VARSITY DEBATE SQUADS CHOSEN

Twelve Men and Thirteen Women Will Work For Next Term's Contests

QUESTIONS INTERESTING

Forensic Coaches Pleased Over Number Turning Out to Last Week's Tryouts

Members of the men's and women's varsity debate squads have been chosen from among those who entered the tryouts which were held beginning last Saturday morning and continuing up till Wednesday afternoon. The squads have already been organized for preliminary work, and will collect material during the holidays. Then when the new term starts after Christmas there need be no delay in getting down to actual work on the questions.

Twelve Men Named

Those who have been placed on the men's squad to work on the Stanford-Washington-Oregon triangle to be held March 6 are: Ernest Henriksen, Herschel Brown, Sol Abramson, Ted Larsen, Willard Tucker, Edna Spencer, Mildred Bateman, Dorothy Newman, Cecil McKereher, Margaret Woodson, Margaret Clarke, Mary Raker, Dorothy Abbott, Lela Wade, Ellen McClellan, Mildred Whitecomb, and May Helliwell. The squad and team will be on the same basis as the men's. The question of the Ruhr invasion, which is another form was part of last year's women's varsity work, will also be used this year. The question will be worded, "Resolved that France should immediately evacuate the Ruhr district."

Women Selected

Women who were successful in the tryouts and who will take up work for the O. A. C. Willamette-Oregon contest which will take place February 15 are: Gertrude Tucker, Edna Spencer, Mildred Bateman, Dorothy Newman, Cecil McKereher, Margaret Woodson, Margaret Clarke, Mary Raker, Dorothy Abbott, Lela Wade, Ellen McClellan, Mildred Whitecomb, and May Helliwell. The squad and team will be on the same basis as the men's. The question of the Ruhr invasion, which is another form was part of last year's women's varsity work, will also be used this year. The question will be worded, "Resolved that France should immediately evacuate the Ruhr district."

Coaches Encouraged

H. E. Rosson, coach of debate, and Gerrit Demmik, his assistant, are much encouraged by the interest shown in the tryouts, and feel that this should be a good season for forensics, despite the fact that the material is so new and the schedule so heavy.

NEVADA FOOTBALL MEN GIVEN LARGE BANQUET

University of Nevada—(P. I. N. S.)—A banquet was held in the university gymnasium this week in honor of the 79 football men who stuck to the grid throughout the season. The feed was an entirely nonpartisan get-together for the football teams with all university and downtown men who were interested. About 500 were present.

"Peter Ibbetson" Is Made a Dreamy, Beautiful Fantasy

By Leon K. Byrne

DuMaurier, in his book, "Peter Ibbetson," rather than attempting to draw a moral, tell a story or depict characters, desired to make his readers feel, wanted to take them out of themselves into a fairyland of dreams, of sensations, of emotions. The dramatization of the book, done by Fergus Reddie and his pupils, and presented in the Guild theatre last night under Charlotte Banfield's direction, caught the spirit of fantasy at times and at other intervals missed it.

Anti-Tuberculosis Christmas Seals Selling on Campus

The sale of anti-tuberculosis Christmas seals is in full swing now. Each living organization on the campus is to receive $5.00 worth of these seals to sell, and everyone is urged to buy as many as possible.

"The students have always responded very generously in former years," Mrs. P. L. Campbell, chairman of the Lane County Anti-Tuberculosis Association said yesterday. "To buy these seals is a privilege and not a charity."

The proceeds of the sale go mostly to the county work, some aid for free tuberculosis clinics. Public health nurses for prenatal, child welfare, school of tuberculosis and industrial nursing service.

Students not connected with any living organization may leave their money with Mrs. McClain at the library.

TWENTY-EIGHT TO GET DEGREES IN JANUARY

If Work is Completed, 41 More Will Graduate

The University will grant degrees to 28 persons in January, 1924, according to the files at the registrar's office. There will probably be 41 more who will receive degrees, but as yet these have not completed all the required work.

Of the degrees that it is definitely known will be granted, five are to be granted by the school of education, six by the school of business administration, two by the department of bacteriology and botany, three by the department of English literature, two by the department of economics, and one each by the following: music, fine arts, medicine, history, psychology, chemistry, philosophy, and physical education.

A list of those who have met all requirements to graduate are: Gertrude Marion Braden, B. A. English literature; Wolcott E. Buren, B. A., economics; Mildred McKenzie Dow, B. S., education; Evelyn Fitzgibbon, B. S., education; Ida M. Flanders, B. A., English literature; Kathleen Gibson, B. A., music; Wadin Joseph Glovatzky, B. S., Maud F. Gorrie, B. A., botany and bacteriology; Herbert Theodore Hacker, B. A., business administration; Florence Ernestine Hartman, B. A., fine arts; Anna Hill, B. A., English literature; Willard F. Hollenbeck, B. A., medicine; Ramah Iler, B. E. A., business administration; Margaret Jackson, B. A., history; Katherine Kaye, B. S., economics; Ruth Kneeland, B. S., education; Cecile McAllister, B. A., psychology; Edward Dorris McAllister, B. A.; Albin Morgan Martinson, B. B. A., business administration; Helen M. Murdoch, B. A., education; William B. Purdy, B. B. A., business administration; George P. Robbins, B. A., chemistry; Ruth W. Russek, B. S., botany; Sephus Wade Starr, B. B. A., business administration; Chas. Frederick Stein, B. S., education; Sue M. Stewart, B. S., physical education; Edward Thompson, B. B. A., business administration; Norman T. Byrne, M. A., philosophy.

Reddie has made of his Ibbetson a thing of beauty as well as an object of wonder, and, whether or not the thing abide by the laws of dramatization, it does present, in picture, the dream children, Gogo and Mimsey in their struggle with life. Mr. Reddie, at least, has dreamed true.

A press agent has presaged Peter as the unhappy victim of his dreams, led or misled by them to a state of discord with the world. The play makes one wonder whether it would not be truer to say that

AD CLUB AFTER NEW NATIONAL

Local Society to Petition Alpha Delta Sigma For Chapter at University

PORTLANDERS THANKED

Affiliation With the Pacific Coast Association Also Desire of Organization

The University of Oregon Ad club will petition Alpha Delta Sigma, honorary national advertising fraternity, in the near future, as a result of a decision at its regular luncheon held yesterday noon.

"The possibilities of making Alpha Delta Sigma are favorable," said Frank Short, president of the club. "It means to advertising students as much as other professional fraternities mean to their members."

Scholarship is Appreciated
The club adopted a resolution to be sent to the Portland Advertising club, expressing appreciation for the $150 yearly advertising scholarship which was recently created by the Portland club. The scholarship is a distinct boost to advertising in the University. The resolution reads:

"The Advertising club of the University of Oregon is deeply appreciative of the generous interest of the Advertising club of Portland in establishing an annual scholarship for a student advertising at the University of Oregon; therefore,

"Be it resolved that the cordial thanks of the Advertising club of the University be conveyed to the Advertising club of Portland, and published in the Oregon Emerald."

Program Planned

The local club is planning to present a program at one of the weekly luncheons of the Portland club to show the donors of the scholarship that the students of the University appreciate their favor, and to bring the two clubs closer together.

It is expected that the Ad club will affiliate also with the Pacific Coast Advertising associations, in addition to the charter they already hold in the Associated Advertising clubs of the world.

Publicity Will be Handled

The club is ready at all times to handle the publicity and advertising for the activities of any campus organization, Mr. Short announced.

The men in the club are students of advertising, several of them having had professional experience, and will gladly assist if called on.

The membership of the club consists of Al Trachman, Leonard Lerwill, James Leake, Leo Munly, Art Rudd, Lawrence Cook, Lyle Jantz, Jack Burleson, Warren Small, Frank Short, Claude Reavis, Rex Lambert, H. C. Clifton, Paul Sletton, George H. Godfrey and Harold Kirk.

COSTS MONEY INSTEAD OF POINTS AT ALABAMA

Women's College of Alabama—Instead of costing points to cut classes at the Women's College of Alabama, it costs cold cash. The following faculty rules were published in a recent copy of the Wo Co-Ala News:

1. Absence from a test, due to any cause, will necessitate the paying of one dollar.
2. Absence from examinations, two dollars.
3. Two dollars a day will be charged students who leave the school early before a vacation and the same amount for each day they stay over the stated time for them to be back.

VIGILANCE COMMITTEE APPOINTED AT OHIO U.

University of Ohio—The University of Ohio has an organization known as the sophomore vigilance committee, appointed to keep students from walking on the campus grass. Each member of the vigilance committee has in his possession a whistle, upon which he sounds a warning to those who "stray from the straight and narrow cement paths."

Sculpture Club Initiates with Sugared Horror

Clay Statues Respond to Music Strains

A combination of horror and powdered sugar characterized the Sculpture club initiation on Wednesday night, when five new members were welcomed at the inner shrine of Art. At any rate, the powdered sugar on the doughnuts accompanied by several toasts in cider cheered the Bohemians after the ordeal was over.

And what is a revel without music? Even statutes, swathed to keep their clay damp and workable, must have heard.

The new members include: Mrs. Avard Fairbanks, Elaine Brockbank, Vivian Hargrove, Mabs Breckon, Manuel Souza and Victor Saari. Membership is determined on the basis of both interest and ability in sculpture.

DEAN TELLS STUDENTS OF CONDITIONS ABROAD

European Troubles Found Hard to Understand

"I thought before I went over that I knew something of European conditions, but I don't know as much now as before I went. I feel that I don't know anything. And, furthermore, nobody else does," said Dean Eric W. Allen of the school of journalism, in an address on "Glimpses of Europe," at the last assembly of the term in Villard hall, yesterday morning.

Dean Allen traveled in Italy, France and England, and was primarily interested in the people. "The Italians have dominated the world several times. They think for themselves as great among the great nations, and they are indulging in a reaction against republicanism and democracy. The common people are much more friendly and courteous than their upper classes," he declared.

"We felt a tremendous respect for the English. Their manners are not as polished as those of the Latin nations. They are more like ours. The number of unemployed in England runs up into millions. There is a gloom over the country, and I did not talk to a single person who saw a ray of hope ahead. The English people have set their teeth in an uncomplaining way and are undertaking to pay their debts.

"France is now engaged in the great and dangerous undertaking of trying to dominate Europe, the dean believes, and is in the position of the 'man who had the tiger by the tail and did not know whether he should hang on or let go.

"We hear that the League of Nations is futile, yet one of those stories that comes down from the eastern side of the old battle line

CHOIR WILL SING GOUNOD, SUNDAY

University Chorus to Give Fourth Presentation of the Mass of St. Cecilia

WORDS ARE IN LATIN

Roy Bryson, Tenor, Aubrey Furry, Baritone, and Ruth Akers, Soprano, Soloists

The St. Cecilia Mass, sung by the University choir will receive its fourth annual presentation on the campus Sunday afternoon at 4:30. It will be given as usual in the Methodist Episcopal church.

The mass, which is one of the finest things in sacred music, is sung entirely in old classical Latin. It was written by Charles Francois Gounod and was presented for the first time in the church of St. Eustache on November 22, 1855.

Three Sing Solos

There are seven numbers in the mass, the Kyrie, Gloria, Credo, Sanctus, Benedictus and Agnus Dei. The Kyrie which is a touching prayer, is followed by the Gloria in Excelsis Deo, one of the most emotional Glorias written. The Credo is a wonderful expression of faith which depicts the reverence of the true believer in God. In this number and in the Sanctus which follows unusual chorus work is displayed. The tenor solo in the Sanctus is sung by Roy Bryson. As a fitting climax to this beautiful mass the Benedictus is sung by Ruth Akers, soprano, and the chorus. Aubrey Furry is heard during the mass as the baritone soloist.

In previous years outside soloists have been used. The choir was assisted last year by Madame Rose McGrew and John B. Siefert, of the school of music, and John Claire Monteith of Portland.

Evans Directs Choir

John Stark Evans, of the school of music, is again directing the choir, and to him should go the praise for the beauty of the mass. In an interview recently, he said that the work of the student soloists is unusually fine, and that it is quite seldom soloists and especially student soloists are capable of accomplishing such creditable work.

Because of the prominence of the mass in the realms of sacred music, its appealing qualities, and the unusually fine presentation it receives by the University choir, it will without a doubt continue to be an annual affair.

PLEDGINGS ANNOUNCED

Pi Beta Phi announces the pledging of Mary Campbell of Oregon City, Oregon.

Kappa Omicron announces the pledging of Alene Larimer of Springfield, Oregon, and Mary McMahon, of Portland, Oregon.

Order of the "O" Has Paddling Bee on Library Steps

They go wild, simply wild over me. I don't know what they felt, when they've got that awful belt, but they go wild over me—sh—I'm a paddle. Thursday on the steps, come the freshlets with the reps; the tall ones, the small ones, I swat 'em all like that—spat-spat. I don't know what it can be, but they jump when they see me. Oh, the boys who wear the green, they are heard and seldom seen. They are young and all of that, but they do love to get a spat. They go wild, simply wild over me. For a simple misdemeanor, they go up and get a beaner. Then they are so very meek, that they stand and eat for a week. Oh, they go wild over me—I'm a paddle.

TODAY IS THE TIME TO BUY YELLOW TAGS

Money From Sale Goes to Convention Fund

This is tag day on the campus. Yellow tags with "A. S. U. O. delegate to Indianapolis" printed on them will be sold by the hundreds to the students. The price is fifteen cents. A booth will be placed in front of the library as headquarters for the sale.

In other words, the official delegate of the A. S. U. O., Ed. Kirtley, is to receive his financial backing from the student body, and today's tag sale is the means of raising the money. If you have forgotten your fifteen cents this morning, borrow that amount from the first friend you meet, or get it at noon, but at any rate buy a tag, say these in charge of the tag day sale.

Lot Beatie is in charge of the tag day. He is assisted by Florence Macgowan, Y. M. C. A. secretary, and her group of girls from the freshman commission.

Since Kirtley is the only one of the fourteen delegates who will make the trip to the student volunteer convention whom the student body as a whole has been asked to support directly, it is urged by the convention committee that every student support the student council's choice by buying a tag. No other means have been taken to raise the money to send Kirtley.

All the delegates but one met last evening in the "Y" hut to discuss Pullman accommodations, dates, registration fees and certificates, and to plan for the trip east. They will leave on the afternoon of December 24 and will be back in Eugene on January 5. The delegates from the U. of O. will go to Portland, where they will join the other delegates for Oregon. They will then go in special cars to Spokane, where they will join the Washington group in making up a special train which will carry them to Indianapolis and return.

FINAL HOOP GAME THIS AFTERNOON

Teams in Good Condition; Campus Championship is Pending in Today's Tilt

ADMISSION FEE 10 CENTS

Passing and Dribbling of Both Fives Good; Fijis Winners of First Mix

The Fiji and Beta quintets tangle today at 4 o'clock for the doughnut basketball championship of the University. Both teams are in the prime of condition and are determined to be the one to carry the cup home with them after the battle. The tilt promises to be a rare treat to those fans who enjoy a fast and clever contest on the gym floor.

A small admission of ten cents will be charged and the proceeds will go to the order of the "O." In previous years there has been very little standing room left at these title contests, so the fans are urged to come early and secure a ring-side seat, so to speak.

Both Groups Fast

In comparing strength, there is little to choose between the two aggregations. Both are exceptionally fast, and their scrappy spirit and cleverness has carried each to the top of the league. Both teams have been erratic in their play at times but have, with one exception, managed to pull through with a victory and by fairly decisive scores.

Each five plays an aggressive brand of ball and depends upon a clever passing offense coupled with some neat dribbling to work the ball down under the basket. Both sides have shown their ability to cage the counters from long shots, but each depends upon its ability to work the ball under the hoop for the majority of their markers.

First Game Close

These two fives have met once in this league and the Fijis carried off the honors in a torrid contest, 25 to 18. This contest was decided in the last two minutes of play. Both teams have improved tremendously since that tilt, however, and should put up a great struggle. The tentative lineups are:

Fijis: Chiles and Brown, forwards; Flynn, center; Goodell and Schmeer, guards.

Betas: Westergren and Calloway, forwards; Gunther, center; Sox and Socolofsky, guards.

Y. W. C. A. SERVES TEA

Hot Fudge Sundaes Sold to Support Delegate to Convention

Dainty Christmas menus with decorations appropriate to the season were a feature of the monthly Y. W. tea, held yesterday afternoon in the bungalow. Hot fudge sundaes—delicious? M-m-m, and cinnamon toast with tea, were all on the menu and enjoyed to the extreme by the enthusiastic patrons.

The Y. W. teas have been given each month for the purpose of raising a sum of money to send a delegate to the student volunteer convention being held in Indianapolis on December 28 to January 2.

WEEK-END DANCE AT COLLEGE SIDE INN

Jack Myers, dance promoter, has announced that the date of this week-end dance at College Side Inn is tonight, rather than Saturday.

PASSED BY EXECUTIVE COUNCIL DECEMBER 12

Resolved, by the executive council,

That we record our sense of the deep loss sustained by the University of Oregon in the untimely death of Clifton McArthur, the loss of a head wise in counsel, a hand quick to help, a heart strong in its allegiance to Oregon and its traditions. There was none we loved better, or honored more.
