

CHURCHES ARE TOO FAR AWAY, SAYS MR. GIFFEN

Cooperative Religious School Declared Need

The main reason more students do not attend church, according to Bruce J. Giffen, pastor of the Presbyterian church of Eugene, is that there is a reluctance among them to break up into denominational groups. They do not wish to become identified with any particular church and do not attend any except at irregular intervals. Another reason, Mr. Giffen believes, is that the churches are too far from the campus.

"The remedy for this situation," says Mr. Giffen, "is a University church, sponsored by faculty and student organizations; a church which is undenominational and in which the interests of students are taken care of."

"The state University campus," he continues, "should not, as an institution, be destitute of formal religious instruction. A school of religion should be organized in which we could work cooperatively, but not competitively. We try to work with the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. but of course we can not reach all of the students."

Statistics compiled by Mr. Giffen and L. P. Putnam of the Y. M. C. A. show that 511 students have no church preference, 400 are Presbyterians, 314 Methodists, 235 Christians, 174 Episcopalians, 159 Roman Catholics, 94 Christian Scientists, 92 Baptists, 85 Congregationalists, 45 Protestants, 33 Lutherans, 19 Unitarians, six Latter Day Saints, six Jews, five Friends, four United Brethren, two Church of God, one Adventist, one Buddhist, one Evangelical, one Nazarene and one Universalist.

SENIOR CLASS DECIDES TO DROP CLEAN-UP DAY

Members Urged to Sign Pledge Cards and to Order Caps and Gowns; Next Meeting on May 8

Campus clean-up day has been dropped.

This was the decision reached by the senior class at its meeting last night. It was believed that clean-up day, if set forward a week from Junior week-end, would be a half-hearted affair. So the seniors, according to their usual custom, will appear on parade on May 18, and will see that all the frosh burn their caps, and that certain enterprising members of the class experience the thrills of a dip in the senior fountain.

Seniors are urged to sign their pledge cards and turn them in to the gift campaign manager. They were also asked to place their orders for commencement announcements and for caps and gowns, at the Co-op. The next senior meeting will be held on Tuesday, May 8, when a permanent class secretary is to be elected.

"THE HINDU" TO BE HERE

Mr. Walker Whiteside will come to the Heilig Tuesday, May 8th, in "The Hindu," a mystery melodrama of the Orient, in which he triumphed last year in both Chicago and New York. "A glamorous adventure filled with surprises and thrills," is the way the New York Evening World described "The Hindu," which is reported to be the only mystery play today that does not depend upon a murder. The story is said to be a straightway tale of mystery and villainy; occidental love and oriental passion; theft and violence, all told within the confines of a gorgeous palace. His magnificent record as an actor and a producer, will recall his notable performances of Hamlet and Richard III.

Junior Varsity Vanities Act Written by Imogene Letcher

"Mummy Mine," the headline act at the Varsity Vanities, was written by Imogene Letcher, well known student in the University school of music. Musical comedy enthusiasts have seen it produced in the rehearsals and have been unanimous that the songs included should be published.

The opening chorus, "From Egypt's Darkest Shores" is sung by a group of pretty Oregon girls, picked after careful tryouts for their ability to sing and dance. The costuming is elaborate and the setting colorful.

Catherine Lyon will sing, "Couldn't You Find a Shelter for Me?" the second of the song group and "There May Be Something in It After All," will be presented by Frank Wright and the chorus. Josephine Ulrich and Lyle Palmer do a clever dance and Mummy Mine, the title song, will be presented by Wayne Akers, Florence Garrett and Marvel Skeels and the chorus. Katherine Seel and Gladys Noren do a pretty Egyptian dance; Frank and Catherine sing "There's Something That Lies in My Heart." The evening is closed by the finale.

Miss Letcher has been active in directing the act. A considerable number of her songs have been presented before on the campus and in Portland.

NEW COURSES OFFERED FOR SUMMER SCHOOL

"Physical Sciences Colloquium" Will Present Modern Viewpoints of Interest to Students

Through the cooperation of the departments of physics, chemistry, and mathematics, a new type of work will be offered at the summer session on the campus this year which should have a strong appeal to advanced students as well as to research workers in these fields. This course, known as the "Physical Sciences Colloquium," will present modern viewpoints on several topics on the borderlands of knowledge which are of deep interest to students of physical sciences, such as the problem of atomic structure, the quantum theory and the theory of relativity.

Instructors from the three departments concerned will join in directing the course. In addition the following courses will be correlated with the Colloquium; Vector Analysis, in mathematics; Physical Chemistry, in the chemistry department; and the Electron Theory of Conduction and of Magnetism, in the department of physics.

Five courses in physics will be offered by Dr. Caswell and assistant, while in chemistry, Dr. Shinn and Prof. Tanager will offer a similar number. Students who wish to meet the lower division group requirements, in science may do so by taking full work, either in physics or chemistry, for the six weeks.

Four courses will be given in botany by Miss Sanborn. In all three departments, the range of courses provides for lower, upper and graduate division.

At the Portland session, Professor Sweetser will have charge of the work in botany, including general botany, systematic botany, and probably, the study of cryptogams. Mr. Thiennes, of the University of Oregon medical school faculty, will direct work in chemistry. The courses in this department will include general, physiological, and applied chemistry.

In connection with the department of sociology, it is announced that Mr. Henry O. Grant, Secretary of the Oregon Social Hygiene Society, will offer a course on Biology and Social adjustments.

COLE WRITES FROM INDIA

Hubert Schenck Receives Letter From Former Chemistry Instructor

"One always carries a million or two in one's pockets," writes Dr. Howard I. Cole, former professor of chemistry at the University of Oregon. But he explains in his letter to Hubert Schenck graduate assistant in the geology department, that 100,000 kronens are worth $140.

Dr. Cole wrote from Kitzbuhel, Tirol, Austria, one of his last stops before sailing for his home in New Rochelle, New York. Mount Stramboul was in eruption during his stay on the picturesque island of Sicily.

The former chemistry professor sailed from Manila to Honk-Kong, Calcutta and Singapore were stops included in his tour. Agra was praised for Taj Mapal, the most wonderful structure erected to the honor of a woman. After leaving Bombay, he proceeded to Aden. At Suez, the party hired automobiles and motored to Cairo, where they explored the bazaars and visited the sphinx. The Mediterranean trip included Sicily, Naples, Pompeii, Genoa, Venice and Verona. The Alps were crossed and Tirol reached.

Dr. Cole is well known to many Oregon students. He is an intimate friend of Dr. Warren D. Smith, head of the geology department and Hubert Schenck with whom he was associated in Manila in the Bureau of Science. He was professor of organic chemistry for two years there.

R. O. T. C. SUMMER CAMP MECCA FOR 25 STUDENTS

Course At American Lake Runs From June 14 to July 25; Includes Complete Course on Range

Twenty-five students from the University have signed up to go to the R. O. T. C. summer camp at American Lake, according to Sergeant F. I. Agule, who has charge of registering those who are interested in the work.

Fifteen advanced students in the department here are planning to go, while ten will take up basic work. The camp runs from June 14 to July 25, but Colonel Sinclair has obtained special permission to send men from here after the final examinations, about June 21.

Basic students receive no pay in camp, while advanced students receive 70 cents a day. However all students get five cents per mile for car fare from the University to Camp Lewis and back, and the government pays for the student's board and furnishes uniforms. Everyone who completes the summer's course is given six hours University credit.

A recreation and morale officer spends all of his time arranging amusements for the boys. Week-end trips on government trucks to the beauty spots around Camp Lewis are features. Wednesday afternoons are set aside as field days for track events, baseball games and other sports, and on Wednesday nights there are dances at the camp. The R. O. T. C. has a recreation hall on the reserve, with a canteen and movie show with a daily change of program.

The work at the camp includes a complete course on the range. Each student will fire the rifle, the automatic rifle, and the machine gun. Most of the drill and instruction will be done in the mornings. Last summer, the sergeant says, afternoon work was done on an average of once in two weeks.

"Towering Masses" HERE the new architecture expresses itself in great vigorous masses which climb upward into the sky with a pyramidal profile—gigantic, irregular, arresting. An earlier, conventional building on the near corner is overshadowed, engulfed in towering masses of the newer building which are prophetic of an architecture of the future which is vividly stimulating to the imagination. Certainly modern invention—modern engineering skill and organization, will prove more than equal to the demands of the architecture of the future.
