DR. TORREY INSTIGATES NEW SYSTEM ON CAMPUS

Biology and Business Ad Departments Keep Picture and Complete Record of Students

Students in the school of business administration and the department of biology on the campus may marvel at the familiarity which their instructors display with their names and faces on the campus.

An investigation into the secret, reveals the reason in a set of carefully filed folders in the offices of each of these schools containing photographs and information concerning the life of each student enrolled.

The results of the extra five minutes demanded during registration in both of these schools are seen in this cataloguing system which so far has been used only by them and originated at the instigation of Dr. H. B. Torrey of the zoology department.

Dr. Robbins explained the benefit of this system in facilitating professors in keeping a check on all students in this school, and in making it possible to become familiar with them by being able to consult a photograph when considering any matter pertaining to a student's course or welfare.

The system is proving satisfactory and of invaluable assistance, according to members of the staff of the school of business administration, and is in line with the movement throughout the country at present to put student's courses on a scientific basis, according to their propensities and ability.

soldier of China. During his three campaigns against traitorous militarists, Hall accompanied him and gained his confidence to such an extent that he was made a member of Wu's staff during the campaign of the summer of 1922, which resulted in the general's present power.

President Is Expelled Wu expelled the illegal president from the Chinese White House, and sent Hall with a special train to Tientsin to negotiate with the deposed president for his return to office.

After the earthquake at Kansu in December, 1920, Hall was sent to visit the ruined area under the auspices of the International Famine Relief committee.

At one time he was editor of the "Peking Leader" and several other Chinese newspapers. His control of the Leader was gained in a manner which seems characteristic of his unusual experiences.

Chinese Language Learned A striking fact about the noted lecturer is his familiarity with the Chinese language. He has addressed many Chinese audiences in their native tongue.

Press and personal comments of Mr. Hall and his lecture have been highly complimentary to him. Some of the outstanding ones are:

Oregon Journal—"It was told with the sureness of a participant and with the naive and charm reminiscent of the South Sea stories of Frederick O'Brien."

Lord Northcliffe—"I wish I had a hundred young men who knew as much about China as Upton Close."

Isaac F. Marcossou, prominent editor and author—"If anybody outside of God knows Chinese politics, Hall does."

Charles R. Crane, ex-minister to China—"As a correspondent, he is accurate and trustworthy, as a speaker, vivid and witty."

FELLOWSHIPS OFFERED TO AMERICA STUDENTS

Dr. Warner D. Smith Has Data Concerning Applications

Fifteen fellowships, each carrying an award of $200 plus an addition of $,000 francs payable in Paris with the privilege of taking advanced work for one year in one of 17 French universities, are being offered by the American Field Service organization.

Dr. Warren D. Smith, head of the department of geology, has the data concerning the requirements for application. One graduate student, he states, is considering applying for one of these fellowships.

The awards of the fellowships were begun five years ago. When endowed they are to be named after the men of the American Field Service who died in France. The organization proposes to make these awards for advanced study in France for American students selected from American colleges and universities.

The ability to read French books is one of the requirements for the candidate. Moral character, intellectual ability and the personality of the candidate will be considered. American citizens of the ages between 20 and 30 preferably, are eligible provided they have had college, or sufficient technical, training.

The fellowships cover practically all fields of study offered in any university of rank. Applications must be in the hands of the executive secretary before January 1.

Dr. Smith and Mr. Wells Gilbert of Portland, are the two Oregon members of the advisory board of this organization.

DEAN STRAUB IMPROVES; PHYSICIANS OPTIMISTIC

Grand Old Man Will Not be Back for Homecoming; Risk from Trip and Excitement Too Great

P. L. Campbell, president of the University, is in receipt of a card from Mrs. John Straub, on which she states that Oregon's Grand Old Man is getting along very well. Though his recovery is not so rapid as was first anticipated, physicians and friends are optimistic.

However, it is not expected that he will be able to be back at the University for Homecoming, because it is feared that such a trip would be a great risk, the journey and the subsequent excitement possibly causing a relapse.

He is now able to spend a great part of his time in a wheel-chair, and is permitted to walk around the corridors of the hospital occasionally.
