VARSITY DEBATERS PICKED FOR MEET

Frazer, Henrikson, Malcolm, Bailey and Dickey to Face Reed, O.A.C. December 8

CONTEST SUBJECT NAMED

Women Interested in Varsity Debate Work Are Asked to Perfect Year's Organization

Ralph Bailey, Ernest Henrikson, Walter Malcolm, Marion Dickey and Joe Frazer are the men chosen for the varsity debate teams which will contest with O. A. C. and Reed college, December 8.

Bailey is a junior in the law school. With four years of debating experience in the Salem high school, he entered the University in 1921 and made the varsity debating team in his freshman year. Last year he also participated on the varsity teams and represented the University at the tri-state oratorical contest held at Seattle. He won the alumni medal prize at the end of his sophomore year for the best all-around debater of the year. He is a member of Tau Kappa Alpha, men's national forensic society.

One Junior Named
Henrikson is a junior in economics. He was the Oregon candidate in the state oratorical contest held in the spring of 1922, was on the varsity debate squad during the same year and active in doughnut debate work.

Malcolm had a varied career in high school in debate and dramatic work, having been a member of the Jefferson high school team which won the school championship in his senior year. He is a sophomore in the school of law.

Dickey Experienced at Whitman
Dickey served on the varsity debate squads for two years at Whitman and was winner of the freshman extempore speaking contest in the same institution. He also did forensic work at Reed college in 1921-22. He is a second-year law man.

The fifth member of the newly-chosen teams, Joe Frazer, had considerable experience in forensic work in high school. He is a sophomore in pre-law.

Subject Is Chosen
The subject for the triangular meet December 8 is, "Resolved: that the United States should immediately recognize the Soviet government of Russia."

All women who expect to take up varsity debate any time during the year, regardless of their year at the University, are asked to report at H. E. Rosson's office at 3:15 Wednesday afternoon.

STATE ELECTION TODAY; FEW STUDENTS REGISTER

Two Taxpayers and Declaration of Intention to Live Here Needed in Swearing-in Process

With special state election day at hand, and student registration light, from 50 to 100 or more students will probably be sworn in, according to R. S. Bryson, clerk of Lane county. There are always a large number, he said, who fail to register and come at the last minute to vote.

Of the 21 precincts in Eugene, Mr. Bryson named several in which the students will probably vote. The Fairmount Christian church on the corner of 17th and Columbia is precinct number 19; Masters Garage, 1937 Franklin Boulevard, is number 20; the Patterson school is number 17; the Heifrin residence, 1159 Mill, is number 12; the Smith residence, 574 E. 13th, number 18; and Williamson Plumbing shop, 94 E. 10th, is precinct 13.

No student can vote here, according to Mr. Bryson, unless he intends to make his home here, and students out of the state must be in the state six months before being allowed to vote. Any student not registered but wishing to vote may do so by being sworn in by two taxpayers who swear to his name, age, character and place of residence.

NED BLYTHE BUYS INTEREST IN VANCOUVER COLUMBIAN

E. N. (Ned) Blythe, of the class of 1922, has just purchased an interest in the Vancouver (Wash.) Columbian from Herbert J. Campbell, '04. Mr. Blythe, who has been engaged in newspaper work in Hood River and Portland since his graduation, resigned as head of the Oregon Journal copy desk to go to his new field.

Sponsors Seek for Sponsees; Tea Is Slated for Today

Campus observers need not marvel over the fact that the last few days have seen an increased attendance among the University women at the library. They are looking up names to make dates. And not the usual library dates at that.

Today from 4 to 6 o'clock the Women's league is sponsoring the "Big Sister" tea at the Woman's building. The affair takes the place of the sponsor-sponsee dance which has been given in previous years. Each upper-class woman has been allotted the name of some freshman woman whom she is to take to the tea.

The names of the freshman women and their sponsors have been placed on a list on the bulletin board at the library, and on a list which has been sent to each house. By these lists a double check is kept on the names of the women as the list in the library has the names of the sponsees arranged alphabetically and the lists in the houses have the names of the sponsors arranged alphabetically. Each sponsor is urged to look up her sponsee immediately.

The "Big Sister" teas are to be given once a month throughout the year. Each term the list of names will be changed.

ROUSING RECEPTION IS PLANNED FOR OLD GRADS

Early Signs Indicate Largest Homecoming Ever

"All advance signs and indications point to the greatest Homecoming Oregon has ever had as far as size goes," says Haddon Rockey, homecoming chairman. Already, three weeks before hand, letters asking for reservations are flowing in. Never before has there been such an early demand. The rooms and accommodations committee will scour the town within the next two weeks to secure every available room. The Osburn hotel is now entirely reserved for the entire week-end.

The campus luncheon committee is buying food for 1,000 more than last year. Jack Benefiel, graduate manager, reports that the grandstand is almost entirely sold for the game and that tickets are going fast. O. A. C. is planning to run special trains to Eugene to bring over the entire student body and its supporters.

Although the chief interest of the Portland alumni chapter is the Stanford-Oregon game on the 10th, a big campaign is on to bring a record crowd of Portland alumni down for Homecoming.

"If interest, enthusiasm and organization can be taken as indication of a good reception for the old grads, we are certainly due for a great Homecoming this year," says Rockey. "Every detail is being worked out so that the entire program will run off with smoothness and precision. Committee chairmen have taken hold of their particular responsibilities in a most admirable and enthusiastic manner and are intent on putting their events over in the very best possible style."

The Homecoming directorate, composed of the advisors and the heads of the various committees, will meet later in the week. At this time every chairman will make a report on the progress of his special branch of work, and will make suggestions, or raise for discussion any problem with which he has been confronted.

It is hoped by the Homecoming heads that through this method there will be a minimum of wasted effort and that each committee will be working in harmony with the other departments, and with the Homecoming heads themselves.

SIX WOMEN WIN TRIP

Girls to Attend Horse Show in Portland as Guests of Instructor

One advanced and five beginning members of Mr. Bangs' riding classes are to be given a trip to Portland to attend the horse show and fair, as guests of Mr. Bangs.

Elizabeth Nash, Wanda Templeton, Ardis Welch, Eleanor Holman, Esther Whelean were chosen to represent the beginners. When tests of horsemanship were made to determine the lucky advanced student, Marjorie Cooper of the beginners' class was allowed to compete, with the result that she was successful.

Girls whose homes are not in Portland will have all hotel expenses paid. Miss Florence Alden of the faculty of the women's physical education department will act as chaperon.

STANFORD GAME PLANS ANNOUNCED

Portland Will be Scene of Lively Noise Parade and Rally Before Grid Clash

SPECIAL TRAIN SCHEDULED

Organization Having Noisiest Device to Receive Box for Game, Donated by Benefiel

Noise, parades and rallies will be featured the night and morning before the Stanford-Oregon game at Portland, Saturday. A special train will be run by the Southern Pacific at 4 o'clock on Friday afternoon. The train will be a limited and will arrive in Portland by 7:30. Special rates of $4.90 round trip are made for students. The tickets will be good for return until Tuesday. The special will be equipped with a cabinet lunch car.

The University band will go on this special student train and at the depot the crowd will form a rally and march to the Multnomah Amateur Athletic club where a stag rally will be staged. There will be short speeches by prominent alumni and ex-yell leaders.

Noise Parade Downtown

After the rally there is to be a noise parade, starting from the club and proceeding downtown. Girls are expected to take part in this parade as well as the men. Each house will furnish one noise maker. Jack Myers, yell king, asks that each campus house communicate with alumni in Portland to insure an adequate noise machine at the rally. A special box at the game will be the prize given the alums of the house with the best noise maker. This box has been donated by Jack Benefiel, graduate manager. The noise parade starts at 9:30 Friday night.

Saturday at 12:30 everyone, man, woman or child, is expected to be at the Imperial hotel for the big pre-game rally parade. This parade is to be a student affair. Everyone is expected to bring rooters' caps or banners to make the event as colorful as possible.

Tickets on Sale

Students are advised to get their tickets for the game now. The tickets are on sale at the Co-op for one dollar upon presentation of student body tickets.

At 2:30 the game begins. A short ceremony precedes the opening of the play. "The Star Spangled Banner" will be sung and officials of the state will take part in the proceedings. Throughout the game it is planned to feature the singing of Oregon songs other than "Mighty Oregon." Jack Myers asks that the girls keep this in mind and help make the singing effective.

Between halves, if the weather permits, there will be a serpentine on the field. The singing of the chant, and a few yells will be the features of this part of the program. It is planned to have a stunt in the bleachers also.

Grads to Celebrate

"It is to be hoped that Oregon undergraduates realize the splendid opportunity they will have of staging a display of real Oregon spirit in Portland on November 10," says Robert B. Kuykendall, president of the Alumni Association, in discussing plans for the Portland rally. Oregon grads in Portland are planning extensively, it is reported.

CLASS MAKES SURVEY OF EUGENE DOWNTOWN

Statistical Management Students Map Out Location of Business Firms and Estimate Traffic

What's the best location in Eugene if based upon the number of people that pass by? Members of the records and statistical management class, armed with huge sheets of paper, parked themselves at the corners of the business district of Eugene yesterday and kept accurate account of the number of pedestrians who passed.

Until 3:30, men outnumbered the women pedestrians by a large majority. Near 4 o'clock the number of young women shoppers increased at a sharp rate.

Each student mapped out a half block both ways showing the location of the business houses and the sizes of the front and the kind of business was designated. The name of the firm, the number of floors and the type of building were also noted.

Last year, Eighth and Willamette was judged the best location, based on the number of pedestrians that passed by.

Y. W. C. A. FINANCE CAMPAIGN STARTS

Representatives at Meeting Plan Launching of Drive in Women's Organizations

THURSDAY NIGHT IS LIMIT

Greater Interest in Work of Group Recommended by Chairman of Committee

The annual Y. W. C. A. finance drive starts today for three days of active and concentrated canvassing among the women's houses, halls and town groups. The estimated budget calls for $1,600. Before a 100 per cent attendance of committee heads at the luncheon given yesterday, plans were formed and outlined for the launching of the drive today. At the various house meetings in women's organizations last night, announcement of the drive was made, and today noon representatives of the finance committee will go to each house to work up enthusiasm and interest among the women for the drive.

Workers Appointed

The finance worker appointed in each house will make a report to Luella Hausler and Margaret Seymour, both of whom are in charge of the drive, at the Y. W. C. A. bungalow each day at noon. Hazel Borders is now working on some device by which results of the drive can be posted up each day. The campaign officially closes Thursday evening, and it is expected that that will be sufficient time for all the organized groups of women to turn in their subscriptions. However, as there are so many women living out in town, committee heads do not expect to finish the entire drive until the last of the week.

Greater Interest Promoted

"We are trying to promote a greater interest among the University women in the Y. W. C. A. this year," said Luella Hausler, chairman of the drive, "and we want to have that ideal before the women as well as the goal of the finance drive, in order to have a greater unity among the women in working for the final purpose of the Y. W. C. A." The Y. W. C. A. is the only special place where all the University women can come as a whole for their gatherings, aside from their various other meetings, and it is a place which gives them a different side of college life, said Miss Hausler.

In addition to the $1,600 being raised by the Y. W. C. A. women on the campus, the advisory board of the association will raise $1,500 during the year among the town and faculty women.

Y. W. TO SELL YELLOW HOMECOMING FLOWERS

Committee Headed by Claudia Broders Will Take Orders at Both Men's and Women's Houses

Orders for the yellow chrysanthemums to be sold by the Y. W. C. A. for Homecoming will be taken this week, reports Claudia Broders, head of the committee in charge of the sale of the flowers. The flowers this year will be home grown, and are expected to be of a better grade than those of previous years, which have been imported from California.

Each girl on the committee will take orders from one men's house and from one women's house. The flowers will be delivered at the houses and halls, or they may be called for at the Y. W. C. A. bungalow. The chrysanthemums are to be delivered in boxes. They will be divided into three grades, and any one ordering the better grade will expect to get the very best attainable this year, Miss Broders says.

The money obtained from the sale of the flowers will be used in the fund which is used for improvements about the bungalow.

NEWSPAPER MEN ON TRIP STOP TO VISIT CAMPUS

Two newspaper men, George W. Greene, graduate of the University of Wisconsin school of journalism, and F. Harlan Bohm, former University of Iowa student, recently visited the campus on a 5,000-mile drive from Davenport, Iowa, to Puget Sound by way of Colorado, Wyoming, New Mexico, California and Oregon. The trip will end at Seattle or Vancouver, B. C. Both men expect to undertake newspaper work in the north.

Sculptors Color Oregon Seals for Homecoming Mail

"A little more gold for the border—" "Loan me your brush just a minute!"—such conversations could have been heard in the Sculpture building for many evenings past. The meaning? Just this, that the members of the Sculpture club have temporarily traded their mallets and chisels for water colors, and are painting Oregon seals to be used on the Homecoming invitations.

"The Sculpture club has had the sale in mind since last year," said Clarence Irwin, president of the organization. "The design was perfected by Professor Avard Fairbanks. The small seals can be used for letters, and the large ones either for letters or book-plates."

The sale will begin in front of the library at 1:00 p. m. promptly today, so those who want to induce the old grads to use "mens" to "Agitate moem" and return to the campus, and those who wish to give an Oregon flavor to their love letters or Christmas gifts must be on hand early. The seals are painted in three colors. The proceeds will be used toward a new case for the Mary Warner collection of Oriental art. Packages of the small ones will sell for a dime, and the large ones for 15 cents.

MEN'S GLEE CLUB GIVES SUCCESSFUL CONTESTS

Exceptional Talent in Group, Believes Director

Singing before large houses at both Whitman college and W. S. C. last week-end, the men's glee club gave its first concert of the year. The program, which was worked out in only three weeks, was received enthusiastically by the music lovers who attended and the club responded to an unusually large number of encores.

A joint concert was given with both men's and women's glee clubs at Pullman, the occasion being rally night before homecoming. The evening's program ended with a big yell-fest and bonfire.

A hearty and courteous welcome was also given the glee club at Whitman. In a town paper the following appreciation was given: "The entire concert was a credit to the University of Oregon and may be safely called one of the best concerts ever given by a visiting glee club in this town."

Soloists and specialty men who received heartiest applause at the concert are Roy Bryson, Ronald Reid, Doc Furry, Lyle Palmer, Si Muller and Dale Cooley. Ted Baker scored a hit by his "impromptu monologue."

"Two hours packed full of good things with lots of snap and a thousand laughs!" promises John Stark Evans, director of glee clubs in regard to the home concert to be given by the men's glee club in December. "As the glee club is going in such a fine shape the concert will be given earlier this year instead of in the spring as has previously been the custom."

"This year's club is the best group I have ever had, both in quality of voices and versatility. There is exceptional talent for specialty and comedy work in the club this year. Music will be of a somewhat lighter nature than last year's program featured, although there will be several heavier numbers."

For the first time, the orchestra and both men's and women's glee club concerts will be included in the student body ticket, instead of charging extra admission, as has been the custom in previous years.

NEW INSTRUCTORS NOW IN CORRESPONDENCE DIVISION

There are several new instructors in the correspondence department of the extension division this year. Among them are Mrs. Georgia Benjamin, who is in the English department; Miss Ione Harkness, history; E. W. Tavener, education, and George Riddle, in the mathematics department. These instructors correct all papers and make suggestions for study as the students require it. This work is supervised by Dr. Clark, who is head of the University correspondence division.

KENNETH MOORE, LIBRARY ASSISTANT, HAS OPERATION

Kenneth Moore, library assistant, underwent a major operation Saturday at the Eugene hospital. Moore was operated on for appendicitis six weeks ago. He returned to his work before gaining sufficient strength and suffered a relapse which necessitated the second operation. It is not expected that he will be able to return to school this term.

CRIPPLED VARSITY TO FACE CARDINALS

Backfield and Line Both Hit by Sickness and Bruises After Washington State Victory

VONDER AHE ILL FROM TRIP

Latham and Terjesen Injured; Stanford Looms Strong for a Conference Championship

Things don't look quite so prosperous in the Oregon football camp. The W. S. C. barrier proved too much for the varsity hurdlers and they came back to Oregon with a conference defeat and a pretty fair sized list of sick and injured.

The outlook for the coming week-end is not one whit brighter than that of last week, for, according to men who have seen them in action, the Stanford team is a mighty tough proposition, now that it is going right.

Lineup Weakened

Add onto this, that Shy will have to present a lineup next Saturday that is partially bungled up and generally the worse for wear. Terjesen's leg is still bothering him considerably, but Bill will probably have him in pretty good running shape by Saturday. Karl Vonder Ahe is confined to his bed with a light attack of tonsillitis and it is rather doubtful whether or not he will be in shape to meet the Cardinals. Latham brought home a good healthy limp from Pullman but he will be 'tarin' to go by the end of the week.

Oregon Has Chance

To all intents and purposes, Oregon cannot be regarded as one of the strong contenders for the Coast championship, but there is yet a chance for her to end up at the top of the conference heap. In order for this to happen, it is necessary for Oregon to trim Stanford and the Cards, in turn, would have to hang it over the Golden Bear. Then, up in the north, W. S. C. would have to beat Washington and so would Oregon. Then, of course, Idaho would have to take a trimming at the hands of one of the southern institutions.

Stanford Dangerous

Stanford is looming as one of the dangerous combinations on the coast this season, and, although she took a beating at the hands of the Trojans, those who have seen the red-shirted eleven from Palo Alto say that the forward defense will average a few pounds short of 200. The rumor that floats up from the south leads one to believe that the Stanford line has speed as well as beef. One thing that is not a rumor and that is that Stanford rolled up a 40 to 7 score against the Olympic club and that the accounts of the game indicate the Cards had things all their own way throughout the contest.

Shy has started holding his workouts behind closed doors, so to speak, and secret practice will be the order for the week, while the coaches are getting the crew in shape for Saturday's tangle with the Cards.

SYMBOLIC FIGURES TO ADORN POWER PLANT

Avard Fairbanks Working on Sculptural Panels; Finished Product to be Cast in Cement

Two reliefs for the front of the new power plant are under process of composition by Avard Fairbanks, professor of sculpture. Drawings of tentative designs have already been worked out and now the clay has been set up.

The subjects are to be symbolic and worked out in the Aztec manner of high decorative quality, which will be in direct contrast with the simplicity of the building. The one on the right will represent fire and steam, with a seated figure in plume and drapery, and smoke used as a motif. The figure for the left panel will be representative of power, the subject being a man kneeling and putting all his energy into the turning of a gigantic wheel.

The panels are about 54 inches by 46, and will be cast in cement. A plaster cast will be made first and the cement poured into the cast. It is not known yet when the designs will be completed.

SEWING MACHINE PRESENTED BY Y. W. C. A. ADVISORY BOARD

A new sewing machine has been presented to the Y. W. C. A. by the members of the advisory board of that organization. "The bungalow is open every day and all girls are welcome to use the machine," said Miss Magowan, campus secretary, in charge of the bungalow.
