Presenting—The University

Many of next year's freshmen will see the campus today for the first time. The nucleus of the class of '27 will be formed with the gathering of preppers from high schools of the state for Junior Week-end. The impressions which they receive today and tomorrow will be those which will influence the next college generation.

Oregon's guests will see what traditions are and what they mean. They will see the activities of the senior with his star, his paddle, and his fountain. They will be interested in the annual tug-of-war, and the burning of the green caps.

Junior Week-end is not entirely social. Every effort will be put forth to show the visitors the educational advantages of the institution. They will see that there is a serious and scholarly tone to University life underlying the apparent outside activity.

Baseball games with O. A. C., a track meet, and a tennis meet will make the week-end enjoyable not only to the prepper but to the undergraduate student. The high school guests will be able to see college teams in action.

And the other events—the canoe fete, the prom, and the others—will demonstrate that there is more to college life than athletics and studies. It will show the prospective student there is room for him— for his talents and his energies in creative work outside of routine.

The Emerald hopes that the guests will see every side of University life. It hopes that the visitors will go away glad that they came and confident that the trip was an educational investment.

MONTE BLUE AT HEILIG

A novel situation presents itself in the Encore Picture, "The Tents of Ailah," in which Monte Blue and Mary Alden are starred, and which is playing at the Heilig Theatre. Commander Millgrate, U. S. N., is ordered to take some marines, enter the desert and capture a daring bandit chief who has stolen an American girl. Millgrate must get permission from the Sultan of Morocco to pass through the city, and he is recognized by the ruler as the man, who years before, stole from his roof-top a desert princess who was awaiting marriage to the Sultan. Millgrate, who has himself stolen a woman, must prosecute another man who has done the same thing!

ARMORY PREPARED FOR BIG CONCLAVE

the scratch on the "Welcome" mat, suddenly find themselves snowed under by an avalanche of claw-hammers and tuxedos, with the owner of each outfit claiming to be his best friend and urging him to hurry for once just to see if he can snap out of it.

On the feminine side it will be the same, rush and bustle and anxious moments, waiting for said gallant to breeze around and then for the dash to the mecca of terpsichorean pleasure and then to sigh in wonderment at the gorgeous decorations.

The dance itself—naturally that will get over big, from the prelude amble about the hall to the last blare of syn-copation. The maple will be loaded with humanity, the long, the lean, the thin, the thick, the short, the fat, the wide, the serawny, and all the rest. There will be shoving, pushing, gouging, tripping and all the other good natured pastimes indulged in by the rosin rushers.

The preppers will find that a good intensive course in civil engineering, calculus and astronomy, will be a great aid in propelling one's self about the wax.

Then there is the end of the dance, when everybody steals home, having had a wonderful time, their corns well cultivated, but awfully glad that it is over, and anxious for the next prom to roll around.

REGISTRAR'S OFFICE GREETINGS

The registrar's office of the University extends a greeting to you, our high school guests. Plans are already being made to receive you as students next fall. At that time printed directions will be given you, outlining the steps in registration. Older students, acting as guides and monitors will be on hand to assist you.

Each of you should make sure that your credentials are filed with the University immediately after graduation. Every high school has a supply of entrance blanks, and the principal will fill them out and send them in at your request. Upon receipt of your high school record, you will be notified whether or not you are eligible for entrance.

Promptness is desirable in order that the University officials may give your application careful attention and make necessary arrangements for your enrollment in the fall.

Carlton E. Spencer, Registrar.

SALEM HIGH DEFEATS FROSH TEAM AT TENNIS

Parelius Is Only Freshman to Win His Match

The freshman tennis teams lost the tournament played Thursday afternoon to the Salem high school team, by the score of 4 sets to 1. Both the doubles were won by the Salem team. Parelius was the only freshman to win his match which was taken from Devers of Salem High with a score of 6-4 and 6-2.

Okleburg of Salem High was easily the star of the meet. He played a steady game and was expert at placing, besides his excellent service. He played in both the doubles and won his games in the singles. It was mostly through his excellent playing that the doubles were won. Careful placing and playing of the net was his method. Other men on the team who did good playing were Hester and Devers. Salem high school has already won meets from Willamette University and Silvertown high school.

In the singles Hester of Salem High defeated Ed Stevens, freshman, by the set scores of 7-5, 2-6 and 6-1, Stevens winning the second set but losing the third which gave Hester two sets out of three.

Okleburg of Salem high school defeated Ralph Van Waters, freshman, in two straight sets—6-2 and 6-2.

Parelius, freshman, won the only game for the frosh, when he defeated Devers of Salem High by the set scores of 6-4 and 6-2.

In the doubles, Okleburg and Devers defeated Van Waters and Parelius in two straight sets with scores of 7-5 and 6-0.

Okleburg and Hester defeated Van Waters and Stevens in the last two sets of the three—the freshmen winning the first set 6-1 and losing the last two 6-0 and 6-4.

eventful one. Following the resignation, in the spring of 1921, of Emil Oberhoffer, up to that time the only conductor the organization had had, the directors planned the season just closing as a "guest-conductor" period. Incidentally, Henri Verbrugghen, first of the visitors, has been chosen director for the next three years.

MEMORIAL DAY PLANS NOT MADE

The part that the R. O. T. C. will take in the Memorial Day program is not settled yet. Colonel Sinclair said these in charge of the arrangements, the American Legion, the G. A. R., and other patriotic organizations, will probably invite the University men to help out. If they do the question will be put up to the men for decision. The department will not compel anyone to turn out.

Plans for Junior Week-end

Preppers need entertainment. They're expecting it and Oregon students have provided it. Excitement is planned that will fill their frames for three whole days.

What is more delightful after the tug-of-war, the burning of the green, or the canoe fete, than a jaunt to one of our shoppes. Guests will crave to see all of college life. They will find it in full representation at this college tavern. Everyone will be on hand. There's really no place teeming with more college life, action and wit than our shoppes.

Then when it's nearly all over and happy though tired, they are enroute to the train, stop at our shoppe to give them the last big impression of Oregon life. It's an impression that they'll remember with keen pleasure.
