

W. F. G. THACHER'S STORY PUBLISHED IN ATLANTIC

Boy's Grief Founded on Experience of Author's Youth; Few Revisions Made in Original Story

"Boy's Grief" is the name of a short story written by W. F. G. Thacher, instructor in the School of Journalism, which was published in the November issue of the Atlantic Monthly.

"The story is more or less true," said Thacher. "It was an experience I had when I was a very young boy, more or less an orphan, and more or less in love with a young girl." Mr. Thacher said he never thought of writing up the experience until recently, when the idea came to him over night to have it published. "It is one of these stories which just pop up," he explained, adding that he had scarcely revised three words of the story after he had written it. "I sent it first to Scribner's, and then to the Atlantic Monthly where it was accepted. And that is about all the history of my little story."

CHURCH CHOIR HAS PARTY

Mrs. Giffen Entertains Presbyterian Singers; Many Are Students

The Presbyterian choir was entertained at the home of Mrs. Bruce R. Giffen Tuesday night with a Halloween party. The occasion was the semi-annual dinner given to the choir by the woman's auxiliary of the church. Weird ghost stories by firelight, and other gruesome gaieties were enjoyed during the evening.

The choir is under the direction of Ronald Reid, and is composed mostly of students in the University. Mr. John B. Seifert, of the school of music, is the soloist. Last night Mrs. Giffen entertained the University girls in the Westminster Guild.

WILLAMETTE'S SYSTEM

The monthly flunk list has been posted at Willamette, serving as a gentle reminder to all students whose work has not been up to standard. Each "flunkee" must interview the president within a week. Ninety-four students have been invited to President Deney's "At Home."
