

OREGON DAILY EMERALD

VOLUME XXV

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, EUGENE, TUESDAY, JANUARY 8, 1924

NUMBER 64

EMERALD STAFF GIVEN FOR TERM

Taylor Huston Appointed as Associate Managing Editor; Five Are Needed

UPPER STAFF CREATED

Organization of Sunday
is Modeled Upon Daily;
Style to be Unchanged

Following the policy of the Emerald this year in reorganizing the staff at the beginning of each term, Taylor Huston, formerly a day editor, has been appointed associate managing editor and will assist in directing the news and executive work. He is taking the place of Ted Janes, correspondent for the Oregon Journal, who has given up his position on the Emerald until next term, due to other work.

Day editors listed are: Margaret Morrison, Rosalie Keber, Velma Farnham, and Junior Seton. Marian Lowry, who was a day editor last term, will not be able to act in this capacity for some time, as she is recovering from a recent illness.

Night Editors Listed

Rupert Bullivant, Walter Coover, Douglas Wilson, George Belknap, and Jack Burleson have been renamed as night editors.

The sport staff will still have Kenneth Cooper as its editor, assisted by Monte Byers, Bill Akers, and Ward Cook.

An upper news staff of eight members has been established, those named having been selected for excellence of their work. Qualities pertaining to accuracy in details, consistency, loyalty and general ability as reporters were considered in choosing this staff. Catherine Spall, Marian Lowry, Frances Simpson, Margaret Skavlan, Norma Wilson, Katherine Watson, Kathrine Kressmann, Mary Clerin, comprise this group of star writers.

Norborne Berkeley and Pauline Bondurant will continue to act as exchange and Pacific Intercollegiate News service editors. Louis Dammasch will assist in caring for the news service.

Five names have been added to the news staff. These are: Edward Robbins, Josephine Rice, Leonard Lerwill, Pete Laurs and Clifford Zehnrich.

Those re-appointed to the news staff are: Henryetta Lawrence, Helen Reynolds, Lester Turnbaugh, Georgiana Gerlinger, Webster Jones, Margaret Vincent, Phyllis Coplan, Frances Sanford, Eugenia Strickland, Velma Meredith, Mary West, Emily Houston, Beth Fariss, Lyle Janz, Ben Maxwell, Lilian Wilson, Margaret Kressmann and Ned French.

Contest to be Held

Several other names will be added to the staff within a few weeks. A morgue and cut service is being established, for which no appointments have been made. Announcement of a contest of prizes and awards for meritorious work on

(Continued on page three)

Santa Claus Makes Merry for Indianapolis Delegates

A real, live Santa Claus, passing out gifts from a dazzling Christmas tree and his well-filled bag, made Christmas day a merry one for the delegates of the northwest to the Indianapolis convention.

Christmas carols were sung, and speeches with the Christmas spirit were given in the day coach used for meetings, that accompanied the train which carried the delegates east. That evening the delegates, guests of the railroad company, gathered in the dining car where each school put on a stunt of some kind, and helped to enjoy the good eats given them. Mary Donaldson of the University of Oregon was chosen to cut the cake.

On the return trip the special

MEN'S GLEE CLUB WHICH APPEARS IN ANNUAL CONCERT TONIGHT

OREGON WILL MEET DEBATERS NEXT WEEK

British Columbia and Idaho Complete Triangle

The next debate on the varsity's program for this year will be the triangular meet to be held with the universities of Idaho and British Columbia, Friday of next week. The question at issue will be: "Resolved, that the United States should immediately recognize the present Soviet government of Russia."

Day editors listed are: Margaret Morrison, Rosalie Keber, Velma Farnham, and Junior Seton. Marian Lowry, who was a day editor last term, will not be able to act in this capacity for some time, as she is recovering from a recent illness.

Rupert Bullivant, Walter Coover, Douglas Wilson, George Belknap, and Jack Burleson have been renamed as night editors.

The sport staff will still have Kenneth Cooper as its editor, assisted by Monte Byers, Bill Akers, and Ward Cook.

An upper news staff of eight members has been established, those named having been selected for excellence of their work. Qualities pertaining to accuracy in details, consistency, loyalty and general ability as reporters were considered in choosing this staff. Catherine Spall, Marian Lowry, Frances Simpson, Margaret Skavlan, Norma Wilson, Katherine Watson, Kathrine Kressmann, Mary Clerin, comprise this group of star writers.

Norborne Berkeley and Pauline Bondurant will continue to act as exchange and Pacific Intercollegiate News service editors. Louis Dammasch will assist in caring for the news service.

Five names have been added to the news staff. These are: Edward Robbins, Josephine Rice, Leonard Lerwill, Pete Laurs and Clifford Zehnrich.

Those re-appointed to the news staff are: Henryetta Lawrence, Helen Reynolds, Lester Turnbaugh, Georgiana Gerlinger, Webster Jones, Margaret Vincent, Phyllis Coplan, Frances Sanford, Eugenia Strickland, Velma Meredith, Mary West, Emily Houston, Beth Fariss, Lyle Janz, Ben Maxwell, Lilian Wilson, Margaret Kressmann and Ned French.

Contest to be Held

Several other names will be added to the staff within a few weeks. A morgue and cut service is being established, for which no appointments have been made. Announcement of a contest of prizes and awards for meritorious work on

MEN'S GLEE CLUB TO GIVE CONCERT

Organization Will Make
Only One Appearance on the Campus This Year

STUDENT TICKETS ADMIT

Bolshevik Duo, Soft Shoe
Shuffle and the Varsity
Quartet are Features

The twenty-fifth annual home concert of the Men's Glee club will be presented in the Woman's building tonight at 8:00 o'clock. This will be the initial and only appearance of the club on the campus this year, and every student planning to attend the concert must also plan to present their student body ticket at the door, according to Ted Baker, the manager, for no one will be admitted unless they present either a student body or concert series ticket. For any who wish reserved seats the tickets may be purchased for seventy-five cents at the Co-op.

Mr. Colton is a member of the international committee of the Young Men's Christian association and is a nationally known person. At present he is being sent out by the American Student Friendship Fund committee to promote and to inform the country of the work of this organization.

Henry W. Davis, local Y. M. C. A. secretary, in speaking of Mr. Colton, said that he was about the best qualified of any one in the United States to present the conditions in Russia because of his work in that country. According to Mr. Davis, Colton is a very good speaker, well liked by students. Mr. Davis heard him speak at the University of Colorado.

The subject on which Mr. Colton is to speak is one very interesting today because of the prominence that Russia has been receiving of late. There has been much newspaper comment as to whether Russia should be recognized by the United States. Mr. Colton's close association with Russian conditions makes him peculiarly fitted to discuss the trend in Russia.

Mr. Colton, while on the campus, will aid in organizing the work of preparing a drive to raise money for the American Friendship Fund. The money of this organization is devoted to helping students who have suffered during the war in Russia and other European countries.

Y. M. COMMITTEE HEAD TO TALK AT ASSEMBLY

Colton Here to Organize Friendship Drive

"The Present Trend in Russia" will be the subject of E. T. Colton who is to address the student assembly Thursday. Mr. Colton has recently returned from a two year's stay in Russia where he organized the Student Friendship Fund work, working in conjunction with the American Relief association organized by Herbert Hoover.

Many Members New

The club this year is composed almost entirely of new members, but Mr. Evans, the director, says that he feels that some of the finest work yet done by a glee club under his direction is being accomplished by this group.

Following is the personnel of the club: First tenor, Dick Adam, Bert Holloway, Siemon Muller, Russell Brown and John Stark Evans; second tenor, Jack High, Hugh Walton, Charles Rhoades, Roy Bryson and Lyle Palmer; baritone, Fred West, Henry Karpenstein, Ted Larsen, Charles Dawson, Robert McKnight and Ronald Reid; bass, Aubrey Furry, Dale Cooley, Hal Lundberg, Edward Sox and Will Kidwell.

Many Features Listed

The numbers on the program are of very high quality and intermingling is the "Soft Shoe Shuffle," by Lyle Palmer, and the "Bolshevik Duo," by Muller and Cooley. Beside these features a renowned prima donna may appear on the program, if she can possibly be persuaded to give to the students a few moments of her valuable time. Fearing the many festivities which would be given in her honor, if her name became known, she has asked that it not be published. She is stopping in Eugene with friends enroute to Europe.

The varsity quartet will also appear and promises to constitute one of the most pleasing parts of the program. The members of the quartet are Dick Adam, Henry Karpenstein, Aubrey Furry and John Stark Evans.

The Men's Glee club concert has always been considered one of the biggest events of the school year, and judging from the unusually fine program offered, it may even surpass its record of previous years.

Program is Varied

The program for this evening's concert is as follows: Part I—Oregon Pledge Song, Evans; Kashmiri Song, Woodford-Finden, by the glee club; Stacrato Etude, by Rubinstein, Ronald Reid, pianist; Until, Sanderson, by the glee club; Duna, McGill; Long Ago in Alcala, Edwards; Night, Rachmaninoff and Minor and Major, Spross, by the glee club; Night, Rachmaninoff and Minor and Major, Spross; Men of Harleek, Old Welch (arr. Brewer) by the glee club.

Part II—Fireside Songs: Shadows, Sometime, My Ain Folk, The World is Waiting for the Sunrise, by the glee club.

Part III—Soft Shoe Shuffle, by Lyle Palmer; Bolshevik Duo, by Muller and Cooley. Ten-Ten-Tennesse, varsity quartet, and Oregon songs by quartet and glee club.

PLEDGING ANNOUNCEMENT

Kappa Delta Phi announces the pledging of Robert Clave, of Eugene.

Alpha Beta Chi announces the pledging of Erie Laughlin, of Mitchell.

Sigma Nu announces the pledging of Richard Hayden of Eugene.

WORLD AFFAIRS ARE DISCUSSED

Indianapolis is Scene of International Convention of Student Volunteers

SIX THOUSAND ATTEND

Comparison Made Between Serious-minded Foreigner
and American Students

"We have met to consider what is wrong with the world and why," said Dr. Walter Judd, student chairman of the ninth international student volunteer convention, held at Indianapolis December 28 to January 1, as he opened the five-day session and sounded the keynote of that vast gathering of more than six thousand delegates from every section of the United States and Canada.

Race prejudice, countless wars, false leadership, unfair economic and social conditions and misunderstanding and lack of sympathy on the part of nations were considered as some of the most outstanding ills of the world. The "why" of these ills was found to center around the failure of man to live a true Christian life and to practice what he believes to be the fundamental principles of the brotherhood of man.

College Students Scored

The frivolity, provincialism, and superficiality of the average American college student was scored repeatedly by speakers, both domestic and foreign, as they compared these students with the serious-minded foreign youth. Delegates at the convention were urged to carry back to their respective institutions as best they could, a vision of a broader conception of the world in which they live, its needs and how the youth of America can and ought to contribute to a better racial, social and economic and international order.

Dr. John R. Mott, in his lecture on "Commitment of Life," characterized this generation as alert, critical, full of inquiry, dissatisfied with present conditions, and ready to go to extremes.

"How can we understand the teachings of Jesus unless we have some one to guide us?" is the cry that came from several of the foreign speakers.

Everyone Must Contribute

The United States and Canada can and must contribute, not only to material progress, but also to a new international order that cannot afford such a wasteful process as war, said Hon. Newton W.

(Continued on page three)

Junior Week-End Directorate Head

Tollman Photo.
Ed Tapfer

VARSITY QUINTET TO MEET PACIFIC

Game With Badgers Billed
For Thursday Evening at 7:15 p. m. in the Armory

SIX LETTERMEN RETURN

Ex-freshmen Players Look Promising; Stoddard and
King to Sub at Forward

Varsity basketball fans will get their first opportunity to see the Webfoot five in action Thursday evening when they tangle with the Pacific Badgers on the armory floor. The contest will start at 7:15, as will all week-day games during the coming conference season.

This will be the second appearance of the varsity five. In the barnstorming game the Multnomah club took the varsity measure. The Pacific aggregation is an unknown quantity, but it is almost a sure bet that they will bring a quintet down here which will give the varsity a stiff run or the top count.

Squad Well Drilled

Coach Reinhart has been drilling the squad in some flashy team play and the spectators will get a chance to see the result Thursday. Against the club men the Webfoot basketballers exhibited some good teamwork, but their shooting was a trifle awry.

With six lettermen and a number of promising ex-freshmen, Reinhart has a nice looking reception committee to greet the Pacific delegates Thursday night. Much of the success of the Webfoot five in the coming conference race depends on Hunk Latham. Hunk is playing his last year of basketball in an Oregon uniform. Last year he was selected on the mythical quintet and should have a great finishing year. Playing center, he is the keystone of the Oregon offense and his playing may determine the success of the Oregon five.

Guards Look Good

Shafer and Chapman, two awfully good little men who loom awfully big to the opposing forwards, will no doubt take care of the guard berths at the start of the struggle. Both are good floor men and have wicked shooting eyes when near the basket.

Gowans and Rockey will probably occupy the forward berths, with Alstock and either King or Stoddard ready for duty. Both the latter are ex-freshman cracks with good playing records behind them, and it is possible that they will see a deal of service in varsity suits before the season closes. Hobson is another former freshman who will make the regulars hump to keep him off the team.

Other Games Scheduled

Besides these men, Reinhart has some good material in Farley, Hardinge, Gillenwell, Gunther, Jordan and Tuck. All are strong possibilities for chances in the contest Thursday night. This is the first of four pre-season contests the varsity has billed. Two are with Pacific and a like number with Willamette.

First Visit to Fifth Avenue Thrilling, Says Professor

"An interesting convention and a fine trip" is the report of George Turnbull, professor of journalism, on his return from New York and Chicago. In Chicago he attended as Oregon's representative, the annual convention of the American Association of Teachers of Journalism and the Association of American Schools and Departments of Journalism. Of the last named association Dean Eric W. Allen has been president during the past year.

"You wouldn't want me to go over all the old stuff regarding what a splendid trip I had; but if this is going into the paper you can't make it too strong that one's first visit to New York gives him a thrill," he said. "I spent a few hours roaming around the east side under the guidance of Jack Becholt, freelance and short-story writer; wish it

(Continued on page three)