

JACQUES TO HOLD EXHIBIT OF WORK

Belgian Painter Will Give Reception Tomorrow

WORK IN ARTS BUILDING

Pictures Are of Peasantry and Fields of Ypres

Emil Jacques, celebrated Belgian painter, who painted the sunny fields and the peasantry of Ypres before they were destroyed by the ravages of war, is to hold a two-weeks' exhibition of his work in the little museum in the Arts building beginning tomorrow. The exhibition will open with a reception at eight o'clock in the evening, to which all faculty members, students and townspeople interested have been invited by the school of architecture and allied arts. While here he will act as critic of the student work at the jury day of the term.

The region which was the artist's birth-place, and which became, during the war, a desolate waste of trenches and shell-holes, is immortalized in sunny canvases which portray the peculiar beauty of the country, the busy workers, and the rural occupations. Thus many of the paintings, aside from their artistic value, have become historical documents. A series of mural paintings representing the culture and industry of the flax, in ten panels, belongs to the city of Antwerp. "The Hop-Pickers," and "Flax-Weeders" were purchased by the Belgian government.

Is Student of Art
Jacques studied at the Royal Academy of Fine Arts in Antwerp under the direction of Professor A. DeVriendt, and later under the historical painter Vander Andera at the Higher Institute of Art. Every summer was spent in the rural districts that he loved, so, while the technical side of his art was developed in the city, the spirit of his pictures breathes the beauty of the country. He has exhibited abroad, and received favorable reviews not only in his own country but in Holland, at Amsterdam, The Hague, Rotterdam and other cities.

The thirty oils which Jacques is sending to the campus from Portland, where he exhibited recently, are of a wide range of subjects. There are both landscapes and portraits. The landscapes will give an idea of his treatment of the various aspects of nature from "Autumn in the Coast Range," to "The Ocean at Twilight," "A Sunny Village in Flanders," "The Dutch Fisherman's Wife," "Fruit," "Old Corner at Harlingen," and "Portrait of Mrs. J. B. S." are a few of those sent.

Paints Flemish Life
Besides the oils, three etchings, two monotypes, one original lithograph, one dry point and one mezzotint will be exhibited, but these will be under glass.

An Amsterdam paper classes Jacques with Emil Claus and Theo Van Rysselberghe in the field of art, and as an interpreter of Flemish life. "La Belgique Artistique et Littéraire" characterizes his work as being "above the immense banality." A newspaper of The Hague declares him to possess a skill which combines Dutch realism with the lightheartedness of France, thus combining in Belgium the best traditions of two civilizations.

At the Theatres

REX

A story of New York and Arizona, of western ranch life and eastern society, is the Paramount picture, "The Call of the Canyon," a screen version of Zane Grey's latest novel, directed by Victor Fleming and featuring Richard Dix, Lois Wilson and Estelle Taylor, which had a highly successful premier at the Rex theater last evening. Noah Beery, Ricardo Cortez, Fred Huntley and Lillian Leighton are included among the more prominent players while others are Helen Dunbar, Leonard Clapham, Edward Clayton and Dorothy Seastrom.

CASTLE

"His Children's Children," a Sam Wood production for Paramount was a delightful feature at the Castle theatre last night, where it will remain for two days more. The scenes are laid in New York and vicinity. It was filmed on actual locations and is thoroughly human and American. Bebe Daniels, Dorothy Mackaill, James Rennie and George Fawcett are featured in an unusually strong cast.

OREGANA PHOTOS MAY BE TAKEN UNTIL 14TH

Each Picture Requires Separate Solio Mounting to be Done as Soon as Possible

Students are still being urged to have all Oregana pictures taken by the 15th of this month. They are also advised not to wait until the last day to have them taken.

More than 200 sets of proofs have not been returned to the photographers. It is asked that these be returned immediately, as the work on the annual is being held back on account of the neglect.

An agreement has been made with the studio that no pictures will be taken for the Oregana after the 15th of this month. Last year's pictures will not be used and only the pictures taken by the Kennell-Ellis studio will be printed. They can be reached by calling 1897. Students are also asked to order as many solios as they are to have pictures in the Oregana.

MODERN EDUCATION NOT UP TO HIGHEST STANDARD

University of California—(By P. L. N. S.)—The student's time is coming. Professor J. V. Breitweiser, of the University of California, has created quite a stir by advocating a new and radical program of higher education. He says that students should select, dismiss, and promote their professors; degrees should be abolished and diplomas awarded solely upon accomplishment. Until such methods are adopted, he said, modern education cannot fulfill its highest destiny.

DR. BRUCE CURRIE SPEAKS AT WEEK-END CONVENTION

Miss Florence Magowan, secretary of the campus Y. W. C. A., and Mrs. Bruce J. Giffen, wife of the University pastor, attended a week-end convention of Bible workers in Corvallis the past week-end. One of the speakers at the conference was Dr. Bruce Currie, a teacher of Bible study in a New York seminary. Dr. Currie is on a year's leave of absence to visit a number of the colleges of the country and tell them something of the technique on which Bible courses given in the institutions should be conducted.

OREGON WRESTLING PROSPECTS FAVORABLE

Matmen Are Encouraged by Pre-season Work

With only a month left before the opening of the wrestling season, Earl Widmer, varsity wrestling coach, has started to whip his men into shape for the O. A. C. meet scheduled for February 9. Oregon has not made a good showing in wrestling in the past seasons, but from all indications a strong team will be put in the field.

O. A. C. has won the Northwest championship for the past two years, but this year they are handicapped by the loss of several veterans. Robin Reed and Dick Nixon are the only lettermen back. Nixon is a 125 pound man while Reed weighs 135 but can more than hold his own in any other weight.

Oregon is the only school in the conference that has not lost a majority of its veteran wrestlers. It is true that no man earned his letter last year, but with the experience gained in meets, the local grapplers have a good chance to do it this year. A letter is given any man who wins a match in a conference meet.

Bradway, a middleweight, is not back this year. Terjesen, who wrestled as a heavyweight, will probably not be able to compete on the mat, as he has not recovered from an injury received during football season. Widmer has Akers, Mills, French, and Shields, all football men, who are battling for the heavyweight berth.

Other men who have signed up for wrestling are Ford, French, Baird, Blacings, High, Prescott, Rew, and Toole. With the return of Whitcomb and Ford, it looks like there will be a scramble to see who will be able to earn a varsity position. The new 24 foot mat that was purchased recently has given the grapplers more room.

The freshmen have been turning out every night and in this way give the varsity wrestlers competition. Freshmen that have passed the physical ability tests and have signed up for wrestling are Adams, Benson, Christenson, Harden, Leavitt, Owsley, Stimson, Woods, Potter, and Laurs. From the way that some of the frosh have been showing up it will be a hard job to keep them from places on the varsity next year. The schedule for the varsity wrestlers:

February 9—O. A. C.—Eugene.
February 16—Idaho—Moscow.
February 18—W. S. C.—Pullman.
February 25—U. of W.—Eugene.
March 6—O. A. C.—Corvallis.

Miss Gertrude Talbot Asks Guests to Bring Reading Material

A book tea, Thursday from three to five at Hendricks hall, is to be given by Miss Gertrude Talbot, head resident, assisted by Mrs. John Boyard. "I have always wanted to give a book tea for the infirmity library," said Miss Talbot, "so I am going to now, when they need the books so much." They are to be good books, Miss Talbot continued, books of travel or good stories or novels. One faculty wife, when asked to come, said she was so glad it was to be done and she had several books she would be glad to bring, stated Miss Talbot.

This is the first of a series of teas to be given for the same purpose, Miss Talbot said, and she has invited 36, but if there is anyone who would like to come and bring a book this time, it would be appreciated.

Republican College Clubs Formed to Stimulate Interests

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—(Special)—Nation-wide organization of Republican college clubs, to stimulate active interest in national affairs on the part of students, will be immediately undertaken by the Republican national committee, according to an announcement made today by Chairman John T. Adams. For this purpose, a college bureau has been established, under the direction of Mr. John Hamlin, of Oregon.

"The movement has developed from independent activities in some of the colleges during the past year," Chairman Adams said, "and will now become a national movement on a permanent basis. It will have a definite and uniform program, and will have the hearty support of the national committee. Clubs will be organized in each of the important colleges and universities in all sections of the country. Nationally-known speakers to discuss the more pressing issues of the day will be furnished, as well as information and data.

Advertising An Essential

Advertising is a recognized factor in keeping business on the up-grade. It should be used judiciously but continuously in order to avoid interruptions. The business that is not advertised is standing still, which means that it is slipping and consequently headed in the wrong direction.

Most all advertising has merit if well directed—but newspapers are generally recognized as the one best medium.

Advertising to be effective must be honest and of interest to the reader. It is business news, or at least, most of it, is of that nature. It should tell its story and tell it well—and then back of it there must be honesty of purpose and recognized value.

It is only through advertising that a business can become nationalized—it is only through advertising that local merchants can climb out of the ordinary class and attain noteworthy success.

Advertising, intelligently and judiciously directed, is the best investment that any business house can make. It is not regarded as an expense but as an investment. It is a part of any well directed business.
