

UNIVERSITY GIRLS AID KINDERGARTEN CLASS

Miss Stupp to Renew Program for Children Next Fall

Twenty-five children between the ages of four and six play and work in harmony in the kindergarten class, established under the auspices of the American Association of University Women. Each morning between the hours of 9 and 11:30, the younger representatives of Young America are directed in crayon work, paper cutting, games, singing and courtesies by Mrs. Frank Nagley, a graduate of the Chicago Institute.

The class meets daily in the Sunday school room of the Methodist church. Three University women from the playground assisted in the teaching.

The class was organized in April through the efforts of Miss Lillian Stupp of the physical education department and Mrs. Nagley. The work will continue for one more month and it is hoped to renew the class next fall.

Even in such a brief time, the results of the work are startling. The walls of the room are lined and are decorated with paper flowers and paper garden tools, cut without pattern. Nests and eggs are made. The children had just finished cutting open umbrellas, for "it's raining," said one.

The class carries tunes admirably. The songs are taught and then dramatized. Already they have learned to regard the rights of others. A spirit of cooperation pervades, in which the older helps the newcomer to become acquainted with the intricacies of the games. One outstanding feature is the lack of self-consciousness.

This is the hardest obstacle to overcome among children," says Mrs. Nagley. "When the class was first organized, if I asked a question only three or four hands would be raised. Now each wishes to help."

The class is attentive and obedient. Each child is anxious to help put away the chairs, to push back the low tables when the floor must be cleared for games. Each tries to be courteous, to make his good-bye to the teacher nicely. There is no rushing to the cloak room, no seizing of others belongings. Everything is a game which everybody plays with everybody else.

The work is conducted without any help from outside finances. No salaries are paid to the instructors. A small fee is charged for the cost of the materials. The public is invited to watch the work of the class.

Eugene is distinctive in having such a class, in the opinion of Miss Stupp. Only in towns of 20,000 population are such classes found as a rule. In such large cities as Chicago, kindergarten training is necessary before the child is admitted to grade school. The progress of the pupil is quicker when he reaches the first grade, for he has already learned the use of the crayon and pencil and has lost the self-consciousness that is difficult to overcome in large groups, she pointed out.

the face value of which is worth about one yen, has been buying up all material witnesses. If this be the case, many are wondering how he will have enough kopecks left to pay the exorbitant fee of his attorney.

Sax's plea will probably be that of self-defense although the popular course of the present day blood letters is to plead insanity and then by throwing a few fits and a couple of horsecollars, they are able to convince the jury that somehow that gun just seemed to go off, and someone just got in front of it.

It is possible that at the last minute the defendant will pull that stall about too many dates or injuries to the head in football made him lose the dobber and attempt to mangle Mautz with the six gun. An alienist will be on hand to browse about the cranial arrangement of the defendant Sax, and from his examination it will be determined whether the pistol packer ought to be

The trial will start at 7 o'clock and as both parties have a large number of followers, it is likely that the court room will be jammed by the two clans. If hostilities get too outrageous, it is probable that a division of R. O. T. C. troopers will be rushed to the scene to restore order.

Of Anne Roselle it has been said: "A higher form of art than Anne Roselle's is not often found. A lovely young woman in a generation of beautiful operatic stars, Miss Roselle possesses an authentic talent. To listen to her was pure delight."

Program Well Selected
Miss Roselle well has to sing in her inimitable way and the rest is easy. Add to this clear, sweet and insinuating voice, which beguiles the fancy and intrigues the emotions and you have a very formidable artist. Her program was well selected.

"Much fine music was heard in the second act, but it was Anne Roselle who created the sensation with her superb singing. Her voice is powerful and also compelling quality."

"Her voice is exceedingly rich—she held her audience spell-bound."

The program follows:

- Overture to "Der Freischuetz" Weber
- Aria, "Dove song," from "Marriage of Figaro"Mozart
Anne Roselle
- Symphony, "From the New World"
I Adagio-Allegro molto
II Largo
III Scherzo, Molto vivace
IV Finale, Allegro con fuoco

Y. W. MEETINGS CEASE

There will be no more general association meetings of the University Y. W. C. A. for this year, according to announcement by the secretary of the association, yesterday morning. The annual senior services and breakfast are scheduled for the morning of June 17, and will be held on the campus. There will also be small groups of University women meetings at the Y. W. Bungalow from time to time, to discuss plans for the annual Seabeck conference to be held from June 26 until July 6.

MCINTYRE AND HEATH COMING

What promises to be the banner musical comedy of the season is the coming engagement of McIntyre and Heath at the Heilig Theatre on Wednesday, May 23rd in their new musical play called "Red Pepper." It might be of interest to know that "Red Pepper" is a race horse, in which the two fun makers are interested. You will be surprised to learn just how much trouble a race horse can make for a couple of humorous negroes who have traveled to Havana in search of a fortune.

RICHARDS WRITES ARTICLE

Oscar Richards, senior, majoring in zoology, had an article published in the May issue of School Science and Mathematics entitled "The Present Conditions of Biology in the Secondary Schools." It is a statistical study of the texts and the teaching methods generally used. Eastern publishing houses furnished Richards with sample textbooks for the work.

UNIVERSITY WILL HELP IN BEAUTIFYING CITY

Advice on Planting Flowers and Shrubs Will Be Given

The part which the University will take in the "Beautify the Home Block Week" which started in Eugene Monday, will be to advise and assist those persons off the campus in the planting of flowers and shrubbery and in cleaning up their lots. H. M. Fisher, superintendent of the campus grounds, last week aided the care-takers of the court house in beautifying the court house grounds. Also the University committee, consisting of Prof. E. E. DeCou, H. M. Fisher and John Mac Gregor, have assisted residents along Kincaid street in beautifying their lots.

The University has always been active in such a program, according to Mr. Fisher, through its gardening activities, and has been in a way an example for the rest of the city in keeping the lots and grounds beautiful by flowers, trees and shrubbery.

Every person in Eugene has been asked to join the movement to make this city one of the most attractive communities on the Pacific coast. The city has been divided up into civic sections over which a committee of three has been named to supervise the work of beautifying their sections. Two persons have been appointed to work on each block. In September, blue and red ribbons will be awarded to each block. Other committees have been appointed to clean up unsightly lots, and to clean up the lots around public buildings. Awards will be given for the most artistic floral arrangement and for the most improvements.
