

OVER 100 PREPPERS TO VIE WITH FROSH

Entries for Saturday Meet Total 129; Seven Squads Send in Lists

Over 100 prep school track and field athletes will be seen in action on Hayward field Saturday afternoon when Bill Hayward's frosh squad engage in the meet with the seven Portland high schools and Columbia University. The last list of entries from the visiting teams reached Graduate-manager Benefiel's office yesterday and swelled the total of outside competitors up to 112. This together with the frosh squad of 17 makes a grand total of 129 men who will compete in the big Junior Week-end affair.

The largest squads are from Jefferson and Franklin high schools, each of which will have a 20-man team. Washington with 17 men is next and the rest are as follows: Columbia, 14, Commerce high school, 15, Lincoln, 13, Roosevelt high 12 and Benson Tech 11. The large number of entries necessitates that trial heats be conducted in every event. These are set for Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. The winners in the preliminaries will compete in the regular meet Saturday afternoon.

The high school-frosh meet will be the first of its kind since before the war, but from the way the preppers are responding it will furnish plenty of thrills and excitement. Just how the dope stands with regard to the probable outcome of the meet is none too certain, but it appears that Washington high coached by Vern Windnagle, former Oregon star, will furnish the strongest competition to the yearlings. The Colonials captured a meet with several other Portland high schools, Columbia University and Chemawa last Saturday and are especially strong in the distance runs. Columbia is strong in the sprints and the weights. The other schools are more or less untried and unproven but are likely to spring a few surprises.

The undefeated frosh squad will be in fine fettle for the Saturday affair after their victory over the rooks last week. Their list of entries and events are as follows:

100 yard dash—Kelsey, Lewis, Snyder; 220-yard dash—Carlburg, Cleaver; 440 yard dash—Carlburg, Hermance, Rutherford; half-mile—Keating, Gerke; mile—Keating, Stevenson; high hurdles—Kelsey, Tuck; low hurdles, Kelsey, Tuck; high jump, Goodall, Cleaver, Eby; broad jump—Kelsey, Tuck; pole vault—Cleaver, Kelsey; shot put—Mantz, Carlburg, Anderson; discus—Mantz, Stockwell, Anderson; javelin—Anderson, Beatty; relay—Carlburg, Cleaver, Lewis, Snyder, Rutherford.

The officials for the meet are as follows:
Referee—Colin V. Dymont.
Inspectors—Peltier, Kays, Koepf, Beattie.
Scorers—Bradeson and Schultz.
Clerk of the Course—Leith Abbott, assistant, Schultz.
Announcers—Rosebraugh, Rockhey.
Marshalls—George King, George Bohler, Shy Huntington.
Physician—Dr. Livingston.
Press—Hoyt.
Starter—Oberteuffer.
Judges of finish—Bowman, Lucas, Hardenberg, Bowles.
Timers—Larson, McKinney, Curry.
Field Judges—Kamma, Starr, Spearow, Phillips, McGraw, Byler, Jouson, Hunt.

SMUDGY FROSH SCOUR UP TO GREET PREPPERS

Friendly Hall Upperclassmen Drive Babes, Donned in Bathing Suits to Race for Noon Splash

Friendly hall had a washday yesterday. The campus has had a general cleanup in preparation for the coming of the prepper guests, and not to be outdone the hall men held an ablution party at high noon.

The dirty wash consisted of 10 or 12 lowly freshmen who had become encrusted with a thick coat of sophistication during their stay on the campus. The upperclassmen deemed it best that the preppers should not gaze upon the green cappers in their smudgy predicament and decided that nothing short of mill race water would purge them.

port from the upperclassmen in carrying out the annual custom.

So, at high noon or a few minutes thereafter the Knights of the order of Boob appeared at the front door, sans clothing with the exception of various colored bathing suits. They looked real clever shivering in the wind, but the sheiks of the organization thought that they would look better if shackled together for a three-legged amble to the splash mecca.

Hobbled together, the short with the long, the thick with the thin and the rest with each other, they galloped down to the Styx for the annual once-over. They flopped into the liquid and flopped out again so fast that they left their footprints on the water's surface. Look like a horse-car in a blue-law vil-Speed, those boys made a subway train luge.

They are cleansed now and ready for the visit of the high scholars.

SOPHOMORES TAKE GAME

First Interclass Clash Results In a 28-13 Score

The sophomore baseball team took the first victory of the interclass series, winning from the freshmen club 28 to 13 last night. The first three innings of the game were a walk away for the sophomores, but the freshmen made several good runs and kept the winners on the jump. Grace Sullivan, pitcher for the victorious hitters, and Mary Hathaway, catcher, did good work in combination as battery. Janet Wood, fielding for the freshmen displayed ability in breaking the hits and returning the balls safely.

Today at 5 o'clock the junior and senior teams are scheduled to play.

The lineups for last night's game were as follows:
Sophomore—G. Sullivan, p., M. Hathaway, c., C. Heckman, 1b., S. Haglund, 2b., M. Schroeder, 3b., G. Boone, ss., A. Enrich, ls., M. Crain, rf., C. La Tourrette, cf., B. Amundson, lf.

Freshman—M. Onslow, p., M. Wright, c., I. Dale, 1b., R. MacGregor, 2b., M. Baumgarner, 3b., E. Murphy, ss., P. Boston, ls., B. Razor, rf., J. Wood, cf., F. Ward, lf.
Subs—M. Byrom, 2b., A. McMonies, rf., H. Chase, 1b.

WOMEN'S LEAGUE SENDS DELEGATES TO MEETING

Georgia Benson and Edwina Richen Will Represent University of Oregon at Medford Convention

Georgia Benson, newly elected president of Women's League and Edwina Richen as delegate will leave next Monday evening to attend the annual convention of Federated Women's Clubs, in Medford, Oregon.

Each year the University of Oregon Women's League, which is represented in the Federated Clubs, is called upon to send two representative women to the convention, one as president, the other as delegate. Owing to the unexpected announcement of the convention, it was impossible to choose a delegate at mass meeting, making it necessary for the matter to be taken up at a special meeting of Women's League executive council. The delegate was chosen by the unanimous vote of the council.

The convention will last three days. The session will begin Tuesday morning, May 22, when the guests arrive, lasting until the final session Thursday afternoon. The Oregon delegates will be called upon to give talks at the convention, and upon their return, will give a full report of the convention at a mass meeting of the League.

JOB'S AWAIT APPLICANTS

Y. M. C. A. Employment Agency Receives Rush Calls from Houses

Anyone wanting to work during Junior Week-end—no, don't laugh. Of course everyone works during the three big days. But anyone wanting to work some more, please apply at the Y. M. C. A. "hut."

Mrs. Donnelly declares that most of the houses on the campus are sending in rush calls for dish washers, and men to wait on table. She already has jobs waiting for twelve or more students.

The situation at the "hut" employment agency has changed greatly since last fall. Then ambitious students lined up for the woodchopping jobs, and there was not enough work to go around. Today several permanent positions with a nice monthly pay check are without applicants.

FACULTY TO GIVE ADDRESSES

Prof. Ira Richardson left yesterday for Vale, Oregon, where he will give the commencement address at the Vale High school tonight. Lamar Tooze will give the commencement address at Milwaukie High school on Friday night. These are the first of the commencement addresses, which will continue steadily with many faculty members as speakers until June 19.

NINE SENIORS MAKE PLEDGES

Nine seniors responded to the plan of the class to pledge $100 in yearly installments to the student union fund, during the past week, bringing the total to 74, according to Lamar Tooze, field director of the gift campaign. The latest donors are: James M. Brad-way, Jane Huson, Archie Shields, Lois W. Morthland, Cecil D. Bell, Raymond A. Boyer, Harold Bonebrake, Arvin Burnett and Alice H. Thomas.

THRILLS—LOVE—THRILLS

An impetuous young American marries a fair daughter of India and then— He meets the sedate society girl he loved in his pre-jungle days.

Was there still a smouldering spark amongst the ashes of his old love?

Or was the lure of his Oriental wife so strong that it had completely crushed all thought of another love or lover?

Here are tremendous thrills for you— You'll see a tiger hunt in the jungle, with the man-eating beast tracked and killed at last.

You'll see a dam blown up—with an ocean of roaring, raging water madly flooding the surrounding country. Last day today at the Castle.
