

GLEE CLUB MEMBERS ENTERTAIN AT ASSEMBLY

Lecture Replaced by Music; Encores Are Given

It has been promised that there would be no lecture during the 11 o'clock assembly hour, and there was no lecture. Just music. The kind that really charms and brings forgetfulness of hum-drum classroom matters when the spring sun shines and green leaves and blossoming trees beckon outside.

The first appearance of the University glee clubs on the campus since they completed their vacation tours was made in Villard hall yesterday morning, when they presented some of the more popular numbers given during the tour.

"A Milk Toast," by Spier, and "If My Songs Had Wings," by Hahn, two selections sung by the girls' glee club, were so enthusiastically received as to require an encore, thereby setting a precedent for the remainder of the program. The girls responded with a plantation melody that had proved itself popular with audiences in various Oregon cities visited on their vacation tour.

Gwladys Keeney and Vera Price sang "Sacrament," by MacDermid and "The Waters of Minnetanka."

"The Dark King's Daughter," Bainbridge Crist, was sung by Joanna James who responded afterwards with "For You Alone," by Geehl, as an encore.

The men's glee club presented "Castilla," a ballad of Spain and "A Song of Winter."

The men's quartet, composed of Curtis Phillips, John Stark Evans, Wilbur Phillips and Aubrey Furrey sang several southern melodies, that won ready response from the audience on account of their sparkling humor of the Southland.

The glee clubs were led by George Hopkins, professor in the school of music.

McCLURE BASEMENT TO HOUSE MULTIGRAPHERS

Basement Repairs Unfinished; Change Will Require Road to be Built Through Rose Garden

According to H. M. Fisher, superintendent of grounds, the basement of McClure hall is not to be turned into a war garden for the growing of carrots for hungry science majors, as has been imagined by some; nor is it to be transformed into an indoor tennis court for the benefit of journalism students.

The ground is merely graded for the purpose of laying a cement floor, after which it will again be used as a science lab. The old wooden floor was in such a condition of disrepair that it was thought better to lay an entirely new floor rather than try to repair the old one.

Construction around the vicinity of the new journalism building is not nearly at an end, according to Mr. Fisher, as plans have already been made for a new building to house the multigraph department, at present in Johnson hall. This will necessitate the construction of a new road which will have to pass through that part of the campus now occupied by the rose garden south of the old journalism shack, and will consequently destroy a large part of this garden.

The first round of elimination games are as follows:

Hinkle vs. Van Waters; Dubuy vs. DeLong; Stevens vs. Snook; Clausen vs. Miller; Prior vs. Parelius; Baird vs. Slattery; and McKinney vs. Aitkens.

The scoring will be on best two sets out of three.

It is urged that the first round be over by April 30 at the latest. Losers may challenge once at the end of each round, provided they do so immediately and get the match off within two days. Elimination will follow until but four men remain. The result of sets should be reported to the office in the men's gymnasium without delay, says Scott.

OREGON REPRESENTED IN ORATORICAL CONTEST

George Owen to Contest at Willamette For Peace Prize; Elam Amstutz To Go As Manager

For the first time in a number of years the University of Oregon will be represented at the Peace oratorical contest to be held at Willamette university tonight. George Owen, Oregon's orator, accompanied by Elam Amstutz, assistant forensic manager, will leave today for Salem.

"Owen has shown remarkable development," said Professor C. D. Thorpe of the public speaking department. He came out as a black horse in the try-outs to the surprise of forensic fans, and won over some of the more experienced speakers on the campus. Whether he wins or loses tonight, he has done one of the finest things that a man can do in speaking, in that he has had courage to present his subject from an unpopular viewpoint; but because he believes thoroughly what he says he has stuck to his idea even though he knew that his chances for winning were less by doing so. This I think is one of the best examples of expressing one's own convictions even though he knows that it will not go so well with the judges," Mr. Thorpe further commented. Owen is a junior in the school of education, but this is his first experience in any forensic work.

The Peace oratorical contest is an annual event in the state, and there will be eight other colleges entering in the one tonight. The oration must be on or about peace and is limited to 1500 words. The first prize is $75 and the second $25. Some persons on the campus may be interested to know that Reed college has reentered the league which conducts this contest, and will be represented at the event tonight.

BOOK SALE SUCCESSFUL

Buyer from Nebraska Reports $220 As Result of Recent Work at Co-op

About $220 was taken in at the Co-op from the sale of old books put on by Robert Campbell of Lincoln, Nebraska. All kinds of books, novels as well as text books may be brought in to be sold by Mr. Campbell.

The first book sale of this kind was held at the University Book Store of Lincoln, Nebraska, and Mr. Campbell now visits all the larger universities and colleges west of the Mississippi. He plans to take in the smaller schools such as Reed on his next trip. He went from here to the co-op at the Oregon Agricultural College.

THETA SIGMA PHI ROOM WILL BE ATTRACTIVE

Draperies, Chairs, Couches and Books Will Help in Making Room in Old "Shack" Pleasant

Autographic copies of books by Oregon authors, magazines and books that will be of special interest to women journalists as well as those outside the department who are interested in writing; artistic draperies, comfortable chairs, and couches where the girls may rest between classes, are some of the things which the members of Theta Sigma Phi are planning to have in their room in the "old shack."

Enough money was secured at the silver tea last Friday, when the room had its initiation as a social center, to purchase the drapes, and these are to be hung soon. They will be blue to harmonize with the blue enameled furniture which is planned while the cushions and table runners will be in orange. A typewriter and the records of Theta Sigma Phi are now installed in the room.

"The library which we are planning," said Mary Lou Burton, president of the organization, "will not be a large one, but it will be an especially interesting one. There will be no one in charge of it, and we believe that the girls will enjoy browsing around, and will appreciate the tradition that the books are not to be taken out of the room, which will be built up around it. The room is not only a Theta Sigma Phi room, but will be for all of the girls of the school of journalism, excepting, of course, when it is needed for committee meetings."

The new officers of Theta Sigma Phi who were recently elected are Rosalia Keber, president, Nancy Wilson, vice-president, Freda Goodrich, secretary, and Velma Farnham, treasurer.

THREE MEN HURT FINGERS

Len Jordan, James Scripture, Lester Norman See Baseball from Sidelines

This week has been an unlucky one for three crack baseball players, majors in the school of business administration, who are now enjoying the games from the sidelines.

James Scripture, Delta Tau Delta, freshman, caught the ball on the out-drop on the tips of his fingers, dislocating one of them. The same day Len Jordan, Alpha Tau Omega, sophomore, met with a similar accident, although a trifle more serious. The ball was thrown with such force that it drove the bone of his finger through the flesh.

Lester Norman, special student from Pendleton, is the third of the trio to be carrying his finger carefully done up in splints.

X = ?
Wanted—men to find the answer

THIS is written to the man who loves to seek the unknown quantity. He is the kind of laboratory worker who ventures into untried fields of experiment, rather than the man who tests materials.

Industry has need of both types, but of the former there is a more pressing demand.

College men may have been discouraged from pursuing pure research. In this highly practical age it may seem there is little room for work which does not have an immediate dollars and cents application. But such is not the case.

The pure research man is the pathfinder. Without him our fountain of knowledge would dry up. His findings in themselves may be uncommercial, but they establish a field for others to develop.

Volta worked out the crude voltaic pile—unimportant until other men improved and applied it. And so with Papin in the field of steam, or Lavoisier in chemistry.

Men of the inquiring slant of mind, stick to your last. In post graduate study, on the faculty, in the laboratory of some industrial organization, there will always be an "X" to baffle other men and call for the keenest thought of you blazers of the trail.
