

OREGON CLUB OUT FOR ACTIVE MEN

Drive Ends With Mass Meeting Monday at "Y" Hut

CARLESON HEADS GROUP

Claude Robinson in Sympathy With Organization

The men's Oregon club is conducting an active campaign for members during this week and next with the intention of getting every man on the campus, not a member of any living organization, to turn out to a mass meeting at the Y. M. C. A. hut on Monday evening, October 29.

At this meeting a committee, appointed at the regular meeting of the club last Monday, will present a draft of a constitution for the club which will provide for a closed organization.

Closed Body Aim

The purpose of those who are behind the movement to make the club a closed organization is to bring about a greater interest in the work of the club. In speaking of the activities of the club last year, Louis Carleson, president of the organization said, "We started off with good prospects for a live organization a year ago—last fall, but as the term progressed the men seemed to loose interest. That is the thing we want to prevent this year. There are wonderful opportunities for the men not in any living organizations to get into the campus activities through the Oregon club, but heretofore they have not taken full advantage of them."

It is held by some members of the club that greater interest could be maintained in the campus activities and in the interests of the organization itself, if members were selected to the group instead of allowing them to come in on their own initiative as is now done.

The present constitution of the Oregon club provides that the only requirement for membership shall be the payment of a fee of 50 cents per term and that the candidate for membership shall be a student in the University not connected with any living organization.

Three Hundred Wished

It has been pointed out by those interested in the welfare of the club that there should be two or three hundred members of the organization under these requirements for membership. As a matter of fact, however, there are seldom more than 25 or 30 members actually belonging and taking part in the activities of the club.

In a statement issued yesterday regarding the Oregon club, Claude Robinson, student body president said, "I am heartily in sympathy with the Oregon club. We want its members to realize a group spirit, to participate in campus activities, put teams in do-not contests, and serve on student body committees. Any move to bring about such a group spirit will receive my hearty support."

Students eligible to membership who have not yet joined the club may do so by calling at the Y. M. C. A.

CO-OP STORE MANAGER CONCEDES A MISTAKE

may retain the good-will of the Eugene business houses, the cooperative store competes on an equal basis with all other local establishments. This accounts for the similarity of prices in the various stores of the town including the Co-op. Whereby the student saves is by membership in the cooperative association, by saving his sales tickets, and by presenting them at the close of the year for the apportionment of his dividends.

"The Co-op has not been able to do business on any other basis," said the manager. "In the last three years the business has seen a gross turn-over of $140,000. To make this possible the students have through membership supplied capital aggregating $2,300. The remainder of the capital had to be borrowed.

"Thus has the business been conducted. What profits the business to provide for expansion made necessary by the growth of the student body and the subsequent increase in volume of business. The store at the present time has a heavy bonded indebtedness, the interest on which is paid periodically. Never since the incipency of the cooperative plan, has the manager defaulted in a payment to its creditors. An attempt has never been made to satisfy the creditors beyond remitting the interest on the bonds, for to pay off the entire indebtedness would leave it without any working capital with which to maintain the business and enlarge the stock as the trade demands it."

Thus if the entire indebtedness were paid, the store would be back to the condition in which it started, according to McClain.

McClain says "Student Owned"

"It is to be understood that the store is student owned," said McClain. "The students who are members of the store comprise a cooperative association which is recognized as such under the state laws. The persons who lend their money to furnish the capital for the organization have no voice in the management or the policy of the association. They are merely bondholders receiving periodically their interest accrued. I would have the students understand that the store is owned by those that are members in the association. All the business transacted is in their name."

GWLADYS KEENEY WINS ELECTION BY 3 VOTES

Committee Will be Appointed to Take Charge of Teas; October 23 Set for First Affair

As a result of the special election of Women's league today, Gwladys Keeney will serve as vice-president of the organization for the coming year. Voting during the day was very light and the final count showed 117 votes for Miss Keeney and 114 for Virginia Pearson, the other candidate for the position. This was determined after a recount of the votes had been made by the committee in charge, of which Anna DeWitt was chairman.

The vice-president of the league has charge of all social activities of the organization. She will appoint a committee immediately to take charge of the teas which are given in the sun parlor of the Woman's building every Tuesday. The first of these is set for Tuesday, October 23. These teas have been sponsored by the Women's league for several years and afford one of the best opportunities for the women of the University to become acquainted.

PHI PSI QUINTET WINS FROM BETAS, 13 to 12

The first game of yesterday's schedule resulted in a 14 to 11 victory for the Bachelordons team over the Sigma Nus. The game was slow and uninteresting, with repeated fowling on both sides. The team work of both houses was bad, and after working the ball down the floor, both teams would miss shots that should have been made. For the first half the Sigma Nu team had the lead by three points, and were able to keep it until well into the second when a series of long shots by Meyer, Crary and Garner, Bachelordons, put their team in the lead. Individual stars were Lee for the Sigma Nu and Meyers for the Bachelordons—each making six points for his team.

Bachelordons (14) (11) Sigma Nu

Garner 5.....F.....3 Wallace
Crary 2.....C.....2 Dahl

The games scheduled for Wednesday are:
7:00 p. m. Alpha Beta Chi vs. Kappa Delta Phi.
8:00 p. m. Phi Gamma Delta vs. S. A. E.
