

EXTEMPORE SPEAKING CANDIDATES SELECTED

Moore and Conway Succeed in Passing Tests

Martin Moore and Ephraim Conway were the two candidates chosen in the semi-finals of the extempore speaking contest held in Villard hall Saturday morning. These two men will work on the general subject for the contest to be held at the Pacific coast public speaking league's convention on November 1, for the next two weeks; then a final tryout will be staged to select the speaker who will represent Oregon at the convention.

Forensic heads expressed their pleasure over the turnout Saturday and said they were greatly encouraged over the spirit and interest displayed so far in the debate and oratorical work by the students. Judges at the tryout Saturday were H. E. Rosson and Gerritt Demmink.

Nineteen men are actively working on the debate squad in preparation for the Oregon-O. A. C. Reed triangular debate which is to be held December 7. Mr. Rosson, coach, said yesterday. Competition for positions on the varsity team is going to be keen this year, he stated. Some of the men have had experience in the varsity work here, others were active in forensic work in high school, and a number have participated in debate work at other institutions. The question to be argued is "Resolved, that the United States should immediately recognize the soviet government of Russia."

TOTAL ENROLLMENT IS 2403 FOR FALL TERM

Men in Each Class But Juniors Have Heavier Enrollment Than Women; 203 in Medical School

Registration closed Saturday with an enrollment of 2403 full time campus students. Of this number 203 are students at the Portland medical school. One thousand and one persons have enrolled for correspondence work, and, although registration at the Extension Division in Portland has not been completed, there will be an increase over last year's enrollment of 1413, said Mr. Spencer, registrar.

According to the rules of the University, all study cards must be filed within two Saturdays after filing day, unless special permission to enroll is given because of justified tardiness. There were very few of these cases this fall, said M. Spencer, and students registering this late are only permitted to carry light work.

The statistics from the office of the registrar show that in every class but the junior one, the men have the heavier enrollment. This is also true of the law and graduate students and those comprising the miscellaneous registration, composed of specials, Eugene Bible students, and the veterans' bureau. The total number of men registered is 1153 and 1047 women.

FOUR GRADUATES GET ACCOUNTING DEGREES

Faculty Men to Speak Before Portland Merchants; Robbins Will be Host to Honorary Societies

Of the 25 persons who took the examinations in certified public accountancy held in Portland last spring, only five passed. Of the five who passed, four were graduates of the University of Oregon school of business administration. Charles Van Zile and Carl Myers, '22, Verne McDugle, M. A., '22, and Joseph Olson, '23, were the successful candidates. They received their C. P. A. degrees and are now in the employ of accounting firms in Portland.

Faculty members of the school of business administration are greatly pleased at the showing made by the Oregon men.

Dean E. C. Robbins, Prof. C. L. Kelly and Prof. F. A. Nagley were called to Portland to speak before the retail grocers' branch of the Oregon retail merchants' association at its regular meeting Monday noon. They addressed the grocers on various aspects of the costs of retail grocery business. They returned last night.

Wednesday noon Dean Robbins will be host to all members of honorary societies of the school of business administration at luncheon at the Anchorage. Anyone belonging to one or more of the following societies is urged and cordially invited to attend: Pan Xenia, Phi Theta Kappa, Beta Gamma Sigma, Alpha Kappa Psi, and Beta Alpha Psi.

COLLEGE NOTES

University of Idaho.—Records show that the University of Idaho football squad which started training for the 1923 season did not contain a man ineligible on account of scholastic standing last year. This applies both to candidates from the '22 freshman team and to those of last year's squad eligible to further competition.

Cornell.—A new regulation at Cornell provides that any person who has represented any other college or university in any sport cannot represent Cornell in that same sport. This ruling is expected to greatly influence Cornell's future athletics.

Oklahoma Agricultural College.—One of the ten largest radio stations in the world will soon be built on the Oklahoma Aggies' campus. The legislature appropriated $5,000 for the purpose.

Cornell.—Cornell will begin her debating season in a clash with Oxford, October 13. This is the first time in recent years that the two schools have met in other than athletic competitions.

University of Minn.—The University of Minnesota expects to have as a representative on the mythical all-American football team this year, Captain Earl Martneau, at the close of his brilliant football career. Critics and officials rate him as one of the best of recent products of Western gridirons. He was placed on the all-Western eleven unanimously, last year.

DO-NUT RIFLE SHOOTING WILL START NEXT WEEK

Each Organization May Enter Team in Contest; Rifle Squads Chosen at Close of Matches

Do-nut rifle shooting for men and women will commence next week, according to Captain J. T. Murray, instructor in the R. O. T. C. and in charge of gallery practice. Each living organization on the campus is invited to enter a team in the contest, which will be featured by the awarding of a cup to each of the winning men's team and the winning women's team.

"Each team must consist of not more than ten individuals nor less than five," said Captain Murray. "Each fraternity and sorority desirous of entering a team must select a manager who will be responsible that a list of their contestants be in the R. O. T. C. office not later than Saturday, October 20. In case of the dormitories and the Oregon club, each person must turn in his name individually. These organizations will be handicapped because of their size by requiring their team to consist of 10 to 20 persons and taking half their total score.

"On Monday, October 22, all contestants should report to the barracks and be assigned a certain thirty-minute period for practice. The schedule of matches will then be posted.

"All men who participate must be active members of the R. O. T. C."

At the conclusion of the matches, several men and women will be picked for the University rifle squads. These squads will participate in a number of inter-collegiate matches during the winter and spring.

A good start is being made by the University band, as there were 70 men on hand for practice last week. These will be thinned out and a better organized group will accompany the football squad and students to the Stanford game in Portland on November 10.

"CRAM CLUB" ORGANIZED

Spencer Head of Group of 'Grinding' Graduate Students

"Thou shalt not cram!" How often have we heard it from our professors, but—scandal—a "Cram Club" has been organized by eight instructors! The club has for its "Chief Grind!" P. L. Spencer, mathematics professor in the University high school, and consists of graduate students working for an M. A. degree.

The personnel of the club is as follows: P. L. Spencer, Edgar Means, Charles Franseen and R. S. Dickerson, instructors in education; E. L. Hoskin, science instructor in U. H. S.; Ethel Wakefield, commercial instructor in the high school; and Harold Benjamin, principal of the University high school.
