

PHYSICAL ABILITY TESTS END FRIDAY

Plaque in Gymnasium Will Bear Names of High-Point Men

The last physical ability test of this year will be given on Thursday and Friday of this week, May 10 and 11. This will be the last opportunity for men to raise their scores and get their names on the physical ability plaque.

Arthur Henderschott of the Eugene Gun store is planning to give the physical education department a beautiful oak plaque upon which will be placed the highest scores made by the men of each class in the physical ability pentathlon this year. The plaque will have room enough on it to include the four highest scoring men in each class. The one hanging in the office now has room enough for one year only but the new plaque will have sufficient space for four years. Mr. Henderschott is intensely interested in student activities and especially in the development of the all-around man.

"The test this time will be of interest to three classes of men," said Gerald Barnes of the physical education staff: "to men in regular class work who want to choose their own sport; men who have passed the test and who want to raise their score and raise their grade at the same time, and men with high scores who want to get their names on the plaque."

Competition is Keen

Last year there were no startling scores made by the men who got their names on the plaque but this year the competition is somewhat keener. The highest score made this year was that made by Eugene Richmond, freshman with a total score of 119 points. Haddon Rockney made the highest score last year and incidentally the highest score ever made in the pentathlon with a total of 131 points.

The men on the present plaque and their scores are:

Seniors: Floyd Bowles, 78; A. W. Eggleston, 65; L. K. Fraley, 67; A. Kuhnhansen, 70; and K. Smith, 86.

Juniors: Al Krohn, 70; Rolland Andre, 113; Austin Hazard, 97; Tubby Ingle, 105; and Bill Kays, 113.

Sophomores: Lyle Palmer, 96; Virdin Hockett, 101; Ben Virden, 93; M. S. Young, 71; and Phil Ringle, 109.

Freshmen: S. Beed, 105; Don Woodward, 93; Dwight French, 89; C. Beed, 89; and Harry Meyers, 77.

Over 500 men have taken the test in the two years that it has been given but according to Harry Scott the majority of the men do not pass the test.

Many Take Test

This year nearly 200 have taken the test and passed it and are now enjoying the physical ability privileges. There are many advantages of passing the test, the chief ones being to give the man completing the test a wide range of sports in which he can actively engage himself and to enable him to become expert in some one sport or game. The physical ability man can take his gymnasium work at any time during the day, which makes it much easier for him to arrange his schedule. There are many other personal benefits derived from passing the test.

"During the first part of this week before the tests the physical education staff will be glad to help any one desiring to pass the test to become more efficient in his weak events," says Harry Scott, in charge of the test. A sheet is posted on the bulletin board in the men's gym for men to sign.

writing engaged to Mary Smith of the University of Washington.

While the girl weeps and the man looks on the the darker side of life, the attorneys are digging into musty books and reading under the title of "breach of promise." Until seven tonight, when the judge raps his gavel, all will be in doubt, but then will come another fight for a rich man's money. If the income tax don't get it the woman must. This is the second moral case of the year, which are used as practice work by students of the University law school.

PRIZE OFFERED FOR ADS

Contest for Best Written Copy Begun by Wade Brothers, Local Firm

An advertising contest in which the best ad wins for its writer the article advertised is the idea of the series of contests started last week by Wade Brothers, local firm dealing in men's clothing. The contests are open to anyone in the University and especially to members of Professor W. F. G. Thacher's advertising classes.

A contest will be held once a week for five or six weeks. The best one of the advertisements sent in is published in the Emerald and the winner receives his choice of the article advertised.

These contests were first instituted last year and caused considerable interest. Mr. F. B. Moxley, in charge of Wade Brothers' advertising, clipped the ads used for the contests last year and sent them to an advertising bureau which commented very favorably upon them and thought the idea new and practical.

General house average 3.23

The general house average, though compiled by the registrar's office, is not accurate, since it does not take into account the fact that some houses carry a much large number of hours than others and these have not been figured in the general average. The same is true of the men's and women's averages.

TWO Y. W. C. A. WORKERS WILL VISIT ON CAMPUS

Prominent Leaders Invited to Attend Association's House Party on The McKenzie

Miss Henrietta Thompson, of the Women's International Foyer of Berkeley, and Miss Edith Sanderson, secretary of the national student volunteer work, will arrive on the campus Friday, May 11, to spend the week-end. Both Miss Thompson and Miss Sanderson have been on the campus before; Miss Sanderson also attended the Seabeck conference last year where she met many of the women from Oregon. The campus Y. W. association is planning to have both the visitors as guests on the annual council and cabinet house party to be held on the McKenzie this coming week-end.

Miss Sanderson has just finished a tour through New England and other eastern states, visiting all colleges to arouse the interest of college students in international world problems.

Miss Thompson was a campus visitor the first of the spring term, coming in the interest of foreign student work. She is going to the University of California this week, and has been invited by the University Y. W. C. A. to stop on her way for the house-party.

WOMEN'S TENNIS BEGINS

Class Teams Will Be Chosen Before May Sixteenth

Women's tennis is now under way and all tournaments within the classes must be played off by May 16, according to Dorcas Conklin, head of this sport. Class teams will then be chosen, the four highest scoring players in each of the class tryouts composing the class team.

Interclass tournaments will then start and at the finish of these, practice for the interclass-intercollegiate games with O. A. C. to be played here on May 26, will begin. About 45 girls have been turning out for practice. The sophomore class especially has been well represented on the courts. Two of the many new courts to be built on the campus are well under way in construction and probably will be used during the interclass tournaments.
