FROSH EXHAUSTED BY PARADE ON TUESDAY

Parker Brenin Recovering at Infirmary
From Effects of Marching in Annual Pep Installation

Parker Brenin of Portland, a member of the class of 1927, is reported to be nearly recovered from exhaustion brought on by the freshman parade Tuesday afternoon. He was taken to the infirmary, where he was cared for. Students who observed Brenin during the annual event said that he was unusually active, and became exhausted during the long march. Reports that he was struck on the head accidentally were denied, as was the report that the sophomores were over-zealous in applying their paddles. The affair was policed by a group of seniors, who took care to see that the horseplay did not at any time become rough.

INFIRMARY SITE CHANGED

Quarters on Onyx; Classes and Offices in Different Buildings

The greatest change in campus locations since last term is the moving of the infirmary to the new location at 1212 Onyx street. The visiting hours are from 2 p. m. to 5 p. m. as usual.

Among the changes in the classes is that of written and spoken English which will meet in Villard hall. Philophy classes will be held in Dean Straub's office.

Sociology classes will assemble on the first floor because of various changes about the building. Chemistry classes are also in different rooms this term.

Two changes in offices have been made, as well. Clarence D. Thorpe's office is where Dr. Ernest Bates' formerly was. Dr. Sebec will have an office with Dean Straub.
