

CAMPUS IS VISITED BY 300 MOTHERS DURING WEEK-END

University Entertains With a Simple Program; 500 Attend Tea

MANY SEE DANCE DRAMA Vespers Services End Events; Large Number of Guests Stay Till Monday

Mothers' Day, which has developed into an annual week-end event at the University, was a most happy affair this year, according to Wesley Frater, general chairman for the occasion. Approximately 300 mothers from Oregon and places outside of the state accepted invitations extended to them and spent the week-end on the campus visiting their sons and daughters. No elaborate program had been scheduled as it was thought that the mothers would enjoy their visit more if they had time to be with their sons and daughters, and become acquainted with the institution rather than being extensively entertained. The "hello" tradition was gaily accepted and loyally upheld by every mother.

The largest social event was the tea given by the Women's league in Alumni hall from 3 to 5 Saturday afternoon. It was estimated that 500 persons attended this tea, which took the place of the campus luncheon which has always been an annual affair on Mothers' week-end. Special music by the advanced students of the University school of music was one of the parts of the program at the tea.

Many Attend Drama

The interpretive dance drama presented by the advanced pupils of Miss Lillian Stupp's dancing class was enjoyed by a large number of the visiting mothers Saturday night. Sunday morning all the Eugene churches gave special Mothers' day programs, while on Sunday afternoon the Mothers' Day Vespers services at which the Right Rev. William P. Remington from Baker, Oregon, spoke, closed the official program for the week-end. On all three days of the week-end various houses and organizations held special entertainments for the visitors. Many of the mothers left Sunday, but quite a number stayed over until Monday.

The observance of the occasion this year was the fourth for the University. Four years ago a number of University officials decided that it would be most appropriate that the institution set aside the second week-end of each May as Mothers' Week-end. Since then the event has grown in importance and success, and was this year attended by the largest number of mothers yet.

Day Nationally Observed

Miss Anna Jarvis of Philadelphia was the first person to conceive of Mothers' Day in 1906. After the death of her mother she decided to have a special day dedicated to the mothers. Accordingly many individuals and organizations became interested in the idea, and decided to have the second Sunday of each May set aside as the day to pay tribute to mother. And thus Philadelphia was the first city to observe the day. The day became a national observance on May 10, 1906, when Congress passed a resolution to make it so. Today all over the nation public schools, churches and individuals set aside the day as one of tribute. Through the efforts of Miss Jarvis the day has also now received international recognition.

Those in charge of the affair on the campus this year were Wesley Frater, Margaret Skavlan, George Stewart, Ed Tapfer and Joe Benson.

Geologists and Mazamas Join Forces and Visit Iron Mines

Rendezvous of University geologists who left Eugene in several different parties during the week-end was a timber-clad hill in the vicinity of Seapoope, overlooking the flood plains of the Columbia, where they were joined last Sunday morning by some 70 members of the Mazamas, mountain climbers of the Northwest.

After having investigated the oil prospects in the vicinity of St. Paul and fossil localities near Pittsburg and Clatskanie in the northwestern part of the state, the geologists, headed by Dr. Warren D. Smith and Dr. Earl L. Packard, of the University department of geology, joined forces with the Mazamas and spent part of the day examining the limonite—a hydrous sesquioxide of iron—deposits in the vicinity of Portland.

EUGENE HIGH GETS LESLIE FOR COACH

Former University Star Chosen from Field

Earl ("Spike") Leslie, former Oregon all-star tackle and a graduate with the class of 1922, has been named coach and athletic director of the Eugene high school, according to information received on the campus yesterday. Leslie, who was both a football and baseball letterman while attending the University, takes the places of H. L. Granis, former director of athletics at the Eugene school.

Leslie, who was a major in the school of business administration while attending the University, was prominent in campus activities, being a member of the Order of the "O", Friars, Alpha Kappa Psi and Beta Alpha Psi. He is a member of Sigma Chi fraternity.

During the past year Leslie has been director of athletics at Milton high school in eastern Oregon, and turned out notably strong teams in the various departments.

The honor conferred on Leslie by the Eugene high school is considered great, for it is known that the local school was in the field for the best man who could be signed up for position.

HALE TO GIVE LECTURE AT THURSDAY ASSEMBLY

"Administration of Justice" Is Subject of Address

The University community will be given an opportunity to hear one of the best speakers on its own campus Thursday morning when Dean W. G. Hale, of the School of Law, will talk at assembly on "The Administration of Justice." It is expected that this address will be somewhat in the nature of an answer to the discussion aroused on the campus some weeks ago by the lecture given by Dr. E. O. Holland, president of Washington State college, on the "Majesty of the Law."

Dean Hale said yesterday that he might take issue with President Holland on several points in regard to the administration of the law and that he would touch rather fully upon the essential elements of this administration. It is said that his position at the head of the only law school in the state makes him admirably fitted to discuss this topic which is so closely connected with all of the work in which he is instructing hundreds of students on the campus daily.

The realization of the public to the courts of justice and the attitude of the public and the ordinary citizen towards administration of justice will be one aspect of the address Thursday morning; and Dean Hale also intends to answer the question of what this attitude should be in the light of his own experience and knowledge.

The responsibility of the public will also be emphasized and it seems evident that the speaker will indicate what, in his opinion, is the share of the public in the apparent lack of respect for law in our country at present. In addition to the discussion of the attitude of those outside of the profession of law, Dean Hale will speak on the position and responsibility of the administrators of justice and on the importance of enforcement of law on the part of both its officers and all citizens.

The assembly will be held in Villard hall and the musical numbers will be announced later.

WARNER COLLECTION CLOSED

The Murray Warner art collection in the Women's building has been temporarily closed while workmen repair the glass show cases. The cases are to be made dust proof, and it is expected that it will be about ten days before the museum will be again opened for visitors, according to Mrs. Lucy Perkins, hostess at the museum.

The Mazamas, who were accompanied by Ira Williams, former assistant state geologist, hiked the mile and a half up the brushy slopes of the low mountain range and gathered around one of the cuts in the hill while Dr. Smith, Mr. Williams, and Dr. Packard told the mountaineers about the geologic history of the deposits and briefly reviewed the possibilities of mining the ore in commercial quantities. Dr. Packard, who made the trip into the northwest part of the state to look over the fossiliferous localities, touched on a few phases of paleontology and requested the Mazamas to assist his work by collecting fossils.

The group of University people who visited the iron ore deposits other than

OREGON CHAPTER PHI BETA KAPPA ELECTS FOURTEEN

Emily Veazie, English Major, Has Average of 1.4 During Whole College Course

OTHER GRADES AVERAGE 1.1 More Are to be Named Later in Year; Alumni Members May be Admitted

Fourteen seniors, leaders in scholarship, were elected to membership in Phi Beta Kappa at a meeting of the Oregon chapter yesterday afternoon in 101 Oregon building. No one of the number has a scholastic average lower than 1.1.

Emily Veazie, in English literature, has the highest grades of those elected; during her entire college career she has average 1.4. The grades of all the others run between her record and 1.1. The list follows: Emily Veazie, English literature; Wave Lesley, mathematics; Ralph Moore, education; Ronald Reid, music; Le Laine West, Romance languages; Arthur Johnson, dramatics and speech arts; Minnie Johnson, English literature; Len Jordan, Business administration; Marion Cray, English literature; Mrs. Ione B. Harkness, history; Owen Callaway, business administration; Rita Durkheimer, education; Frances Morgan, Romance languages; Elizabeth Stephenson, economics.

A supplementary list will probably be elected some time before commencement when the number of seniors scheduled for graduation is large enough to justify. There will also be supplementary elections from the classes up to 1909. Dr. R. C. Clark, president of the local chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, appointed a membership committee yesterday, consisting of O. E. Stafford, professor of chemistry, chairman, Miss Mary Perkins, chemist of English literature, and Dr. James H. Gilbert, professor of economics, which will recommend alumni from these early classes.

A meeting of the executive council will be held in a few days to decide on the date of initiation and to make arrangements.

Oregon was granted a chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, national honorary fraternity, last September, and the formal installation was held April 14. At the same time 75 graduates of the University were initiated. Twenty-five faculty members are charter members of the local chapter, and ten more were admitted to membership April 14.

RUTH BYRNE TO GIVE SENIOR RECITAL 17

Campus Artist Will Play Varied Program Ranging from Bach to Ornstein in Alumni Hall

Ruth Scott Byrne will give her senior graduation recital in Alumni hall next Thursday evening at 8:15. The character of the program ranges from Bach to Ornstein, the uniform heaviness of the pieces—the Chopin and Liszt numbers being noted for their intricacy and effectiveness—and Ruth Byrne's reputation for interpretive playing promises to make the event one of interest and importance to the music-lovers of the campus. Mrs. Byrne has studied extensively with both Dean Landsbury and John Stark Evans and for the last two years has been an Honor student in the school of music. She has now completed the work for, and will take in June, two degrees—Bachelor of Music, with piano as a major and organ for minor; and Bachelor of Arts, with English Literature as a major and Philosophy as a minor. For the next two winters Mrs. Byrne will study in Boston devoting herself almost exclusively to piano technique.

Margaret Phelps will assist Thursday evening, playing three violin numbers.

- The program:
- PIANO—Bourée in B minor Bach-Saint Saens
 - Prelude in B flat major Bach
 - Fugue in B flat major Bach
 - PIANO—Grillen Schumann
 - Etude in D flat major Liszt
 - VIOLIN—Indian Lament Dvorak-Kreisler
 - PIANO—Etude in E major Chopin
 - Butterfly Etude Chopin
 - Revolutionary Etude Chopin
 - PIANO—Lento Scott
 - Scherzino Ornstein
 - Moment Musical Schubert-Ornstein
 - VIOLIN—Piccaninies Burleigh
 - Mammy's Lullaby Burleigh
 - PIANO—Scherzo in C sharp minor Chopin

WORK ON ARMORY DEMANDS HELP OF 40 MORE JUNIORS

Decorations Group for Upper-classmen Dance Will Report Tonight

TICKETS ARE NOW ON SALE

Luncheon Committee Publishes Menu; "Oregon Beacon" Sent to Preppers

The names of 40 more juniors, 15 men and 25 women, have been drawn for work on the decoration of the new armory for the Junior prom and they will be expected to report for duty at 7 o'clock tonight.

First Group Works Well

Randall Jones, chairman of the decorations committee, reports that the first group of people whose names were drawn, turned out for work very well and that good results were obtained.

Jack Myers, general chairman of the prom, has put the tickets on sale for the dance. He is enthusiastic about the way plans are progressing and says that indications are that this year's prom will surpass any dance ever seen on the campus. The Mid-Nite sons are to furnish the music. Tickets to the affair are one dollar. "Preppers" will be admitted free.

Menu Committee Reports

Henryetta Lawrence is working with her committee in preparing for the campus luncheon Friday noon. The menu which she has planned includes baked ham, scalloped potatoes, fruit salad, hot rolls, ice cream cones and coffee. All students have paid their share through the class fee, graduate students and faculty members will be expected to pay 25c at the luncheon.

One thousand copies of the "Oregon Beacon," a four page Junior Week-end sheet, giving interesting facts about the campus and especially Junior Week-end, have been sent out under the direction of Norborne Berkeley, assisted by several junior members of Sigma Pi Tau. The paper was edited by Ted James, managed by Lyle Janz and written by the other recent initiates into Sigma Delta Chi, national journalism fraternity.

COLONEL LEADER COMING

Letter Received on Campus with News of Approaching Visit

Prof. W. F. G. Thacher received a letter from Colonel Leader Monday morning with news that the Colonel and his family had just arrived in Vancouver, B. C. The Colonel and his family recently went to England to make their home but business matters called him back to America. The voyage from England was very rough and their ship was delayed three days by fog and two days by ice, the letter said.

Colonel Leader expects to stop in Portland for a few days after which he will come to Eugene for Junior Week-end.

CLASSES TO HOLD CONTEST

Prize will be Awarded for Best Speech of Extemporatory Nature on June 4

Monday, June 4, has been set as the date for the extemporatory speaking contest to be conducted by the public speaking department. The event will be held at 4:15 p. m., on that date in Villard hall and members that will act as judges.

The speeches may be of an extemporatory nature on any subject pertaining to state, national, international, ethical or scientific interest, and they must be limited to eight minutes. A prize of $10 will be given to the student whom the judges will consider as having the best speech.

The contest is open to only those students who are open in any of the four extempore speaking classes.

GO-EDS TO STAGE LAST DEBATE THURSDAY NIGHT

May Fenno, Lurline Coulter To Meet California

The last debate of the year in which the University will compete, will be staged Thursday night, May 17, when Lurline Coulter and May Fenno representing the Oregon women's affirmative team will contest with the University of California's negative on the question, "Resolved that France was justified in her Occupation of the Ruhr."

Miss Coulter is considered by forensic coaches as a most vigorous thinker and an effective talker. She has been a member of the women's varsity debating squad for three years, having made the position in her freshman year. She is at present president of Zeta Kappa Psi, women's honorary forensic society.

Miss Fenno has been on the debate team for two years, and is considered as a most forcible speaker, and one who carries conviction. She was a member of the women's Oregon club debating squad which won the cup in the do-nut series last year. She is also president of Pro and Con debating society.

A few of the rules which have been selected to use in the coast debating conference next year, will be tried out at the contest Thursday. In the first place there will be no selected judges, as the audience will ballot and give the decision. The length of the speeches has also been changed. Each of the four constructive talks are to be limited to 17 minutes. Five rebuttal speeches will be given, the affirmative first, with six minutes; the negative second, with seven minutes; the affirmative third, with six minutes; the negative fourth, with seven minutes, and the affirmative fifth with two minutes.

The University of California will be represented by Marion Harron and Violet Lercera with Juana Allraun as alternate. The California women are expected to arrive on the Shasta Thursday afternoon, and will be accompanied by three members of the public speaking department of California. They are traveling up and down the coast debating various universities and colleges, and will have just finished a debate with Reed college in Portland before coming to the Oregon campus.

FRESHMEN ASKED TO REPORT

The following men are requested to report on Hayward field at three o'clock this afternoon. Names will be checked over, and those in charge intimate that freshmen not reporting for duty may be reprimanded.

FIRST OF SERIES LOST BY VARSITY TO COUGARS, 6-3

W. S. C. Puts Over Winning Runs in First Three Innings; Safe Hits and Errors Win

MANY PITCHERS ARE USED

Oregon Rallies in Seventh but Is Unable to Overcome Lead of Visitors

The Cougar heavy artillery opened up on the Varsity in the first three frames and lammed the pellet for six runs, enough to take the opener of the Oregon-W. S. C. series by the count of 6 to 3. Oregon's three runs, one in the third and two in the seventh, came as the result of hits and passes.

After the first three innings, which looked as though the Varsity was going to take an overwhelming defeat at the hands of the northerners, Stoddard, who relieved Baldwin in the first, settled down and held the visitors scoreless until the seventh, when he surrendered the mound to Brooks. The "skipper" duplicated Stoddard's performance and allowed but two hits and no runs during the remainder of the session. In the meanwhile, however, Pickering, who labored on the mound for the Washingtonians, was none too liberal with his hits. He let the locals down with four safe hits and struck out 10 of the Varsity batsmen.

Cougars Begin in First

Washington State opened up with a bang in the first canto when Zaepfel and Roberts drew passes, Zaepfel stole third and on the next play Roberts pilfered the second sack. "Ernie" Stoddard replaced Baldwin in the box and "Stan" Bray greeted him with a scorching down the first base line that scored his two teammates. The Cougars added another in the second when Hanley got on first on Svarverud's error, went to second when Zaepfel grounded out to Zimmerman, and scored on Robert's single.

In the third with two men down, singles by Foster, Hanley, Pickering and Zaepfel, together with a little juggling of the ball on the part of the Varsity outfield accounted for three more of Washington State's runs, and wound up their scoring.

Ross Knocks Three Bagger

Oregon counted for the first time in its half of the third. "Charley Piek" Svarverud drew his second walk of the game and Jimmy Ross stalked up to the plate and crashed one out the right field foul line for three bases, scoring Svarverud. Clever fielding by Sandbery was all that cut James out of a homer. When looked good for another counter with Ross on third and Zimmerman at bat, but the big fellow was having a terrible day with the stick and he whiffed the ozone, as he did in his other trips to the plate.

Oregon's other two tallies came in the seventh, the proverbial rally in the first, Collins, Shields, Cook and Svarverud contributing the stickwork that made the runs possible. After Sorsby had grounded out to Roberts, Collins laced out a screeching single to center field, taking second when the fielder muffed the ball. Shields, batting for Roycroft, got on base on a fielder's choice and Collins was safe at third.

Cook smashed one over second base scoring Collins and advancing Tiny to third. On the next play, Moore, batting for Stoddard, knocked one to the pitcher and Shields was nailed at the plate. Cook advanced on the play and came home when Svarverud singled to right field but Moore was tagged out trying to go third on the hit.

Each team pulled a double play and the game was featured by good fielding throughout. Svarverud, Hanlye and Captain Bray divided the slugging honors for the day.

Friel will probably start today's

FACULTY WOMEN WINNERS

Dr. Bertha Stuart and Miss Mary Perkins Win Three up in Tournament

Dr. Bertha Stuart of the physical education department, and Miss Mary H. Perkins, of the English department, beat the Salem women in the tri-city golf tournament at Corvallis last week-end, Salem, Corvallis, and Eugene participating. These were the only members of the faculty represented.

In the only women's match, Dr. Stuart and Miss Perkins played Mrs. Harry Olinger and Mrs. Oliver Locke of Salem winning three up. They and possibly other women of Eugene will play next week-end on the Eugene course
