids ages of history will be unfolded to him. If he should have the opportunity to examine the contents of the tomb of Tutankhamen, his education will be given a new turn.

Higher education and travel have much in common. Unobserving people can spend years at either without profiting. People who have learned to educate themselves can do so no matter what the circumstances.

People are beginning to realize that the world is not so small after all. Every summer there are numerous student tours of Europe. Attendance on these tours is to be encouraged, and it is to be emphasized that education and college may not be synonymous.

The campus will feel the loss of Secretary Putnam. The work of the Y. M. C. A. has been efficient during his stay and it will be hard to find a successor who will be as well liked.

Tonight's the night.

dollars. The second best costume will receive two dollars and a half.

Patronesses for the affair will include Mrs. P. L. Campbell, Mrs. John Straub, Mrs. E. E. De Cou, and Miss Helen Brocksmith. Committees are as follows: Margaret Beattie, general chairman; Inez Fairchild, programs, Madge Calkins, music; Kathryn Lyons, judges; Muriel Meyers, floor manager; Hilda Chase, Rosalie Keber, stunts; Dorcas Conklin, properties; and Margat Seymour, clean-up. It is especially requested by the clean-up committee that all properties be removed before ten-thirty on Saturday morning. It is necessary that everything be in order by this time, and there will be no responsibility for things left after that time.

Practice Teachers Given New Positions In High Schools of Vicinity

Many new positions as practice teachers have been assigned to students in the University, Hendricks, and Springfield high schools. The following is a list of the teachers with the department in which they work.

History department; Lillian Clave, Eva Randall; English, Katherine Kay, Zoe Allen, Loyd DeVore, Gertrude Braten; science, John Homewood, Robert G. Tapp, Ransom McArthur; library superintendents, Doris Senstacken, Rita Dirckheimer; mathematics, Rose A. McGrew; romance languages, Ruby Broderson, Cornelia Pipes.

WEDDING IS A SURPRISE

Velma Freeland and Holmes Bugbee Married in Portland Monday

The wedding of Miss Velma Freeland and Holmes Bugbee Monday afternoon in Portland came as a complete surprise to their friends. Both of the young people had declared their intention to return to school this term. Miss Freeland is a sophomore in the University and a member of Delta Zeta sorority. Mr. Bugbee is a freshman in the University and a pledge of Chi Psi fraternity.

GIRLS TO LECTURE ON FIRST AID

Women majoring in the physical education department are being offered an opportunity to assist the campus Y. W. C. A. in its work with the Girls Reserve Corps of the Eugene grade schools, by lecturing to the school girls on methods of first aid. Charlotte Clark, Dorothy Bell and Doris Parker are three University women who have signified that they will do this work. The lectures are to be given once each week, and one lecture to each Triangle in the schools. Miss Dorothy Collier, secretary of the Y. W. C. A., stated the work of the Reserve Corps was progressing very nicely.

CHEMISTRY LABS MOVING

The chemistry department is now moving into new laboratories on the second floor of the journalism building. Classes will probably meet there by the end of next week. The laboratories will afford plenty of room for the classes as they occupy the entire top floor and part of the second in the new building. This arrangement will give the psychology department the use of the entire second floor of McClure which has heretofore been shared with the chemistry department.

COUPLE ARE MARRIED

Genevieve Laughlin and Arthur Kuhnhausen, both of the class of '22, were married in Portland, at St. David's church, on Thursday afternoon, at five o'clock. Miss Laughlin was a member of Alpha Phi sorority, and Mr. Kuhnhausen was a member of Kappa Sigma, Alpha Kappa Psi, and Order of the O. Miss Florence Garrett was maid-of-honor, and Mr. Floyd Bowles acted as best man. The couple will live in Portland.

TOM MIX SHOWING TONIGHT

Your last chance to see "Catch My Smoke," the William Fox feature starring the most daring of screen actors, Tom Mix, will have its closing presentation at the Helbig Theatre, this evening.

For downright thrills, "Catch My Smoke" goes 'em all one better. The agile Mix climbs, fights, rides, runs, struggles and digs with a sincerity which wins for him the deserving title of "the most daring" man on the silver sheet. So, don't fail to see this Fox feature.

'THE WHITE FLOWER' MAKES HIT

The final showings of the Paramount picture, "The White Flower," starring Betty Compton, will be held at the Rex Theatre this afternoon and evening.

The scenes of this great story by Julia Crawford Ivers transpire in the Hawaiian Islands. Miss Compton in the role of Konia Markham, a half American, half Hawaiian girl, does the best work of her screen career.

 HELMLE & CORBETT, Architects

FAR more strongly than most churches, this great tower of commerce bespeaks the real spirit of Gothic architecture— aspiring, rugged, virile—an inspiration for the thinking, creating architect of today. Contradicting the antiquarian, this great tower declares that the spirit of Gothic architecture is a living, organic thing, adaptable to modern problems of accommodation and engineering, and endowed with a future as magnificent as its past. Certainly modern invention—modern engineering skill and organization, will prove more than equal to the demands of the architecture of the future.
