INJURIES WEAKEN SQUAD

Both Outfield and Infield Hit Hard in Practice; Many On Crippled List

By Monte Byers

The varsity ended preparatory work for the Pacific series last night with a snappy workout against the freshman squad. Injuries sustained during the past week have caused a considerable change in the personnel of the first string lineup and it will be a patched up squad that Captain Zimmerman will lead on the field to face the tossers from Forest Grove this afternoon.

The infield was hit hardest, Ross and Shafer being on the crippled list. In last night's workout, Moore took care of the keystone and Captain Zimmerman officiated in the short patch. This will no doubt be the combination used at second during the two games, today and tomorrow, and until Ross and Shafer are able to resume playing. Latham will occupy his regular berth at first and Svarverud will be stationed at the hot corner.

Lineup is Altered

In last night's game the outfield presented a decidedly different front. Sorsby was stationed in left, Collins in center and Baldwin in right. If they lineup this way, Sorsby will be the only regular playing in the gardens. Wright's injury left a big hole to plug in the outfield and Sorsby may play there the rest of the season, unless Zimmerman is switched back. Both Collins and Baldwin are fair hitters and will add offensive strength. Roycroft may be seen in the lineup at some time during today's game and it would not be surprising to see him start the game.

Cook seems to have a strangle hold on the receiver's job in today's tussle, although Watson and Orr stand ready to replace him at any time during the melee.

Brooks worked on the mound against the freshmen last night and will probably get a chance against the invading batsmen in the second game. Skinner or Shields may work the opener and if the going gets too serious, Baldwin can be shoved into the breach. Collins and Ringle are also ready to take their turn on the mound if necessary.

Team is Weakened

Offensively the team is weakened by the absence of Wright's heavy stick work, but Zimmerman's return to the lineup will offset this loss to a great extent. The defensive loss of Ross and Shafer will no doubt be felt. Ross is a steady fielder and Moore will have a big job at the keystone filling the little veteran's shoes.

Pacific is coming down with the intention of lowering the varsity's colors and a battle royal can be expected from them. In offense and defense, they rate on a par almost with Bohler's men. In Amburn they have a veteran who has been under fire for several years. He has a cool head and a baffling change of pace. Blackman, another Oregon man, is also playing on the Pacific aggregation.

Ten Acts of Fun to be Feature Of Juniors' Varsity Vanities

Weeks of work, combined with careful planning of costumes, stage effects and the writing of special music by well known campus artists, have gone to make up the great ten-act Varsity Vanities vaudeville show, which will be presented tonight at 8:15 at the Heilig theatre.

The tickets sold so speedily, due to publicity and the number of people in the cast—100 in all—who were interested, that a second performance in the near future may be necessary.

The committee in charge of the Vanities show, headed by Ted Baker, and assisted by Darrell Larson, Katherine Pinneo and Asteria Norton, is working industriously to get things in shape for the annual production.

"Wait until you see the pretty girls in the 'Mummy Mine' chorus," said Larson yesterday. This act has been attracting state-wide attention because of the fact that the music was composed by Imogene Letcher, well-known senior in the school of music. Several of the pieces have been played as dance music by the Mid-Nite Sons, and other

FROSH MAKE RUSH FOR CHOICE SEATS

"Vanities" Tickets Won After Long Wait

"While Eugene Sleeps," might be an appropriate title for the little skit put on by the green-cappers of the various houses down in front of the Heilig theatre Tuesday night and early yesterday morning. When the rest of us were blissfully dreaming away the still hours of the night, these doughty sons of '26 were shivering and shaking waiting for the ticket office to open, that they might get a few blocks of the choicest seats for the "Varsity Vanities."

The entrance of the theatre resembled the gate of a world series baseball game with drowsy fans leaning against the wall or seated on cracker boxes patiently waiting for the wicket to swing back. More than one drowsy frosh kept looking for his relief so that he might race home and pound the hay for a few minutes before hiking to class.

Just how the youngsters whiled away the hours is hard to tell, although it is rumored that they indulged in a little card playing and possibly some brought dominoes with them. Without doubt, freeze-out was the popular game with the weather man holding all the aces.

Unlucky indeed was the freshman who fell asleep and let some of the other unfortunates slip in ahead of him.

AUDIENCE WILL BALLOT FOR WINNER IN DEBATE

New Plan For Deciding Contest Will Be Tried Out

For the first time on the University campus, a debate will be staged at which there will be no selected judges, but at which the audience will ballot and give the decision. The event is scheduled for May 17, and will be a contest between the women's debate teams of the University of California and the University of Oregon. The audience-decision plan has been in use at the University of California for some time with success, and it is expected that within another year all the universities and colleges of the coast will be using the system.

Other interesting things about the debate on May 17 are that it is the first debate ever arranged between the women's teams of the Universities of Oregon and California; that it is only a one-sided contest for each of the institutions instead of a dual contest as has been carried on this year; and it is the last debate of this school year for either the women's or men's teams, in fact it is, with the exception of the Felling-Bekman orations, the last forensic activity of the year.

The question to be argued is "Resolved that France is Justified in her Occupation of the Ruhr." A subject which is of such national as well as world interest as this one is, ought to bring out a good crowd to the contest, say forensic leaders. The Oregon women will have the affirmative side of question, while the negative will be upheld by the team from California.

Lurline Coulter and May Fenno, two of Oregon's most experienced co-ed speakers will make up the University team. Miss Coulter has been a member of the Varsity debating squad for three years, and Miss Fenno for two years. Both are considered as convincing and forcible speakers.

STUDENTS URGED TO HAVE MOTHERS VISIT UNIVERSITY

Entertainment Date Set For May 12, 13; Invitations To Be Distributed

REMINGTON IS SPEAKER

Episcopal Bishop of Eastern Oregon To Give Address Sunday Morning

Plans for the entertainment of the mothers of the University students at the annual Mothers' week-end on May 12 and 13 are being formulated by a student body committee. There will be a tea, a recital, and vespers especially arranged. Invitations for the occasion from the student body will be sent to the halls and houses tonight, and will also be left at the Co-op, so that every University mother can be invited whether she can come or not.

A tea at 2 o'clock on Saturday will take the place of the usual campus luncheon. It will be held in the Woman's building and will be arranged by the Women's league. Bernice Altstock, president of the league, is cooperating with Wesley Frater, chairman of the general student body committee, in arranging for the tea. Other members of the committee are Margaret Skavlan, Ed Tapfer, George Stewart and Joe Benson.

A school of music recital following the tea is being arranged by Ronald Reid. This will be a program of campus talent. The complete program will be known later.

Drama By Miss Stupp

Saturday evening is being left open, since a number of the mothers will desire to attend the dance drama given under direction of Miss Lillian Stupp of the physical education department. Some allowance of time must be made, too, for the mothers who will want to spend every possible moment with their children.

The committee is cooperating with some of the Eugene churches to hold special Mothers' Day services Sunday morning for those who wish to attend. At 2:30 on Sunday will be vespers in the Methodist church. It has been arranged for that hour so that those who have to leave on early trains can attend.

Bishop Former Athlete

The Right Rev. William P. Remington, of Baker, Oregon, Episcopal bishop of eastern Oregon, will be the speaker. He is a man of rather unusual talents and interests for a bishop. He is an athlete, and has approached world records in high jump, running broad jump and hurdles. In 1900 he was a member of an all-American baseball team at the Olympic games in Paris. Music will be conducted by John Stark Evans of the school of music. The vespers committee includes M. H. Douglass, chairman, John Stark Evans, Professor E. E. DeCout, Don Zimmerman, Winifred Graham and Marion Lawrence.

Grace Edgington, dean of women, is assisting in the preparations for the week-end in every possible way.

Invitations should be sent out at once, it has been urged by the committee, so that more definite plans can be made, and meeting trains and housing arranged for the mothers as guests.

EMPLOYMENT BUREAU GIVES OUT MANY JOBS

Mother Donnelly Predicts Total Remuneration for Student Work Will Reach About $27,000

The report which Mrs. Charlotte Donnelly gave to the advisory council of the campus Y. M. C. A., last Tuesday night on the employment situation for the last term and the beginning of this term was a most encouraging one for the department in the University.

The figures which Mrs. Donnelly reported on for last term showed that the regular jobs brought in the sum of $7,172. The amount of money made from odd jobs this last term was not as great as the fall term, because of the bad weather which prevailed during the last three months. The total obtained from regular and odd jobs was estimated at $8,022.10. This amount is $2,906 less than that made during the Fall term.

So far this term an estimation has been made that $7,138 has been reported earned in the regular jobs that will be held all term. Up to the present time, over $300 has been made in odd jobs. With the $200 which was made during Easter vacation by students who stayed in Eugene, a total of $7,638 is gotten from this term's work in the numerous jobs taken. If this pace keeps up, Mrs. Donnelly believes that the department will be able to report a grand total for the year of about $27,000, an increase of $7,000 over last year.

ROBINSON OUT FOR PRESIDENT

PETITION TO KEEP VARSITY COACH IS PRESENTED TODAY

Many Oregon Club Members Not Reached; 1167 Names Are Obtained

BOVARD REMAINS SILENT

Committee Makes Canvass Of Campus; Says Students Willing to Sign

By Ed Fraser

The petition urging the retention of George Bohler as head coach of basketball and baseball at Oregon will be presented to the administration of the University this morning with a total of 1167 signatures out of the 1900 registered students on the campus.

Since the members of the Oregon Club and students living outside of organizations were not reached to any appreciable extent, it is estimated by the members of the committee that more than 90 per cent of the students on the campus would have signed the petition if they could have been reached.

Members of the committee in charge of preparing the petition, and others interested in the affair, have conducted a careful canvass of the campus during the last week and report that they have not yet found a single student who will express himself as being dissatisfied with either Coach Bohler or his policies since he has been here.

Dean Bovard is still standing pat on his decision made last week, and will give no other explanation of his policy other than "lack of co-operation" and as yet no definite charges have been made against the coach from the standpoint of lack of ability, lack of success, or inefficiency, these being the usual reasons for the dismissal of coaches.

Coach Bohler has nothing to say on the subject except that he wishes the whole matter could have remained quiet as he already has several good openings in other places. He stated that he liked Oregon and the "Oregon Spirit" and especially liked the type of men that he has to work with here, and added that he still intends to turn in his application and will return with pleasure if it is accepted.

Athletes Behind Coach

The attitude of the athletes toward the situation is that they are unanimously behind their coach, and most of them believe that it is especially unfortunate that the break in relations came about at this time, as there will be a wealth of veteran material on hand next year for both basketball and baseball, and with Coach Bohler returning, they believe Oregon's chances for a couple of championship teams would be extra good.

If the present coach leaves and a new man comes here, the entire system will be changed and the best opportunities that Oregon has had for a championship in both baseball and basketball for a long time will go glimmering.

The athletes therefore are making an especially strong fight to retain Bohler, as they see the chance to make good, as if he is let go they will probably be unable to change their system and produce a championship aggregation all in one season.

FRESHMEN ASKED TO REPORT

The Order of the "O" has issued the edict that the following freshmen will be expected to appear on Hayward field at three o'clock this afternoon: R. L. C. Adams, C. V. Ager, Paul W. Ager, W. M. Aitken, L. G. Allen, R. C. Anderson, A. Andrews, D. C. Baird, L. Baird, J. K. Bailey, H. L. Bass, R. S. Bean, R. H. Beattie, G. J. Bennett, E. W. Bieghler, W. Biggs, P. S. Billington and H. J. Bleasing. Those of this number who have classes or who are otherwise unable to attend must see George King and arrange for an excuse. Only gilt edge excuses will be accepted—otherwise the paddle, say the varsity letter men.

CLASS ELECTION DATE SET

Sophomore, junior and senior class elections will be held on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, May 22, 23, 24, according to present plans. The decision was made to hold the three elections at the same time immediately after Junior week-end for the convenience of the junior class.

PRESIDENT RULES SPEECHES TO BE CUT VERY SHORT

Several Amendments Are to be Read in Villard Assembly This Morning

Claude Robinson yesterday announced that he would pit his strength against that of Don Zimmerman, candidate for the presidency of the Associated Students. His resignation as junior man on the executive council was tendered last night and was accepted by that body. Robinson has been consistently mentioned as a possible candidate for the president's office, but it was not until last night that he made a formal announcement.

With nominations from the floor if the student body meeting this morning, interest in the coming election is running high. There are now candidates in the field for every office and a race is assured in every position except that of senior woman on the executive council. From all indications some of the races will be especially interesting.

Speeches this morning will be short if the ruling of President John MacGregor is heeded. Due to the fact that there are a number of amendments to be read and that a long meeting is held to be undesirable the chairman will probably cut off orators who show a tendency toward verbosity. The nominating assembly traditionally lasts until well after 12 o'clock.

Candidate Is Debater

Claude Robinson, candidate for A. S. U. O. head and the only aspirant to announce yesterday, has held the position of junior man on the executive council since the resignation of Dutch Gram some months ago. He is a varsity debater and has won his emblem two years. He was general chairman of the recent all-University smoker. He is a member of Alpha Kappa Psi and Tau Kappa Alpha and is a resident of Friendly hall.

The student council has proposed three amendments which will be read to the assembled students this morning. The first would put the Lemon Punch on the basis of a student body publication. It provides for the selection of the editor and the manager and for the division of profits to the student body and to the staff.

Members of the University band will be presented with a sweater similar to that worn by them this year if another amendment which will be submitted this morning is approved. It is planned to give the sweater, which will carry a lyre, as the reward of one year's work.

Swimmer's Letters Up

The third proposal which bears the approval of the student council is to award letters to swimmers. The sponsors of the plan have proposed a letter similar to that given to varsity wrestlers to the individual who makes eight points during one season. This requirement is considered rather high.

An amendment to authorize the incorporation of the student body will be presented, according to an announcement from the graduate manager's office. The incorporation is now taking place, but the amendment is necessary to legalize the transaction, it is stated.

It is entirely probable that there will be several other amendments proposed from the floor.

NEW BOOKS ADDED

Two new books on English architecture have been added to the University library. The books are: "Modern English Country Homes," and "Modern English Churches." The first contains 55 plates illustrating the different types of English country homes, while the second contains 68 plates showing English churches. The plates are reproductions of homes and churches in England, and as the title suggests show the modern types of architecture and of internal design in both country houses and churches.
