

OREGON DAILY EMERALD

Member of Pacific Intercollegiate Press Association

Official publication of the Associated Students of the University of Oregon, issued daily except Monday, during the college year.

ARTHUR S. RUDD EDITOR

Editorial Board

Managing Editor Don Woodward
Associate Editor John W. Piper

Associate Managing Editor Ted Janes

Daily News Editors: Taylor Huston, Rosalia Keber, Velma Farnham, Marian Lowry, Margaret Morrison, Junior Seton

Night Editors: Rupert Bullivant, Walter Coover, Douglas Wilson, Lawrence Cook

Sports Editor: Kenneth Cooper
Sunday Editor: Clinton Howard

Sports Writers: Monte Byers, Bill Akers, Alfred Erickson
P. I. N. S. Editor: Edwin Fraser, Ben Maxwell

Exchange Editor: Pauline Bondurant, Norborne Berkeley

Business Staff: LOT BEATIE, Advertising Managers, James Leake, Maurice Warlock, Circulation Manager, Kenneth Stephenson, Assistant Circulation Manager, Alan Woolley, Advertising Assistants, Herman Blasing, Frank Logan

Entered in the postoffice at Eugene, Oregon, as second-class matter. Subscription rates, $2.25 per year. By term, 75c. Advertising rates upon application.

PHONES: Editor 655, Manager 951

Daily News Editor This Issue: Junior Seton
Night Editor This Issue: Doug Wilson

November 10 — A Great Day

One of the classic football games of Pacific Coast football will be played in Portland, November 10, when Oregon clashes with Stanford's eleven. City alumni are enthusiastically going ahead with plans for a greater Oregon get-together in the metropolis. A program of University booster events is being planned with the game as the climax.

The success of the entire enterprise depends largely upon us. Plans can be perfected by loyal alumni, but without a monster crowd of fighting rooters the affair is doomed to be a flat failure.

Student officials have pledged themselves to the utmost in cooperation. The plan suggested by the alumni of making Oregon's greatest away-from-the-campus week-end in history the week-end of November 10, has been accepted with eagerness.

Students have a great opportunity of seeing a mighty battle. The fight will be a close one, and the team will need you.

A well-planned program is under way and our Portland alumni will need you.

November 10 will be the day of Oregon's opportunity to show Portland and the state a rousing demonstration of Oregon fight.

Multnomah field, Portland, November 10—that's the ticket.

Hallowe'en

This night the spirits will walk abroad. This night the witch will ride. The spectre will flit about in the blackness. And out amidst the ghostly darkness the pumpkin will project his lighting grimace.

When the daylight begins to wane and the dusk settles over this little corner of the earth, the spirit of superstition which breathes within us will stir, and will "seek to detach itself from its corporeal tenement and wander abroad through the realms of space."

Hallowe'en is come. Some say that once upon a time this was occasion for religious celebration. Others declare that the superstition thus associated with the eve of All-Saints day, the first of November, points to more pagan origin.

"Nutcrack Night" was the name by which it was once known. It was the vigil of All-Saints day. This day, following close upon the heels of Whitsuntide, was at that time of the year when long periods of religious celebration were less restrained. There was more of feasting and less of fasting. Merrymaking prevailed. At this particular time of the year people rejoiced at the completion of the harvest, the termination of that period of plenty and the beginning of the first month of winter.

At this season people were fanciful enough to prognosticate the future marital relations of the young people. This was done by casting nuts into the fire upon the hearth to watch which burned evenly and which popped. The one augured of a happy family and the other connubial troubles. The apple was bobbed, children sang for their soul-cape, and omens were brought into play to predict the outcome of some love-match.

Thus sentiment, tradition and superstition were woven into Hallowe'en celebration. What Burns remarked concerning this "anile chimerical solemnity" is as applicable today as it was when uttered:

"The passion of prying into futurity makes a striking part of the history of human nature in its rude state in all ages and nations; and it may be some entertainment to a philosophic mind to see the remains of it among the more unenlightened in our own."

One Year Ago Today

SOME HIGH POINTS IN OREGON EMERALD OF OCTOBER 31, 1922

The first intercollegiate debate of the year will be held with O. A. C. on November 15.

Oregon's frosh gridsters returned from Seattle yesterday where they suffered a 26 to 0 defeat at the hands of the University of Washington yearlings.

Dr. Thorstenberg is about to complete his book, "Ethnological Position of the Lapps and their Relation to European Folklore."

A call for raincoats for the cadets has been issued by the R. O. T. C.

The noise parade will be the biggest feature of this year's homecoming according to Jack Myers, chairman.

FLEDGING ANNOUNCED: Beta Theta Pi announces the pledging of Walter Socolofsky, Harold Socolofsky, and Herbert Socolofsky of Salem.

Read the Classified Ad column.

CAMPUS BULLETIN

Notes will be printed in this column for two issues only. Copy must be in this office by 5:30 on the day before it is to be published, and must be limited to 20 words.

Band—Practice at barracks at 7:15 tonight.

Oregon Knights—Meeting at 7:30 tonight.

Washington Club—Will meet Wednesday, 7:30, 107 Oregon.

New Phetians—Meeting today at 5 p. m. in Dean Straub's office.

Household Arts—Meeting at 5 o'clock Thursday, household arts building.

Zeta Kappa Psi—Meeting at 5:15 to-day, in room 5, Commerce building.

California Club—Meeting Wednesday night, Commerce building, room 107, 7:30.

Sophomore Committees—Meeting in Dean Straub's office at 7:00 p. m. Thursday.

Student Volunteers—Meeting in Mr. Davis' office at the Hut, Wednesday at 5 o'clock.

Sophomores—Group picture of class will be taken for the Oregon after the assembly on Thursday.

University Women—Dean Esterly at 667 E. 12th avenue is hostess at tea today from four until six.

The Other Campus

FLASH VIEWS OF THE DOINGS OF COLLEGE FOLK ELSEWHERE

Alaska's first college, the Agricultural College and School of Mines, has been established with an enrollment of 100 students.

The president of the sophomore class at Columbia university has announced that no form of hazing will be exercised against any freshman of that university who will present a sophomore with a cream colored Roamer.

Fraternities and sororities on the University of Montana campus have a total investment of $140,000 in houses and real estate. Nine of the seventeen Greek letter organizations own their chapter houses and others contemplate building houses in the near future.

COMMUNICATIONS

Letters to the EMERALD from students and faculty members are welcomed, but must be signed and worded concisely. If it is desired, the writer's name will be kept out of print. It must be understood that the editor reserves the right to reject communications.

CHEAP!

To the Editor:—Those who watched Saturday's game felt that they saw a good one, well played, one between true sportsmen. The rooters' seccion in the bleachers saw another struggle, a one-sided struggle, in which there was no sportsmanship. It spoiled the football for some of us.

In a University that prides itself on its good spirit; where opponents are treated with gentlemanly respect; and at a time when the good-will of the whole state is needed to support a campaign for funds; Saturday's exhibition of turning a firehose on the kids was the last thing in the world that we would have expected.

Whose idea was it? An Oregon Knight was handling the hose when we first saw what was happening, but at our distance he seemed to be directed by an older man who took charge and deliberately turned the full stream on some fifty kids in the dilapidated and unused bleachers next the grandstand. What if they did try to sneak in? They're the most loyal supporters that we have anywhere. They've got the old fight, too, for they came back for a second ducking, and a third. Most of them saw the game anyway, but wet clothes do a lot to dampen one's enthusiasm.

For an exhibition of cheap, yes cheap disregard for the feelings of a hundred kids and a thousand students, that wins the prize. Stand up and bow.

F. W. Linklater

JOURNALISM GRADUATE, '19, VISITS UNIVERSITY CAMPUS

Miss Elizabeth Aumiller, 1919 graduate of the school of journalism, visited on the campus yesterday, on her way home to Yakima, Wash., from Columbia university, New York, where she has been doing advanced work for the last two years. Miss Aumiller is a member of Delta Gamma.

TAKE YOUR TROUBLES TO THE CASTLE TODAY LAST DAY. Includes illustration of a man in a sombrero and a dog.

Kuppenheimer GOOD CLOTHES. Illustration of a man in a trench coat and a dog.

Style is for appearance, warmth is for comfort and quality for service. You get all this and plenty more fine features in Kuppenheimer Overcoats.

Refill With SANFORD'S. THE MORRAN & WASHBURNE STORE. Includes illustration of a fountain pen and ink bottle.

Designing in Masses. THE new architecture transcends detail and expresses the component solids of the great buildings of today and tomorrow. Includes illustration of a classical building.

Hallowe'en-- at last... When Jack-o-Lantern and pumpkin pie reign supreme. We will make the party a success. We will supply you with pumpkins of any size desired and all the other trimmings. Includes illustration of a jack-o-lantern.

Table Supply Co. L. D. PIERCE, Proprietor. Ninth and Oak Phone 246