

HAYWARD PLANS FIELD APPARATUS

Track Men Work Indoors This Winter; Equipment Resembles County Fair

CALISTHENICS IN FAVOR

Bill Estimates Character and Recommends Effort to Secure Good Grades

"We haven't any natural track stars," Bill Hayward said, "so we are going to work this winter to develop some." And to that end Bill has had his inventive powers working overtime until he has devised enough apparatus to fit out a one-ringed circus. He is going to establish his county fair in the main section of the outdoor gym; so next term the athletes will have an opportunity to train under the shelter of a roof for the first time for years.

Bill has managed to secure a canvas sack from somewhere which he claims requires 11 bales of hay to fill. This isn't a bed for an elephant, but is a mat for the pole vaulters to light on, and that isn't all the equipment for the jumpers—a long rubber running mat has been confiscated and Bill has built a great wooden block with cork cleats to hold the pole at the take-off.

The shot-putters will really have

(Continued on page two.)

RETURNED LETTERMEN, TO PLAY FOR OREGON AGAIN THIS SEASON

Gowans, Forward

Chapman, Guard

Latham, Center

Shafer, Guard

Stage Set for Basketball Barnstorming Contests

The stage is all set for the grand opening of the 1923-24 basketball season, with Coach Reinhart busy putting the finishing touches on his squad of basketeers, getting them in shape to take the regular barnstorming tour during the Christmas holidays. The material which he has to work with this year is most encouraging and points toward the prospects of having a very strong aggregation built around the nucleus of lettermen returning from the fast team of last year and the large number of promising candidates which have turned out for the squad.

Bill has had a squad of some fifteen men working out regularly during the past three weeks and has devoted the majority of the practice to the necessity of securing a thorough knowledge of the fundamentals of the game. As a result, in the scrimmage of the past week, the men have shown a vast amount of improvement in their floorwork, and have developed considerable skill and accuracy in their passing, dribbling, pivoting and shooting. Having mastered these details, more time can be spent by the coach in developing the framework for the plays he will use and perfect during the barnstorming trip.

The close of the doughnut season will leave more available time for

(Continued on page three)

WEAKNESS LAID TO LACK OF MEN

Failure of Oregon to Win Track Meets Is Due to Scarcity of Material

STARS ARE NOT NEEDED

Hayward Wants Men to Place Second and Third in Championship Events

Football material for future Oregon elevens is in demand. With that point settled, that we need material here to build up winning machines, we might turn to track and glimpse the situation. At present we have no football coach. We have a track coach and a track coach with a reputation for developing teams, yet it has been some time since Oregon threw cinders in the eyes of another team and took a meet.

Is that Bill Hayward's fault? We don't think so. In fact we're certain of it. You can't blame the man who won track meets in the past and developed, men like Kelly, McClure Payne, Nelson, Boylen, Tuck, Loueks, Fee, Muirhead, Foster and a host of other stellar cinder performers. These men used to win track meets for Hayward.

Just a few short years ago Bill Hayward had Hank Foster in a track suit. With a handful of lesser lights and Foster, Hayward went out and won his meets. Hank was always good for two or three firsts and may-

(Continued on page four)

Look Here, Folks!

A good old fashioned Christmas dinner calls for a delicious stuffed Turkey roasted to a crisp brownness, with the trimmin's and everything. Surely that's the kind of holiday feast you're looking forward to.

You can have it too, if you select the Turkey from our fresh and carefully selected Poultry offerings.

D. E. Nebergall Meat Co.

Two phones, 36 and 37

66 East 9th

REMINGTON

Portable "The Gift of Gifts" for those who write.

The Typewriter supreme for students' use. Full standard key board. If you haven't the cash to make full payment, ask us to explain our term payment plan --payments like rent, and you'll soon own the machine.

Christmas Cards Fountain Pens Gold and Silver Pencils

Oriental Gift Articles Oregon Seal Jewelry Fine Gift Stationery

CO-OP