

HOUCK, CAMPBELL ON CYCLE TRIP

Oregon Men Go East to Study;
Travel 3080 Miles

VARIED CLIMATES FOUND

Opportunity for 'Tourist Paper'
Seen on Journey

Horses may be the sport of kings, but Ian Campbell '22 and George Houck '23 chose a mechanical horse for their trip from Eugene, Oregon to Evanston, Illinois where Campbell has accepted a fellowship at Northwestern university. George Houck continued the trip to Harvard, where he has entered the medical department, by rail. Using a 1923 Harley Davis motorcycle as a means of transportation, the two former students made 3080 miles in fourteen days on the road. One hour and twenty minutes was spent on repairs on the trip.

In writing of his trip, Campbell stated; "I have no thrilling adventures to record. As I have already indicated, the weather, the roads and machine all favored us. We didn't ever camp over a rattlesnake den, saw no bears, and didn't eat enough of our own cooking to get dyspeptic."

"Our best time was out of Denver on the U. P. Trail where we covered the 220 miles to the Kansas line in six hours."

Burning hot weather, hot winds, then a sudden shifting to freezing temperature and thunderstorms were encountered on the trip. The account of the country was enthusiastic. Oregon ranks first in the amount of good roads while Illinois comes second. The strip along the Oregon Trail from Pendleton and LaGrande was one of the best stretches traveled, but the most enjoyable stretch was the 120 miles on the Lincoln Highway between Rawlins and Laramie, Wyoming, wrote Campbell.

"This road winds over the Laramie Hills. You can see it miles ahead. Its built of decomposed red granite and scarifiers are at work all the time keeping it in shape."

Gossip from all quarters of the country are obtained in the auto camps. The tourists are always eager for news.

"Road news is all they live on, most of them have not seen a newspaper for a week. This is a chance for a journalist—start a newspaper that would appeal to tourists."

Something in which the local news will be the road dope on that district and all the rest national and international, including their favorite comic section, "he advises.

Campbell bewails the loss of the Oregon water, the forest and the Oregon 'hello.' So far the women policemen have not noticed him speaking to persons to whom he has not been formally introduced.

GIRLS DESIRING WORK ASKED FOR SCHEDULES

Y. W. C. A. Anxious to Help Women
Secure Jobs; More Than Fifty
Positions Assigned Students

"The employment force of the Y.
W. C. A. is most anxious to make a conscientious and systematic effort to help those University girls seeking work," said Florence Magowan, secretary of the campus Y. W. C. A. "But we want every girl seeking work, and every one who left her name at the Bungalow for work, to come in and leave her schedule of classes, so that we may be able to help her get work. Otherwise when calls come in, we do not know the number of hours a girl can put in, nor can we know what time she may have off for work."

A number of the women seeking employment have registered their schedules, but the majority have not. Within a few days the association expects to have regular form schedule cards for those wanting work to fill out.

Up to date the Y. W. C. A. employment service has secured work for more than fifty girls, and most of the positions given out were permanent. Although most of the work secured was of housework nature, there have been a few calls for stenographic and clerical positions.

CAMPUS FOLK MARRY IN SUMMER VACATION

Three Couples Will Reside in University District

Of interest to the University community upon the opening of the college term is the announcement of three marriages of members of the faculty and student body during the summer. All three couples have chosen Eugene as their home and are still actively connected with the University.

The marriage of Edna P. Datson to the Rev. H. W. Davis on August 3 in Portland was the first event, and friends of Rev. and Mrs. Davis are welcoming them back on the campus where Mrs. Davis has resumed her duties as director of the halls of residence of the University and the Rev. Mr. Davis is serving in the dual capacity of inter-church pastor and Y. M. C. A. secretary on the campus. Rev. and Mrs. Davis are now established in their new home on College Crest.

On August 28th the marriage of two prominent and popular members of the faculty took place in Eugene. Mrs. Walter Barnes will be remembered as Miss Mary Watson of the English department and both she and her husband have returned to the campus to carry on their classes. The wedding was a quiet one at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. F. J. Shoemaker of Eugene and the ceremony was performed by Rev. Bruce Griffen of Eugene. Mr. and Mrs. Barnes are residing at 944 East 19th street.

A third announcement which came as a surprise to the campus and which is of particular interest to majors in the school of journalism and in the dramatics department was that of the marriage of Patricia Novlan and Leon Byrne. The ceremony was performed in Seattle on August 25th where Mrs. Byrne's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Novlan, live. Mr. Byrne is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Byrne of Eugene and both he and his wife will continue their courses at the University this year. They are living at 577 East 13th street.

ROBIN HOOD AT BEX

Heavens! Douglas Fairbanks wearing a beard! Honest! In his "Douglas Fairbanks in Robin Hood," and he's now at the Rex.

It's a United Artists release, too. It happens while he is being Robin Hood in Sherwood forest, England. "You can't expect a bandit to shave every day," said Fairbanks, in discussing the new hirsute ornamentation. "Villa, even, didn't do that. Whenever he had a battle scheduled, he avoided shaving purposely. And think of the advantages Villa had, as compared to Robin Hood. In those days they had no safety razors. Imagine a modern bandit dashing out for a raid without his trusty safety razor. Impossible! Absurd, in fact. Why, he might be away several days!

Pledging Announcement

Kappa Omicron announces the pledging of Dorothy Poill of Eugene and Helen Kiblan of St. Helens.
