

WOMEN'S GLEE RECEIVED WARMLY ON SPRING TRIP

Concerts In Southern Oregon Towns Prove Successful

The women's glee club, directed by George Paynter Hopkins of the school of music, added materially to its laurels on its annual trip made during spring vacation to southern Oregon towns. The club traveled in one of the large Greyhound buses.

The first concert of the club was given at Roseburg, before an audience that was disconcertingly small. At Medford the audience was larger, and from there until the end of the trip, the club played before full houses. Dr. John Bovard, of the physical education department, and Professor Alfred Schroff, of the school of architecture and the allied arts, were in Medford at the same time and collaborated with the glee club in their pre-concert stunt, which was given in the various high schools.

Ashland was next on the schedule, followed by an appearance in Grants Pass. Here Bobby Peek, a six-year old pianist, dressed in a tiny tuxedo, gave two numbers of the program. In Glendale the club received a royal welcome, and a special chicken dinner, with all the accommodations was given for them.

A concert at Cottage Grove completed the trip.

The program the club gave at all the concerts was the same as that given at the home concert, with the exception of Debussy's "Blessed Damsel." In place of this a group of five Indian songs, with the girls in costume, was sung, and a stunt called Amateur Night was given. Muriel Meyers, Ruth Akers, Mildred Brown and Maxine Buren featured in this. A midget stunt given by Eloise McPherson, Gwaldys Keeney, Florence Garrett and Dorothy Poill, assisted by Kathleen Ken, Alice Baker and Alberta Carson, completed the program. This stunt was gotten up by Florence Garrett.

Bernice Altstock, contralto, was one of the soloists, of the programs, singing "Because," d'Arlelot. Virginia Owens, accompanist, of the club, and a pupil of John Stark Evans, gave two numbers, "On Wings of Song," Mendelssohn-Liszt and "Juba Dance," Dett. As encore, Miss Owens gave Percy Grainger's "Country Gardens." Gwaldys Keeney soprano, and Vera Price, contralto, sang two duets, "Sacrament," McDermid, "By the Waters of Minnetonka," Lieurance, which were exceptionally well received.

Mr. Hopkins, director of the club, commended the girls for the manner in which all the concerts were given, and believes that each one fully realized the honor of being allowed to represent the University. Ted Gillenwaters, manager of the club, proved efficient and tireless in his efforts to make the trip a success, Mr. Hopkins said.

Mrs. George Paynter Hopkins was chaperone of the club.

ANNUAL APRIL FROLIC SPECTACULAR EVENT

the curtain raiser to the main event, it was full of speed and pep, with never an idle moment.

The big numbers on the program were the boxing events, with Charlie Dawson and Carl Miller in the headline event. The boys put on a clever exhibition of the manly art. Two boxers from San Francisco, on their way to Portland, put on an exhibition bout and although the fans didn't appreciate it, gave a good exhibition of in-fighting.

The other bouts on the card were fast with plenty of punching to keep the crowd on edge. Culbertson and Davis, Short and Wiswall, and two midget Eugene lads made up the rest of the boxing program. Ray Garret and Earl Baird wrestled three fast two minute rounds. Siefert Entertains With Songs

John B. Siefert, of the school of music, sang a number of old Irish songs and won the crowd by his excellent voice. The men's quartet entertained with the old time melodies. The Midnite Sons also had a special place on the program in addition to playing between the other acts. The Eugene Filipino club of stringed instruments gave several native selections which were well received.

Julius Caesar had a deal of trouble getting out the morning edition of the Daily Roman Nose, if the little skit Doug Farrell and his Delta Tau's is to be considered. It was especially noticeable that Caesar had a mean hunt and peck system when it came to pounding out copy. Of course Cleopatra had to

The Fiji's and the Phi Sigma Pi's entertained with dancing acts of pleasing nature. Following the main event, the gang stamped for the lunch counter where the Oregon knights were dishing out coffee and hot-dogs, well-seasoned with mustard. The seating arrangement was so that everyone could see the ring and the stage without trouble. The rapid-fire order of events enabled the crowd to be out of the building and on the way home long before 11 o'clock.

SCIENCE CLUB TO MEET IN DISCUSSION TONIGHT

New Status of Society after Coming of Sigma Xi Will be Talked Over by Club Members

A matter of much importance will be taken up at the regular business meeting of the Science Club to be held tonight at 7:30 in room 107 Deady Hall, according to Dr. H. R. Crosland, secretary of the club. This will be the consideration and voting on the report of the committee appointed to deal with the question of what the status of the Science Club will be with the coming of Sigma Xi, a national organization with practically the same aim and purpose as the Science club.

Following the business meeting, the members will assemble in room 105, where the regular meeting will be held. Matthew Riddle, instructor in the zoology department, will read a paper entitled "The Effects of Thyroxin on Paramaecium." Dr. E. L. Packard, president of the Science Club will take this occasion to announce his appointments to the annual nominating committee for officers.

well and would have shown more than any of the other aspirants for the gardens.

Friday and Saturday of this week the varsity will entertain Willamette in a two game series. What the Bears are have is unknown but they can be depended upon to put up a fast game. Monday and Tuesday of next week will see the opening of the Conference season on the ridge, with the Idaho Vandals and the varsity being in the points. Idaho rates high and the varsity will have to stretch out.

The first real games of the season for the yearlings will be those with Columbia University April 27 and 28. Columbia always has a strong ball team and this year will be no exception.

an adjoining hall to be called the Henry Morse Stephens Memorial library. The third floor of the second wing is used by offices of the California alumni and reception room for the exclusive use of graduates and other alumni.

All Facilities Provided
The union is furnished with large fireplaces and every facility for the comfort of its members. One of the best features is a dumbwaiter system which permits of the serving of banquets of any sort upon any floor in the building.

Need for such a building on the Oregon campus, how it can be financed, plans already made to this end and other features in this connection will be covered in subsequent articles.

EUROPEAN TOUR BOOKED FOR SUMMER VACATION

Professor Frederick S. Dunn Will Conduct Interesting Trip

"Across the blue waters of the Atlantic lies a storehouse of romance; lands filled with historical and literary interest, and a pleasure ground for all nature lovers. For a summer vacation there is no richer field to travel, no finer opportunity to enlarge the horizons or to draw inspiration from the priceless heritage of the past."

This is advertised the European tour to be conducted by Professor Frederick S. Dunn of the Latin department of this university. This tour is open to the faculty, alumni and students; those who remember the similar trip conducted last summer by John J. Landsbury will testify that there is no more interesting and profitable way of spending a vacation.

During the war Professor Dunn was an honorary captain in the Italian army where he served with the Y. M. C. A. in Naples and Trieste in the capacity of a teacher of English to the Italian officers. "I have always been interested in archeology and art," said Professor Dunn, "and I feel fully competent to conduct this tour and to give personal advice and lectures on the way."

The itinerary includes the most interesting places in the most interesting countries—Stratford, Oxford, London, Brussels, the Rhine, Lucerne, Venice, Florence, Rome, Naples, Genoa, Nice, Paris, Havre, and many other notable places. The tour starts from Montreal July 7 and arrives back there September 8. The price from Montreal is $970 and from Portland and return $1130. This does not include berths and meals on trains in America. And on the tour does not include steamer chairs, food not on the regular menu, or other personal items. The price includes all expenses of the itinerary; that is, transportation, hotels and tips, all sight-seeing arranged by the conductor, handling of baggage and the services of the conductor.

The tour is open to all who care to go and for further information apply to Professor Frederick S. Dunn in this university.

BUILDINGS NOW IN USE WILL SOON BE FINISHED

Classes Are Held in New Journalism and Art Structures While Workmen Complete Details

The two new structures on the campus, the journalism and art buildings, are nearly finished. The new "shack" has been in use since the newspaper conference, but the workmen are not entirely through. The art building is being used for classes, but some of the stuccoing and the decorative features are not done.

The journalism building is divided into rooms by temporary partitions. The school occupies the first floor and half of the second. The other half, and the third floor is being used at the present for chemistry laboratories. When this department moves into the proposed Science building the journalism school will use the whole structure. The University press will be on the first floor. At present workmen are going over the outside walls of the building with a solution to preserve the color of the

Williams' VII — the softest course in college

WILLIAMS' VII is a course for every man in the institution. It's seven times a week but the sessions are short—less than five minutes each. And best of all, no man who elects Williams' ever fails—to get a better shave than he ever got before.

The first thing you learn in shaving with Williams' is of the remarkably beneficial effect it has on your skin. You can't fail to be impressed—even after the closest examination—with the fact that here, at last, is a shaving cream which really does your face good.

Then, especially if you're of a practical, business-like turn of mind, you'll be pleased with the efficiency of Williams'. It softens the beard in so much less time. It does everything a shaving cream is supposed to do.

Get a tube of Williams' today. Use it for two months. See then if you ever could go back to any other shaving cream.

bricks. The freshman chemistry lab moved yesterday from the basement of McClure hall into the structure. The old lab will be used for chemistry research work.

Most of the work to be done about the art building is on the court between it and the heating plant. One feature of the patio is the rustic walls that are being constructed. Concrete is being laid in irregular blocks, in imitation of the old-fashioned stone pathways.

The roof of the fireproof-art museum is not yet completed. No wood or combustible material is being used in the construction. The steel framework for the skylight that is to be the only window in the museum was raised and put in place yesterday.

a production for children, was given successfully last year. The success of the latter is the real reason Mrs. Beck has written another, for its simplicity of setting and absence of distinct choruses aroused interest on the part of the Dunbar Opera company, and this company suggested that she write a production for adults, working along the same lines of simplicity as in the children's opera.

Mrs. Beck's first opera, "The King of the Castle," is now in the hands of Silver-Burdette publishing company.

EVOLUTION LECTURE TOPIC

"Evolution and Catholic Thought" is the title of the lecture which will be given by Rev. Edwin V. O'Hara, pastor of St. Mary's Catholic church, Eugene, at 7:30 this evening in Newman Hall. All who are interested in this subject have been extended an invitation by those who have arranged the lecture. This is the first of a series of lectures on religion and scholarship which will be given by Father O'Hara this term.

but eat them in a cool place where the college gangs hold their daily rendez-vous. No, these don't grow on any lakes around here. The Peter Pan exclusively makes them. Will she like them? Uh huh! She'll simply dote on them.

In a three cornered clover leaf dish are three heaps of ice-cream; a triangle of wafers; three kinds of luscious fruits; and whipped cream with a cherry on top. This formula makes our Pond Lilies.
