

SUSAN CAMPBELL WINS CLOSE TILT

Chi Omega Downed in Last Minutes of Playing

ALPHA PHI WINS 20 TO 9

Two Halls Meet Tonight in Important Contest

The Chi Omega-Susan Campbell (2) game, played last night, was a close, exciting contest, resulting in an 18 to 13 victory for Susan Campbell. The result was a toss-up at every minute of play, the Chi Omegas leading at the end of the first half 7 to 4.

With the good work of the Susan Campbell centers, Winifred Munz and Dorothy Houk, the winners advanced to the lead two minutes before the whistle blew, when the score stood 13 to 12, still in Chi Omega's favor. Melba Byron starred for the losers with accurate basket shooting.

Forwards Play Well

Another exciting game played last night was that between Alpha Phi and Delta Zeta. The score was 20 to 9 for Alpha Phi. At first, it appeared to be an evenly matched game, 8 to 5 being the standing at the end of the half.

The Alpha Phi forwards, Irva Dale and Geneva Smith, found themselves after the half and ran away with the score. May Fan Vurpillat, center, played a star game for the winners. Pat Gregory and Easter Craddock, guards for the losers, were very good in their positions. Eileen Faragher, Delta Zeta forward, put up a good fight, but she had weak support.

The women's basketball season is drawing to a close, with most of the games played off, and only a few days left before the championship of the two leagues will be decided. Tonight's game between Hendricks hall (2), and Susan Campbell (1), will show who will be in line for the supremacy in league "B."

Hendricks Undefeated

If Susan Campbell wins, it will play Oregon club, which now ranks with the two halls with one defeat each. Then the winner of that match will play Hendricks (1), the only undefeated team in league "A." However, if Hendricks should win tonight, another game between Oregon club and Hendricks will be scheduled. No final game will be played between the two teams for Hendricks, if its opponents should be defeated. It is expected that, in case there is a championship game, it will be played off Monday.

The do-not games this year have been more successful than ever before, in the opinion of Miss Emma Waterman, referee for the contests, and there should be much good material for the class teams which will be chosen next term. She desires that all those who are interested in playing basketball come

Coleman Lamp

In our west window you can see a lighted Coleman Gasoline Lamp, revolving over and over. First it is right side up and then up side down.

The lamp is fastened on a shaft that is driven by an electric motor. It will be running every day this week and Saturday night. The demonstrating device then, according to schedule, goes to Central Oregon. We invite you to see it.

The Coleman Quicklite is a 300-candlepower gasoline lamp. It will make an excellent Christmas gift in any home not having electricity.

We carry a good stock of the Lamps and Lanterns, and all repair parts.

SALESMEN'S CONTEST COMES OFF TONIGHT

Insurance Men on Campus for Test; Prize of $30 Offered to Three Winners

A telegram has been received by the school of business administration stating that E. N. Strong, general agent for the National Life Insurance company, of Vermont, will arrive in Eugene today, in time for the annual insurance sales contest, which will be held tonight at 7:15 in the Eugene chamber of commerce. Mr. Horner, special agent for the New York Life Insurance company, will also attend. Mr. Strong and Mr. Horner represent two of the five life insurance companies who are offering cash prizes of $30 to the three winning salesmen. The other three companies concerned are the Equitable Life Insurance company, the Oregon Life and the Mutual Life Insurance company.

Russel Gowans, Shirley Edwards, Paul DeKoning, Irwin Adams, and Leonard Jordan, the five participants for the annual insurance sales contest, are said to all be well prepared for their sales talks, some of them having rehearsed two or three times in preparation for tonight's contest.

WOMEN'S GROUP VOTES TO ASSIST DELEGATE

Mary Bartholomew to Go to Student Convention

Due to the small attendance, the Women's league meeting was not held yesterday as planned. However, members of the executive council of the league voted to contribute $30 toward the expenses of Mary Bartholomew, who is to be a delegate to the student volunteer convention at Indianapolis, December 28 to January 2.

Miss Bartholomew is being sent by the Y. W. C. A., the faculty women and the Women's league, to act as a representative of the women of the University of Oregon at this conference. She expects to leave for Spokane December 24, where she will join the party from Washington, Oregon and Idaho.

It has been definitely decided that the league will take charge of the meeting of the representatives of high school girls' leagues, who will be on the campus January 11 and 12, at the time of the convention of high school student body officers, editors and managers. Edwina Richen will have charge of the committee for arranging the program for the main meeting, and

Anna DeWitt will serve with her on the committee. The annual style show, of which Wenona Dyer has charge, will be an event of the week-end.

Lurline Coulter has been appointed to act as chairman of a program committee for the Women's forum and Helen Chambrea and Georgia Benson will serve with her. Several important questions concerning the women of the University, which have been brought to Dean Esterly's office, have been turned over to the forum for action.

"HELLO PROSPERITY" REAL THEATRE TREAT

Although the student part of the usual road show audience at the Heilig was diminished slightly by the proximity of examinations, those who did attend declare that "Hello Prosperity," given Wednesday night, was a real treat.

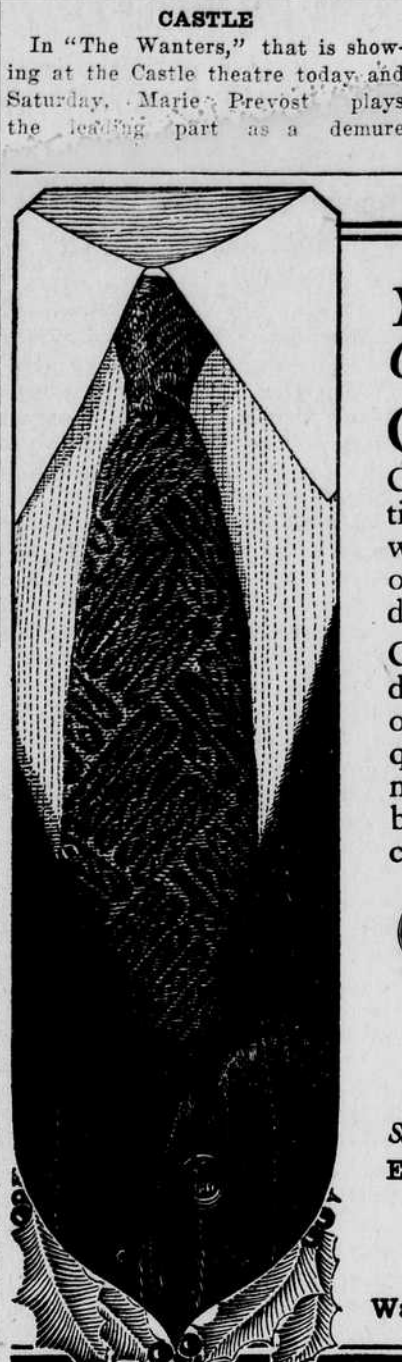

A well-filled program of songs, dances and novelty acts kept the large house laughing most of the evening. Several local jokes, including one on a leading campus fraternity, scored hits.

The management of the Heilig promise a number of future road shows of real worth, according to "Mac," the genial manager.

Your Christmas Cravat

OF COURSE you'll look your best. And a Cheney Cravat adds that final, distinctive touch which is always apparent in the dress of men who are mindful of detail.

Craftsmanship of weave and design, wide combinations of colours, and long-wearing qualities have made the name Cheney, on the neckband, mean something to college men.
