ASSEMBLY HOUR GIVEN OVER TO MUSIC AND SONG

Frolic Skit Is Not Included In
Hour of Entertainment
In Villard Today

GLEE CLUBS ON PROGRAM

Organizations Will Make First
Home Appearance Since
Tour During Vacation

Music—the same type of music that has charms, according to the bard's very own words—will feature the assembly program today in Villard hall at 11 o'clock. There will be absolutely no lectures, but possibly an announcement or two will be permitted. However, all political aspirants are barred from taking part in the latter, and only persons duly recognized by Dean John Straub, will be given the floor, and then for a limited time only so that the major part of the 50 minutes may be given over to the musical program that has been prepared under the direction of John Stark Evans, professor in the school of music.

This is the first appearance of the glee clubs on the campus since their spring vacation tours. "A Milk Toast" one of the selections by the girl's glee club which was especially well received will be the opening number of the program followed by another favorite, "If My Songs Had Wings."

Male Quartet to Sing

There will be numerous selections by the male quartet, as well as a solo by the men's glee club. The solo work will be provided by Miss Joanna James, who will sing "The Dark King's Daughter" Gwladys Keeney and Vera Price will sing MacDermid's "Sacrament."

Owing to a misunderstanding in arrangements, the Delta Gamma April Frolic skit will not be given as formerly announced. Some of the costumes including the wooden shoes and Chinese robes used in the skit, "The Ten Million" have been sent back to Portland and definite plans were not made in time to procure them for today. Mrs. George Gerlinger, one of the judges at the Frolic, expressed the desire that the skit, which is relative to the gift campaign, be reproduced and it is possible that it may be presented in assembly later.

WOMEN'S MEETING TODAY

Members of Women's League are asked to bear in mind the mass meeting to be held at 5 o'clock this afternoon in Villard hall. This is one of the most important meetings of the year according to the president, as at this time nominations for officers will be presented by the committee appointed for that purpose. Immediately after the meeting the members of Women's League executive council will picnic on the race. This is an annual custom of the council, as a grand finale to the years work.

ELECTION ANNOUNCED

Condon Club announces the election of Wilbur Godlove of Medford.

Veteran Lame Duck Members Will Minister to Casualties

Now is the time for all good men and women who know that they are good to run for offices in the approaching student body election. But, as has been shown in past elections, everyone cannot win the coveted position, just one person to the position is all the rule book allows.

To run and win is great stuff, but to run and lose—puts a decided crimp in the aspirations of the office seeker. He seeks to hide his grief by crawling away and concealing himself from prying, scornful eyes. He feels like a worm, who brought out of the earth by the warm spring rains, finds himself bared to the scorching rays of the sun on the asphalt pavement. Such is the life of him who runs and stubs his toe. But here on the Oregon campus, kind hearts have provided a sanctuary for

PIGGER'S GUARD NEEDED OFFICER

New Political Openings
Are Suggested

The political bug is in the ointment and is buzzing to his heart's content. There are many positions to be filled this year. Yet there are several positions that have never known a guardian which seems to be of importance. What of the mortuary on the hill? How about a protector for the pigger and piggy, the sheik and sheikess who stealthily sneak into the ghost lot of departed souls and blissfully babble about the pigger's moon and the solar system in general. The boneyard needs a guardian, one staunch and unafraid of the swishing of spirit robes and rattling bones.

The craze of engagements has struck the campus with a bang in the last year or two. What of a chaperon for these newly engaged couples? Have them meet in a drove for their trysting and have the chaperon preside over the meeting.

The scandal sheet needs an editor. Hope the one who gets the job will have a straight two policy as a plank in his platform.

How about the keeper of the library steps? This place in particular needs attending to. A husky guardian might be elected for the position.

How about a man to turn out the lights that have invaded the confines of the pigger's favorite places? Lights are nuisances and should be turned out at a certain hour.

UNION FUND GIVEN $1000 BY KAPPA ALPHA THETA

Subscription Fourth Made By Women's Fraternities

The fund for the future Student Union of the University has received another thousand dollar boost from the donation made yesterday by the members of Kappa Alpha Theta fraternity, who turned over a savings policy to Lamar Toozie at the gift campaign headquarters, for this purpose. Six campus organizations have now subscribed to the fund, according to Mr. Toozie, and he added that the Thetas were the first group to vote on their gift several months ago, and notified the headquarters of their intention, but this was not announced because of a misunderstanding and delay in definite action.

The present list of organizations which have pledged $1000 to the fund includes Delta Gamma, Hammer and Coffin, Phi Kappa Psi, Alpha Delta Pi, Alpha Phi and Kappa Alpha Theta. It is the hope of the chairman of seniors who are soliciting subscriptions among the members of their class that all 36 of the campus organizations will pledge the same amount as these houses thus making a total of $36,000 assured. This in addition to the $37,000 which may be raised by the subscription of each of the 370 seniors of ten dollars a year for ten years will practically put up the Union building.

Members of Alpha Xi chapter of Kappa Alpha Theta who are sharing in making this contribution to the Student Union fund are: Margaret Beatie, Agnes Brooks, Lorna Coolidge, Lenore Cram, Elizabeth Geiser, Marion Lawrence, Jessie Lewis, Marian Linn, Imogene Letcher, Anabel McKenzie, Cornelia Pites, Elizabeth Torrey, Helen Stoppenbach, Doris Sengstacken, Jane Campbell, Marcella Berry, Elizabeth Garrett, Marjorie Hazard, Martha Johnson, Henryetta Lawrence, Asteria Norton, Dorothea Hill, Florence Buck, Sally Cusick, Florence Fortmiller, Elizabeth Honkanon, Mary Hardy, Rebecca Ireland, Genevieve Phelps, Martha Shull, Jeanne Elizabeth Gay, Mary Harris, Ruth Sensenich, Eleanor Eakin, Frances Effinger, Georgiana Gerlinger, Eloise Buck, Gertrude Harris, Adrienne Hazard, Marion Hill, Edna Murphy, Ardis Welch, and Eugenia Zieber.

RELAY SPRINTERS LEAVE TODAY FOR SEATTLE EVENTS

When Bill Hayward steps aboard the north bound Shasta this afternoon at 4:30 headed for Seattle, he will take with him seven of Oregon's best sprinters who will enter in the University of Washington relay carnival. The men who will carry the varsity colors in the north are Ole Larson, Del Oberteuffer, Marv Lucas, Elmer Hardenberg, Vic Risley, Harley Covalt, and Art Rosebraugh.

Larson and Oberteuffer will run in the 100 yard dash. The competition in this race should be keen enough to please the most exacting followers of track. Hurley, of Washington, will undoubtedly enter in this event and, although Larson beat him last year in the dual meet with the Northerners. Hurley is considered one of the fastest sprinters in the northwest.

Entries in Three Events
Oregon's entry in the 880 yard relay will consist of Larson, Oberteuffer, Lucas, and Hardenberg. These men all work well in the 220, which is the distance that each will be required to carry the baton. Hardenberg will have to perform in the mile relay also, and with Rosebraugh, Risley and Covalt, will compose the team for that event.

Oregon will enter teams in but three of the seven events which are scheduled. As it now stands, the varsity will have no entries in the 400-yard two mile, the four mile relays, nor the pentathlon. The team will arrive in Seattle tomorrow morning and, as the relays are not to be run until Saturday, there will be time for the varsity sprinters to acclimate themselves and to work out on the Washington oval.

Five Schools Enter
The schools which will be represented in the meet are University of Washington, Washington State College, University of Idaho, O. A. C., and Oregon. Although there is little available information concerning the relative strength of the contestants, it is known that the Aggie team will be weakened by the absence of their 2-mile relay team, which has been sent back to the Drake relays at Des Moines.

AWARDS TO BE LIMITED
Order of "O" Will Standardize Letter Giving; Opposes Umpire Razzing

The Order of the O went on record at its meeting last night as favoring the proposal of an amendment absolutely standardizing the awarding of letters, according to George King, president of the organization. According to this amendment, letters will be awarded only to men engaged in intercollegiate varsity contest, and will eliminate yell leaders' and managers' O's, and all forms of Old English and scroll letters. The organization is also strongly opposed to the wearing of O sweaters by any women except wives of Order of the O men, and women in the Women's Order of the O. This is intended to protect the girls who have really won their O's in women's athletics.

The O men are also behind the athletic coaches in being opposed, to excessive razzing of umpires and referees from the grandstand in games and will take measures to prevent this when possible.

There will be an Order of the O dance on Friday night at the Campa Shoppe, according to King, and all members of the organization will wear their sweaters. O blankets will be used for decorations.

The Order will likewise sponsor a student body dance in the Woman's building on May 12.

FROSH CALLED BY "O" MEN
The following freshmen will report on the morning steps at 11 o'clock this morning: Belden Taylor, Ralph Tuck, Ken Stephenson, Howard Hobson, Al Powers, Charles Kilgore, Harry Watson, John Rice, Al Bullier, John Marx, John McIntyre, Frank Smith, Gordon Slade, Ed Stephens, Louis Bertrand, Bud Hodgett, Al Cronin, Herman Bleasing, Bob Gardiner, Al Meyers, Ike Mills, Fred Harrison, Rodney Keating, Bob McCabe.

ELECTION ANNOUNCED
El Circulo Castellano announces the election of Lowell Angell and LaVerne Terrill.

Clean-Up Day Officially Abolished by Single Vote

Council Chairman Decides Fate of Question When Split Opinion Results in Tie with Five for and Five Against

Clean-up day was removed from the Junior week-end program by action of the student council last night after a hot fight which lasted almost one hour. Upon calling for a vote on the motion to do away with the tradition from Junior week-end, five hands were raised. Upon calling for those opposed to doing away with the tradition, five hands were raised. According to the constitution, a tie vote is decided by action of the chairman.

John MacGregor, president of the A. S. U. O., cast the deciding ballot. Members voting to abolish the clean-up were Bernie Alstock, Margaret Jackson, Art Larson, Jack Myers, and Pat Ireland. Voting to continue the tradition were Kenneth Youel, Don Zimmerman, Hadron Rockley, Ellen McVeigh and Don Woodward.

A delegation from the Junior class attended and presented a number of arguments urging the abolishment. Some points advanced were that the University has outgrown its need for such an event, that the campus is cared for by a number of men hired for the purpose, that the time taken up in its conduct could be better spent in conducting the guests around the classrooms and introducing them to major professors thus interesting them in their future course here, that the event did not really promote a spirit of democracy anyway, and that there was comparatively nothing constructive to be done.

Counter arguments were advanced showing that removing the clean-up from Junior Week-end to some other time would kill the event as a tradition, that it really promoted democracy among the students to work shoulder to shoulder on the campus for one morning of the year, that if nothing constructive had been done in the last few years there was no reason why it should not be done with proper organization. It was pointed out that a number of cement walks had been installed on University day several years ago and there was no reason why this could not be done again.

This change will not do away with Friday as a holiday.

Other business brought before the council was a request by Gerald Barnes, of the Physical Education department, requesting that some form of award be recommended for presentation to Varsity swimmers upon winning eight points in a conference meet. Under this ruling only two men would be eligible this year. The council went on record as favoring the change and referred the matter to the constitutional revision committee. CANDIDATE LIST LONGER; NO ONE FOR PRESIDENCY

Marcella Berry Announces
Intention to Contest
For Secretaryship

GOWANS OUT FOR COUNCIL

New Aspirants For Emerald
Berth Are Lacking; All
Avoid Yell Leader

Somewhere on the Oregon campus there are two or three young men who will announce their candidacies for the greatest responsibility, and the greatest honor which can be given a student—the presidency of the A. S. U. O. Just who these men are is the chief topic of conversation around every fireplace. Each of those mentioned for the position, is waiting and watching for the move of the other. One thing is certain, and that is that a definite move is to be expected within a very short time.

The political game is not without its developments, however.

Yesterday Marcella Berry announced that she would run for secretary against Velma Farnham. Russ Gowans declared for the position of senior man on the student council. Harley Covalt is already in the ring. As yet there is but one candidate for the editorship of the Emerald, Edwin Fraser, although others will probably be announced within a short time.

Marcella Berry, who is in the race for secretary, is a junior and a member of Kwama and Phi Theta Kappa, in which she has been an officer. She is on the Junior week-end committee and is a Kappa Alpha Theta.

Russ Gowans, the latest candidate for senior man on the student council, is prominent in athletics. He is a member of the "Order of the O" and is a basketball letterman. He was treasurer of his class as a sophomore and is now on the Junior week-end committee, acting as chairman of the bleachers committee. He is a member of Oregon Knights, Beta Alpha Psi, Beta Gamma Sigma, and Delta Tau Delta.

There are no additions to the list of aspirants for the editorship of the Oregon and it looks like a three-cornered race. Mary Skinner, who has announced for the position of junior woman on the student council, is as yet unopposed. As yet no candidates for yell leader have come out.

PHI THETA KAPPA SUMS UP N. S. F. SITUATION

Folder Published by Women's Business
Honorary Organization Points Out
Neglect of Accounts

That one confectionery store in Eugene averages from $5 to $20 per day in n. s. f. checks is pointed out in a folder just out, published by Phi Theta Kappa, women's honor society in the school of business administration. This folder represents the first definite step taken by a student society regarding the n. s. f. check question. It was compiled from figures made available by the banks of Eugene and the business office of the University.

In the little bulletin is the further information that one bank in Eugene has on an average of 150 n. s. f. checks per month, and that one prominent jewelry store averages 500 not-sufficient-funds checks per month. The folder does not state that these checks are student checks, but points out the fact with an idea of showing that the practice is widespread. It does, however, call attention to the fact that last year $2,000 worth of n. s. f. paper went through the business office of the University.

Although the information given out Tuesday comes at a time when interest is high in the n. s. f. check matter, it was planned several weeks ago, and students have been gathering the information since that time.

GRADUATE IN SOCIAL WORK

Marion Bowen, '21, Is Executive Secretary of Astoria Red Cross

Marion Bowen, a graduate of the University with the class of '20, has recently been selected executive secretary of the American Red Cross in Astoria, and left this week to take up her duties there. Her work will be in connection with the relief work in Astoria which is being carried on as a result of the fire there. Miss Bowen was on the campus last year, and acted as assistant to Mrs. Edna Datson. She has been in Portland most of this year attending the University school of social service.

WOMEN DEBATERS TO MEET U. OF W. TONIGHT

Marriage and Divorce Question
Will Be Discussed

There is a universal sentiment, according to some of the up-to-date thinkers, that marriage as it exists today is an absolute failure, and that something must be done about the momentous question of divorce. University people interested in the problem will have an unusual opportunity to hear the current views and opinions on the matter, when the Oregon women's affirmative debate team contest the subject with the University of Washington's negative team at 8 o'clock tonight in the Y. M. C. A. "hut."

The exact wording of the question is "Resolved that the Constitution of the United States should be amended so as to give Congress the Power to Regulate Marriage and Divorce."

In commenting on the subject of marriage and divorce, Professor C. D. Thorpe, coach of the debate teams said that statistics show that in Los Angeles and Denver there is one divorce for every two marriages, in Oregon taken as a state there is one divorce for every two and one half marriages, while in the whole United States there is one divorce for every nine marriages. "The question has to be undoubtedly settled by the voters within a few years," Mr. Thorpe said. Judge Ben Lindsey of the Denver court recently made the statement that marriage was absolutely a failure; while other leaders of the country have come to the conclusion that the only solution for the serious question of marriage and divorce is to have uniform laws regulating the institutions.

"Both of the teams have worked up some interesting and peppy arguments, and are ready to give the Washington women a stiff fight," said Mr. Thorpe. Mildred Bateman and Margaret Woodson, the members of the affirmative team which has the home contest, have shown unusual progress and success in their work, coaches say. May Fenno and Eugenia Strickland, who left on the Shasta for Seattle last night to uphold the negative side of the question for Oregon, have done excellent work, Mr. Thorpe said, and will deliver two forcible and convincing talks. All four of the women worked through the spring vacation on their speeches.

The judges for the contest tonight are Elbert Bede, editor of the Cottage Grove Sentinel; Rev. F. G. Jennings of the Episcopal church of Eugene; and Victor A. Collins, debate coach at the Senior high school of Salem. Dean Edgington will act as chairman. Ruth Akers will give a vocal solo as part of the program.

The debate will begin promptly at 8 o'clock. "The question to be contested is every bit as interesting as the prohibition question, and we can justly expect a good crowd to turn out," Mr. Thorpe said.

P. L. CAMPBELL IN PORTLAND
President Campbell was in Portland yesterday attending the annual meeting of the Board of Higher Curriculum. He will return to Eugene today.

LEMON PUNCH WANTS STUDENT MANAGEMENT

Campus Comic May Be Placed
On Basis of Emerald

A desire to have Lemon Punch placed on the same basis as the Emerald and the Oregonian, thus making it a student body publication, has been expressed by members of Hammer and Coffin, humorous publication society, which puts out Lemon Punch. Heretofore the publication of the magazine has been in no way connected with student body government.

An important provision of such an action would be that the election of the editor which is done by the staff, should be ratified by the student council. The manager of Lemon Punch would be selected in the same manner as other managers on the campus, and profits would be divided on a plan similar to that of the Emerald's.

SPRING FOOTBALL STARTS

Forty Men Signed Up for Gridiron
Practice With Huntington

Hot weather and football usually don't come together at Oregon, but Coach Shy Huntington has an enthusiastic group of about 25 out three times a week now, and next month will have them practicing every day in the sawdust.

The work being given the men is rudimentary for the most part, as many of them have never been out for the game before, and so far the points that have been stressed have been the handling of the ball, charging, and the position of linemen.

Over 40 men are signed up for the game Coach Huntington states, and unless they all start turning out will soon get flunks in the subject. Several members of this years frosh eleven have been working daily and are progressing nicely according to Shy. Some of these are Sinclair, who has the speed, weight and ability to make a fine guard or tackle, Hunt and Bailey, both of whom are big, fast fellows and several others.

The more experienced men who are making good arg Wilson, Gooding and McKeown.

MISS HAIR TO LECTURE

Miss Mozelle Hair, of the extension division of the University, will attend a meeting of the southern Oregon federation of women's clubs, at Talent, May 5. She will give a lecture on Egypt, illustrated with slides loaned by the University. While in southern Oregon, Miss Hair will go to Grant's Pass, Medford and Ashland to attend to correspondence work there.
