

GAMES WITH O. A. C. WOMEN CANCELLED

Finances and Other Work Prevent Matches

On account of financial difficulties, and a heavy program arranged on the campus at O. A. C., there will be no inter-class inter-collegiate games between the women of the O. A. C. and U. of O. campuses this term and next. This was the message of the letter which Miss Florence, Allen, head of women's physical education on this campus, read before the members of the executive council of the women's athletic association at a meeting held last night. The letter came from Miss Edna A. Cocks, director of physical education for women at O. A. C. "We have mapped out a rather extensive program for our campus here," the letter reads, "and we feel that in order to accomplish it, it would be better not to try inter-class inter-collegiate work, at least not for this term and possibly for the second term."

Another handicap, Miss Cocks states, is the financing of the proposition. The O. A. C. women have had difficulties in keeping within their quota and do not wish to have the same trouble again.

Inter-class inter-collegiate games were played between the two schools for the first time last year. Previous to that time, regular varsity meets had been held.

The next W. A. A. mass meeting will be held Tuesday, November 27, when letters will be awarded to girls who have made 500 points. The sweaters, to be given to girls having 1,000 points will be awarded later.

Charlotte LaTourette and Dorothy Scotten were appointed by the president, Dorothy McKee, to have charge of the point system this year.

BASEBALL FIELD TO BE READY IN SPRING

Cost Is $5,000; Provision Made for Rapid Drainage of Diamond by Use of Tile and Gravel

Oregon's new baseball diamond, being constructed south of Hayward field, is to be one of the best constructed college fields on the coast, says Graduate Manager Benefiel.

The cost is estimated at $5,000. Bleachers are to be built in the spring. The ground will settle for the winter and be completed in time for the spring workouts. It is expected that the field will be ready by the latter part of the winter term.

The diamond is constructed after the eastern kettle type, with the ground sloping in to the infield and from the pitcher's box to the home plate, for purposes of drainage. The slope was planned on a one per cent grade basis. The ground was first tiled and then covered with a layer of coarse river gravel. Upon this was placed finer gravel and finally a layer of sandy loam.

LECTURE FOR SLIDES OF NATIVES DONATED

Miss Cruikshank Depicts Indians of Umatilla Reservation in Her Statement

A lecture for a slide set on Northwest Indians has been sent the University extension division by Miss Flora Cruikshank of Duncane, Oregon. Miss Cruikshank has made a thorough study of the Indians on the Umatilla Reservation and for that reason her lecture gives authentic material.

"Material on the Northwest Indians is scant, but this lecture is entirely original and interesting, characterizing Indian life in a manner which is real literature," said Alfred Powers of the visual instruction department of the extension division. In her lecture, Miss Cruikshank points out the difference between the Northwest Indians and those of other sections of the country. She says also that "there is no more deceit among our Indians than among an equal number of whites, and that most of the prejudice against Indians comes from our first knowledge of North America's natives whose frequent and bitter conflicts with the whites were almost always the result of misunderstandings on both sides."

The pictures for the set were taken by Major Lee Morehouse, who was made U. S. Indian agent of the Umatilla reservation in 1881 and who has had much personal and friendly contact with the Indians since then.

The slides, which contain views of Indian life and members of the reservation, have been colored by Lew Tyrrell, of the extension division, following directions given by Miss Cruikshank.

Oregon Soccerites Will Meet Aggies on Kincaid Today

"O. A. C.'s soccer team will never beat us again by a score of 4 to 1, and they will be lucky if they return home with victory," said Coach Fahl, varsity soccer mentor, speaking of the game which will be played at 11 o'clock today on Kincaid field.

If Oregon's gang of kickers put up the battle that Fahl believes they will, O. A. C. will find that they are up against a different team than they defeated three weeks ago. The Lemon-Yellow booters will be somewhat handicapped with the loss of Martin, who is out with an infected leg, and Robinson, who is nursing a dislocated elbow.

Fahl has been putting two teams through stiff scrimmages every night. The men have greatly improved in dribbling, kicking and team work. Most of the players are green at the game, but have been showing "big league" class in their workouts.

According to reports from O. A. C., the soccerites from that institution are determined to make it two straight from Oregon. They have a strengthened bunch of players. This was shown in their last game with N. P. Dental college. Bill Cifre, captain of the O. A. C. aggregation, was injured in the Dental game, but it is said that he will be in condition for the fray today.

NEW WALKS ON CAMPUS

Gravel, Cement and Boards Will Add to General Appearance

Several plans are being made by H. M. Fisher, superintendent of grounds, for the improvement of campus walks and grounds. A wide cement walk extending from McClure hall of the Sociology building is to be constructed soon.

Three short cement walks have been put in on 13th street during the past week, and another is to be placed in front of the Administration building. New board walks around and leading to Susan Campbell and Hendricks halls have been ordered. All the other walks are being re-graveled as rapidly as the work can be handled.

JINX FAVORS OREGON IN GRID BATTLE TODAY

Since 1914 Lemon-Yellow Warriors Win in All Homecoming Engagements

Oregon seems to have the favorable hand of a powerful jinx which thoroughly engulfs all opponents who seek to defeat the Lemon-Yellow in a Homecoming battle. Oregon has never lost a Homecoming game. Since 1914, it has trampled upon seven opposing teams in Homecoming encounters, and has taken the measure of the O. A. C. gridsters twice and battled them to a 0 to 0 tie on the third time.

In 1914 Oregon won her first Homecoming game from Whitman by a score of 29 to 3. Old Oregon heroes like Parsons, Cornell, Bryan and Malarkey carried her to a glorious victory in her first Homecoming engagement.

In 1915, Oregon trounced O. A. C. in the first Homecoming game between the two institutions with Bissley and Beckett starring for Oregon. Bill Steers led the attack in 1917 with a spectacular 60-yard run which paved the way for a glorious 21 to 0 win over the now famous California "Golden Bears."

The Lemon-Yellow again triumphed over the Beavers from Corvallis in 1918 to the tune of 13 to 6. Jacobberger carried the burden of the Oregon offense in this game.

In 1920 Oregon celebrated her first Homecoming game on Hayward field by winning from the University of Washington, 17 to 0.

Oregon and O. A. C. met for the third time in a Homecoming game here in 1921 and battled to a scoreless tie on a field in which the teams played in mud up to their shoetops. Then last year Oregon took W. S.

C. into camp by a 13 to 0 score and made it the seventh straight win for the Webfooters in a Homecoming game.

So the men who go out there will have one jinx in their favor, but one to which they must live up to in order to win, and that is Oregon "die" spirit which has kept the Oregon slate clean through all of these years. Consequently, the men who wear the Lemon-Yellow on that field today, where Oregon has never lost a Homecoming game or even a college game, have one of the most sacred of the school's precious traditions to defend and to protect.

DALE WINTERS IS INJURED WHILE WORKING ON FIRE

Dale Winters, a freshman from Elma, Washington, was slightly hurt while working on the frosh fire Thursday night. A piece of lumber, which was leaning against the stack near where Winters was standing, fell, hitting him on the head and cutting a gash over his left eye. He was taken to the Eugene hospital where first aid was given him, returning later to his lodgings. He is around again today.

MEMBERS OF TO-KO-LO CLEAN ATHLETIC TROPHIES

All trophies won by Oregon on the athletic field, which are kept in cases in the men's gymnasium, were cleaned and polished yesterday in preparation for Homecoming. The work was done by members of To-ko-lo, sophomore honor society.

AGGIES ARE DECLARED TO BE FIGHT DEMONS

Oregon will see a continuation of that fight. Realizing the kind of game they are capable of, the Beavers are determined to increase ten fold the fury of their play. They are determined to yield not one inch of territory, in mid-field or in the shadows of their own goal posts, without the hardest fight in their power. In addition, they will unleash an attack that the Oregon men will be hard put to stop.

Dope Favors Oregon

Never in the history of the two institutions has Oregon met an O. A. C. team in the frame of mind the present one is. Knowing that most of the spectators will expect to see them lose, knowing that Oregon has never lost a Homecoming game, that the Beavers have won but four games from Oregon in the last 27 years and that the "dope" favors the opposition, the husky gladiators from O. A. C. are nevertheless sure that it lies within their power to drub the enemy. And since it is within their power, Oregon will be defeated.
