

COMMUNICATIONS

Letters to the EMERALD from students and faculty members are welcomed, but must be signed and worded concisely. If it is desired, the writer's name will be kept out of print. It must be understood that the editor reserves the right to reject communications.

MR. ANONYMOUS—ATTENTION

To Mr. Anonymous—
You have flooded the Emerald office with letters lately, Mr. Anonymous; some of them have been good and some worthless. They have all found the wastebasket because they were unsigned.

Space conditions prevent many letters, though signed, from being printed. Often there is not room for a single one. Preference has to be given to those under 275 words which treat of real problems.

Our campus is small so personalities should be avoided. A writer who is willing to have his name published is more likely to have his article printed than one who hides behind a nomme de plume. However, names can be withheld if the letter is worth printing—provided we have your name on file.

THE EDITOR.

THE GREEN GODDESS

To The Editor of the Emerald—
Apart from the systematic British propaganda carried on in this country with the intention of misleading the people about the actual political conditions and the method of Administration in India, I find that there has been a great deal of misrepresentation of the social customs and manners of the Hindus. The movies are having their own share in the matter, and a plot woven around Indian surroundings invariably ends in the exposition of the so-called Oriental witchcraft and trickery.

The "Green Goddess," which is going to be staged on the campus, is an instance of the kind. The plot centers around an Indian king, who is shown attempting to offer two European travelers as human sacrifices to the Green Goddess. No one denies that there are many social customs in India that are hindering their progress, apart from their political subjugation, but that ought not to give any one's imagination a free scope to weave plots that entirely misrepresent the national characteristics of the people. It is tragic to see that a university, perhaps unconsciously, is helping to circulate such misrepresentation.

Indian history is peculiarly free from any bloodshed carried on in the name of religion. There never was an institution like the "inquisition," or "lynching," much less "human sacrifices," in any authentic period of Indian history. The Sati was the only institution that does bring disgrace to India, but even then one ought not to forget that his voluntary self-immolation was the outgrowth of the political conditions of India in the 16th and 17th century, was restricted to a small part of India where foreign persecution was severe, and to the upper class alone. It had a very heroic beginning into the details of which I cannot enter here.

India expects the moral support of the Americans in her struggle for freedom from the yoke of a foreign government. It pains me to see that a vast majority of the people of this most progressive nation are steeped in deep ignorance about India. Why then, in the name of fairplay, one might ask, are such untruthful plays staged in institutions which are essentially educational?

DEAN ESTERLY TO RECEIVE

Informal Tea at Home of Dean Esterly May Become Weekly Events

The home of Mrs. Virginia Judy Esterly, dean of women, will again be the gathering place for all University women who accept her cordial invitation to tea tomorrow afternoon from four until six o'clock. Mrs. Esterly's first reception to students last week was very popular, to judge from the large number of girls who "dropped in" for tea by the ample fireside at 667 East 12th street.

The event promises to be a weekly custom and it is hoped that as many women as possible will take advantage of this regular opportunity to meet and know their dean in this informal manner.

U. H. S. SENIORS TO FROLIC

Music for Hallowe'en Party Friday to be Obtained by Radio

The seniors of the University high school will frolic Friday night at the Anchorage at a hard time Hallowe'en party. Music for dancing will be obtained by radio, which Fred Burton is installing.

The room will be decorated as for a rustic barn dance, with corn stalks, pumpkins and spider-webs. A bar from which liquid refreshments will be served is expected to play a prominent part in the evening's entertainment.

DIRECTORY TO BE OUT SOON

Names, Addresses and Telephone Numbers of Every Student Given

Soon all piggers can drop the worn slogan, "I met you at open house, I think, but I don't believe I got your name."

Plans are being completed in Jack Benefiel's office to provide all those with poor memories with a guide to the names, addresses, yes, and even telephone numbers of every student in the University. The student directory, which promises to be a very complete little book, will be ready to go to press today. It is hoped that it will be ready to give out about Wednesday.

Hallowe'en Parties

Pumpkin Pies, Golden Brown Doughnuts, Big Red Apples, Pop Corn, Fresh Apple Cider—and many other good things we might suggest.

The old-fashioned Hallowe'en party is coming into its own again, judging by the many special orders this week for the above tasty good things to eat.

If you are planning a party and will call on us, we may have just the right suggestion to make.

NEW CROP NUTS

OREGON WALNUTS are noted for their fine, sweet flavor. The new crop nuts are of good size, with soft shell and well filled with white meat.

OREGON CHESTNUTS—They're a real treat when roasted right.

OREGON FILBERTS—Large nuts, sweet meat and a home product.

ALMONDS—From California comes the fresh crop paper shell almonds.

BRAZIL NUTS—Fresh shipment new Brazils—the big ones the children call "nigger toes."

PEANUTS—Fresh roasted Jumbo Peanuts.

VOGAN'S AND IMPERIAL CANDIES

The sales of our candies are showing a big increase due, we think, to our large assortment of the better hand-finished candies and the many flavors shown in the Imperial hand-dipped chocolates. All at popular prices.
